

HAAKON VII, ON NORWAY'S THRONE.

New Monarch Takes Title and Names Son Olaf--To be Crowned in July.

Christiania, Norway, Nov. 20.—Prince Charles of Denmark was unanimously elected King of Norway by the Norwegian Parliament Saturday. There were 116 members present. The result was declared at half-past five p. m.

The fortress fired a royal salute of 42 guns in honor of the new King. Evening dress was worn by a majority of the members of the Storting at the session. The voting was viva voce, and after the result was announced the chaplain of the chamber invoked blessings upon the monarch, the Storting and the country.

A KEYSTONE OF INDEPENDENCE
With the firing of the royal salute the citizens in every quarter of the city began demonstrations of jubilation and kept them up until a late hour.

The words of President Berner, after the Storting's unanimous election of Prince Charles of Denmark as King of Norway. "This decision of the Storting is the keystone of our independence which has been constructed this year" aptly expressed the feeling animating all Norwegians at the conclusion of the long struggle leading to the enrollment of Norway among the European nations.

SINK ALL PARTY DIFFERENCES
The Socialist pastor Eriksen and State Advocate Casterberg emphasized the unity of national conditions by sinking party differences in speeches cordially supporting the Government. After President Berner moved the election of Prince Charles, Pastor Eriksen declared his party would vote for the motion because there was no occasion to support any other proposal, in view of the people's decision in favor of monarchy. Casterberg said he and those who shared his views bowed to the will of the majority and the national election of the King was then formally carried out.

HAAKON VII. AND SON OLAF.
After the election telegrams were immediately despatched to Prince Charles, King Christian and the Danish Premier, and the sitting was adjourned until 8.45 o'clock, when President Berner read the following telegram from Prince Charles: "With the permission of the King, my illustrious grandfather, I accept my election as King of Norway and will adopt the name Haakon VII, conferring upon my son the name Olaf."

"My wife and I call down on the Norwegian people God's richest blessings and will consecrate our future life to the country's glory and prosperity."

The President and the Chamber then called for cheers for King Haakon. These were given enthusiastically, and the sitting closed.

KING EDWARD TO VISIT HIM.
Copenhagen, Nov. 20.—A telegram announcing that the Storting had elected Prince Charles of Denmark King was received during a dinner given by Crown Prince and Crown Princess Frederick and at which their son, Prince Charles, was present. The Crown Prince immediately drank a toast to the new monarch of Norway.

It is understood that King Edward will visit the new King at Christiania early in 1906. The formal coronation will take place on July 27.

ROOSEVELT AND FOOTBALL.

Believes in the Game, but Would Like to See Brutalities Eliminated.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—Dr. J. William White, professor of surgery at the University of Pennsylvania, and a member of the University committee on athletics, returned recently from Washington, where he had been summoned by President Roosevelt to discuss matters relating to football. In an interview Dr. White said:

"The president did me the honor of asking me to lunch with him at the White House for the purpose of discussing with him the situation as to American football. An article of mine published in last week's Outlook was the occasion of the invitation. The president said he 'emphatically' believes in continuing the game."

"The president added: 'Brutality and foul play should receive the same summary punishment given to the man who cheats at cards or who strikes a foul blow in boxing. The umpire must have the widest latitude in enforcing this principle, even to the extent of ordering not only individual players, but whole teams off the field, and college presidents should hold to the sharpest accountability the umpire who permits foul or brutal football in any game. We want simple rules, not complicated rules, because complicated rules offer too many loopholes. The responsible authorities of the several colleges whose teams play together should have what may be called a gentleman's agreement among themselves that these rules shall be enforced in spirit as well as in letter, each being held responsible for what goes on in his own college, and each seeing to the permanent removal from the game not only of the foul or brutal player, but of the man who is not a bona fide student and amateur. It would be a real misfortune to lose so many and vigorous a game as football and to avert such a possibility the authorities in the college should see to it that the game in that college is clean."

"The president explained to me the selection of the institutions that came to the conference at the White House last month by saying: 'I was asked to call it by representatives at Harvard, Yale and Princeton, and called it accordingly. If Pennsylvania, Columbia and Cornell representatives had happened to make the suggestion, then only those three colleges would have been asked.'"

"He said that the five or six leading colleges should get together and agree to play one another under such an agreement as he prescribed."

HAD A GOOD TIME.

Prince Louis Thoroughly Enjoyed His New York Visit--Attentions to St. John Couple.

The second cruiser squadron of the British navy, under Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg, left New York Monday after a stay of eleven days, during which time the officers and men have had "the time of their lives." Prince Louis has been feted in every direction. He attended dances and receptions and dinners and teas, and visited country seats of millionaires; he spent a night with the Society of the Lambs, proclaiming as he started for his ship at 4 a. m. that he had never had such a jolly good time; he exchanged courtesies with the American fleet; he went anywhere and everywhere, praised everybody and everything, and was the most popular man in New York.

Of course the great function of his visit was the grand ball he gave on board the flagship Drake, in return for the hospitality lavishly bestowed upon him and his men. Despatches from New York papers, have shown how successful this function was. The attendance was very large, nearly everybody invited responding.

The only New Brunswickers at the ball were Mr. and Mrs. James Gillespie, of St. John, who were to New York to be present. Prince Louis called upon them at the Waldorf-Astoria, where they stayed, and at the ball Mrs. Gillespie enjoyed the privilege of the first dance with His Serene Highness. It is said the Admiral Prince danced only three numbers. He was most attentive to his New Brunswick friends during the evening, and they thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. Mrs. Gillespie looked handsome in white lace over white silk; violets were her only ornament.

AN ONTARIO ROBBERY.

Thieves Got Away With Nineteen Hundred Dollars.

Ingersoll, Ont., Nov. 14.—About midnight on Wednesday checks, cash and notes aggregating $1,900 the proceeds of an auction sale, were stolen from the residence of Mr. H. George Dorchester township.

During the afternoon Mr. J. W. Johnston held an auction sale at the Kirwin House stockyards here. In the evening Mr. Johnston and Mr. George were engaged adjusting matters in connection with the sale. They completed their work shortly before midnight and left the house together through a back door for a few minutes only. Upon their return the notes, checks and money, which had been left lying on the table, were missing.

The front door of the house was unlocked at the time and the thief or thieves would have experienced no difficulty in entering the house. It is thought that the two men were followed to Mr. George's residence by the thieves, who had probably intended to break into the house if the money was left there. The absence of the two men from the room, however, being noted the thieves acted quickly and under favorable circumstances.

The haul consisted of $90 in bills, $473.10 in checks and the balance in promissory notes. Some of the checks were drawn in favor of J. W. Johnston or bearer the notes were drawn to the order of J. W. Johnston. He had not endorsed them, consequently they will not be negotiable.

aboard—28 men. She was last reported by the schooners Victoria and Carry C. W. from whom she was parted in the memorable storm which raged from the fifth to the eighth of October, and in which it is believed she foundered.

The return of the west coast steamer Queen City with no news of the Fawn destroys the last hope of the waiters for her. Among these is a fair haired bride-to-be, Nora Olsen, who had just come from Sweden, by arrangement to wed her childhood sweetheart, the skipper of the lost schooner, on his return from the season's hunting.

The other two whites were first mate E. T. Williams, formerly of Lunenburg; G. Cottle, second mate, from Charlottetown; Wm. Hinkman, cook, Amherst; Louis Moller, a Dane and Max Burnett, a San Franciscan. The 23 hunters were Nootka (Vancouver Island) Indians.

A DAUGHTER OF GEORGE IV.

Mrs. Wetherbee, Who Formerly Lived in London, Ont., Was Issue of the Marriage of Prince Regent and Mrs. Fitzherbert.

London, Ont., Nov. 13.—In connection with the cablegram from England a few days ago reporting the discovery of a certificate of the marriage of the Prince Regent (afterwards George IV.), and Mrs. Fitzherbert, it is interesting to recall that a lady by the name of Mrs. Wetherbee, who died in London, Ont., 20 years ago, claimed that she was the daughter of George IV. and Mrs. Fitzherbert, her mother dying two weeks after her birth. She was born in England in 1820, and was brought up in the family of Lord Pemberton, not knowing the high position which her father occupied. She was married when 16 years of age to Frederick Theodore St. Felix. Her husband was government secretary to one of the South African colonies. They finally emigrated to the United States, where Mr. St. Felix died.

She married Mr. Charles Wetherbee in 1851 and lived in one of the southern states. In 1855 she first became acquainted with the facts of her birth, which were revealed to her by Lady Pemberton on her death bed documentary evidence of the fact being produced.

She died about 20 years ago in London. The day before her decease she wrote the following epitaph to be inscribed on her tombstone: "Sacred to the memory of Lavinia Hermonie Geraldine Amanda Guelph, born July 1st, 1820, daughter of George IV., King of England."

I informed that she was inscribed as directed. The London Prototypist gave an extended notice of her career. She was an accomplished lady of very gentle and kind disposition, and seemed to enjoy life wherever situated. She and Mr. St. Felix had two daughters, who lived with their uncle, Lord St. Felix, in South Africa. One died while young.

Mrs. Wetherbee claimed that she visited Queen Victoria and they had an understanding that the facts of her birth should not be made public until one of them died. She was at the wedding of the Princess Royal, eldest daughter of Queen Victoria, who married Frederick William, afterwards Emperor of Germany.

WHISKEY BLAZED TO SKY.

Overholt distillery at Broadford to be burned.

Connelsville, Nov. 21.—At the A. Overholt distillery at Broadford today 810,000 gallons of whiskey furnished a spectacular fire, entailing a loss of $4,000,000; fully insured. The main bonded warehouse was burned to the ground. A steady northeast wind, which blew the flames toward the Yonghisheny River, saved the town of Broadford, the buildings of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad station from destruction.

The blue-tinted flames from the burning alcohol were soon shooting more than one hundred feet into the air. As barrels of old rye whiskey each of the four floors burst the blazing liquid was splashed in all directions. The ruined building and its contents were burning fiercely at midnight. The A. Overholt Company is one of the largest manufacturers of whiskey in the world. The plant, which practically is owned by H. C. Frick and the Mellons of Pittsburgh, was established by A. Overholt in 1810.

PURGATIVES ARE DANGEROUS.

They grip, cause burning pains and make the constipated condition even worse. Physicians say that the ideal laxative is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut; they are exceedingly mild, composed only of health giving vegetable extracts. Dr. Hamilton's Pills restore regular movement of the bowels, strengthen the stomach and purify the blood. For constipation, sick headaches, biliousness and disordered digestion no medicine on earth makes such remarkable cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Try a 25c. box yourself.

You Are Ailing.

Find the Cause for the Weakness and Nervous Dread that Overshadows Your Life.

You can't keep up forever. Sooner or later Nature will rebel against the strain that is imposed on your overworked system. So far will power and nerve may have tired you over, but the end is probably near at hand.

Today the common complaint with weak men and women is lack of kidney vitality. Here you have the cause of ill health.

Wouldn't it be wise to use a time tested remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They cure that "ailing" feeling in one night. Next morning you feel like new—bright, fresh and happy. Appetite improves, dull, sallow color grows ruddy and clear, proving that great good is being done by this scientific medicine.

Thus writes Mrs. J. D. Fowler, from Yarmouth:

"I used to feel drowsy and heavy. My color was sallow, and there was usually a bad taste in my mouth. I had vague pains all through my limbs. After one dose of Dr. Hamilton's Pills there was a sudden change. I and an annoying headache as well. I felt better, my appetite increased, and that exhaustion and depression gradually left me. Life seemed brighter and happier after I had used Dr. Hamilton's Pills, so I strongly recommended such a good medicine."

Mrs. Fowler's letter is a message to you and all others in poor health. You can't do better than follow her advice. Dr. Hamilton's Pills you certainly need; then why not get them now and enjoy the abundant good health they are sure to bring you? Price 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00.
