JAPAN'S RESOURCES AMPLE.

And Her London Financial Agent Scorns Suggestion of Indemnity.

PRaises THE EMPEROR FOR CONCLUDING PEACE.

London, Aug. 31.—(Special)—M. Kureyko Takahashi, financial commissioner of Japan, in an interview today said:

"The Japanese government in prosecuting the war never had in mind the question of demanding an indemnity.

The government has prepared itself for any emergency and the present moment there is no less than $175,000,000 untouched in London, Germany and the United States.

This being the case, I can see no necessity for an indemnity.

Had peace not been concluded, my government would have raised an internal loan $100,000,000 for further prosecution of the war. This was the plan of the government at the time the conference met.

"I consider that the present resources of Japan are ample for clearing up the war, and meeting the incidental expenses thereby involved. So if Japan has in view a new plan to issue a fresh loan it will be for the purpose converting a previous loan bearing higher interest. I have not heard that my government has any such intention."

When speaking regarding the conditions of peace, M. Takahashi, continued: "All farseeing Japanese will hail with satisfaction the conclusion of peace, although there must be a feeling of general regret that Russia did not display a more reasonable attitude, recognizing that Japan's terms were not only reasonable, but very moderate. In the circumstance all Japanese who take a broader view of the situation, must recognize that the decision of their emperor was the wisest possible one. Had the government insisted on an indemnity it is clear that the war would have continued. The objects for which this war was waged have already been more than achieved, and to continue the war for pecuniary consideration would have been unworthy of the Japanese nation.

I do not share the view that this is a patched up peace, or that fresh conflicts are likely to ensue. Such contingencies have been amply provided for by the new Anglo-Japanese alliance.

Takahashi looks for an early development in the Far East.

THE SUBWAY TAVERN.

Bishop Potter's Plan for Running a Bar will be Dis continued.

New York, Aug. 31.—(Special)—The Tribune says: "The Subway Tavern, after thirteen months existence, which broke many religious beliefs, but attracted comparatively few customers, has passed into other hands.

At twelve o'clock last night it became the property of G. Skidmore. With the elimination of Joseph Johnson Jr., President of the Subway Tavern Company, the sociological experiment will be ended, and other principles are to be put into operation Monday morning. The sign will be taken down Saturday night.

The Tavern was opened at Bleeker and Mulberry streets, August 31, 1904, by Bishop Potter who consecrated it with prayers.

The enterprise was similar to many that are working well in England. In the front room, women, men, boys and girls were invited to buy soda-water, and the place has the appearance of an ordinary soda-water store. The curtain in the rear leads to a saloon, where liquors and free lunches abound. Down stairs is a restaurant.

"You can't follow the Lord and chase the devil at the same time," said Mr. Skidmore, relating how he has come to be identified with the place.

"I have had restaurant privileges for more than three months," he continued. "I used to run a restaurant in Brooklyn, I think I can make this go."

"I expect that by Thursday or Friday the whole tavern will be transferred to me. Negotiations are now in progress looking to that end. I intend to rip the place to pieces, tear out the 'water-wagon' attachment and run the place as a strict saloon restaurant."

A CORRECTION.

Miss Reta B. Gerow writes to the Herald from Redondo Beach, California: "An article appeared in the Herald of Aug. 9, stating that I expected to erect a private hospital on the corner of Lansdowne street and Waterloo Row. I wish to contradict this article, and to state that it had no foundation."

THE BAPTIST UNION

Will be Formerly Consummated at St. John in October.

During this week the Freewill Baptist conference of Nova Scotia, is in session. This organization, which is not to be confused with the Free Baptist church in this province, has not as yet been a party to the church union movement. But the question is to be taken up at this meeting, and since the basis of union agreed upon seems well suited to the conditions in Nova Scotia, it may be accepted at the Shag Harbour conference.

Union between the Free Baptists of this province and the Baptists will probably take effect five or six weeks from this date. Early in October the Free Baptists meet in St. John in annual conference, probably the last they will hold as a separate denomination. If they accept the basis of union as prepared by the joint committee, and accepted by the convention at Charlottetown, all will be ready for the final step. No one doubts what the action will be as the congregations throughout the province have declared emphatically for union.

The Charlottetown convention named a delegation of forty to meet in St. John at the time that the Free Baptist conference would close. These will come from the three provinces and assemble at the German street church. There they expect to meet the Free Baptist conference and complete the consolidation. The organization of United Baptists will date from this meeting.

Gradually the interests of the two denominations will be merged. Already in this province the home mission boards have been working as one organization. The foreign mission boards may easily be brought together. As the Baptist educational institutions have their own constitution and are not directly connected with the church machinery, no formal reorganization is needed. As vacancies occur in the governing body of the schools, some of them may be filled with Free Baptists, though as a matter of fact the senators need not be Baptists at all.

Another matter to be dealt with is denominational journalism. At present the Messenger and Visitor is regarded as the organ of the Baptist church in the maritime provinces, while the Religious Intelligencer speaks for the Free Baptists. Neither paper is denominational property. The Intelligencer, now in its fifty-third year, belongs to Rev. Dr. McLeod, who has been the editor for half his life-time. It goes into Free Baptist homes all over the province, and exerts a strong and wholesome influence. The Messenger and Visitor belongs to the Maritime Baptist Publishing Company, by which the St. John Visitor and the Christian Messenger of Halifax were purchased and amalgamated. The editor of the Visitor had been Dr. Hopper, while Mr. Seldon had owned and edited the Christian Messenger. Both were old papers. The Christian Messenger was established fifty-six years ago and the Visitor one year previous. Dr. Goodspeed was engaged as the first editor of the Messenger and Visitor, and on his appointment to a chair in McMaster Dr. S. McC. Black succeeded him. The feeling is expressed that the union of the two churches should be followed by the union of the two papers. But that is a business matter that rests with the proprietors, who, it is said, are likely to confer on the subject. It was reported at the annual meeting of the Maritime Baptist Publishing Company that the paper had earned last year some $1,100 over running expenses and that the subscription list had increased by some three hundred names. The paid up capital stock is $10,000.

Both the Messenger and Visitor and the Intelligencer are printed by contract in St. John.

NOVA SCOTIA POLITICS.

Early Election Anticipated—Some Suggested Shuffles.

Sydney, Aug. 30.—The very latest political report involves an important shuffle among members of the judiciary in Cape Breton. Judge MacGillivray is to resign from the county court bench for Antigonish to enter federal politics as successor to the Hon. Colin N. MacIsaac. He will be succeeded by Duncan Finlayson, who is to resign as federal representative for Richmond county. He in turn will be succeeded by Dr. Bissett, local representative for that constituency.

D. D. MacKenzie, M. P., for North Cape Breton and Victoria, will resign his seat and be appointed judge for a new county court district, comprising Inverness, Richmond and Victoria counties. Hon. John N. Armstrong will retire from the legislative council and contest the riding of Cape Breton county alone.

There are indications pointing to an early dissolution of the local house. The party leaders are now said to be in secret conclave at Halifax regarding the political situation in the province, and it will not be surprising if the Murray government will soon make an appeal to the country.

DORCHESTER MAN

Received an Unexpected Revolver Shot in the Mouth Near Halifax.

Halifax, Aug. 31.—John McManus, of Dorchester, N. B., brother of Reid McManus, who has the contract for double tracking the Intercolonial from Windsor Junction, was shot yesterday morning as he was passing Prince's Lodge. The work of double tracking is kept up day and night, and a large number of men are employed at the work. Each morning Mr. McManus goes over the road with the work train and inspects the work performed the night previous. He was standing on the rear car, and as the train was passing slowly along near Prince's Lodge saw a number of men sitting and standing on an embankment near the railway track. He heard the report of a pistol and immediately felt a stinging sensation in his lip. The bullet struck the rim of his hat and then penetrated his upper lip, knocking out three teeth. An effort is being made to ascertain the name of the man who discharged the pistol.

PANTHERS NUMEROUS.

British Columbia Sportsman Kills Sixteen.

Vancouver, Aug. 30.—Sixteen big panthers have fallen to the rifle of Jim Craig, a noted hunter of Englishman's River, Vancouver Island. Prospectors say that the big cats are very numerous this year. Of those which Craig shot some measured ten feet from tip to tip. W. F. Andrews of Nanaimo has recently killed a good-sized animal, and he also reports having come across another in broad daylight, which effected its escape. He was on the public road at Englishman's River with his dogs, when one animal bounded across in front of him. His dogs tumbled it, and he brought the panther down with a shot in the shoulder. He followed the trail of another one, the marks of which showed it to be a big fellow, but the dogs were unable to find it. Passengers who took the train from Victoria to Nanaimo a day or two ago report that they saw a panther running beside the railway for some distance.

I. C. R. SMASHUP.

Halifax, Aug. 31.—The regular freight train from Halifax, and points west for Cape Breton was derailed yesterday afternoon in Antigonish and fifteen cars were badly wrecked. The engine jumped the track. The accident is one of the worst that has occurred on this division for some time. The track was badly torn and the road will not probably be cleared until some time today. Fortunately none of the train hands sustained any injury, though they had a very narrow escape. The accident is believed to be due to the spreading of rails.

MARYSNILLE OPEN AIR SERVICE.

The rector, vestry, and congregation of All Saints' church of England, have undertaken to hold a very primitive service tonight on the grounds of the church. An open air service by a clergyman of the Church of England duly vested in his ecclesiastical robes may be considered a novel proceeding, but it is only novel in this part of the world. In England it is a very common matter today, and in the old Celtic or British church it is the usual way in new missions. The service begins at 7.15 p. m. Prof. Cadwallader presides at the organ.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.

Mrs. Katherine Stevenson, one of the most gifted lady public speakers in New England, and president of the Massachusetts State W. C. T. U. will lecture in the Baptist church tomorrow, Friday, evening at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the local W. C. T. U. Silver collection.

Mr. E. W. Henry of St. John, is a guest at the Queen.

Rev. Dr. Rogers arrived home last night from a pleasant vacation trip to Nova Scotia.
