F. E. BLACKMER.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY TRAGEDY.

Little Girl Shot by her Brother and Disfigured for Life.

St. Andrew's Beacon.—What may yet prove a fatal shooting accident occurred at Black's Harbor, near St. George, on Saturday last.

The particulars to hand are somewhat meagre, but it is known that the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. Edmund Wallace has been disfigured for life by the accidental discharge of an old shot gun in the hands of her little brother. The gun was a Snyder rifle, and had been turned into a shot gun. There was a shell in it loaded with large shot. The little girl who was wounded was playing with another sister in the house when the gun in the brother's hands was accidentally discharged.

Two shots penetrated the child's breast and her right wrist was so terribly mutilated that Dr. Alexander found it necessary to amputate the hand. It is hoped that further amputation will not be required, although she may have to lose her entire arm.

Tuesday morning she was reported to be resting comfortably.

LAST SPAN PLACED.

Important Event in P. E. Island Railway Circles—The Hillsboro Bridge.

Charlottetown, Oct. 19.—(Special) Yesterday the last span of the superstructure of the Hillsboro bridge was placed in position.

Considerable work remains to be done before all will be ready for railway and carriage traffic, but the placing of the last span marks a noteworthy date in the progress of the work.

The bridge is by far the most important project of the kind ever attempted within this province. Both federal and provincial governments contributed and will contribute to the cost of maintenance.

It is expected that about the first of November trains will be operated on the Southern Railway, thus giving daily communication by rail for first time between the southeastern section of the province and Charlottetown and marking an important era in the railway development of this island.

SETTLERS FROM CALIFORNIA.

Immigration to Canada has taken Hold of the Pacific State People.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 19.—(Special) Fifty settlers for Alberta passed through from California with a large herd of cattle, most of which are thoroughbreds, as well as household effects.

The settlers stated that they were the advance guard of a large migration from California to Alberta, which will take place early in the spring.

Mr. McKane was formerly manager of the Royal Bank of Canada at Newcastle, but left there a few years ago for British Columbia, where he has amassed a fortune in mining.

A GOOD IDEA.

Efforts will be Made to Shorten the Sessions of Parliament.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—(Special)—An effort will be made at the next session of parliament to amend the rules of the house with the view of shortening the sessions.

A select committee will be appointed for the purpose, and the custom of giving time to the discussion of anything at all that the members desire will be limited.

Other amendments will be made to the rules with the object of facilitating the public business.

A GREAT SUCCESS.

St. John, Oct. 19.—(Special)—The fair of nations which opened last night in aid of the new Y. M. C. A. building is already a success.

Last night's receipts were nearly $1,500 and it is expected the gross receipts for the four days will reach $10,000.

PRINCE AT ST. JOHN.

Inner, Reception and Ball to be Tendered Him Thanksgiving Day.

St. John, Oct. 19.—(Special)—The mayor announced this morning that Prince Louis will arrive here on Thanksgiving Day.

The mayor will tender him a dinner at the Union club and a ball and reception will be given in the evening at St. Andrew's Rink.

No invitations will be issued, but the latter functions will be open to the public.

It is a noticeable fact that when the feet are comfortable the rest of the body is in a similar condition.

VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY.

In Their Opinion Child Found on City Dump Belonged to Mrs. Briggs.

DEATH WAS DUE TO LACK OF PROPER CARE AND ATTENTION.

The inquest over the body of the infant child, found on the city hall dump a short time ago, was concluded at an early hour this morning. The jury, after deliberating more than two hours, returned a verdict to the effect that in their opinion the child belonged to Mrs. Briggs, and its death was due to lack of proper care and attention.

Following is a summary of the evidence taken at last night's session.

CHARLES TONAR,

on being sworn, said he lived in the city and was a truckman. Was acquainted with Mrs. Susan Briggs, lately assisted her to move to the Scott's barracks. The articles of furniture included a lounge or sofa. There were two loads altogether. Did not see any infant around the house. Did not notice any blood stains on the sofa. There was a lot of carpets among the stuff, but witness did not take particular notice of them. Mrs. Briggs was in good health so far as he could tell, and made no complaints.

WILLIAM DARLINGTON, recalled, and sworn, identified the piece of carpet shown in court as the same that had been wrapped around the body of the infant found on the dump. The pillow slip found around the infant's body was also identified by him.

To Juror Walker the witness said he did not notice any other pieces of carpet on the dump.

SAMUEL DYKEMAN, was the next to give evidence. He said he resided on York street in Miss Lipsett's house, part of which had lately been occupied by Mrs. Briggs. Had seen Mrs. Briggs quite frequently, but was only in her apartments once. She seemed to witness to be quite stout. Saw her a fortnight ago last Sunday and she seemed to be considerably smaller. Did not see or hear any infant about the house. Did not see any doctor calling upon Mrs. Briggs. Did not see her little boys hauling anything away and could not identify the carpet produced in court as belonging to Mrs. Briggs. Was away from home at the time his wife took food up to Mrs. Briggs.

The jury retired at 10 o'clock.

THE VERDICT.

and at 12.30 returned the following as their verdict:

"We, the jurors sworn to investigate the cause of the death of the infant child found on the city hall dump on October 10th, find from the evidence adduced as follows:

(1) So far as such evidence and particulars given by witnesses examined, in our opinion, Mrs. Susan Briggs was the mother of the female infant found on the dump in rear of the city hall.

(2) That death was caused by not having proper attention and care after birth.

In upper flat of tenement house, occupied by her (Susan Briggs) on York street, Fredericton,

(Sgd.) JOSEPH WALKER, foreman,
ALONZO STAPLES,
MOSES MITCHELL,
E. W. BERRY,
ARTHUR K. LIMERICK,
ALFONSO KITCHEN,
DELL GUNTER.

The enquiry conducted by Coroner McEwen was most thorough, and every effort was put forth to clear up the mystery surrounding the child's death. Four sessions of the court were held, and fifteen witnesses were examined. Mr. J. H. Barry, K. C., acting for the crown attended the enquiry and conducted the examination of witnesses.

PROVINCIAL S. S. CONVENTION.

Rev. A. A. Rideout of Fredericton Read Paper at Wednesday's Session.

Moncton, Oct. 19.—At Wednesday afternoon's session of the Provincial Sunday School Convention Mr. W. L. McFarlane, of Nashua, N. S., delivered an address on What the Superintendent Expects from the Pastor. Mr. McFarlane said the superintendent expects from the pastor sympathy in his work. His presence was expected in the Sunday school, he was expected to teach, and in the selection of teachers the pastor should be the first to speak. He should also take part in the selection of literature. The Sunday school was an agency for church attendance. The pastor ought to interest the parents and children, and should have in view prospective teachers for the Sunday school.

The discussion that followed was taken part in by Rev. H. E. Thomas, Rev. D. Hutchinson, Rev. A. Lucas, Rev. Dr. Gates, and several superintendents.

T. S. Simms of St. John addressed the conference on the subject: What the Teachers Expect from the Pastor and Superintendent. A profitable discussion followed, in which many teachers and pastors took part.

An open conference on Sunday school management by C. G. Trumbull was the next to engage the attention of the convention. Mr. Trumbull first gave his attention to teachers' work, and some time devoted to the great problems with which the teacher and Sunday school workers had to contend. How to get pupils to study the lesson at home was discussed, and Mr. Trumbull advised interesting the scholars in lessons by giving questions to answer from the lesson. The problem of keeping boys between the ages of 15 to 18 in Sunday school was discussed and many instructive hints thrown out.

Rev. A. A. Rideout of Fredericton, addressed the convention on What the Pastor Expects from the Superintendent. The superintendent ought to have three characteristics. The first he would call knowledge. He ought to have knowledge how to run a Sunday school. He should know his teachers and also his scholars. Then, the superintendent should have tact, and he must also have enthusiasm. He should feel that he has the first duty in the school and display enthusiasm in the work.

A discussion on this topic closed the afternoon's session.

Millais' little maid with the rabbit, "Orphans," is a general favorite at the picture exhibitions in the London slums.

"I do love that child," said a workman. "She just talks to me as if she was my own." Another picture with the same title by Waterlow represents lambs being brought up by hand in a blossoming orchard. Mr. Keir Hardie, M. P., the well-known Labor leader, was taking some children around the exhibition.

"Now, children," he said, after telling them about the country in the spring, "what do you think she is giving the little lambs to drink out of that bottle?"

"Beer!" shouted every one with conviction.

"Yes," said the beginner at golf, telling his troubles, "the caddy was so sarcastic and impertinent I felt like cracking him over the head."

"Well, why didn't you?" asked his friend.

"I would have done it, but you see, I didn't know which would be the proper club to use for that purpose."
