SACKVILLE'S NARROW ESCAPE.

Only the Lack of Wind Saved the Town from Destruction.

FLAMES BROKE OUT IN WOODWORKING FACTORY AND DID $10,600 DAMAGE--NO INSURANCE.

Sackville, N. B., June 26.—(Special)—Fire was discovered at six o'clock this morning in the engine house of Copp, Dixon & Company's wood working factory, Bridge street. An alarm was sounded, but before the streams could be turned on, the flames had gained considerable headway, and the whole building was soon a seething furnace. An attempt was made to keep the fire from spreading to neighboring buildings, but a large wooden structure a hundred feet away, owned by S. W. Copp, and used for storing lumber, caught fire and was soon in flames. The station of the N. B. and P. E. I. railway caught fire and was saved with difficulty, the front was charred and blackened. Houses nearby were also in danger, but the fire had now spent itself. In addition to the buildings burned large quantities of valuable lumber were destroyed, and the loss will total at least ten thousand dollars with no insurance. Had the wind been blowing at the time, nothing could have saved the town.

RUSSIA AND JAPAN AGREE

That Meeting of Peace Delegates Shall be Held at Washington.

St. Petersburg, June 26.—(Special)—Both Japan and Russia are now understood to agree to their plenipotentiaries meeting at Washington. It will be during the first ten days of August, but the exact date will be announced later by President Roosevelt. The question of precedence evidently is the main stumbling block for a prompt settlement of a number of personal negotiations. Both sides seem desirous to make the other take the initial move. Russia seems to consider that it is Japan's duty to name her plenipotentiaries before Russia announces hers. While the exact number of plenipotentiaries has not been officially arranged, both powers seem likely to agree upon three. Actual announcement of the names of plenipotentiaries is expected within the day. The official statement that the "situation is all going favorably" the question of a possible armistice stated last week remains in abeyance for the moment. The Washington meeting definitely settled, in the meantime there have been heavy downpours in Manchuria and the rainy season may enforce a suspension of military operations before diplomacy acts.

FIRST SHIPMENT OF STEEL RAILS

Forwarded to Montreal from the Sydney Works.

Sydney, N. S., June 26.—(Special)—The first shipment of steel rails was made by the Dominion Iron and Steel Company this morning, when about fifty tons were shipped to Montreal, being the first instalment of 25,000 tons contracted for the Grand Trunk Pacific. Further shipments will be made from time to time until the order is filled. The mill is now producing rails at the rate of 75 per hour, and it is about a week since the plant was put in commission.

FREEMASONS AT CHURCH.

Members of the Order Made a Fine Turnout Marching to Free Baptist Church.

WHERE THEY HEARD AN ABLE SERMON FROM REV. A. A. RIDEOUT.

There was a good assemblage of Freemasons yesterday afternoon when the annual church parade was held. The Royal Arch, and Blue Chapters were present and made a fine appearance. Headed by the Fredericton Brass Band they marched to the Free Baptist church, where an eloquent sermon was preached to them by the pastor Rev. Allen Rideout, B. A. Mr. Frank Cooper sang a solo in his usual fine manner and Prof. Cadwallader of Marysville, kindly assisted in the music.

The choir was filled with members of the lodge. The whole service was very earnest and impressive, the church being well filled.

THE SERMON.

The subject of the sermon was Freemasonry and the text "The work that I do bear witness of me," John 5-36. Rev. Mr. Rideout said in part: "Freemasonry has come down to us from the remote past, and we must judge it not by age but by its works. It originated no doubt from that Divine implanted principle which makes brothers of those who have a common interest. This is seen in the tribe or clan of today. The thousands who wrought on the temple would naturally band themselves together and in this union we see the inception of the order of Freemasons. Freemasonry is not a religion, but its teachings are an aid to the one who seeks to know God. It is not an insurance society, although thousands have found in it a friendly hand that has lifted them from want and brought joy in their sorrow. Its aim is to uplift socially, intellectually, morally. It is in brief an association of men who strive for all that is noble, who desire the true and the beautiful, and who practice virtue for its own sake.

The Holy Bible is taken as the standard of truth and the rule for life. The lessons from the tabernacle and temple are taught, with the thought that so the great temple of life should be built with care and according to rule; decked with the virtues that are pleasing in the eyes of the Creator, and dedicated to His service. In order to make the temple the most beautiful structure in the world the quarries gave their wealth of stone; Lebanon gave her cedars; the clay ground gave material for the pillars, and the orient her gems and gold. Solomon gave his wisdom and Hiram the cunning of his art. So only the best should be built into the temple that we build for the Creator's honor.

The obligation makes it imperative upon all to build but for each one we find there are forces against us that will not only mar but ruin the character which we strive to make perfect.

Just as the forces of the air and water and fire will destroy the material structure, so every builder of that temple realizes that his work will be hindered by forces against him. Sin will rob his work of moral height. Selfishness will cause it to fail in nobility and death will cause it to fail in permanence. To be a perfect mason we must conquer these. All realize we need help for character is not built by mere mental assent to true principles, but is the outworking of inward truths. The one who can help us to overcome opposing forces is the one who has himself been an overcomer. In short, we must look to the perfect man for help. While the history of the past shows many wonderful characters, there are none perfect but one, the Prophet of Galilee. He overcame all enemies, lived a perfect life and will aid each one to grow to the full stature of a man in Christ. In Him we find the power to live up to our ideals, and build such a structure that the Great Architect at last will say, "Well done."

Freemasonry has done a work in the past of which it needeth not to be ashamed. For the future its members should seek to fulfill its teachings, exemplify its lessons and practice its charity. The Order then shall grow and the pathway be like unto the pathway of the just that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.

MRS. PHILLIPS DEAD.

Well Known and Esteemed Lady Called to Her Reward.

The lamented death occurred at her home on Charlotte street on Sunday of Mrs. Rosie A. Phillips, beloved wife of Health Inspector Richard H. Phillips. She had been ailing for upwards of six months from cancer, and had been a great sufferer. Her death although not a matter for surprise, was learned with very great regret by her large circle of friends in the city.

The late Mrs. Phillips was formerly Miss Bentley, and was a native of Stewiacke, N. S. She came to Fredericton in 1868 as preceptress in the old Baptist seminary, then under the principalship of Rev. J. E. Hopper, where she remained for three years, giving great satisfaction for her thoroughness and ability as a teacher. The 20th of July, 1872, she was married. On taking up her residence in Fredericton she took an active part in church work, and the first sociable held in Fredericton was gotten up in the Baptist church as a result of her initiation. Her interest in missionary work was deep and intelligent, and she was the treasurer for years of the Mission Aid Society, as well as treasurer for more than twenty-five years of the Sisters' Committee on church work.

On the formation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of this city she became a member, and was for several years its president, and afterwards was appointed its treasurer, which office she maintained for many years, and was only relinquished in January last, when laid aside by her late illness.

Then, too, in the Maritime and Provincial W. C. T. Unions she held the treasurership, as well as Superintendent of Scientific Temperance Instruction, which offices entailed a vast amount of correspondence and work. She had the satisfaction of seeing the teaching of temperance in our schools brought into force, and in conjunction with Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, powerfully aided by the then Attorney General Hon. A. S. White, and the present Chief Superintendent of Education, Dr. Inch, was the means of the teaching of temperance being made compulsory. She always maintained her warm interest in the teaching profession and followed every attempt at its betterment with keen delight, a profession which she considered only second to that of the sacred calling.

The Normal School was on her mind and heart, and she was never happier than when the Christian Women of the Union gave their annual greeting to its students, encouraging them to work for and inculcate sound temperance principles. "She hath done what she could."

The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 4 o'clock, with services at the Baptist church by Rev. J. H. MacDonald. Undertaker Geo. W. Adams has charge of the arrangements.

DIVORCE COURT.

A King's County Couple Who Want Marriage Tie Dissolved.

In chambers this morning before Judge Gregory, Mr. Daniel Mullin, K. C., of St. John, made an application for alimony and suit money on behalf of the defendant in the divorce case of Willet L. Worden vs. Adeline A. Worden.

Mr. E. R. Chapman, proctor for the plaintiff, was not present and His Honor granted the application. The plaintiff was ordered to pay the sum of $60 to the clerk of the court, as suit money for the defendant.

It was represented to the court by Mr. Mullin that Mrs. Worden was at present being provided for at her husband's home, but that he had expressed his intention of turning her out after July 4th. His Honor accordingly fixed the amount of alimony to be paid the wife at $6 per month, so long as she continues to reside at her husband's home, with the understanding that the amount case he should turn her adrift.

The parties to the suit reside at Westfield, King's County, and have lived together as man and wife since 1892. The husband is seeking the divorce on the ground of adultery and unfaithfulness to marriage vows, which allegations are denied by the defendant.

The case has been set down for trial at the regular term of the court, which opens here on July 4th.

The twentieth century matrimonial yoke seems to be made of paper. Some spinsters find a valuable excuse for spinsterhood in the divorce evil.
