ALLAN LINER'S MISHAP.

Steamship Bavarian Outward Bound hard on the Rocks near Gross Isle.

Montréal, Nov. 4.—(Special)—Andrew Allan, of the head office of the Allan Steamship Company, was advised late last night that the outward bound Allan Liner Bavarian was aground near Gross Isle's quarantine.

A special train over the I. C. R. to Quebec, was at once ordered to enable Mr. Allan to reach the scene of the accident as soon as possible and arrange assistance for the stranded vessel.

Later advices from the Bavarian state that the vessel went on the rocks in a blinding snow storm late last night. The steamer was one day from Quebec to the quarantine station before proceeding to the sea.

Assistance has been sent her, but there is no likelihood of the vessel being pulled off immediately.

As to the extent of the damage no statement has been given out.

THE DRESS SUIT CASE.

Prominent Doctor Arrested in Connection with Boston's Murder Mystery.

ALLEGED THAT HE PERFORMED AN OPERATION ON MISS GEARY.

Boston, Nov. 4.—A brief conversation by long-distance telephone and the scene of developments in the famous suit case mystery shifted from New York back to Boston. As a result of the brief talk between Chief Inspector William B. B. Watts and Detective Captain Joseph Dugan, at police headquarters here, Dr. Percy D. McLeod, a reputable physician of the Back Bay district, was arrested on the charge of performing an illegal operation on Susan Geary, the Cambridge girl whose dismembered body was found in two suit cases in the water of Boston harbor.

Last night, while the authorities admit that other arrests may be expected soon, they said that the case is practically completed and that it no longer remains a mystery.

Through the confessions of Crawford and Howard, the two men arrested in New York on Thursday, the authorities received evidence which in their opinion warranted the arrest of Dr. McLeod yesterday afternoon. It is alleged that Dr. McLeod was called into the case after the first operation was performed in a Tremont street office, and that he performed a second operation of a desperate nature in a vain attempt to save the life of the young woman.

Miss Geary failing to recover, it is alleged that Dr. McLeod, in an effort to conceal the crime, dismembered the body. These dismembered parts were placed in two suit cases and a small bag, and according to the confessions of Crawford and Howard, dropped by them into the harbor.

So far the head, which was placed in a small bag, weighed with shot, has not been found, but inasmuch as the police have been told approximately where it was dropped overboard, it is believed that it will soon be recovered, thereby establishing beyond question the identity of the victim.

Morris Nathan, the lover of the dead girl, was arrested in Pittsburgh last Sunday night and brought to this city in a state of collapse, and is gradually recovering at the city hospital, but is not yet in a condition to be brought into court. Nathan will probably be arraigned on Monday.

While at first the police were of the opinion that Nathan was not directly connected with the case, they now say that Nathan conducted the negotiations with the proprietors of the Tremont Street establishment, the place with which Crawford was connected, and that he was fully aware of the result of the operation upon the Geary girl.

Last night the police directed their energies towards locating another member of the band of alleged malpractitioners. While no statement was forthcoming that an arrest would be made immediately, it was said that there would be another arrest in connection with the case.

Dr. McLeod is about 35 years of age and is married. The arrest was made by order of Chief Watts, who is in New York in connection with the case. Chief Watts informed the officials here that the confession of Crawford in New York included the specific accusation that Dr. McLeod was the person who dismembered the body of the chorus girl. Immediately upon receipt of the message an inspector called up the doctor's office, on the telephone and made an appointment. The inspector did not disclose that he was a police official. The physician kept the appointment, and was at once arrested and removed to police headquarters. Captain Dugan questioned the arrested doctor, but the latter declined to discuss the case in any way.

From Captain Dugan it was learned that last Monday night two headquarters inspectors had, visited Dr.

PILLAGE AND MASACRE.

Continue in Many Cities and Towns of Russia—Jews Faring the Worst.

London, Nov. 4.—Despatches from Russia are very meagre owing to the disturbed condition of the country. The situation in St. Petersburg, where order is maintained by a show of armed force, remains critical, though improvement is shown in the resumption of operations by the electric light plants. Communication by railway with the frontier has not yet been established. From many of the interior cities come reports of conflicts, in which the Jews appear to be the principal sufferers. In Kiev the loss of life and property has been very great. In Theodosia and Saratoff the disorders have been most serious.

A London newspaper's correspondent that in the leading fifty provincial towns of Russia one thousand persons have been killed and ten thousand seriously wounded in the last twenty-four hours. The revolutionary movement in Finland is unchecked, the Finnish National Guard opposing the advance of the Russian troops and compelling them to retire.

The Daily Mail's Odessa correspondent gives an unconfirmed report that Kishineff has been absolutely destroyed by fire. He says that the three suburbs of Odessa, Persessyp, Zastava and Moldavanka have been completely devastated.

The Kiev correspondent of the same paper says that the British consulate has been riddled with bullets. The situation there, he adds, however, is improving, but during the riots bands of rowdies stopped everybody in carriages or aloft and compelled all to prove that they were not Jews before permitting them to go on. Ladies' dresses were torn open to see if they were wearing crosses. The British consul was stopped by soldiers with levelled rifles, who, however, permitted the mob to wreck the house of a wealthy Jew.

Warsaw, Nov. 3.—At a socialistic mass meeting this afternoon two infantry soldiers in full uniform delivered revolutionary speeches, assuring their hearers that the revolutionary propaganda was growing in the army and that the time was not far remote when the army would join in a revolution to overthrow a despotic throne.

McLeod at his home. They drove him to the office of Pawnbroker Berkman, who sold the suit cases. The pawnbroker then stated that the doctor looked like the man that purchased the suit cases, although he would not be positive that the doctor was in fact the man. During the drive, according to Captain Dugan, Dr. McLeod expressed the opinion that a second operation such as was performed upon the victim of the suit case mystery would necessitate the assistance of three or four men in addition to the operating physician. The second operation would have been performed for the purpose of saving the girl's life.

Captain Dugan further stated that it was known that Dr. McLeod had an extensive practice, particularly among the private hospitals. He had the reputation, the captain added, of being a "clever surgeon."

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.
Sequel to a Shooting Accident at Brockville.

Brockville, Ont., Nov. 4.—(Special).—The aftermath of a shooting affray which occurred on Oct. 21st, was aired in the police court yesterday.

Two lads, Carswell Phillips and James Lawson, were returning from the woods, when the former received a bullet in the left leg below the knee from a .22 calibre rifle carried by the latter.

Phillips swore that on two occasions he heard Lawson say, "Stand or I'll shoot." On the last command he started to run, and while doing so was shot.

The magistrate committed Lawson for trial.
