WANT MORE GINGER.

It really begins to look as if the hobby for clean baseball is being ridden to death and instead of benefiting the game that an injury will be worked and it might be well for the club owners to stop and think before proceeding any further along that line, says a clever writer in The Pittsburgh Press.

It is an open question, and one that will bear a lot of discussion, as to whether the public that attends the baseball games wants their game in the form of croquet or cricket. The writer's experiences shows that the public does not want what is called Sunday School games, but would rather have their baseball with a good sized injection of ginger in it.

Some time ago Manager Clarke, of the Pittsburghs, complained that the umpires had been given entirely too much authority, and that they would in time become too autocratic and hurt the game. That this is so is admitted by nearly every manager in the league, and it is becoming plainly evident to those who attend the games daily. Under the new order of things the players are not allowed to open their mouths, and if they do it is with the fear of being sent to the bench, or perhaps, chased off the playing field, which means the infliction of a $10 fine.

This of itself shows what this new hobby of clean baseball is coming to. It used to be in the old days that the players had some right to fight for their rights, and the player who is content to go along and take just what the umpire hands out to him without a murmur is not of much account to his team. It is but natural for players to register a kick when they think they are getting the worst of it from the umpire, and to take away this right will be to take the life out of the game, and the club owners might just as well place a lot of dummies out on the field, and allow them to go through the form of playing the game. There would be just as much interest in the games as there will be if this kind of clean baseball is carried any further.

The writer does not favor rowdy baseball any more than does President Pulliam, but he does think that this hobby of clean baseball has gone entirely too far, and the time has arrived to put a stop to it. Just think of it. The latest order is to have the umpire address the players as "Mister" and in return have the players address the umpires in the same manner. If this isn't getting down to the Alphonse and Gaston act than nothing is. Baseball will be then a parlor game, and it was never intended for such. It is a healthy, manly, outdoor sport, which every man or boy can or did play in his time. It is the national game of America, and it is not golf, croquet or cricket. It must have life and ginger in it, and to take this away is to take away the interest. Clean baseball is all right, but there is such a thing as having it too clean.

JULY 4TH CROWDS.

The attendance at the sixteenth major league games July 4th totaled over 150,000. The American League having a share the better of it, owing to the poor showing at Washington Park. The totals were: American League, 78,214; National, 72,545. The figures given out were as follows: American League, New York, 20,000; Boston, 21,463; Cleveland, 27,251; Detroit, 9,500. National League, Philadelphia, 30,489; Pittsburgh, 19,556; Chicago, 15,500; Brooklyn, 7,000. The Philadelphia Giants attracted the banner crowd.

THE RING.

GOODMAN GOT DECISION.

Chelsea, Mass., July 8.—"Kid" Goodman of Boston, was given the decision over Harry Lewis of Philadelphia, at the end of a fifteen round bout before the Douglas A. A. today.

GOTCH TO FIGHT HART.

Arrangements are practically completed for a finish fight between Marvin Hart and Frank Gotch, former champion heavyweight wrestler of the world, for a side bet of $5,000. Gotch, who has been in training for the prize ring, was in Minneapolis Tuesday, where he wrestled, and the same night telegraphed to Hart asking him for a match for the heavyweight title.

A reply was received Thursday from Jack McCormick, Hart's manager, saying that Gotch could have the match provided a club at Reno or San Francisco would offer good inducements. Gotch is confident that he can beat Hart, and says that when articles are signed he will deposit $5,000.

GOLF.

AFTER THE RECORD.

The new champion, Geo. S. Lyon, is after the record at Lambton. The veteran—this title almost seems premature in the light of recent events, but surely a man has the right to do this honor when he has been making records in four or five different fields of sport for over twenty years—chafes at the idea of young Austin holding a record two strokes below his. So we may expect reports every now and then of Champion Lyon having a go for the record at his home club.

W. J. Travis, the "old man" as he is called, has again been doing fine work in the States, and has for the third time landed the first prize for his club. Phenoms may burst upon us every now and again, but Travis, like our own champion, is ever to be relied upon.

THE LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP.

The next event of great importance in the golfing world of Canada, will be the ladies' championship tournament at Montreal. It isn't held until the late autumn, Oct. 2nd to 8th, but every woman who is a devotee is looking forward to the event, and hoping—There are ever so many players of the gentler sex who have a chance to land the championship title.

THE TURF.

SYSONBY'S EARNINGS.

The victories of Sysonby in the Tidal Stakes, Commonwealth Handicap and Realization, makes James H. Keene head the list of winning owners at the Sheephead Bay meeting. When the end came Tuesday, he had won $48,500. Sysonby, with $27,365 to his credit, was second, and August Belmont with $22,220, third. Among the other big winners were E. E. Smathers, $21,705; S. S. Brown, $18,230; H. P. Whitney, $16,655; Fred Cook, $14,075; R. T. Wilson, Jr., $10,000; J. W. Colt, $9,905; James A. Brady, $8,850; W. B. Jennings, $8,260; P. McCarren, $7,600; J. E. Madden, $5,985; Andrew Miller, $5,495; C. E. Rowe, $4,270; W. H. Snyder, $4,165, and Frank Farrell, $4,150.

The Realization was worth $17,085 to Sysonby; $2,166 to Tanya; the second horse, and $1,083 to Migraine. Ironsides, victor in the double event, placed $8,000 to the credit of Harry Payne Whitney.

THE RIFLE.

U. S. SHOTS MEET DEFEAT.

Bisley Camp, Eng., July 7.—The Westminster Volunteers won the Sir Howard Vincent shield today, defeating the 7th regiment by the narrow margin of ten points after the closest competition ever seen at Bisley. The Englishmen won by their superiority at long ranges. Unfortunately for the Americans, Meyer went to pieces at the 1,000 yards. Otherwise the finish would, at least, have been closer.

The Americans were given the heartiest send off when the shooting was over. They were escorted to a train preceded by the band. The shooting conditions were better on the whole. The breeze was very light. The sun was much stronger and the flare in their faces interfered with the marksmen. The heat was oppressive.

The totals at the 800 yards range were:—Westminster, 389; Americans, 381.

The scores yesterday at 500 and 600 yards gave the Americans a lead of 5 points.

AUTOMOBILING.

THERY THE WINNER.

Laschamp, department of Puy-de-Dome, July 5, 1905.—France again established her supremacy in an international automobile contest today over the Auvergne course of about 341 miles. Thery, the French champion, won the race after an exciting contest with the Italian champion, Lancia, and an enormous crowd witnessed the contest.

Soon after the start Lancia began to draw up upon Thery, finally passing him and securing six minutes lead, when his machine broke down. Thereafter Thery had the race all his own way, finishing in 7 hours, 10 minutes, with Cango, an Italian, second; Nazzari, third; Callois, fourth and Earp fifth. Three Americans started, but they did not make a notable showing.

There was considerable surprise among the contestants at the poor showing made by the Americans. Lytle, who was placed 12th, and who was the only American to finish, said:—"I had almost completed the first lap at good speed, when, crossing a rut, the principal lubricating tube of my machine burst beyond all possibility of repair. I continued the race, however, my mechanic holding the tube together with his fingers for a distance of 400 kilometers. We were both soaked and nearly blinded by the escaping oil, and were compelled to reduce our speed. None of the American cars were appropriate for the course, and there was also much trouble with the tires."

Thery, the winner of the race, in an interview, said:—"I foresaw the Italians would be my most formidable competitors, and I experienced no trouble throughout except in the changing of the tires. This is my last race."

Joe Tracy, another of the American drivers, said:—"My chain broke in the first round, and I was delayed ten minutes. The clutch collar went wrong in the second round, and delayed me half an hour. Thery's performance was wonderful."

Count Thiozy, while driving in an automobile to attend the race, collided with a stone wall in the town of Lepuy, and was hurled into a ravine, dying two hours later. A woman who accompanied him was dangerously injured.

VIGOROUS LAND POLICY.

Canadian Pacific's Big Estate in British Columbia.

Victoria, July 10.—Assistant Second Vice-President Dennis of the C. P. R., told the Victoria Board of Trade today what the company proposed to do with the million and a half acres of land which has come into the possession in consequence of the transfer of the E. & N. to the C. P. R. The company are beginning a big campaign for immigration, issuing illustrated pamphlets and placing the whole campaign in the hands of a big Minneapolis advertising agency. The company will clear the land by means of steam stumps and logging engines, and hope to be able to sell it for about $70 per acre. A similar policy in Washington State has started a regular stampede of settlers there.

Mr. Dennis declared that the big asset of this coast was its climate and scenery, and announced the intention of his company to make Victoria the biggest tourist centre in Canada. He declared it had all the requisites necessary for that purpose. He also announced the company would greatly improve the terminals and rolling stock of the G. & N. Railway.

A PAUPER BARONET.

London Daily News.

By the death of Sir William Gordon Macgregor, which occurred at Bristol on June 21, there is ended a singular romance of the baronetage. Born 59 years ago, the son of Rev. Sir Charles Macgregor, at one time vicar of Swallow, Lincolnshire, the late baronet was educated at Halley.

bury. He succeeded to the title in 1879, but to little else, and a series of vicissitudes rendered him penniless. He was admitted to the Jubilee Hospital, Woodford, and in October, 1902, was transferred to the West Ham Infirmary. News of the baronet's residence in a workhouse soon spread, stories of his unfortunate career appeared in the newspapers, and Sir William received many letters of sympathy, some of them containing offers of marriage.

A West end matrimonial agency opened communication with him, and the head of the concern had an interview with the baronet. He was told that a wealthy American was willing to pay $25,000 for the privilege of marrying a titled Englishman. Ultimately an agreement was prepared by solicitors, in which it was stipulated that Sir William was to receive £5,000 in cash on the wedding day. But this agreement fell through, because the lady was looking for a duke, and would accept no one with an inferior title.

Soon after this disappointment a lady called at the workhouse, induced him to take his discharge and to travel with her to Bristol. She was the deputy of her sister, who had become interested in his strange story. He met this lady and preparations were made for their marriage. But a hitch occurred again, and the baronet was disappointed.

However, he was not to die a bachelor. The lady who acted as deputy, renewed acquaintances with him, and on April 5, 1903, she married him. She was Miss Alice Gulliver, daughter of the late Captain Gulliver, R. N. They were married at the Southmead Registry Office, and
