ST. JOHN HAS LANDSLIDE.

Caused Much Excitement Among the Citizens of the West End.

FORMER FREDERICTON CITIZEN'S BUSINESS PREMISES INJURED.

St. John, Nov. 28.—(Special)—A big landslide occurred on Union St., at the head of Rodney street, Carleton, early this morning and caused much excitement in the west end. A large wooden building occupied by Israel E. Smith, formerly of Fredericton, and owned by the city, is in a dangerous condition and another slide may carry it away completely. There are large fissures in Union street between the building and the N. B. Southern station, and there is much anxiety for the safety of the railway property. The floor of the cell used as a store room in rear of the Smith building, dropped out, precipitating the contents of the storeroom into the slip, and Mr. Smith is removing the remainder of his stock to a place of safety. The piling which supported the rear of the building gave way, and dropped out, precipitating a tank partly full of oil and a number of barrels and boxes on the red clay below. The "bents" or supports over which run the N. B. Southern track in rear of the ill-fated structure have sunk several feet, and the opinion is expressed that it requires only another tide to take away buildings and perhaps carry away portions of the street.

DALHOUSIE HOTEL BURNED.

Guests Had a Narrow Escape and Some Lost Their Belongings.

Dalhousie, N. B., Nov. 28.—(Special)—Murphy's Hotel here was destroyed by fire between two and three o'clock this morning. It is supposed that the fire originated from a gas jet and when noticed the inmates of the house had just time to save themselves. A few of the boarders at the hotel lost nearly all their clothing. All the contents of the hotel were saved. The barn and outbuildings also went, but the horses were saved. The total loss is $12,000, partly insured.

The men suspended were caught ducking a medical student under a hydrant on Friday morning. The third year men are just hanging in the balance and the slightest move may result in a strike on their part. The resolutions of the striking classes declare Professors Anderson and Ellis incompetent.

THE SMALLPOX OUTBREAK.

Dr. Morehouse Claims that Burt's Corner Situation Has Been Exaggerated.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 27, 1905. To the Editor of the Herald:
Dear Sir.—Will you please insert in your paper a statement from me regarding the smallpox at Burt's Corner and oblige.
In the first place reports of the outbreak have been greatly exaggerated and false statements have been spread broadcast over the country much to the prejudice of the community. The disease has appeared in six houses only and there has up to date been but seven positive and one doubtful case. Under circumstances as they existed at the time the disease appeared very little could be done by way of isolation and quarantine, but on Saturday last the county board held a meeting in Fredericton and at that meeting it was decided to establish a rigid quarantine and such has been done. The houses are now all placarded and under strict quarantine with a guard in charge. I have closed the Burt's Corner school and churches, the Upper Keswick school and church, also the Jones's Forks school. The mails have been closed to the inmates of the infected houses and I have made arrangements to have the out-going mails fumigated. The cases with one exception are all on the road to recovery, in fact some of them are about well as far as any illness goes, but the eruption not having disappeared they are still under—and will be for some time—strict guard. I anticipate very little more trouble from the out-break and if people will only exercise a little patience and not believe the false statements that are given to the press and remember that everything possible is being done to stamp it out, it will soon be a thing of the past. The local board in my opinion have acted as promptly as it was possible for them to do and in my opinion there is no blame to be attached to anyone, as the moment the disease was recognized it was grappled with and there was no further spread. If you will kindly publish this you will greatly oblige the residents of this community as well as their friends at a distance who would naturally be anxious after reading the reports that have gone out. Yours very truly,
O. E. MOREHOUSE.
Upper Keswick, Nov. 27.

LAURIER AND THE JEWS.

Premier Spoke at Ottawa Meeting Called to Express Sympathy for the Persecuted Race.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Premier Laurier was the chief speaker at a meeting last night to protest against the atrocities perpetrated against the Jews in Russia. In his own opinion the government at St. Petersburg was rapping what it had sown. The Tsar in former years had turned a deaf ear to the appeals of his subjects for liberty and justice. When the Tsar refused reforms he invited revolution, and revolution had indeed come with all the horrors and atrocities inseparable from all revolutions. He was sure there would be a generous response to the appeal for aid. All the Russian Jews could not be brought to this country, but whoever chooses to come to Canada was sure to find a hearty welcome. (Cheers.) Sir Wilfrid continued. "We cherish institutions under which we live, we appreciate perhaps more than ever those British institutions in which there are equal rights for all, and under which every man, no matter what his origin, his creed or his race, is sure to find an equal share of liberty, of justice, of equity and of sunshine." (Loud cheers.) Proceeding, he said he deserved no credit for being at the meeting. It was his duty as a citizen to be present when, as a Canadian, as a British subject, one must be proud to assert the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God. (Loud cheers.)

THE ST. JOHN STRIKE.

Said that a Settlement will Probably be Reached Tomorrow.

St. John, Nov. 28.—(Special)—It is thought that tomorrow will see a settlement of the strike of the Longshoremen. Some members have expressed a willingness to work at 30 cents. Seventy-five more men arrived today from Montreal and went to work this afternoon on the C. P. R. Head, Allen, and Donaldson boats. More will arrive tomorrow.

GOT OFF EASY.

A Span of Horses Came Near Causing a Bad Accident in the Market.

A span of horses owned by William McGibbon of Douglas, and attached to a load of hay, created considerable excitement in the market this morning. Mr. McGibbon was in the act of climbing up the front of the load when the horses took fright and started off with a rush. His position was a rather perilous one, for had he lost his hold he would certainly have been run over and perhaps killed. William Todd, an employee of Palmers' tannery, happened to be near at the time, and made a plucky attempt to assist Mr. McGibbon. In trying to catch hold of the latter he was struck by one of the wheels, knocked down and considerably bruised. The horses were brought to a standstill soon afterwards, without any serious damage being done. Mr. Todd was carried to Dible's drug store, where he was cared for by Dr. W. H. Irvine. His injuries were not at a very serious nature and he was able to accompany the doctor home in his carriage.

THE LATE JOHN MCCANN.

Very Much Esteemed at His Old Home—Further Particulars of the Drowning Accident.

Our Harvey correspondent writes: John McCann, son of Mr. John McCann of Acton, died very suddenly at Beverly, Mass., on Saturday. He was working as a truckman, and had been handling some heavy goods, and is supposed to have ruptured a blood vessel. In returning home he said to a companion that he felt sleepy and would lie down in the truck wagon. He did so and was found dead shortly after. The remains were brought here yesterday and will be interred here at Cork today. He was an estimable young man, and much sympathy is felt for his bereaved parents. He leaves a wife and one child.

Andrew Cleghorn of Tweedside, was drowned in the Magaguadavic lake yesterday morning, while on his way to work in the lumber woods. He and a man named Ford Messer were travelling on the ice near the shore when Cleghorn broke through. Messer was unable to give him much assistance, and after a vain effort to regain the ice became exhausted and sank. The body has not yet been recovered, but will likely be today. He was a son of Mr. Geo. Cleghorn of
