DRUGGED CANADIAN GIRL.

Her Awful Experience in the City of Tonawanda, N. Y.

Tonawanda, N. Y., Aug. 1.—(Special)—Lottie Graham, thirty-one years old, handsome, and in appearance younger than her age, was discovered wandering down the Military road in this city early this morning, and, in a half-dazed condition, caused by drugs of some description, was taken to the home of Constable John Kaye.

Miss Graham, whose home is in Grimsby, Ont., came to Buffalo to accept a position as housekeeper in a Delaware avenue home. She arrived at the Central depot shortly before midnight on Monday, and, unfamiliar with the city, inquired the nearest route to the place in Delaware avenue. A hackman told her the street was several miles away.

and advised her to ride. She did so, and was driven to some house which the hackman said was the place.

From that time on she has only a vague recollection of what occurred until she was discovered in the Military road this morning. A small sum of money was missing when she was taken to Constable Kaye's home.

The affair has been such a shock to Miss Graham that she insisted upon returning to her place in Grimsby this afternoon. She left with Kaye a good description of the place, and the constable is determined to secure evidence that will convict the parties guilty of the crime against the Canadian girl. He went to Buffalo this afternoon to look for her two trunks, which are still missing.

ROBBERS HELD THEM UP.

Automobile Party Fired on and Compelled to Hand Over Valuables to Highwaymen.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—(Special)—An automobile party, consisting of two men and three ladies, were held up and robbed last night between Winnetka and Glenview, by three masked bandits.

The touring car was ascending Hubbard Hill, when the robbers opened fire with revolvers on the occupants.

Two bullets punctured the tire, and then struck the side of the machine. Owing to the tire being punctured escape was impossible.

The robbers then crawled down the hill to where the automobile stood and compelled the occupants to hand over their valuables, and the highwaymen made their escape. The total value of the plunder taken was several hundred dollars.

AFTER A FORTUNE.

James Travis of New Zealand, Gets $35,000 After Twenty-five Years.

New York, Aug. 1.—(Special)—James Travis, seventy years of age, has sailed for his home in New Zealand, having established his identity to the satisfaction of relatives whom he has not seen for more than fifty years. Travis came back to his old home a week ago, seeking the recovery of an inheritance of $35,000, which has been held by the state treasurer for his benefit for about a quarter of a century.

It was only after a thorough examination of his life story that the detailed account of his doings since he was a lad in this city and ran to sea, and later located in New Zealand, that Frank Hendrick, who was appointed referee to ascertain whether he was the man who was entitled to the fund, decided that he was, and that his identity could not be questioned. Upon this report, Judge Geigerich of the Supreme Court, yesterday signed an order directing the state treasurer to pay $35,477 to Mr. Travis, less the costs of the proceedings.

BRING WATER 25 MILES.

Big Engineering Scheme Proposed by California City.

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—(Special)—A despatch to The Call from Los Angeles says that work is about to begin on the water system there, which will secure an unlimited supply of fresh water for all future needs. The scheme is to bring the mountain water from Owen's Lake and River in Inyo County, across deserts, through mountains and across plains, a distance of two hundred and forty miles, to give Los Angeles a supply sufficient for her needs when the population reaches the million mark. Engineers have estimated that the cost of the work will exceed $23,000,000.

The survey has shown that all the water can be conveyed there by gravity, no pumping plants being necessary. The construction of thirty miles of tunnel will be necessary.

Mr. J. J. McGaffigan, of St. John, is in the city today.

THE HARTLEY ASSAULT CASE.

Some Pretty Strong Evidence Against the Accused Brought Out Today.

The preliminary examination of Harry McCatherine, accused of assaulting Rev. F. C. Hartley, was continued in the police court this morning. James Tonar and Harry Adams were examined and gave evidence of considerable importance.

TONAR'S TESTIMONY.

James Tonar, called and sworn, said that he was at the C. P. R. station on the evening of July 21st. He started down the track just before the nine o'clock train went out. When near the Regent street crossing he saw Jas. McCoskey, Dougald McCatherine, jr., and Harry McCatherine. They walked across the track and sat down. Dougald asked witness if he had any chewing tobacco, and he replied in the negative. The three men remained in the vicinity ten or fifteen minutes and then went up the hill. The last witness saw of them they were standing near Mr. Randolph's gate house. About fifteen minutes afterwards he heard a noise which sounded like some persons in a fight. He also heard a man say "You had better stop boys." Witness saw no other persons go up the hill but about five minutes after he heard the voice he saw a man come down the hill. He was walking very fast and seemed to be in a hurry as he passed. He was quite a tall man, but not very stout. He wore a light coat and seemed to be bareheaded. Soon after the man passed witness returned to the station. McCoskey had on a dark felt hat and a dark suit. Dougald also wore a dark suit and Harry was dressed in dark grey material and wore a cap.

Cross-examined by Mr. McLellan, the witness said that he thought it was a warm, cloudy night. It was possible to recognize a person a distance of about twenty feet. Witness was an employee of the Hart Boat & Shoe Company and was about the railway station considerably in the evening. On the evening in question he went down the track as far as the Regent street crossing about ten minutes before the nine o'clock train went out. McCoskey and the McCatherine boys were the only persons whom he saw go up the hill before the train went by. A team containing two persons went by shortly afterwards. Witness remained near the crossing about three quarters of an hour and saw no other persons pass up the hill except those he had mentioned. It was not quite dark when the boys went up the hill and he was able to distinguish them as far as Mr. Randolph's gate. He last saw them standing against the fence; could not say positively that they were the same three boys who had passed him. It was half an hour after the train passed that he heard the scuffling.

In reply to a question by the police magistrate the witness said that those in the carriage were Harry Adams and Edward Fraser.

Col. Marsh gave an emphatic denial to the rumor circulated about the city that he had given the colored man Skinner permission to carry a revolver. He had issued no permits of that kind during the past year, and would not know Skinner if he met him.

ADAMS' EVIDENCE.

Harry Adams swore that he drove up Maryland hill about 9.15 o'clock on the evening of July 21st. He was accompanied by Edward Fraser. As they passed the Regent street crossing they noticed some persons standing or sitting around the railway culvert; did not recognize any of them. He thought there were four or five in the party. Witness drove to the top of the hill and turned the horse around. He did not remember seeing or meeting any person after passing the crossing. He saw a person answering the description of Rev. Mr. Hartley come down the road. After he had passed Mr. Randolph's dogs commenced to bark. Soon afterwards he heard a man shout "The dog has bit of him." This was repeated two or three times. Witness next heard a man groan and started down the hill. As he approached the second gate he saw three men hurrying away. They moved along inside of the fence and went up the hill. They emerged through the third gate and, crossing the Maryland road, disappeared. Witness did not recognize any of the parties nor did he tell Rev. Mr. Hartley that he had recognized them. As the men crossed the road each covered his head with his coat. Witness did not see Rev. Mr. Hartley after the assault. Mr. McLellan did not have any questions to ask the witness.

A FINANCIAL PANIC.

Paris Excited by the Failure of Dealer Prominent in the Sugar Market.

New York, Aug. 1.—(Special)—A Paris despatch to the Herald says that a panic was caused on the Bourse De Commerce yesterday by the announcement that Jules Jaluzot had failed to meet his engagements in the sugar markets.

It was stated that his liabilities amounted to about 15,000,000 francs ($3,000,000), and that two leading firms of sugar brokers had been compelled to suspend payment, owing to Jaluzot's discomfiture. For a short time it was hoped that an arrangement would be made which would prevent a flurry on the exchange, but this optimism proved unfounded.

The disorder reached such a point that no quotations on sugar could be given in the end of the chamber of deputies where he had seat on the nationalist benches for a constituency in the department of Nièvre.

Dobie and another soldier were rowing back to the barracks when their skill capsized. His companion was rescued, but Dobie sank and the search for his body is unavailing.
