BRAVE AND INTREPID WOMAN.

Mrs. Hubbard Reports Her Expedition to Bleak and Barren Labrador.

SUCCESSFUL IN HER MISSION AND RETURNING HOME.

New York, Nov. 11.—(Special)—Mrs. Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., has sent the following message to the World from Chateau Bay, Labrador, date Nov. 10.

"Our undertaking has been successful. I went away prepared to meet many hardships, and I met none. "It was a splendid trip, which gave me pleasure more than pleasure, privilege offering a tribute to one whose life spirit which lived beautiful beyond anything life has shown me.

"June 25, 2.30 p. m., left Northwest River, attempted to cross the northeastern portion of Labrador, Peninsula by Nascaupce and George Rivers.

August 27th, 11.30 a. m., we were received at George River, the Hudson Bay company's post at Ungava Bay, by John Ford, the company's agent. 5.50, our journey accomplished without serious mishaps. One accident we had on Nascaupce River, when a canoe turned in the rapids and two men barely escaped drowning. We lost part of our outfit, but not enough to force us to turn back. "When we left the Northwest river, our first objective point was Seal

Lake, which we reached Monday, July 15, and made our first camp at Lake Michikamau.

August 8th, saw one head of the heights of table land and the head of George River, August 10.

"On the George River we met two bands of Indians, the first 50 miles below the headwaters. These belong to the Montagnais tribe. Two and a half miles below them, Indians of the Nascaupce or Barren Ground People. Both camps were in grand humor. George Elsen (Mrs. Hubbard's half-breed Indian guide, who accompanied the Hubbard expedition) being able to speak their own language.

"Have had no illness. Left George River on the steamer Pelican, Oct. 22 reaching Rigolette Nov. 1. We were fortunate enough to connect with the steamer King Edward, due at Quebec about November 18.

This is the first message, beyond the bare announcement of safety, from the intrepid woman, who returned from the Labrador wastes, where her husband perished in 1903, after having followed step by step, the trail in the frozen wilderness and settled once for all the manner of his death.

ANTI-SUICIDE COMMISSION.

Noval Organization Formed by the Mayor of Cleveland.

New York, Nov. 11.—(Special)—A Cleveland despatch to the World says: To stay the hands of self-destructors, and to render all possible aid to the despondent is the object of the anti-suicide commission, appointed by Mayor Tom L. Johnston. Frederick C. Howe, state senator-elect, Wm. H. Greenland, former probation officer of the juvenile court and Rev. Harris R. Coates, a member of the board of public service, comprise the commission. Every person in Cleveland contemplating suicide, is invited to write a letter to the commission and tell his or her troubles. For persons despondent from non-employment, the commission will endeavor to obtain employment, while the needs of others seeking aid, will be looked after.

MAY HAVE DUAL GOVERNMENT.

Hearst, it is Said, Will Have Himself Sworn in as Mayor of New York.

New York Nov. 11.—(Special)—Congressman William R. Hearst will follow up the fight against Tammany Hall, by placing a full county ticket in the field in this and Kings counties next fall. Seven supreme court justices are to be nominated next fall in this and Kings counties under the municipal ownership ticket.

According to the Tribune today,

Hearst, if his contest for the mayoralty is prolonged in the courts beyond the first of next year, will take the oath of office, it is said, announce his appointment, and demand possession of the mayor's office in the city hall. Inasmuch as Mayor McClellan has decided to fight his adversary every point the contest will likely be prolonged, and this city may have a dual government New Year's Day.

THE MAN OF HER CHOICE.

Daughter of a Rich Man Marries Former Conductor.

Pittsfield, Mass., Nov. 11.—Having declined the attentions of admirers of wealth and prominence, Miss Jennie Lucella Smith, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt S. Smith of Lee, was married Thursday in Hartford, Ct., to the man of her choice, Walter Scott Dickie, a former Berkshire street railway conductor, now a clerk in the auditor's department of the Consolidated Railway Company at Hartford.

For over a year Dewitt Smith, the millionaire president of the Smith Paper Company, objected to the match, but Thursday his heart softened and he consented to the marriage just as his daughter boarded the 10 o'clock train for Hartford.

From the window of her handsome residence on Park street, Miss Smith used to watch for the car of which Dickie was the conductor. She would get up at 6 o'clock in the morning to take early trips with him between Pittsfield and Stockbridge. She used to take him to drive with her own handsome span on Sundays and moonlight nights. Every evening in the week Dickie was at Miss Smith's home until her father forbade him to come to his house. Soon after that he was transferred to Hartford, but the romance went merrily on.

Miss Dickie is a blonde of 26, nearly 6 feet tall, slender and graceful. She was educated at a Pittsfield private school, and spent a year in Paris and Berlin. The company of which Dewitt Smith is the president, owns five paper mills in Lee, and he is one of the wealthiest paper manufacturers in Massachusetts.

Mr. Dickie is 27, and the son of Capt. Robert Burns Dickie of Dalton, a civil war veteran, who for years has been junior of the Dalton High school, where the son graduated several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gillespie, of St. John, leave this evening for New York where they will attend the ball to be given on the 14th instant on the flagship Drake, by Prince Louis, on the special invitation of the prince.

OLD TIMES RECALLED.

Local News of Fredericton Twenty-Six Years Ago.

(Farmer Files Nov. 6th, 1879.)

There is considerable floating ice in the river today, which will probably prevent the arrival of the boat from St. John.

Mrs. John McCloskey's house, on Brunswick street, occupied by J. D. Hanlon and Mrs. James Phillips, was slightly damaged by fire Sunday afternoon.

Rev. J. H. Tupper and Mr. Whelan got over one hundred weight of honey out of a tree on Mr. Silpp's farm, Queensbury, last week. The comb was about ten feet long and from six inches to a foot in diameter, and was found in a white maple tree.

Miss Lyle, of the Model school, has taken a six months' leave of absence.

Mr. Eldon Mullin has been appointed school inspector for York and two parishes of Carleton County.

Mr. C. G. D. Roberts, A. B., has been appointed principal of the Chatham Grammar School.

Mr. Wortman has been appointed principal of the York street school. Mr. John H. Reid returned yesterday from a visit to the United States, stopping at Bangor, Boston, New York, Newark, Jersey City and Trenton. By the way he received an order from Mr. Bonner, of New York to select a specimen of Robert R. Morris' colts for him.

The Orangemen of this city celebrated the defeat of the gunpowder plot by dining last night at the Waverley Hotel. Mr. William Wilson, Grand Master of N. B., occupied the chair, and the vice chair was filled by P. G. M. John Pickard, M. P. with E. L. Wetmore on his right.

DEATHS.

In this city on the 30th ult, Lizzie A., daughter of the late Rev. Richard Weddall, Methodist minister, aged 37 years.

In this city on the 4th inst, John D. Rainford, son of Capt. Charles Rainford, in the 59th year of his age.

At Kingsclear, October 29th, Mary wife of Richard E. Hartt, aged 50 years.

(November 13th, 1879.)

Mr. F. H. Risteen, who took a course at the Boston Art School, is making quite a name for himself as an artist. His sketch of Rev. Mr. Brewer does infinite credit to his skill with the pencil.

Robert Jewett is erecting a steam sawmill at Risteen's Creek, Kingsclear.

Mr. John B. Hawthorn has been appointed second captain of the Alexandria Steam Engine Company.

Mr. Hawthorn is a most efficient fireman and will undoubtedly prove a valuable aid to Captain Thompson, of the Alexandria.

The river is again open to navigation, the past few days of moderate weather having freed it entirely of ice.

Mr. J. Hatt Estey has again leased ed the rink (York street) and will reopen it as soon as the weather permits.

Robert S. Bailey, of St. Mary's, is doing a brisk business in the potato line. He is now purchasing sixteen hundred barrels to load on the schooner Arcola for Boston, for which he is paying 55 and 60 cents per barrel.

At a recent meeting of the Kingsclear Reform Club, the following officers were elected: George N. Risteen, president; W. McKinley, 1st vice president; Miss Maggie Murray, 2nd vice president; Miss Phoebe Cliff, secretary; Albert Everett, assistant secretary; Tabor Everett, treasurer; Vivian W. Tippet, who left Fredericton nearly two years ago, now fills the important position of principal and mathematical professor of St. Paul's Academy.

The public opening of the Normal School took place yesterday. On the platform were seated the Lieutenant Governor, Hon. Messrs. Wedderburn, Fraser and Perley, Dr. Rand, Dr. Jack, Inspector Mullin and Principal Crockett.

While the Messrs. Glasier's tug Admiral was on her way from St. John Tuesday night, she collided with the woodboat Charlotte A., opposite Gilbert's Island, doing quite serious damage to both crafts. Happily nobody was injured, although the mate of the tug narrowly escaped being carried overboard.

There was a fair attendance at the driving park yesterday and the sport was excellent. A summary of the contests is as follows:

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's father, South Richmond, 6th inst., by Rev. W. Harrison, George M. Clark, of Fredericton, to Miss Kate Crawford.

At St. James' Church, St. John, on the 6th inst., by Rev. Canon Brigstocke, Charles H. Masters, barrister-at-law, to Mary P., second daughter of the late Andrew Gregg, of Fredericton.

CAPTURES NEW YORK.

Prince Louis Has Made a Very Favorable Impression on the Gothamites.

New York, Nov. 11.—Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg, through his absolute democracy and unassuming cordiality, has made friends every minute of his visit here. The prince, although here solely as an admiral in the British navy in command of a squadron returning the visit paid by an American squadron to England several years ago, has by his tact and good nature scored a real diplomatic triumph.

Perhaps the most interesting incident of the second day of his visit to New York, was his formal reception of a delegation of New York reporters in his cabin yesterday. For a second time he talked to them with the utmost frankness, answering some of their searching questions and foiling others.

The prince's cabin is not a royally luxurious room, but is comfortable and homelike. Pictures of his family and friends, with some interesting prints of ships, are hung upon the walls.

"Yes," remarked the prince, "I am a busy man these days. You people have really been most kind to me. In fact I receive many, many more invitations than I can possibly accept. Twenty-four hours is not nearly long enough a day for me to accept all of the many courtesies offered me."

There were three scheduled events on Prince Louis' program yesterday, the first being a luncheon at Governor's Island, with Brigadier General Grant. This was an elaborate affair and a distinguished company was there to meet the Prince, the officers of his staff, the commanding officers of the squadron, and Prince Alexander of the North Atlantic fleet, a nephew of the admiral. Among the guests were Rear Admirals Evans, Coghlan, Sigbee, Davis and Brownson, and the commanding officers of the North Atlantic fleet, Mrs. Paul Morton, Col. Robert M. Thompson, president of the Naval Academy Alumni Association, General and Mrs. Chaffee, Captain and Mrs. Cowles, and Commander Sharpe.

The Prince made the trip to the island on the army quartermaster's tug, and was received at the landing with military honors.

After luncheon the Prince attended a brilliant reception at the New York Navy Yard, where Rear Admiral Coghlan was the Prince's host.

Last night the Prince and 250 officers of the two squadrons were the guests of the Naval Academy Alumni Association at an magnificent banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The Prince went to West Point today, accompanied by the ranking officers of the two squadrons. He will witness the football game between West Point and Carlisle, and after the game will return to New York on a special train in time to attend the dinner of Col. and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson.

United Baptist (Stone) church, Preaching at 11 a. m., by Rev. A. A. Rideout, A. B., and at 7 p. m., by Rev. A. B. Cohoe, B. A., of St. John. Sunday school and Bible class at 2.30 p. m. Tuesday and Friday night meetings at 7.30 o'clock. All are cordially invited to these services. Seats free.
