HOLIDAY'S SAD ENDING.

Sussex Lady Taken Ill at Sackville With No Hope of Recovery.

Sackville, N. B., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—About six o'clock last night, Mr. and Mrs. Weeden Fowler of Sussex, who have been on a driving tour, arrived at the home of Mrs. Fowler's brother, Walter Cahill, police magistrate of Sackville. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler retired both apparently in good health, but during the night Mrs. Fowler became unconscious. A doctor was summoned, but so far, has not succeeded in restoring her to consciousness. Her condition is supposed to be due to a clot of blood on the brain and her recovery is doubtful. George Fowler of Sussex, son of Weeden Fowler, has been wired of the sad occurrence. Mrs. Fowler is sixty-eight years old, and was born at Upper Sackville. Wm. Seaman died yesterday after an illness of several years from consumption. He leaves a family of grown up sons and daughters. He was seventy years old.

SASKATCHEWAN'S GOVERNMENT.

Governor Forget Has Surrounded Himself With Capable Liberal Advisers.

Regina, N. W. T., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Lieut. Gov. Forget yesterday, swore in the first Saskatchewan government, which will be composed as follows: Premier and minister of works Hon. Walter Scott. Attorney general, J. H. LaBout. Minister of education and provincial treasurer, J. A. Calder. Minister of agriculture and provincial secretary, W. Motherwell. Scott, the premier, and LaBout, the attorney general, are Liberal members of the House of Commons, and their acceptance of office in the Saskatchewan government will necessitate new elections for parliament in their constituencies. Calder is a Maritime Province man, a native of Nova Scotia.

CANADA AND JAPAN.

Prospect that Dominion Will be Admitted to Advantages of Japanese Low Tariff.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Negotiations on behalf of Canada for a trade treaty with Japan are well advanced, and before very long the Dominion will be enjoying the advantages with Japan of a low tariff. In 1897 Britain made a treaty with Japan, but at that time Canada did not become a party thereto. Hon. Sydney Fisher, during his visit to Japan, looked into the matter, and the Dominion asked to be allowed to become a party to the treaty. The correspondence is sufficiently advanced to make it pretty certain that the request will be granted. Japan has two tariffs, high and low, and Canada at present comes under the high tariff.

SIR CHAS. AT MONCTON.

Veteran Statesman at the Sickbed of His Niece.

Moncton, N. B., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Sir Charles Tupper, looking remarkably well, arrived in this city this morning from Amherst, to see his niece, Mrs. T. W. Colpitts, Forest Glen, who is critically ill at her home of her sister, Mrs. G. H. Haskins. Sir Charles intended going to Truro today, but on hearing of the serious illness of his niece, came to Moncton. He returns to Amherst this afternoon, going to Truro for Lady Tupper, and will proceed to Winnipeg this morning at the wedding of the daughter of his son, Stewart Tupper.

HE HAD TWO WIVES.

And they Both Met at Denver—A Doctor Elees From Awkward Predicament.

Denver, Col., Sept. 13.—With wife No. 1 of Cambridge, Mass., demanding the rights of herself and her three children, and wife No. 2 of Denver vowing she will kill him and herself before she will give him up, Dr. Henry Dalton of this city, formerly of Cambridge and Boston, is being sought by the police. He is a graduate of Tufts and Heidelberg universities, scion of a rich, cultured and proud family, a member of the Denver Club, respected in his profession for his ability and skill as a surgeon, contributor to the London Lancet and other medical magazines, yet he is said to have given up home, friends, wealth and career in his infatuation for Mrs. Bruce McClellan. Dr. Dalton came to Denver four years ago, presumably for his health. His wife is wealthy in her own right, and therefore in no need of money. She is now staying with a friend, Mrs. C. Merrin, at Raleigh and West Forty-ninth streets, and has this to say: "I have just arrived from Cambridge, Mass., and I find the man I loved and trusted married and living with another woman. Oh, she is beautiful! I can understand how he went mad over her, but I have my children, too. That is the thing that makes this all so horrible. It seems like some awful dream. What will become of Henry and that woman and my babies?" "He wrote to me until last May. He said that his lungs were strong and that he could soon come home to me. Well, in May, he suddenly shocked me by writing that he wanted to get a divorce. "You are a good wife, but I think it better for me to tell you now than later that I don't love you—that I can never love you. Our souls are strangers. I will not live the lie any longer."

"I wrote and wrote, but got no answer. Finally I learned his office address and came to Denver two days ago, to find what?" I went from the depot to his office, and there she stood, the woman who robbed me of my husband. Her photograph, taken when she was girl sixteen years old, stood above his desk. I dashed it to the floor and then I turned on both of them. It was terrible. All my years of waiting and suffering came back to me in a flood. We had been happy ones—and there were the children. BURNED AND SANK.

Sad Fate of Togo's Flagship—Nearly 600 Men Believed to be Lost.

Tokio, Sept. 13.—The Japanese flagship Mikasa, which was the flagship of Vice-Admiral Togo during the battle of the Sea of Japan, caught fire and sank at two thirty a. m. on Monday. The navy department has furnished the following details of the Mikasa: The battleship caught on fire from an unknown cause at midnight Sept. 10, and before the fire could be subdued the flames reached the after magazine, which exploded, blowing a hole in the port side below the water line, and causing her to sink. The cause of the fire is under investigation. Admiral Togo was not on board the Mikasa when the disaster to the battleship occurred. The loss by the sinking of the Mikasa, totals 599 officers and men, including detachments from other warships which went to the rescue of the vessel. On the following day, however, his condition was much more serious, and he suffered terribly from internal injuries. Dr. Mullin was called to the scene in the afternoon, but there was little that he could do for the unfortunate lad, other than administer morphine to relieve his sufferings. The boy soon died after the doctor returned home. He was well known and esteemed in the community, and his tragic death is deeply regretted. An inquest was not considered necessary. The funeral will take place at one o'clock on Thursday with interment at Lower St. Mary's. Robert B. Adams is the officiating undertaker.

BOY KILLED BY A HORSE.

Tragic Death of Andrew Holland of Lower St. Marys.

Andrew Holland, the seventeen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holland, who reside on the Little River Road, five miles from the city, was kicked by a horse on Monday and died yesterday from his injuries. The unfortunate young man was working about the house in the barn, when the animal, without a moment's warning, let drive its hind feet. The boy was struck squarely in the abdomen and knocked down. He was carried into the house soon afterwards and made as comfortable as possible. He did not appear to be suffering a great deal of pain, and his parents did not deem it necessary to call in a physician at that time.
