

LOSES SAVINGS OF MANY YEARS.

Daughter Steals His Little Hoard and Squanders It on Clothes and Dinners With Her Sweetheart.

Montreal Herald:—After a high old time, extending over Tuesday and yesterday, Blanche Marlin, 18, and Ernest Froulx, 19, had to strip themselves of their new clothes at police headquarters this morning, and get into something from the old wardrobe, preparatory to appearing before Judge Lafontaine on a charge of theft.

The father of the girl, a grey-haired resident of Drolet St., had for purposes of the household, been laying past the old dollar bills of the family finances for some considerable time, and by dint of much economy had amassed the respectable sum of $116.

This very useful nest egg was naturally a thing of much satisfaction to its owner. It also proved a very strong magnetic attraction to his daughter Blanche. She got to know just where the father hid it away in the home, as his trust in banks being as is often the case with the working classes, probably none of the strongest. She allowed her mind to dwell too closely on the dollar hoard, and on the many good things it might bring, until on Monday night she gave way to the temptation and azzed with the wad, sweet-heart Ernest and herself started out to enjoy themselves. One of the earliest moves was to do themselves well in clothes, and in these say the detectives they cut quite a big swathe round town and district on Tuesday, revelling in all the unaccustomed luxury of hacks, rigs, and sumptuous dinners. The programme was continued yesterday to some extent, with officers Giguere and McLoughlin hot foot on their trail, and all went well with the young couple until about three o'clock this morning when they were rudely shaken from sound slumber in a little wooden shack of which they appear to have taken possession, in the quarry wilds of the Iberville road district.

This humble, happy home, with its bed of a sort, and a stove that had seen some service was promptly broken up by the officers and after the pair had shed about sixty dollars worth of new store garments, they were parted at the cell door.

The girl pleaded guilty to the theft and the lad not guilty, and both were remanded until Oct. 24 for enquete.

TRADE NEGLECTED.

Mr. Robert Douglas of Johannesburg, Who is Visiting His Old Home at St. Catharines, Says Americans do Most of the Trade.

St. Catharines, Oct. 20.—"It is nothing short of ridiculous the way Canadians are neglecting their opportunities for trade in South Africa," said Mr. Robert Douglas to a representative of The Globe today. Mr. Douglas, an old St. Catharines boy, is stationed at Johannesburg, where he has had charge of the fruit department of the Rhodes estates. He came over here partly to visit his old home, and partly to buy apples for the Australian Fruit & Produce Company of South Africa.

"There is a big demand for almost anything in manufactured goods," said he, "and the United States is taking advantage of it. The Americans have their representatives all through the country, while during my three years there I only met two Canadians representing Canadian business houses. They were a Toronto man and one from Brantford. When I say anything in the manufactured goods line is eagerly sought after there I do not exaggerate in the least. We do no manufacturing at all out there, nothing being about the only industry. Take, for instance, brooms. The Yankees are doing a land office business in them. Before the war the country never saw a broom. Now the country's flooded with them. Then ploughs: One Chicago house which makes ploughs has sent out ten men, expert ploughmen, merely to show the people how to plough, and the concern is making a big thing out of it."

"In everything the Yankees are finding a rich market in South Africa—shoes and boots, clothing, furniture, garden tools and canned goods. There is a big demand for the coarse cotton overalls for use of the men in the mines, and the United States have seized the opportunity."

"England, too, supplies a lot of goods to South Africa, though the shipping rates, owing to the shipping ring, are much higher than from Canada or the United States. It costs 120 shillings to ship a ton of goods from Southampton, whereas from Canadian ports or New York it costs only 80 shillings. England supplies South Africa with millions of pound tins of dried apples, made of the wind-blown fruit, which in Canada is allowed to rot on the ground. South Africa buys $60,000,000 worth of fruit from other countries each year."

Mr. Douglas, who returns to Johannesburg on the last boat from Montreal, says South Africa has an ideal climate. The country is going ahead, and many settlers are coming in.

SMILING BABIES.

The well baby is never a cross baby. When baby cries or is fretful it is taking the only way it can to let mother know there is something wrong. That something is probably some derangement of the stomach or bowels, or perhaps the pain of teething. These troubles are speedily removed and cured by Baby's Own Tablets, and baby smiles again—in fact there's a smile in every dose.

Mrs. Mary E. Adams, Lake George N. B., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets so good for the little ones that I would not like to be without them." That is the experience of all mothers who have tried the tablets, and they know this medicine is safe, for it is guaranteed to contain no opiate or poisonous stuff. Equally good for the child just born or well advanced in years. Sold by all druggists or mailed at 25 cents a box by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

EDWARD IS CZAR'S MODEL.

Would Rule Russia as Great Britain is Governed.

London Oct. 20.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of The Times

cables:—I hear that M. Witte is holding informal conferences with influential members of the Reform party, and assuring them that the Emperor is sincerely desirous of meeting the wishes of the nation. I am told that M. Witte has declared that the Czar's greatest desire was to become a constitutional sovereign, that his ideal was Edward VII., the monarch who rules over loving, loyal subjects without the terrible burden of responsibility imposed by an autocratic regime, and that he hesitated to grant a constitution solely because he was not yet convinced that the nation desired it. M. Witte has intimated that it would be the high mission of the Duma to express the will of the people in this respect, but urged moderation so as to avoid playing into the hands of the reactionary counselors who surround the throne. It is difficult to foresee the success of these overtures. The Reformers are profoundly sceptical and suspicious of the Government.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN.

Mrs. Emma Daigle of Moncton, N. B. Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along, with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for women's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, a sort of general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely, and I was unable to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headache. My doctor said that it was 'nervous exhaustion,' and that I might never get well. My troubles increased, for as I grew fainter I was subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I nearly lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. It tonified my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite, and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, given me a good color, and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER—No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the place of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont. A., and Kingston, Ont.

SCARED BEAR UP A TREE.

Held the Frightened Animal Till They Got a Gun.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 20.—The largest black bear that has ever been seen in the Nicola Valley has just been killed near Quilchena.

John Collett and J. McNeill spotted the bear on the side of the mountain, and after a race of five hundred yards outflanked him and mounted guard at the foot of the tree while McNeill rode to the ranch house two miles away to secure a gun. The bear made several attempts to escape, but Collett scared him back.

On the arrival of McNeill with the gun the bear was twenty feet up in the tree. Collett put two shots in him before he fell, when McNeill put the finishing touches with a revolver. The bear tipped the scales at nearly five hundred pounds, and measured six feet ten inches. The animal was an old-timer, as shown by the much worn teeth.

LATEST FASHION.

EFFECTIVE DESIGN UPON EMPLOYMENT LINES.

Models that repeat some of the many Empire designs are among the most satisfactory of the season. Combining as they do the charm of novelty with a certain amount of practicality, and the ease with which they are fitted as well, it is no wonder that they have met with an enthusiastic acceptance on all sides.

The model is one in a pale shade of French gray broadcloth, with unplucked beaver at collar and cuff; and a handsome braid defining the body part. The skirts are circular in cut, with inverted pleats at the centre of the back, the sides describing a graceful outward flare that is especially smart and becoming. The sleeve is full at the top, pleated to the arm size, and tapering to a reasonably closefit below the elbow. The full cuff is of the roll-over variety.

REACHING INTO MANITOBA.

Charles S. Mellen Interested in New Midland Road.

New York, Oct. 20.—A special to The Tribune from New Haven, Conn., says: Western reports reached this State yesterday afternoon that Charles S. Mellen, President of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, is taking an active interest in the development of railroads in Manitoba. The western reports say that when Mr. Mellen was still at the head of the Northern Pacific road that line sold all of its holdings and franchises in Manitoba to the Canadian Northern. The retirement of the Northern Pacific in Manitoba railroading was at that time forced upon Mr. Mellen. The story is that Mr. Mellen was at that time informed by a member of the Manitoba Legislature that if he did not sell out to the Canadian Northern the Manitoba Government would see to it that all of his lines there would be paralleled, and that freight and passenger business would be carried on in competition with him, even at a ruinous price, to drive him from the field.

It now appears that Mr. Mellen has become one of the incorporators of the new Midland Railway Company of Manitoba, the charter for which has been granted by the government there. The plans of this company provide for a network of lines throughout Manitoba, covering it is said, all important parts of the Province. The ultimate intention of this company, it is said, is to extend its lines north to Hudson's Bay, to make a summer grain shipping route to Liverpool over new ground.

The eight branch lines of the Northern Pacific Railway Company in Manitoba, aggregating 255 miles in length, were leased for 999 years from May 31, 1901, to the Province of Manitoba, and by it sub-leased to the Canadian Northern Railway Company, which has an option to purchase the lines.

HOW TO GET CONSUMPTION.

Ninety per cent. of the "lungers" contract consumption by allowing the power of resistance to fall so low that a favorable condition for the development of bacilli is provided. In a healthy system consumption can't take root. But where there is weakness and debility, there you find tuberculosis. For developing strength and building up the weak, nothing equals Ferrozone. It makes the blood nutritious and the nerves enduring. The way that it converts food into nutriment, the appetite that it gives, is surprising. Just what the man verging on consumption needs—that's Ferrozone. If tired and weak don't put it off. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty tablets—at all dealers.

HUSBAND IN HER ARMS.

Woman Carries Wounded Man up Mountain Side.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—A despatch to The Record-Herald from Monument, Col., says: "Up a steep declivity, bearing the limp form of her husband in her arms, Mrs. C. B. Wilson struggled a quarter of a mile to the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, where she stood on the track and made such frantic gestures that the engineer of a fast freight stopped the train and took the injured man on board."

"Mrs. Wilson, who is the wife of the station agent here, accidentally shot her husband while hunting yesterday. He dropped to the ground insensible, but the plucky woman, although weighing less than 115 pounds, carried the man, who weighs 155 pounds, up the mountain side, but when the train men came to her assistance she fainted."
