HOW THE BIBLE SOCIETY GOT ITS MONEY.

In view of the Bible Society's great Thanksgiving on Nov. 7, for the completion of its Centenary Fund of a quarter of a million guineas, the following details as to the chief sources from which the money came, throw a curious sidelight on the attitude of various countries towards the society and its work. Thus for instance $12,000 was sent by British North America; £6,600 came from Continental Europe; £4,000 from India; £5,500 from South Africa; $3,500 from New Zealand; £3,600 from Australia; £740 from Egypt; £720 from Russia; £6 from Japan; and £1,100 from China. The great bulk of the fund, as much as £220,000 came from England and Wales. Among the more striking contributions to the fund have been one gift of £10,000, one anonymous gift of £3,000, one gift of 2,500 guineas, one of £2,500, five of 2,000 guineas (one of which was anonymous), one anonymous gift of £2,000, thirteen gifts of 1,000 guineas (two anonymous), and ten of £1,000 (four anonymous). By far the greater part of the fund, however, has been raised by comparatively small gifts, often from poor people. The smallest separate contribution acknowledged at the Bible House was 1jd. from a domestic servant.

THE LATE MR. FISHER'S WILL.

Nearly half a million dollars is a large sum of money for one man to accumulate during his life time in New Brunswick, but that figure is only slightly over the amount of the late L. P. Fisher's estate at Woodstock.

The great bulk of deceased's property is left to public and charitable objects, and Woodstock is to be sincerely congratulated on having had so public spirited citizen. Mr. Fisher provided liberally for schools, teachers, parks, hospital, churches, Sunday schools, and of the poor he was forgetful. His personal bequests are to his wife and a few immediate relatives. The whole estate is probated at $474,000.

Nomination takes place tomorrow in the Alberta provincial elections and there will be contests in most of the districts. The leaders are Hon. Mr. Rutherford, the Liberal premier, and Mr. R. B. Bennett, the head of the Tory party in the province. The general expectation is that the Liberals will carry the province by a substantial majority.

The close of the war appears to have been only the beginning of more serious trouble for Russia. The whole Empire is seething with revolution and no man can fairly forecast the result.

The Liberals of North York have unanimously nominated Hon. A. B. Laylesworth, the new postmaster general, for the vacant seat in the commons.

ENJOYED HIS VISIT.

Prince Louis of Battenberg Speaks Kindly of His Fine Reception in New Brunswick.

Prince Louis of Battenberg passed through St. John Saturday evening from St. Andrews to Halifax and is now speeding with his squadron to Annapolis, Maryland and thence goes to New York, Nov. 9.

THE PRINCE AT ST. ANDREWS.

St. Andrews, N. B., Oct. 29.—Pleasure and regret were the dominant feelings of the people of St. Andrews on the occasion of Prince Louis' visit Saturday—pleasure that he had honored the town with his presence and regret that Sir William VanHorne's arrangements did not permit of his visiting the town during daylight.

The train with the prince and party on board arrived at Bar Road crossing at 1.25 o'clock. Sir William VanHorne and his son, R. B. VanHorne were on hand to receive the distinguished visitors. The party on the train consisted of Prince Louis, Prince Alexander, Engineer Commanding Pamphlett, of the cruiser Cornwall, and Flag Lieut. Sowerby of the Drake.

The train arrived at Bar Road about an hour before the tide had left the bar, necessitating the rowing of the visitors to Minister's Island.

On reaching the island Sir William's backboard with Driver Dryer holding the ribbons met them and conveyed the party to Sir William's residence. The party took luncheon after which they visited Sir William's beautiful garden and grounds. They then crossed over to the mainland about 4.30 and at once drove to Senator MacKay's summer property. Thence they drove to the Bay Side road, the prince being anxious to obtain a glimpse of Donnell's, or St. Croix Island, where that other admiral "Champlain" made his memorable stay in 1604. The drive occupied so much time that it was dark before the town was reached so that the prince had little opportunity to see the town itself or inspect the decorations that had been made by the townspeople.

It was after 6 o'clock when the party reached the station. A large number of people had gathered to see the prince. He moved among them shaking hands and chatting pleasantly with everybody. When little Marion Law, daughter of Station Master Law, clad in sailor costume, presented to him a beautiful bouquet he thanked her and then taking the little tot in his arms, kissed her heartily. As he stepped on the train, three rousing cheers and a tiger were given him. He thanked the people for their kindness. As the train moved out the National Anthem was sung with a will.

PLEASED WITH HIS RECEPTION.

To a Sun reporter at St. John Saturday night Prince Louis said: "The splendid reception which New Brunswick has extended to me during the visit which circumstances not under my control has made all too short, formed a very fitting ending to a memorable cruise lasting three months and a half, and the pleasant memories of these days will long be cherished by me and my officers."

His Highness said that while in Fredericton the provincial government presented him with a magnificent moose head. This gift he prized very highly. The prince also had a kind word for the newspaper men, and said he was delighted with the manner in which his visit had been reported by the press of this province.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 29.—Prince Louis of Battenberg returned from St. John this morning, bringing with him a fine moose head, which had been presented to him in New Brunswick. He attended service in St. George's round church, a building designed by the Duke of Kent, father of the late Queen Victoria. In the afternoon he was for a few minutes going aboard his flagship.

MARYSVILLE NEWS.

Oct. 30.—Our peaceful little town is becoming quite sporty of late; only a few days ago some of our young sports enjoyed an A. 1 cock fight between a recently imported American game and an old ordinary barn-yard leghorn. The fight was to the finish and caused lots of amusement for the young men present. The most laughable part of the performance was that the common barn-yard rooster came out on top, notwithstanding the wonderful reputation as a fighter the Yankee bird. To make matters worse was that the home bred barn-yard fowl has been stolen from a nearby neighbor and while the fight was in full sway the owner appeared on the scene. Of course all hands disappeared rather suddenly but alas they were too late and the owner recognized the backers in the affair and it has been rumored that he made a demand for a large sum of money on the owner of the game cock, who it is said, paid the amount over in order to keep his name out of court. The question now is which is the worst of the two, the person who fought the roosters or the one who accepted the bribe on the promise to keep mum as fighting roosters and black mail are both serious criminal acts in the powerful eyes of the law.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Reid, and the Misses Bella Likely and Ethel Day, were among the Marysville people to attend the ball last Friday night.

It is rumored that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gibson are to entertain their friends on Tuesday evening, Oct. 31st, at their residence in the form of an old time Halloween party.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stafford Jr., entertained their friends to a social dance and a very enjoyable time was spent by all present.

Messrs. F. M. Merritt and Fred Smith returned Saturday night from a very successful partridge hunt.

There was a large congregation at the Methodist church last evening on which occasion the Pastor, Rev. Mr. Thomas, preached a very able and interesting sermon.

MAPLE RIDGE.

Oct. 28.—The entire community are sympathizing with Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt in the loss of their oldest child Nina Pearl, a sweet girl of seventeen summers. Although she had been in poor health for some time, she was able to be about the house until within a few days of her death; but the change came suddenly, and on Saturday morning, Oct. 27th, while loved ones knelt beside her bed, her young spirit passed peacefully away to that land where there is no more death neither sorrow nor crying. Nina was an earnest Christian girl, having been converted and baptized in special services conducted by Rev. G. B. McDonald in Oct. 1901, and from that time her voice was always heard in testimony in the house of God, and she was always willing to assist at the organ, and in song. She had by her bright lovable disposition made many friends who now mourn her loss. This being the first break in the family circle how she will be missed; but may her loved ones realize that this is but "one tie less on earth, one more in heaven"; for her life's journey is ended, and she now realizes as we have often heard her sing, that "the toils of the road will seem nothing when I get to the end of the way."

The funeral which was a large and impressive one was held on Monday afternoon, preaching by Rev. G. B. Trafton; four young companions acted as pall-bearers, her body was then committed to the earth in the Millville cemetery, in sure and certain hope of a resurrection to eternal life.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

James Martin Had a Bad Fall on the Bridge This Morning.

A young man named James Martin, aged twenty-one, employed by Simmons & Burpee, met with a serious accident this morning while working on the new pier being built for the highway bridge. He had ascended a ladder to the deck of the bridge, and just as he had reached the top, he missed his hold, and fell over backwards, a distance of about twenty-five feet. He landed head first in a pile of loose cobble stones used as a bedding for the pier, and covered by six inches of water. Had his fall not been broken by a projecting timber, part way down, he would certainly have been killed. As it was he was stunned and badly bruised but the fall, but no bones were broken. He is now under treatment at the Victoria Hospital, and the doctors fear there has been concussion of the brain. He is suffering greatly from his injuries and his chances for recovering are considered none too good.

The unfortunate young man is a son of Mr. James C. Martin of this city and is a popular member of the 71st band. His friends will hope for his speedy recovery from his injuries.

BITS OF NEWS.

Items of Interest Culled from Our Exchanges and Other Sources.

The infant child of James McIntyre, Leonia hotel, at Sydney, N. S., fell from a three story window into an adjacent yard Sunday morning, and was so badly injured that its recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. Celina Howell, wife of Harry Howell, who for a long time was steward on the steamer Halifax, was drowned in a pond in Rockingham near Halifax on Saturday night. The body was found Sunday. Mrs. Howell had not been in good health recently.

At Brule, Colchester Co., N. S., Saturday two men, Forbes and Thompson, were travelling through the woods, when Thompson, who was in the rear, tripped and fell, his gun going off and killing Forbes, his friend, instantly. The contents of Thompson's gun blew off Forbes' head.

MRS. FRIGGS' CASE.

The preliminary examination of Mrs. Susan Briggs, charged with having caused the death of her infant child, was resumed by Col. Marsh at the police court this morning. The witnesses examined were Dr. J. W. Bridges and Master Thomas Briggs, son of the accused. Dr. Bridges testified in regard to the autopsy held by him, and the boy told about hauling a bundle of carpet to the dump for his mother. The case was adjourned until Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock, when the police magistrate will give his decision as to whether or not he will send the accused up for trial.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Shippegan Wharf," will be received at this office until Friday, November 24, 1905, inclusively, for the construction of a Wharf at Shippegan, Gloucester County, N. B.

SEEMS LIKE A DREAM

Or an illusion doesn't it? It really does, for the old gentlemen never before in his life saw such a display of spectacles.

Spectacles for the Old Folks

We make as much a specialty of as for those who are younger. They fit perfectly. The Lenses are ground to suit each particular pair of eyes, and they are beautifully and artistically finished. It's wonderful how cheap they are.
