MUST RECKON WITH CHINA.

A War Indemnity of One Hundred Million Dollars Demanded.

BELIGERENTS MUST COMPENSATE HER FOR OCCUPATION OF MANCHURIA.

Notice to That Effect Served on the Powers.

New York, July 28.—(Special.)—The Washington correspondent of the Tribune says:

In connection with China's notice to the powers that Manchuria must be restored to her intact, whatever may be the terms of the agreement reached at the Portsmouth Peace Conference by the envoys of Russia and Japan, it is learned that the Chinese government intends to follow this up by demanding of the belligerents a big indemnity as compensation for the occupation of Manchuria by hostile armies.

The amount of the indemnity to be asked will be $100,000,000. This amount of damage, the Chinese government estimates, has been done in Manchuria through tramping down of the fields, destruction of villages that were seized and held as the base of operations, and losses of suffering Chinese through the failure of the belligerents to evacuate Manchuria promptly.

It is not believed that the Chinese themselves seriously expect reimbursement for injury but the motive for taking such a step on the part of China further defines their position with regard to Manchuria to the world at large.

China is particularly anxious that the idea of her complete ownership of Manchuria should be emphasized in connection with the peace conference to be held at Portsmouth because she desires international support in the negotiations which she will conduct with Japan after peace is assured.

WAR ON THE GAMBLERS.

Police Authorities of the Windy City on the Warpath in Earnest.

Chicago, July 28.—A spectacular raiding of hand book resorts, in which eighty-four men were taken prisoners after four hours of work marked John M. Collin's second day as general superintendent of the Chicago police department. Then with night came descents on ten poker games. Following out his startling action of Wednesday evening, when he interrupted several time honored poker games, the new chief yesterday, took personal charge himself, announcing at same time that he would hold his inspectors responsible for whatever gambling he discovered in the city.

Armed with search warrants the "Gambling detail" continued last night with the destructive raids which had terrorized the gambling fraternity during the preceding twenty-four hours. A score of warrants, to which the signature of two police magistrates were appended, were given to the raiders. Descents upon ten "clubs" were made before midnight, and the paraphernalia, or that part left intact after the onslaught of the raiders, was confiscated.

IMPERIAL HOUSE.

Belief Gains Ground that it Will be Dissolved.

London, July 27.—(Special.)—The expectation seems to be strengthening among well informed politicians here that parliament will be dissolved this autumn. The fact that Premier Balfour did not in his statement on Monday say anything to indicate his intention to go to the country before the next session of Parliament has not tended to discourage the expectation of a general election some time prior to January 1.

Probably the government has come to no decision in this matter, so that if Premier Balfour was disposed to answer the question "When will Parliament be dissolved?" he might answer truthfully, "I do not know." The expectation of an early dissolution is based in many minds on the belief that the government will be forced to dissolve, not, however, by an adverse vote in the House of Commons, but rather by the pressure from the members of Mr. Balfour's own Unionist party, which for one reason and another is decidedly adverse to prolonging the life of the government.

The chances really seem to favor the success of the agitation among the government's supporters for an early dissolution.

A STRANGE CASE.

New York Man Died Because He Could Not Scratch Lost Foot.

New York, July 28.—William Stall a laborer who lived in Bronx, died last night at Lehigh hospital, from worrying because he could not scratch his right foot, says the World.

The strange part of it was that his right foot and leg was amputated the week before and had been duly embalmed and buried in the cemetery. The leg had been crushed by a falling stone. Stall no more than came to his senses after the effects of the anaesthetic were away, than he began to worry over the itching foot. It was a laughing matter with him. He knew the foot was not there, but he was equally sure the pain was there, and could not understand it. The nurses told him that it was common enough for person's imagination to thus take possession of him. Stall insisted that the pain was too real to be imaginary. Day after day he worried about his missing foot and its troubles.

It soon ceased to be laughing matter with the hospital doctors and nurses. Stall's appetite left him, his imagination of pains wore on his nerves and put him in agony. His weak, nervous state when blood poisoning set two days ago, was in no condition to combat it. Last night he died still crying out about pain in his foot.

BIG PLAINING MILL.

One to be Established on the Miramichi by Swedish Capital.

A new and improved planing mill is to be erected soon on the Miramichi at Douglastown by Swedish capitalists, at a cost of approximately $100,000, to supply all kinds of planed lumber for the English, Australian and American markets.

O. W. Nordin of Douglastown, recently of Sweden, who is at the Royal, is interested in this new undertaking. About a year ago the Rosebank Lumber Company, of which Mr. Nordin is manager, completed the erection of a $500,000 saw mill, fitted with Swedish machinery at Douglastown. When the mill is in full operation, in about two weeks, it will employ about 50 men. No shipments will have been made to date.

A fortnight ago Mr. Hedelens, of Stockholm, Sweden, representing Swedish capitalists, completed arrangements with Mr. Nordin for the erection under the latter's management of a big $100,000 planing mill near the existing saw mill, and it will give employment to 50 more men. The machinery for the new mill will be brought from Sweden. This, it is claimed, is better suited for the purpose than any that is made in America. The Swedes do an extensive business in planed lumber and the promoters believe a big business can be built up on the Miramichi. The mill will plane and match all kinds of lumber. Negotiations are now going on for a site and it is expected the erection of the mill will be begun some time in November.—Telegraph.

WCBRIDE DIVORCE CASE.

Paris, July 28.—The hearing of the suit for divorce brought by Maud Gonne, known as the "Irish Joan of Arc," against Major McBride, formerly of the Boer army, was opened this forenoon before the civil tribunal of the Seine. Maitre Cruppe representing the wife and Maitre Labrie the husband. Maitre Cruppe severely denounced Major McBride's alleged unfaithfulness and denied the husband's charge that his wife was not of genuine Irish birth. The case attracts much attention owing to the prominence of the parties in connection with Irish agitation.

Mamma—Now Freddy, mind what I say. I don't want you to go over into the next garden to play with the Binks boy; he's very rude. Freddy (heard a few moments afterwards calling over the wall)—I say, Binks, ma says I'm not to go over in your garden because you're rude; but you come into my garden—I ain't rude.

STILL AT LARGE.

McSorley Eluded the Posse at Harvey—McCatherine in Police Court.

There was a large number of spectators at the police court this morning when Harry McCatherine was arraigned to answer the charge of assaulting Rev. F. Clarke Hartley on Friday evening last. Mr. R. W. McLellan appeared as counsel for the prisoner. After reading over the charge the magistrate told the prisoner that it was not necessary for him to plead, and advised him not to make any statement to any person except on the advice of his counsel. The magistrate then stated that as Mr. Hartley was not yet able to appear in court the prisoner would be remanded to jail until Monday next. Application for bail was made on McCatherine's behalf by McLellan, but was refused by His Honor, who intimated that later on he might favorably consider the matter.

Officer Rideout returned today from Harvey where he and a posse of men have been searching for McSorley since Wednesday night. The party scoured the woods in all directions near Harvey, but were unable to find their man. Late in the afternoon word reached Harvey that McSorley had been seen near Gallops, on the Hanwell Road. The officer immediately procured a team and drove to the locality, but there learned that the man had been seen during the afternoon, but again escaped, probably in the direction of Mysheral Settlement. From conversation with residents of the locality the officer was led to believe that McSorley was heading for this city with the intention of giving himself up.

PRICES AWAY DOWN.

Not Much Demand in American Market for Miramichi Salmon.

Chatham World.—The salmon men who sell in this market get a good paying price, but those who ship to the United States markets are getting very poor returns. One shipper showed us his return, Tuesday, for 320 pounds of salmon sent to Boston. They sold for only 8 cents a pound and the net proceeds were only $15.80. The fish cost the shipper $32 at the nets, and then there was the cost of icing, boxing and transporting to the railway station. We are supplying our dear friends in Boston, New York and Chicago with delicious salmon at half the cost of catching them and paying all charges of transportation, etc., besides. We are a generous people.

If the numerous fishermen who operate near the mouth of the Miramichi river would take up their nets a few days and allow the fish to get through to the spawning grounds, Americans as well as local anglers would have a chance to catch an occasional salmon for themselves and would be willing to pay handsomely for the privilege. Under present conditions only a few grills are able to run the gauntlet on the Miramichi river. With a little protection the Miramichi could easily be made one of the best salmon angling streams in Canada.)

TWENTY-THREE DEAD.

Horrible Accident on an English Railway.

Liverpool, July 27.—An electric express train on the Lancashire & Yorkshire railway, bound from Liverpool to Southport, collided this evening with an empty stationary train at the Hall Road station, causing the death of twenty-three persons, and the injury of many.

The first car of the express, which was crowded, was smashed to pieces, and only six of its occupants escaped.

The road was recently given an electric equipment. This is the first serious accident that has occurred on an electric railway in England, and it filled with horror the numerous waiting passengers standing at the Hall Road station, who were spectators of the disaster. The collision lifted the first car of the express completely off the steel frame, and crashed it down again on the unfortunate passengers, twenty of whom were killed outright. More of them would have been killed but for the presence of mind of a Liverpool architect, who, seeing that a collision was inevitable, shouted to his fellow passengers to throw themselves upon the floor of the car.

Almost immediately after the crash the wreckage burst into flames. The mangled bodies of the dead and cries of the injured vainly beseeching that they be extricated from the burning wreckage formed a terrible scene and many women on the platform fainted. The victims included several women and children. Fortunately the badly injured number comparatively few.

The cause of the collision is unknown.

"Why Clara, you look radiant. What has happened?" "I've just received an invitation to a wedding." "Well, there's nothing particular in that to go into raptures over." "Ah! but it happens to be my own."
