WAR PROCLAIMED.

Desperate Stage in the Tartars' Slaughter of Armenians in the Caucasus.

FIENDS JOINED BY OTHERS FROM OVER THE PERSIAN BORDER

St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—War has been proclaimed in the Caucasian districts of Zangezur and Gabsai where the Tartars are killing Armenians without distinction of sex or age.

The country is flooded with bands of Tartars. Many thousands of Tartar horsemen have crossed the frontier from Persia and joined the insurgents in killing Armenians.

At the village of Minked three hundred Armenians were slaughtered.

A despatch says that the mutilated children were thrown to dogs and the few survivors forced to embrace Islamism in order to save their lives.

Tiflis, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—A hundred social democrats were killed and wounded today in a conflict with the Cossacks at the town hall, and may were trampled to death in the subsequent panic.

Two thousand social democrats forced an entrance into the town hall which had been closed owing to a celebration of the religious holiday. Revolutionary speeches were made, and the chief of police ordered the meeting to disperse.

Part of those present obeyed, but the remainder refused, and some revolvers were fired.

A large force of Cossacks drawn up outside the building, fired repeatedly into the crowd, killing 30 and wounding upwards of 70.

In the ensuing panic, many persons fell and were trampled to death by their comrades and the pursuing Cossacks.

Rev. Allen W. Daniel performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her two sisters, Misses Mary L., and Elizabeth, and little nephew, Master J. deBeaujeu Domville, of Montreal, acted as page. Harold Robinson officiated as best man for the groom.

The choir assisted in the service, and Mrs. Charles Taylor sang a solo.

The ushers, Messrs. John Purdy, E. P. Jones, Percy Fairweather, Harry Domville, Col. Wedderburn and Major Hartt conducted the large number of guests to their places. The wedding presents were very many and costly.

Over six hundred guests were present at the affair, which was the most brilliant function of the year. The guests from St. John came out on a special train.

RICH WIDOW NOW.

Telephone Girl Who Married Millionaire Canadian Inherits Great Wealth.

New York, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—After a month's illness, E. R. Whitney, the wealthy old Canadian who married a young telephone girl at the Grand Union Hotel only a few months ago, is dead.

Miss Anna Bennett, his bride, undoubtedly will receive a large part of a fortune estimated at from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000. Mr. Whitney, who was about seventy years old, had suffered from Bright's disease for several months.

Mr. Whitney had large lumbering and asphalt interests. He was well known in Montreal, where he had spent most of his time. On his frequent trips to this city he stayed at the Grand Union Hotel, doing much business by telephone. He noticed Miss Anna Bennett, who is twenty-two years old. A slight acquaintance grew until the old man asked her to go to dinner with him and to the theatre. Miss Bennett consented, and he called for her at her home in Greenpoint. After that he called there frequently, and often took her to dinner at the Hotel Astor and to the theatre. On May 7 they were married at St. Cecilia's, in Brooklyn, by Father McGoldrick. Mr. Whitney gave her $100,000 as a marriage portion and a check for $15,000 for her trousseau. At the wedding he gave her a diamond sunburst and a check for $500. After the ceremony they sailed for Europe, where they made an extended tour.

Moncton, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—The Minister of Railways and I. C. R. officials left by special train this morning for St. John.

Another change has been made in the proprietorship of the American Hotel in this city. William Wilson, the well known manager of the Dominion Cotton Mill, formerly manager of the Moncton Cotton Mill has bought out Mr. Bigelow and will take charge the first of October. Mr. Wilson has, of course, resigned his position as manager of the Halifax cotton mills. He was a resident of Moncton quite a number of years, but for the last six years has been manager of the Halifax mills.

The six-year-old son of Alex. Wilson had his arm broken yesterday while playing at his home. The lad

Niagara Falls, Sept. 12.—(Special.)—This afternoon at three o'clock a man leaped from the bridge between the mainland and Green Island into the upper rapids, and within three minutes was swept over the brink into the American Falls.

Thomas Barry, a roundsman in the thirty-third precinct, New York city, witnessed the suicide from a point a short distance down the river towards Prospect Point. He was admiring the beauty of the river when suddenly he was surprised to see a man mount the wall from the walk. For a minute the man paused, and then came the plunge to death in the wild waters. Roundsman Barry saw the body float down towards him and then pass over the brink.

AN IMPORTANT JUDGMENT.

Supreme Court Decides Against Appeal of Cushing Sulphite Fibre Company.

The supreme court met this morning pursuant to adjournment and delivered judgment in the case of George S. Cushing vs. the Cushing Sulphite Fibre Company. This was an appeal from an order to wind up the company made in chambers by Judge McLeod, under the winding up act. The court divided evenly, three for the appeal and three against, which leaves the case in statu quo, and the appeal drops.

Only three members of the bench Judges Landry, McLeod and Hanington, were present, the latter acting as chief justice. Attorney General Pugsley, A. P. Barnhill, E. C. J. D. Phinney, K. C. M. G. Teed, K. C., George W. Allen, K. C., and Mr. George S. Cushing were among those present.

Judge McLeod delivered a very able and exhaustive judgment, in which he carefully reviewed all the circumstances of the case. He adhered to his previous decision, and quoted numerous authorities, both Canadian and English in support of his contention. He said that the directors of the company did not want winding up proceedings instituted as it might interfere with the sale of the property under the mortgage now being foreclosed. In this connection it was rather surprising that the solicitor of the company had not seen to it that sale of the property was properly advertised. He did not think the grounds advanced by the directors against a winding up order would stand in any court in England; on the contrary they would be taken as a reason for winding up the company. The property has got to be sold anyway, therefore, he held that the only way to protect the shareholders was for the court to appoint a liquidator who would see to it that the property was properly advertised and sold. Under the winding up act the liquidator can continue the mill in operation until the sale is completed, and as it has been shown by affidavits that it is at present earning an annual profit of from $50,000 to $60,000, he should be able to perform the task without much difficulty. His decision was that the appeal should be dismissed and an order granted to wind up the affairs of the company.

A written judgment by Chief Justice Tuck was read by Judge Hanington. He differed from the views expressed by Judge McLeod and favored refusing the order. He took the ground that the company was still solvent.

Judge Landry agreed with the judgment of the chief justice.

Judge Hanington took the ground that Mr. Cushing was secured along with the other bondholders, and therefore should not be granted a winding up order. He held that the company was now solvent and the order if granted, would drive it into insolvency. He failed to see how the company was to be benefited by winding up proceedings. It might be satisfactory to a few persons, but would be ruinous to the enterprise. His judgment was in accord with that of the chief justice.

Judges Barker and Gregory were absent, but it was stated by Judge Hanington that they were in accord with the judgment rendered by Judge McLeod.

The court being equally divided Judge Hanington announced that the appeal would be dismissed, the question of costs to be considered later.

Attorney General Pugsley remarked that the company being insolvent, his client did not expect any costs.

The Cushing case was heard at the last term of the court. Attorney General Pugsley and A. P. Barnhill for Mr. Cushing, and H. A. Powell and A. H. Hanington, K. C. for the directors.

THE ANGLICAN SYNOD.

Favors the Idea of a New Hymnal—New Professor for King's College.

Quebec, Sept. 12.—The Synod was occupied the most of yesterday with a discussion of the proposition of J. Edmond Jones, calling for the appointment of a committee to prepare a hymn book for the Canadian church. Mr. Jones made an exhaustive speech in support of his motion, which indicated that he had given a great deal of care and attention in dealing with the subject. The motion was seconded by Archdeacon Fortin.

Rev. James Simpson moved in amendment that the Synod adopt as church hymns the book put out by the S. P. C. M. Y., 1903, as the hymnal for the church in Canada. This motion was seconded by Judge Savary. After considerable debate, conducted along very good natured lines, the amendment was withdrawn, and the original motion will no doubt be put and carried today.

In the evening the house devoted itself to the further consideration of the report of the board of missions, the house readily resolving itself into the general missionary society of the church. His Grace the Archbishop of Rupert's Land was in the chair.

The general secretary, Dr. Tucker, made certain explanations. When it came to the question of appointment, Canon Richardson, while endorsing the action of the board, pointed out that they scarcely seemed to consider the position the east was in. Not only did the east have to contribute to the support of ministrations for each family that left for the west, but was also deprived of the contributions of that family. He hoped in making the next appointment the board would bear this in mind.

During the afternoon session the bishops came in state to the lower house, and the Archbishop of Rupert's Land read an address on behalf of the whole Synod, to the primate, congratulating him on having attained the age of ninety years, and expressing the hope that he would be spared many years.

Today the question of the prayer book will come up. It is believed that the report of the committee will be adopted, for the present, at all events.

A meeting of the governors of King's College, Windsor, was held yesterday, when it was announced that C. A. Brodie Brockwell, B. A., Oxford, had been appointed to the Alexandria professorship of divinity. He comes most highly recommended. He is a double university scholar, and a member of the University of Strasbourg, Germany. At present he is curate of Cheshurst, Herts, England.
