THE TRUE IMPERIAL POLICY.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Speaks of what Canada Under Liberal Government

HAS DONE TO CONSOLIDATE THE EMPIRE.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—(Special).—Speaking at Athens yesterday, Sir Wilfrid Laurier characterized the action of the government in giving the preferential tariff to goods imported from Great Britain, as the first step towards making this country known in the eyes of the British empire. This position was enhanced two years later, when the Canadian government obtained from England abrogation of the German-Belgian treaty. The undertaking of building the Grand Trunk Pacific went another step by the opening up of a new transcontinental route from Great Britain to the Orient. Though Canada was a nation she was still and always would be proud of retaining her connection as a colony with the Motherland. Sir Wilfrid said he had done his best for Canada in his own poor way. It had been his lot to follow great men like MacDonald, Brown and MacKenzie, but he had endeavored to carry out the aims of confederation and to secure toleration and harmony, and would die happy if he could leave Canada richer and better than he found it.

THE RELENTLESS MAFIA.

Secret Sicilian Society Followed its Victims to America and Murdered Them.

MOTIVE FOR NEW YORK CRIME UNEARTHED BY THE POLICE.

New York, Oct. 13.—(Special).—That Gaetano Costa was murdered in his butcher shop at Brooklyn Wednesday night, not because he had refused to accede to blackmailing demands for money, but as a result of a political plot inspired in Sicily, eight years ago, by the Mafia, and executed by agents of the "Blackhand Society" in this country and to which at least several other lives have already been sacrificed, was the remarkable revelation made to the police yesterday.

According to information given by a fellow countryman and former associate with the dead man, Costa was one of a band of a dozen or more wealthy Sicilians, included among whom were his two brothers, who, for daring to oppose a political society closely allied to the Mafia, were driven across the seas and pursued with relentlessness that has been hindered by neither time nor expense and systematically put to death whenever an opportunity offered. Realizing their helplessness against their enemies, leading members, including Costa, according to the po-lice's informant, came to this country and settled in various places. Some had been compelled to leave all their worldly goods behind in the haste of flight and went west to begin life anew.

Among these were Costa and his two brothers, Giuseppe and Luigi. The Mafia, however, did not drop the matter. Three years later, according to the narrator, the body of Giuseppe Costa was found in Jackson Park, Chicago, bearing sixteen stab wounds. Around the waist was a blue sash, placed there evidently as warning to other Italians who knew the methods of the Mafia.

About a year after that, three Italians were mysteriously murdered at Riverside, Ills.

Not long after Luigi Costa was killed at Geneva, Ills.

Finally, a few months after this, the headless body of a man was found at Erie, Pa., also with a blue sash around the waist.

In the light of events and peculiar circumstances surrounding the murder of Gaetano Costa, Police Captain Evans of Brooklyn, is convinced that he fell a victim of the same vendetta.

A SPLENDID AND WELL DESERVED TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

In the presence of grief stricken relatives, members of the clergy and hundreds of his fellow-citizens representing all denominations, the mortal remains of the Rev. Canon Roberts, LL.D., were laid to rest in the family lot in Forest Hill cemetery this afternoon. The funeral was one of the largest seen here for many years, and was a well deserved and splendid tribute to a noble man of God, one who was universally beloved, honored and respected in this community. A number of old friends and co-workers among the clergy of the diocese were present from a distance to pay a last tribute of respect to the venerable rector of St. Ann's.

The funeral cortege formed at the rectory on George street at 2.15 o'clock and proceeded to Christ Church Cathedral, where the funeral service was held. The order of procession was as follows:

THE SERVICE.

The service at the Cathedral was conducted by His Lordship Bishop Kingston, assisted by Rev. Canon Richardson of St. John, and the Very Rev. Dean Partridge, and was very beautiful and impressive. His Lordship read the opening sentences, the Dean conducted the prayer service, and Canon Richardson read the lessons. The choir of the Cathedral and St. Ann's, were amalgamated for the occasion and rendered with splendid effect the hymns, "Forever With the Lord," "On the Resurrection Morn," and "How Bright these Glorious Spirits Shine." The edifice was crowded to the doors, and many tears were shed during the solemn service.

At the close of the service the casket was conveyed to the hearse in waiting by the pall-bearers, and the funeral procession, reforming slowly, wended its way to Forest Hill Cemetery, where the body was tenderly laid away, to await a glorious awakening on the resurrection morn.

The pall-bearers were Rev. Subdean Street, Rev. L. A. Hoyt, (St. John), Rev. H. Montgomery, (Kingsclear), Rev. Dr. Raymond, (St. John), Rev. R. W. Colston, (Welsford), and Rev. H. E. Dibblee, (Oromocto).

JUDGE WILSON'S TRIBUTE.

After the county court opened this morning, Judge Wilson announced that when the court adjourned at noon it would stand adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock out of respect to the memory of the late Canon Roberts.

In making this announcement, Judge Wilson referred to the loss which the city and province had sustained in the death of Canon Roberts, "a man," said the Judge, "who occupied a large place in the educational, social and religious life of this city and province. To few leaders of religious thought has it been given for so long a time in one charge to occupy such a position—prominent in his own church and during all that time not only was he looked up to with love and respect by his own parishioners, but by the members of every other church. He was ever ready to give his aid to all movements having for their object the moral and religious elevation of his fellow men.

"To know sorrow was for him to extend his loving sympathy, to know distress was for him within his power to endeavor to relieve it. The students of all our educational institutions in this city have lost a loving friend who was ever ready to help them with advice and sympathy in their efforts to succeed.

"He was ever the same when you met him—the cheery, amiable Christian gentleman.

"He has gone to his reward and the whole community mourns the loss of a good man."

Mr. Barry, K. C., and Mr. O. S. Crockett, M. P., concurred in the remarks by the judge and thought as a matter of respect to the memory of the late Canon Roberts the court should be adjourned.
