THEY LIKE SHACKLES.

When the autonomy bills were before parliament, Mr. Foster almost shed tears over the alleged iniquity of the educational clauses. The young giants of the west, Alberta and Saskatchewan, he declared in indignant tones were being shackled by Laurier and the Liberal party, and would resent their chains at the first opportunity.

Hon. Mr. Oliver in the heat of the discussion went back to Edmonton for reelection and was returned by acclamation, some evidence that the autonomy bills were not distasteful to the west. But even this did not convince Mr. Foster and the other Tories in Parliament that they were on the wrong track. They declared it was no use to put up a candidate where Galicians, Doukhobors and other recent immigrants under government control formed a large proportion of the electorate and they proceeded to declaim against the enormities of the autonomy bills, and the shackles Laurier was forging for the new provinces.

In the meantime Mr. Bennett and Mr. Haultain, the Tory leaders in Alberta and Saskatchewan, came into the North Oxford and London bye-election campaigns and in violent language denounced the educational clauses of the autonomy bills. The former declaring that if the measures passed there would be revolution in the west, London and North Oxford, declined to listen to the war talk of the western Tory leaders, returned the Liberal candidates by smashing majorities. Parliament passed the autonomy bills, and Messrs. Bennett and Haultain went home to lead the revolution which they declared was assuming shape and would swamp the government.

But nothing of the kind has occurred. No dire results have followed the passage of the bills; the vigorous young west—the giants of the prairie apparently love their shackles over which Mr. Foster wept sympathetic tears, against which Mr. Bennett thundered all his eloquence, and Mr. Haultain exercised all his political cunning. The young giants in the chains, at the first opportunity administered such a vigorous kick at Mr. Bennett and his Tory friends, that only two of them out of twenty-five seeking seats in the new Alberta legislature were returned, Mr. Bennett himself going down to defeat in Calgary, which only a year ago elected a Tory to the House of Commons. Mr. Haultain, there is little doubt, will also receive an adverse verdict in Saskatchewan, where the election will be called on before the close of the year.

The lesson from Alberta is one which the Tory leaders should take earnestly to heart. The people of the west have indignantly spurned the men and the party who sought to embroil Canada in a dangerous sectarian agitation, and it repels the Foster declaration that Laurier by the autonomy bills shackled the young giants of the west.

OF THE SAME BLOOD.

Perhaps the most remarkable and pleasing scene of the whole program for the reception of Prince Louis of Battenberg and his sailors at New York was that witnessed last night at Coney Island, when British and American Jackies, to the number of 2,500, dined together and fraternized, led by the Prince and admirals of the American navy.

Blood is thicker than water, was the sentiment of the evening, and it lost none of its strength and popularity by reason of the beer and champagne used to oil the banquetting machinery.

The proceedings were indicative of the cordial feeling of brotherhood which happily exists between the two great English speaking nations, which, when combined, can assure peace to the world, and if resisted, could go a long way towards whipping all the other nations.

What a catastrophe if two such nations as Great Britain and the United States should go to war; what blessing for humanity follows in the train of their well understood co-operation, and alliance, secret, yet none the less secure and effective.

The visit of the British cruiser squadron to the United States was a happy arrangement, for it will strengthen and renew the bond of friendship which unites the interest of the great nation so wisely ruled by Edward the Peacemaker, and the mighty force over which the strenuous Roosevelt holds sway.

Our old friend Mr. Arthur Simonds was not only defeated in Leduc, Alberta, for the provincial legislature, but polled such a small vote that he lost his deposit, that is his total vote was less than one half the vote of his Liberal opponent, Mr. Telford. Evidently there are very few Tories in Leduc. Another Tory candidate who lost his deposit was the gentleman who ran against Premier Rutherford, in Strathcona, which is just across the river from Edmonton.

It looks as if a Liberal option is having an influence on the political course of the Sun, which has apparently lost all its former vigor for the Tory cause. Perhaps the editor is training for a change with his paper.

Discussing the proposed sale of the Sun to the Liberals, the Chatham World says: "Mr. Thorne has probably grown weary of a large investment that returns very small dividends or none at all."

MARYSVILLE NEWS.

Nov. 14.—The week of mission work started in All Saints' Church last Sunday afternoon and a very interesting and impressive service was conducted by Archdeacon Bryan of New York, who spoke from the words "God is Love." It was a very interesting meeting. The Archdeacon was ably assisted by Rev. Dr. Duffy. In the evening the missionary conducted the services himself and the large congregation present was greatly benefited by the able discourse, which was assisted by Mr. Wilkes, of Fredericton, who rendered a solo, which was very nicely sung.

The Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association intend holding a grand musical and literary entertainment in the Orange Hall next Thursday evening, Nov. 16th. The Marysville Orchestra will be in attendance and an excellent programme will be carried out.

No Surrender Council Rt. T. of T. will meet in their hall Thursday evening, instead of Wednesday. A large number are requested to be present as business of importance will be discussed.

There was a large congregation at the Methodist church last Sunday evening, on which occasion the pastor, Rev. W. B. Thomas, preached a very able and interesting sermon. The pulpit in the Baptist church was occupied by Rev. Mr. Simpson of Nova Scotia, while Rev. H. H. Ferguson preached in the Free Baptist.

Mr. Harry Dunbar left Saturday for Milltown, to visit "a friend." It is about time that the curling club members were getting to work and talking over the prospects for the coming season. It is understood that several young men have expressed their desire of joining this winter.

A horse race that has been looked forward with a great deal of interest lately, took place last Saturday night where Fred Stafford and Ludlow Pond had it hot and heavy for the three mile stretch from Gibson to Marysville and as both men drive noble steeds which are noted for their going qualities, it was a hotly contested race to the finish, although Pond's horse rather had the better of the race, winning (it is said) by about two rods. When the race was finished the drivers disappeared and it was reported that one of them got lost in the wood yard, the glory of winning the race was too much for him. A second go will likely take place after the sleighing gets good.

Mr. and Mrs. David Banks, White Row, entertained their friends last Friday night on which occasion a very pleasant evening was spent by all. Light refreshments were served. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fred White are very sorry to hear of the bad accident that befell their little son Allen, who broke his leg last Friday, while riding on a team driven by Mr. John Gibson. It was purely accidental and no blame can be attached to the driver. Dr. H. H. McNally is attending the little boy.

THE STAR COURSE.

Next Attraction is "Sunshine Hawks" Tuesday, Dec. 5th.

The Y. M. C. A. members expect to have an audience which will fill the Opera House for the next attraction in the "Spencer Star Course," which is A. W. Hawks, the "laughing philosopher." The members are now selling the Course tickets for eighty cents good for the remaining four entertainments. Seats will be on sale at McMurray's Thursday the 30th inst. Mr. Hawks is one of the finest mirth provokers on the platform, and his entertainment will doubtless be one of the finest in the Course.—d.

Still another change has been made in connection with the Canadian government taking control of the Halifax garrison. It was decided that the royal garrison was to go out on Nov. 15. This was the last date agreed upon. Dec. 7 has now been fixed. Orders have been sent out for Ottawa to move one company of the Royal Canadian Regiment from London, Toronto, St. Johns (Que.), and Quebec, and two companies of artillery to Halifax by the latter date. These orders apply to about 700 men.

BITS OF NEWS.

Dan Patch on Saturday broke the world's pacing record at Memphis with a runner at his side, making the mile in 1.58 flat.

Thomas B. Clement, president of the First National Bank of Fairbault, Minn., who was convicted of embezzling the funds of the bank, causing its failure, has been sentenced to serve eight years in prison.

The executive committee of the national committee for the relief of the Russian sufferers, announced that nearly $15,000 had been added to the relief fund, making a total of $42,685.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Mail says that 240,000 Georgians, armed with modern rifles, hold Georgia (in Trans-Caucasia) despite the three important Russian forces converging thereon, and that, except for runners, Georgia has completely been isolated for many days.

The receipts from the game licenses in New Brunswick still grow and it is thought there will be a gain of $2,000 this year over last year. The receipts last year from the game licenses were $16,216, while this year, at the game warden's office, it is estimated that the revenue from the same source will total $18,000.

Frederick Moseley, stipendiary magistrate of Sydney, N. S., died Monday night, after a few days' illness of pneumonia. He was a brother of the late Hon. E. T. Moseley and for many years was editor of the Cape Breton Advocate. He married a daughter of the late Senator Bourinot.

Louis Fortier of Brandon, Vermont is dead, at the age of ninety-three years. He had more descendants than any other man in Addison county, leaving, besides a widow, nine children, forty-six grandchildren, sixty-four great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren. He was twice married.

A London cable says: A short time ago a suggestion was made that the services of Lord Strathcona to the Dominion should be recognized in some formal manner by Canadians resident in Great Britain. A general committee has been formed to invite subscriptions, which it is suggested should not exceed ten guineas for the purpose of enabling some suitable presentation to be made.

There has been an unusual but not an alarming increase in the number of diphtheria cases in St. John since the commencement of the month. Up to Monday seventeen cases had been reported to the board of health. So far there has been six recoveries and one death. The disease is not confined to any particular part of the city, and the majority of the patients are children. One, however, is twenty-nine years of age. No special reason for the unlooked for prevalence of the disease is assigned.

Ward Yerxa died very suddenly Monday afternoon at Woodstock. He was at work on the armory, hoisting brick to an upper flat, and at the time was in conversation with William Barnes. Suddenly he fell over and Dr. Kierstead, who immediately responded to the call, pronounced him dead from heart disease. Deceased was sixty-one years of age, and was born in Union Corner, parish of Richmond, but has resided at Woodstock for some years. His wife died last May. One son, Spurgeon, and a daughter, Maud Yerxa, survive.
