

CROSSED NIAGARA RIVER.

Three Men Row Over Below Devil's Hole Rapids.

Another Daring Deed in Connection With the Erection of the Power Development Works at the Falls.

Niagara Falls, July 24.—Power development at Niagara Falls has been productive of many deeds of daring on the part of divers, crib-builders, miners in the tunnels and other work men, but none more daring than that performed last week by James Wadsworth, who crossed the river in a boat at the foot of the Devil's Hole Rapids. The Ontario Power Company is building a transmission line across the gorge at this point and was long unable to devise a scheme to get the first line or rope across the stream. The point is just below the Devil's Hole Rapids and the river runs rough and unsteady and with great swiftness towards the rapids below. Old river men said no boat could cross there, and offers of large sums of money to attempt the crossing were refused. The Buffalo life-saving station was offered $150 to shoot a line across but refused to take it. Finally James Wadsworth of Queenston, known as a daring and skillful boatman on the lower river, offered to make the attempt. He had a boat conveyed to the point of crossing and loaded with coils of light rope. With three companions—W. Aldous, J. Humphries and W. Humphries—all experienced river men, he pushed off from shore and in the presence of an excited gathering of power company officials and others successfully made the perilous passage, paying out the line as they went. The four powerful oarsmen used every ounce of strength they possessed in forcing the light craft across the turbulent, rushing stream, and, after a long period of anxiety and uncertainty, succeeded in striking the shore current on the other side and made a landing in safety. No one ever crossed the river there before and no one is anxious to try it again. Wadsworth and his companions are now regarded as the most daring of all the lower river boatmen.

GIBSON NEWS.

July 6.—The month of June has passed with its several weddings, but September is yet to come and according to all accounts cupid will again be at work, as it is already rumored that a very popular young lady residing in Free Baptist lane and who sings in the choir of that church, is soon to be led to the altar by a young man across the Nashuaak. It is also hinted that the esteemed pastor of the F. B. church is thinking of taking unto himself a charming wife. We extend congratulations.

Miss Bertha Brown, who has been teaching school at Stanley, is home to spend her holidays, the guest of her mother.

Rev. Dr. Allen Hoben, his wife and family, are visiting Supt. Hoben, Gibson.

Last Monday evening the members of Deacon Wm. Minue's Bible class and friends tendered him a surprise party at his home, it being that gentleman's birthday. A very enjoyable evening was spent. Light refreshments were served.

The choir of the Baptist church are talking of holding a strawberry festival in the near future.

It is understood that Rev. J. C. Wilson, pastor of the Free Baptist church will accept the call to remain another year, which is good news not only to his congregation, but to the public in general, as Mr. Wilson is esteemed by all.

The many friends of Mr. Eldridge Haines, clerk in the I. C. R. employ, will be sorry to hear that he is confined to his home with typhoid fever.

Mr. Andrew Bradley is wearing a happy smile over the arrival at his home of a bouncing baby boy.

LETTER FROM MR. CHESTNUT.

Fredericton, N. B., July 5, 1905.

To the Editor of the Herald,
Dear Sir,—Recently there appeared a letter in the "Gleaner" over the signature of "A Lover of Nature," devoted chiefly to whitewashing trees, which he dislikes and characterizes as unsightly, hideous and useless.

I for one must admit his remarks apply to myself as I am guilty of this offense, unsightly and hideous offense. Many years ago I whitewashed the trees in front of my place, thinking I was doing a good thing by killing bugs and worms, as lime is known to be a preservative, I thought it would not hurt the trees.

I am a lover of nature, none more so, and the remarks of this gentleman has taken hold of me and caused the arrest of serious thought. He puts it quite plainly and I admit his views are correct. The trees are a priceless heritage left us by the men of the past and it is our duty to protect them. Little, very little is being done by the authorities along these lines. A town without trees would give one the impression that the place was dead or decaying.

Here we have tree butchers whose pernicious activity is still too often in ostentatious evidence. I hold no public tree under any circumstances should be either trimmed or pruned by any but experienced men. The electric light men have made havoc with some of our best elms. They should first get permission of the council and a violation of this rule should incur a fine, and should be rigidly enforced, or some of our very best elms will be ruined. Once the mischief is done it is hard to restore them. Whitewashing can be discontinued and remedied.

Yours, truly,
HENRY CHESTNUT.

WEDDING AT AMOND, C. C.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, Amond, was the scene of a brilliant event on Wednesday, June 21st, when their daughter, Edna Odessa, was united in marriage to Henry Allan Smith of Windsor, in the presence of one hundred and twenty-five relatives and friends of the happy couple.

At the appointed hour of 3 p. m., the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Emma DeWard, assembled the interested parties and guests upon the lawn, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. B. L. Gibson of Glassville.

The bride, attended by her little niece, Miss Charlotte Henderson, was prettily attired in a costume of white organza, trimmed with all over lace and ribbon, and carried a beautiful shower bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern.

Subsequent to the ceremony and the speaking of many good wishes for the future welfare of the bride and groom, the company repaired to the dining room, and sat down to a sumptuous repast, after which they dispersed.

The bride was the recipient of many useful, beautiful and costly presents, among which was a bedroom suit and a handsome oak lock-case.

Mrs. Smith has been a favorite in social circles, and will be greatly missed by those who consider that the life elysian consists of single blessedness.

TONSILLITIS IS GOING AROUND.

And everybody is wondering what to do. Here is a simple cure. Use a gargle of Nerviline and water as recommended in the directions. Rub your throat and chest vigorously with Nerviline. Poland.

Among the nations of Europe Poland ranks sixth in point of numbers, with over 20,000,000 souls. Warsaw, her capital, has 800,000 inhabitants, a greater mass than that of Brussels, Amsterdam, Madrid, Lisbon, Rome, Edinburgh or Dublin.

Kissing in Japan.

Japanese mothers do not kiss their children, though they may press their lips to the forehead or cheek of a very young baby.

The Largest Flower.

The largest flower in the world, it is said, is the bolio, which grows on the island of Mindanao, one of the Philippine group. It has five petals, measuring nearly a yard in width, and a single flower has been known to weigh twenty-two pounds. It grows on the highest pinnacle of the land, about 2,000 feet above the level of the sea.

When tea has been put into the tea-pot it should at once be filled up with boiling water. It is a great mistake to put only a little drop of water on the leaves first, filling the pot up afterward.

The Paris Library.

The largest library in the world is that of Paris. It contains upward of 2,000,000 printed books and 160,000 manuscripts. The British museum contains about 1,500,000 volumes and the imperial library of St. Petersburg about the same number.

An Actress' Criticism.

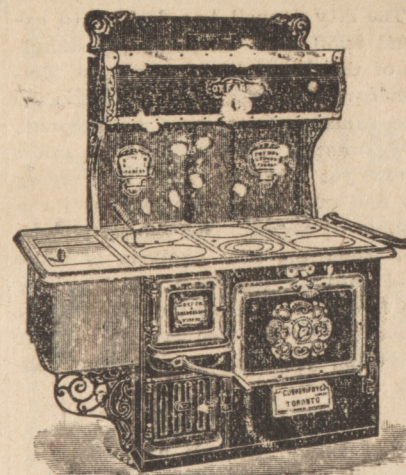

When Mme. Rachel saw her stout sister dressed for the part of a shepherdess her comment was, "Sarah, dear, you look like a shepherdess who has just dined on the flock."

The Nile Nile.

The Nile is unique among great rivers in that it is largest toward its source. But this is due to the fact that it traverses a desert region beneath a semitropical sun and that one-third of its volume below the first cataract is diverted from its channel for purposes of irrigation and domestic use.

A Scorching Year.
