CARLETON ELECTION DECISION.

Hon. Mr. Jones, the solicitor general is to be congratulated on the result of the election trial in Carleton, Judge Barker having dismissed the petition against the solicitor general's return with costs against the petitioner.

The whole affair was generally regarded as a piece of petty, malicious persecution, encouraged by men who merely made the petitioner their scapegoat.

It was not believed that Simms really desired to contest the election. He certainly had no chance of success, but he and those behind him could put Mr. Jones to considerable worry and inconvenience, which they have done, but in the end they failed and are in for a good sized bill of costs.

It has been customary to permit members of the government appealing for re-election on taking office an unopposed return, and it was the understanding in Carleton county when Mr. Jones accepted the solicitor generalship that he would be returned by acclamation. The people of the county, irrespective of politics, were pleased that the constituency had received a portfolio in the government, and this, coupled with Mr. Jones' popularity and of the administration rendered a contest against him altogether useless. There was no movement of the Conservatives as a party in Carleton to oppose Mr. Jones' return; indeed, the leaders, as well as the rank and file, strongly favored permitting him to retain his honors without a contest, but at the last moment two or three politicians, while not appearing on the surface, appear to have encouraged Mr. Simms to play the game which has resulted in their and his complete discomfiture.

The crucial point in the trial was whether Simms' nomination papers were filed within the legal limit. Sheriff Hayward and his deputy, Foster, swore that it was after the legal hour when the papers were placed in the Sheriff's hands and their testimony was corroborated by others.

Judge Barker evidently believed the evidence of the Sheriff and his friends, and discounted that of Mr. Simms, and the petition is properly dismissed.

Mr. Jones has been held up to ridicule and abused by the Tory papers as a man who held his seat in the government and legislature through fraudulent means, but the decision of Judge Barker is a complete answer to the charges that have been directed against him, not only in the opposition press, but in the legislature, and his friends heartily congratulate him on the outcome of the trial. No man questions the strict impartiality of Judge Barker and his decision will be received by fair minded men all over the province as a just and righteous one.

The Solicitor General has borne himself through the annoying conditions of the past few months with good sense and dignity, and his position in the constituency and the province will be greatly strengthened by the failure of his political enemies to deprive him of his reputation as a public man and as a citizen and of his seat in the legislature.

Mr. Jones, during his short legislative career and in the office of Solicitor General, has won the confidence and esteem of the country, and there are splendid possibilities for him in his future career.

The secret of that private interview between the Russian and Japanese envoys had signed the treaty at Portsmouth. They were conferring on a proposed liberal donation to New Hampshire charities in return for hospitalities received, and the result is the presentation of ten thousand dollars each from their respective nations.

The hundreds of persons who paid their respects to Mr. Sbarretti at the Presbytery last night found the Pope's representative in Canada a very pleasant gentleman.

Winnipeg Free Press:—The news that Sir Wilfrid Laurier got the biggest reception of any public man at the inaugural celebrations at Edmonton will doubtless be explained away by the Conservative newspapers on the ground that the audience was made up entirely of Doukhobors and Galicians.

THE RAILWAY BRIDGE.

Accident to the Draw Causes Some Inconvenience

An accident to the draw of the railway bridge at eleven o'clock this morning caused some inconvenience for a time to trains and steamboats. The draw had been opened to allow the steamer Springfield to pass through, and while the caretaker was in the act of closing it, something went wrong with the machinery and it stopped short. An examination showed that four of the large cogs underneath had been broken. A force of men from the car shops were set to work, and by three o'clock had succeeded in making temporary repairs, to enable trains to cross.

The regular train from Chatham due at 12.05 was held up on the bridge, and the passengers were compelled to cross to the railway station on foot. The Marysville suburban train was also delayed on the bridge, and the passengers compelled to take the foot-train.

The steamer Aberdeen, which is chartered today for the Free Baptist picnic, was compelled to tie up below the bridge for her afternoon trip. She arrived at twelve o'clock and got away at two-thirty, the passengers walking down from the upper wharf.

Although the draw is again in fair working order, it will be necessary to have extensive repairs made at once.

ANGLICAN SYNOD.

Mission Work Discussed at Friday's Session.

Quebec, Sept. 9.—Yesterday was the day devoted to the discussion of the management and work of missions in connection with the church. The bishops came to the lower house and His Grace Archbishop Bond took the chair.

Rev. Dr. Tucker, the general secretary, read the report of the board of arrangement of the missionary secretary of the Church of England in Canada. The financial statement shows that the total receipts for the years 1902, 1903, and 1904, were $352,966.81.

Mr. Thomas and Rev. Dr. Allsop, of the American church, gave interesting and instructive addresses.

Rev. Dr. Longley said there was a very wide spread surprise that the C. M. S. have been getting the whole of the mission work in their hands and that the missionary society was becoming the instrument of one party in the church.

Archbishop Matheson said the church was wide enough to include all types of churchmen, a remark which brought forth very hearty applause.

All day long was the house occupied with the consideration of this report, and when the time for adjournment came it had not been disposed of.

It was very apparent that the handling of the finances was to be sharply, though not angrily, criticised. If so happened that the treasurer of the board is sick, and the detailed information as to the financial management was not on hand. Members of the synod wished to know something as to every particular. A proposition to increase the cost of management of the fund was received rather coldly. It was evidently the intention of some members of the board to urge the appointment of an assistant secretary to Dr. Tucker, the general secretary, and for some reason or other it seemed to be desired that a clergyman should be appointed to the place.

Upon this point the synod expressed itself clearly. There was no objection to the appointment of a lay assistant secretary at a reasonable salary, but there was very distinct and emphatic opposition to increasing the cost of management by the appointment of a clergyman at a salary equivalent to that paid to a city or town rector. Taking the discussion all in all it showed a keen appreciation on the part of the delegates of the responsibility imposed on them of seeing that the large amount of money raised for missionary purposes is well administered.

Last evening Tara hall was filled with a large audience at the missionary meeting in connection with the Synod. The chair was taken by Most Rev. the Lord Archbishop of Montreal, primate of all Canada, and the speakers were the general secretary, the venerable the Archdeacon of Columbia, the Hon. S. H. Blake, K. C., and the Rt. Rev. Bishop Tuttle, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States.

It looks now very much as if the Synod would not get through its work next week. There is a great deal to be done and with three days gone, the work seems only to have been entered upon.

His majesty the Emperor of China has extended to President Roosevelt his congratulations upon the success of the president's efforts to establish peace between Russia and Japan and to promote the welfare of mankind. In his congratulations the emperor is joined by her majesty the Empress of China.

There was a good sized riot at St. Louis de Mile End Montreal, Friday night, caused by a fight between sympathizers of the Salvation Army, which had invaded that place, and by French-Canadian residents. The latter attacked the army sympathizers with stones, and several people were injured. The mob was finally dispersed and a number of arrests made.

VESUVIUS ACTIVE.

Vomiting Forth Streams of Lava.

New York, Sept. 9.—(Special).—A Rome despatch to the Herald says that simultaneously with the earthquakes in Calabria, Vesuvius showed renewed activity yesterday afternoon, vomiting forth great streams of lava which have already passed the Functura Railway Station at Atrio Del Vavallo Mountain.

FATAL COLLISION.

Hartsburg, Sept. 9.—(Special).—Three trainmen were killed, and two others were probably injured early today, at Tabor Junction, Pa., in a collision between freight trains on the Philadelphia & Reading Railway and Central Railroad of New Jersey.

The Truro police made a scoop Thursday night, by bringing to town four men charged with horse stealing. The horses were located in Queens County, N. B., and the thieves traced back to Colchester Co. The men under arrest are James Stillman, Londonderry; Samuel Eagles and his two sons, William Eagles and James J. Eagles. A warrant is out for the arrest of Thomas Eagles, another son, but he escaped towards Springhill.
