Notwithstanding cloudy and chilly weather, with occasional showers of rain, there was a good attendance at the exhibition yesterday. The buildings and grounds were thronged afternoon and evening and interest in the big show increases.

The grand free exhibition on the grounds by Leanda and Diavola, daily attract thousands of people, and all are compelled to admit that no such feats of daring were ever before tempted in this city. In performing his chasm leaping act yesterday afternoon Leanda met with a slight accident, the effects of which he is likely to feel for some time. In making the leap his bicycle failed to land the way it is supposed to and the rider came in for a very bad spill. Dr. G. J. McNally was called in attendance and found that Leanda had fractured a rib, and injured his nose quite severely. The plucky fellow is suffering considerable pain from his injuries but declares they are not serious to compel him to cancel his engagement.

The Vaudeville entertainment in Amusement Hall yesterday attracted unusually large crowds. The programme consists of vocal solos, feats of juggling, slight of hand work, dancing, etc. The company is composed of high class artists and they never fail to please. The moving picture exhibition put on twice daily, always draws big crowds.

As usual the men on the midway did a rushing business yesterday and many were the funny jokes and remarks when different people were taken in by the games and got rich quick schemes. The fountain pen man in the gallery did a good business and was kept busy all day. He is making lots of money.

The exhibit of D. Magee & Sons of St. John, who are showing furs is certainly a very pretty one. Mr. T. M. Mulhall who is in charge is very obliging to all to call and will cheerfully show the goods he has on exhibition.

The Tea Rose Blend tea of Mr. J. J. McGilgan's, is being partaken of by the hundreds who daily visit his booth on the main floor, while the Union Blend tea booth in the gallery is doing a rushing business and our general friends Messrs. Harvey DeForest and Geo. Ellis, are kept very busy throughout the day and night. The Red Shield coffee people are also on the hustle and their excellent exhibit can be found in the rear gallery. Call and get a cup of coffee free.

The local exhibits of F. B. Edgecombe Company Ltd., and Jas. S. Neill, on the main floor, are much admired by all the visitors to the exhibition. The Edgecombe Company are showing a beautiful line of furs and Mr. Neill has stoves and ranges on exhibition.

WIRE FENCE EXHIBIT.

The New Brunswick Wire Fence Company Ltd., of Moncton, N. B., have a very fine display on the grounds, in the rear of the main building where they have on exhibition a splendid array of wire fencing and steel and wire gates of several different designs. They claim to be able to supply fencing and gates as cheaply as those made of wood. The exhibit is attracting a great many farmers and the company are taking a large number of orders. Their gates and fencing are certainly beautiful and worthy of a visit.

GASOLINE ENGINES.

Mr. H. G. Veness, who is representing L. M. Trask, & Co., of Yarmouth, N. S., has an exhibit of gasoline engines and has one on operation on the grounds. These engines are now much used on the farm as well as in the machine shop, and are, in fact, in general use in almost every line of business requiring motive power. Several of these engines have been disposed of during the last few days, and a large and interested crowd are daily watching the sample engine work and are impressed with the simplicity of it as well as its small cost. Trask's engines are known all over Canada and Mr. Veness is handling the real thing, and the farmers appreciate it.

ESTEY & HAGERMAN, LTD.

Estey & Hagerman, Ltd., the well known farm implement and fur people, have a fine display of their goods on the ground floor of the exhibition building near the entrance to the Agricultural Hall.

Mr. Hagerman is in charge of the fur exhibit and has one of the best assortments ever seen in Fredericton; comprising ladies' and gentlemen's fur coats, caps, mitts, and collars. The furs are among the best, including Astracan, Beaver, Otter Seal, Black Lamb, Black Dog, Persian Lamb, etc. Mr. Hagerman is disposing of a great deal of his at the exhibit, but is constantly renewing them from the splendid stock to be found at the firm's store on Phoenix Square.

Another interesting exhibit controlled by this firm are the Champion Maple Syrup Evaporator, in charge of Mr. Edmonds, and the Sharpless Tubular Cream Separator, in charge of Mr. Tilley, both of which are being much admired and several have already been disposed of.

The celebrated Carnafac Stock Food is also handled by this firm, and is exhibited at their booth in charge of the Company's obliging representative, Mr. Burt, assisted by Mr. Jesse Merrithew. This stock food is recognized by stock raisers to be among the best on the market, and in the "Farming World," a leading farmer's paper, receives a full page of testimonials from those competent to judge of its merits. A number of calves now being exhibited, been fed on this food, and the Carnafac people are giving $70 in prizes for the largest calves dropped since February and fed on this food. Take it altogether, Estey & Hagerman have one of the best exhibits in their line seen here for some years.

A YORK CO. INVENTION.

An exhibit which is interesting a large number of farmers, and is occasioning much favorable comment, is Peabody's Patent Potato Carrier, invented by Mr. Isaac Peabody, of St. Mary's, and manufactured at that place as well as at Houlton, Me. During the past season this machine has been used by leading farmers in Aroostook County and has given general satisfaction. It is so simple that even a small boy can operate it.

It is used principally for conveying potatoes and roots into the cellar. The potatoes are dumped into one end of the machine and by turning a small crank can be carried into the cellar or other place as fast as you can lift the barrels into the machine.

In Maine, where it has been introduced, it has given general satisfaction and in places where it has been put on trial farmers refused to part with it. Several have been disposed of at the exhibition grounds, as soon as seen and its working explained. It is clearly a case of "Love at first sight."

Mr. Peabody can be found on the exhibition grounds with the machine and will be pleased to show it to any person as well as give the names of leading potato and root growers who have used it and are satisfied with it. The machine is simple and labor saving, the price is low and the inventor guarantees satisfaction.

THE MURRAY NECKYOKE.

The Murray patent neckyoke and holdback, which is a local invention patented in Canada and the United States, is being shown on the grounds by Mr. Theo. R. McNally and is attracting considerable attention.

This arrangement is manufactured by the Murray Neckyoke Co., P. O. Box 196, Fredericton, who sell it at only fifty cents higher than the ordinary neckyoke and claim for it the following advantages:

1st, Safety. It is impossible for the pole to drop if one horse becomes freed from the wagon as the ring must completely turn over the end of

AWFUL MASSACRES.

Eyewitnesses of Armenian and Tartar Atrocities Tell Their Experiences.

London, Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Interesting incidents of the experiences of Englishmen connected with the oil industry at Baku, are reaching their relatives in England.

Williams, one of four Englishmen rescued from a mob at Balakaban, writes that the stories of horror give but a feeble idea of the actual occurrences.

He adds: "I was shut up in my place at Zabrat five days without water, except local mineral water. Ten Armenians were killed in our own yard. We could not walk in our yard without several shots being fired at us. We tried to save the wounded but the shooting was too good, and we had to give up all."

Edward McCallum, another of the rescued a British subject, fully confirms the story of massacres, burning and pillage.

After describing the commencement of the outbreak, on Sept. second, when the Armenians massacred three hundred Tartars, he describes how, during the night of Sept. sixth the Tartars entered the workmen's barracks at Romani and massacred everybody within them within an hour. Five hundred Tartars surrounded the works, where McCallum was standing and ordered him to give up the Armenians hiding on the premises.

He adds "fourteen of these were butchered in our yard with fiendish brutality. One man had his entire stomach cut out. The band sacked the neighborhood in a most systematic manner. They had their carts ready to take away their plunder to the Tartar villages. Fifty Cossacks with the police chief arrived on the scene but did nothing except to look on at the work of massacre."

LONDON MYSTERY.

Young Woman Found Murdered in Tunnel of London and Southeastern Railway.

BELIEVED DEED WAS COMMITTED IN COMPARTMENT CAR.

London, Sept. 26.—(Special.)—The Merstham tunnel of the London and South Eastern Railway, where the brutal murder of Fred I. Gold by Percy LeFroy alias Mapleton, occurred June 27, 1881, has again been the scene of a mysterious tragedy, the details of which are markedly similar to that of a quarter century ago.

In the present case the victim is a young woman, Mary Mooney, whose body was horribly mutilated.

A long veil was tightly wedged in her mouth and the police are confident that she was murdered in a compartment of the train in travelling, and her body thrown from the car. The fact that the doors of the train when it arrived at Red Hill were closed is considered to prove conclusively that it is not a case of suicide.

Miss Mooney left home Sunday evening saying she would not be gone long.

AT LAST.

Montreal, Sept. 26.—(Special.)—It is announced that two special officers with the president's warrant will reach the city tomorrow to take back Gaynor and Greene.

the pole to cause the staple to pull out of the slot. With the common attachment now in use, the pole will drop, hence the cause of so many accidents.

2nd, Cross rein cannot remain caught under end of pole for there is no end sticking out and hook to hold as with the old arrangement. When team in travelling on a level or up a hill the end of the pole and neckyoke are almost plumb. There will be no more getting off high loads or running around through the deep snow to disengage the rein.

CITIZENS' DAY TOMORROW.

Everybody who possibly can should attend the exhibition tomorrow, the closing day. It has been put aside for the citizens of Fredericton, St. Mary's, Gibson and Marysville and there will be special attractions offered. In the afternoon the president will deliver an address to exhibitors, afterwards there will be a grand parade of the prize stock. Diavolo will loop the loop and Leanda will jump the chasm, notwithstanding the slight mishap of yesterday from which he has quite recovered. There will be new moving pictures

ENGLISHMEN REFUSE

To Take Inferior Place to Jews in Earl Grey Reception at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Great dissatisfaction has arisen over the arrangement of national societies at Earl Grey's reception. The order was decided by lot, and the Jews drew first place. Englishmen are in the rear and they refuse to accept that position.

Woodstock Press.—Rev. G. D. Ireland and his bride returned from an extended wedding trip on Saturday and Mrs. Ireland will receive her friends on Wednesday and Thursday, 27th and 28th inst. at the residence of Mrs. Chas. McLean.

The star attraction on the Row is the bug house, located near the main building. This show can be seen for ten cents and is well worth the money.

Madame LeBlanche, the champion strong woman of the world, is holding forth in a tent in the rear of the poultry house. She exhibits a copy of the Police Gazette containing her portrait and performs various feats of strength.
