TORY DISORGANIZATION.

Poor Borden. He is getting is from his friends on all sides.

Billy McLean the erratic Tory, M. P., for South York, Ont., has just returned from a campaign in the west in which he found reasons for reflecting on his leader, especially in not resisting the salary grab, and accepting a big slice for himself, and now comes Mr. Monk, M. P., who declares that the Tory party needs re-organization and a new policy. Mr. Monk did not add a new leader also is wanted, but no doubt he had it in his mind as most Tories have.

Mr. Monk says the Tory party is passing through a crisis, but it is rich in traditions and he hoped the principles of liberty and equity laid down by Baldwin and Lafontaine, who had rescued the country from political chaos, would still have an important bearing on the future history of Canada.

Most students of Canadian history have the impression that Baldwin and Lafontaine fought for principles and obtained results in spite of Tory opposition. Responsible government was certainly secured by Liberals who for generations had to fight the Tory family compacts in the various provinces. Mr. Monk should read history.

The member for Jacques Cartier also declares that the Tory party recognizes the equality of races. Do the Tories? If they do why this constant outcry because a French-Canadian is premier of Canada.

Mr. Monk wants a general Tory convention to settle on a definite platform, but the party scarcely dare call one in its present rent condition. Supposing Mr. McLean and the Toronto Telegram man were to attend the gathering and repeat to his face what they have said of Mr. Borden behind his back, what a pretty row there would be. Then fancy Mr. Monk getting up and demanding a new policy, while Mr. Borden still retains the remnants of his "Will you have a government owned railway or a railway owned government" war cry.

And if somebody mentioned autonomy bill, what a scattering there would be. Mr. Monk and other Tories supported the government on that issue.

Mr. Monk is offering good advice. The Tories certainly need a policy and organization and a new leader, but there are not enough of them thinking alike on any of these questions to assure a concentrated effort.

The Tory party in Canada is a disorganized, hopeless affair composed of adverse, warring elements, while the Liberals united and enthusiastic under their popular leader are giving Canada wise and progressive government, and prosperity.

THE RIVAL ROUTES.

The Moncton Transcript admits it formerly favored the construction of the Transcontinental Railway by the valley route through New Brunswick, but the superior (?) grades of the central route challenges its present admiration.

The Transcript seeks to make a point against The Herald's contention that the lumber lands of the province will be endangered if the central route is adopted, by pointing out our advocacy of an extension of the Stanley Railway. Does The Transcript know the length of that extension? Just a little matter of five miles.

The Transcript, in its newborn zeal for the central route, paints the interior of New Brunswick as a very paradise for the agricultural settlers, and quotes one Gilmore as declaring "it's the best settlement land in Canada for farming purposes."

How many young men in New Brunswick or elsewhere does The Transcript suppose will take up lands along the central route if it is adopted and hew out farms from the virgin forest?

The lumbermen are opposed to that route. There is absolutely no demand for it in this province outside of The Transcript office, and we say again it is regrettable that our energetic and influential contemporary should stand along among the newspapers of New Brunswick in advocacy of a line of policy inimical to the best interests of this province.

The Transcript articles will give great hope and comfort to Halifax and Nova Scotia, but will occasion regret throughout the length and breadth of New Brunswick.

The Transcript still insists that the survey of the central route has been practically concluded, when as a matter of fact at least one engineering party is still trying to solve the difficulties of the section in the vicinity of Plaster Rock. If the Transcript will take the trouble to communicate with Engineer Maxwell, it will discover the Herald's information is absolutely reliable. If the Transcript does not already know, we are in a position to inform it that the delay in locating the route is due to the great difficulties the engineers have experienced in finding a feasible route over the serious obstructions of the district to which we have referred. The engineering parties came out some months ago after a whole fall and winter's work, but the information they had obtained was not satisfactory as establishing a reasonably practical route and some of them were sent back to make a new survey, or to improve if possible on the old one.

These parties are still at work, notwithstanding the Transcript's declaration that the surveys are practically finished and the route settled.

CLEAN UP.

Everybody in Fredericton who owns, occupies or is interested in premises should begin to clean up so that the city may look its best at exhibition time. The painting of the telephone, electric light and telegraph poles, already commenced, will help the appearance of things a good deal, and the civic authorities can add their quota by looking after the streets. The Queen street gutter on the north side is very shaggy and filthy looking, and perhaps Roadmaster McKay will take this hint and put some of his men to work there.

The city will be crowded with visitors from Sept. 21 to Sept. 26, and their impressions will be greatly deepened if we present a clean tidy looking city for their inspection and enjoyment.

Mr. Henri Bourassa, M. P. for Labelle, a radical politician, who sometimes kicks up quite a dust in parliament, will perhaps be in better humor hereafter with men and things, since he has abandoned the critical, clamorous and unsatisfied condition of bachelorhood and assumed the duties and joys of wedded life. The lady who has linked her fortunes to the celebrated grandson of the Patriot Papineau, is his own cousin, Miss Josephine Papineau.

The Sun still insinuates that Mr. Sbarretti was inspired by Sir Wilfrid Laurier to make a proposition on the school question to the Manitoba government, notwithstanding the premier denied the allegation and his denial was publicly accepted in parliament by the leader of the Conservative party. The Sun is trying hard to keep the sectarian agitation alive, the only hope of the Tory party at the present time.

BITS OF NEWS.

Items of Interest Culled from Our Exchanges and Other Sources.

At Moncton Saturday night A. A. Tuttle's woodworking factory was damaged by fire to the amount of $3,000.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and party left Winnipeg Saturday evening for Port Arthur via the Canadian Northern railway.

Mrs. A. R. Emmerson, mother of the hon. minister of railways, is quite seriously ill at her home at Dorchester. The minister is at home today.

At Bangor, Elmer E. Keyes, who has been on trial for the murder of his wife, Isabel N. Keyes, in June last, was adjudged not guilty on Saturday. The defence given was insanity.

A delegation from a Baptist church in Watertown, Mass., was in Kentville, N. S., recently trying to secure the services of the Rev. Dr. Day of the Kentville Baptist church as pastor. The Watertown church is a large one, 500 members, and the building cost $100,000.

The Santa elevator at Chicago, containing 845,000 bushels of grain, was destroyed by fire Saturday. The loss is $725,000. The building was located at 27th and Wood streets, and was a five story frame structure covered by sheet iron and corrugated steel.

Mr. W. F. MacLean, M. P., is back in Toronto, having failed to set the west afire against the Government. His meeting at Calgary was cold and was unattended by the local Conservatives, and at the last moment he gave up the idea of holding one at Regina, which had been proposed.

Hon. Charles Dewey, eldest brother of Admiral Dewey, died at his residence, Montpelier, Vt., last week. For over fifty years he was one of the prominent citizens of the place. For many years he was the president of the First National Bank of Montpelier and also president of the National Life Insurance Company of the same place. He was three times elected State Senator.

ANOTHER SOMERSAULT.

St. John Sun—J. H. Crockett, editor of the Gleaner, is in the city. Mr. Crockett said he understood that the arrangements for the transfer of the Gleaner were now about completed, and the application for incorporation will probably be published in the next issue of the Gazette. The provisional directors will probably be O. S. Crockett, M. P., Geo. W. Fowler, M. P., Harry McLeod, Geo. J. Colter and Robert Maxwell, M. P. P. (These gentlemen are all Tories and opponents of the local government, so that it will be seen that our agile contemporary has executed another political somersault.)

VAUDERVILLE SHOWS.

One of the many strong features with Lucier's Vauderville Stars is that most remarkable woman, Mohala, the psychometrist. Newspapers all over the United States have devoted entire columns to a description of her marvelous mental phenomena. Doctors, palmists and students of the occult have consulted her and marvelled at her wonderful powers. Her public performances are really startling. This remarkably gifted woman is young and of most prepossessing appearance. She is always beautifully gowned and is invariably awarded several curtain calls at the close of her instructive performance, which so closely borders upon the supernatural that it is to a degree awe inspiring. The stay of this company is limited as they sail for Boston Sept. 30 from Halifax, to fill important engagements already made in the states. Arctic Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday next. Prices 10, 20 and 30.—d.

Mrs. Rannie and child of Portland, Me., are visiting her mother, Mrs. W. H. N. Clements at Claremont.
