MIXED IN THEIR MUSIC.

Up at Toronto on the 12th of July the Orange parade marched off to music that is not orthodox for the members of the order. The person who selected the band selections was evidently not up in history or he would not have chosen "Bonnie Dundee" for the parade.

"Rise, Sons of William," and "Croppies Lie Down," says the Toronto Globe, are quite orthodox, but who in the name of religious liberty and our blood-bought rights introduced "Bonnie Dundee" to the company of the elect?

Wm. Johnson Lodge went swinging past to the tune of "Bonnie Dundee." How appropriate to the occasion was this most popular of Jacobite songs may be judged from the opening lines:

To the Lords of Convention 'twas Claverhouse spoke,
Ere the King's crown go down, there are crowns to be broke.

The King, of course, was James, whose standard Claverhouse raised against William, declaring proudly, "Ere I own a usurper, I'll crouch with the fox."

Many of the demonstrators in William Johnston, as well as the other lodges, are from the "Black North" and are the lineal descendants of Covenanters who were forced to flee from the persecutions carried on by "Bonnie" Dundee in the southwest of Scotland.

To the reader of history the march of such men behind a song in honor of Claverhouse is as amusing as a Hibernian procession would be carrying banners in honor of Oliver Cromwell.

WANT MORE PAY.

Evidently there has been an agitation at Ottawa for a raise of pay all round, including an increase in the sessional indemnity to members, increase in judges salaries, in the salary of the premier and other ministers, pay for the opposition leader and a pension for ex-cabinet ministers.

The country would probably stand the indemnity to increase for members of parliament cannot be expected to spend half the year at Ottawa for the present paltry indemnity, and the premier and other members of the government at present are not adequately remunerated, but why should there be pensions for ex-cabinet ministers?

Mr. Foster makes objection to a small subsidy for a steamer running on the Petepcodie between Moncton and down river points and reasonable expenditures on Nova Scotia harbors and rivers, it is presumed on the ground of economy, but advocates the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars for a new house of commons' chamber. Mr. Foster, who now represents a Toronto constituency, has evidently forgotten all about maritime province interests since his divorce from this part of Canada.

The Canadian riflemen at Bisley are making a fine record. For one thing they have captured the Kolapore cup and stand well in other important matches. Yesterday the Canadian camp was honored by a visit from the Duke of Connaught, only surviving brother of the King, and H. R. H. made some pleasant remarks to Col. Hesselein and his men.

The record run of the special L. C. R. mail train from North Sydney to Montreal averaging 43.62 miles per hour shows the "peoples' line" to be in fine shape under the able management of Hon. Mr. Emerson. No such time could have been attempted under the run down condition of the road in Mr. Haggart's time.

Premier Tweedie who is at Ottawa, says that a conference of provincial premiers with the federal cabinet is to be held at the capital after the session. For consideration of the question of readjustment of Dominion subsidies paid the provinces.

Perhaps after a restful Sunday the G. T. P. committees will be able to meet and map out a plan of action for the interview with the federal government re the routing of the transcontinental through N. B.

It is expected that the Canadian parliament will be prorogued on Wednesday next.

Hon. L. J. Tardif, Premier of New Brunswick, who is at Ottawa at present, said Friday that as soon as the session is over the provincial premiers expect to be called together in Ottawa to discuss the question of readjusting the federal subsidies to the provinces. "The matter," he added, "has been pending for a considerable time, but when the conference with the federal authorities takes place, it is hoped to satisfactorily dispose of the matter and definitely settle it."

That is where a large part will go of the millions appropriated last winter for expenditure in the west.

"San Juanville," the district bounded by Amsterdam and West End avenues and 61st street and 63rd street, New York, so-called because of notoriety as a battle-ground, to the scene Friday night of a furious race riot, which required the reserves of no less than 17 police precincts, numbering more than 250 men, to quell after many shots had been fired and several persons had been seriously injured. Even after the actual fighting had been suppressed, only the presence of strong guards of police patrolling the neighborhood prevented the renewal of hostilities.

The British admiralty has just completed the scheme of naval redistribution outlined by the Earl of Selborne in December last by adding numerous battleships to the channel, Atlantic, Mediterranean and reserve squadrons. There are now concentrated in nearby seas 45 battleships, all of modern construction, 15 armored and 27 other cruisers, with their accompanying torpedo boat flotillas, all ready for war at any instant's notice, as well as reserve vessels provided with the nuclei of crews. All of these squadrons will be immediate touch with the admiralty. The eastern fleet will consist of three groups, with bases respectively at Hong Kong, Aden and Sydney, while another cruiser division connecting link.

BODY IDENTIFIED.

Woman Found Dead Near Arlington, Mass. Golf Links, Believed to Have Been Murdered

BY HUSBAND WHO IS MISSING.

Belmont, Mass., July 15.—The police officials of this state and town, who since Thursday have been investigating the murder of Mrs. Merna Schidlofska of Brockton, await anxiously news from the west, where they have endeavored to bring about the arrest of the woman's husband, John Schidlofska, otherwise known as John Cline, who is suspected of the murder, and who has fled, it is believed, to California.

The body of the murdered woman was positively identified today as that of Mrs. Schidlofska by a friend who was brought from Brockton to view the body.

There are two theories as to the motive that led to the crime. One of these is that differences arose between Schidlofska and his wife about another woman. The other is that a quarrel occurred between Mr. and Mrs. Schidlofska on her refusal to turn money over to him. The two had an account at the Brockton Savings Bank, and on Tuesday $341-50 was withdrawn by the barber. Friends of the woman say that she had saved nearly $1,000 and that she had given $250 of it to her husband, and that the latter had frequently induced his wife to give him more money. The Brockton police have learned that Schidlofska shipped a trunk and box to Boston and then to Los Angeles from Montello on Wednesday.

In the course of their investigation today the state police secured a number of letters said to have been written in Polish by a woman in Los Angeles to Schidlofska. These letters are said to have disclosed an intimate acquaintance between the two, and the police are inclined to view the circumstances as an additional incentive to Schidlofska's desire to go to Los Angeles alone.

ECHOES OF THE WAR.

Russian Regiment Mutined and Murdered the Officers.

Tiflis, July 14.—A regiment of Russian soldiers stationed at a small village in the mountains near here, has murdered all its officers, and it is rumored has joined the revolutionists.

Warsaw, July 14.—At the cotton mill centre of Zgierz, near Lodz, a number of Cossacks declined to eat what they considered bad food and sent a delegate named Khazanov to the captain to command double pay for double rations, better food and the payment of arrears. In reply the captain drew a revolver and shot Khazanov dead. As the demands were persisted in troops were summoned and the Cossacks were seized and imprisoned in the fortress of Ivangorod.

St. Petersburg, July 15.—The salaries of the Russian peace plenipotentiaries have been fixed at $200 per day each, besides an allowance of $7,500 for travelling and other expenses.

DEAD AND EARS MISSING.

Strange Murder of Ranchmen in the Big Horn Basin.

Cody, Wyo., July 15.—There are dread and apprehension among the cattle ranchers of the Big Horn basin because of three murders that have been committed among their number within the past three weeks. In each case the assassin cut off the right ear of the victim.

The three murdered ranchers had received anonymous letters warning them to leave the country on pain of death.

A number of other ranchers of the Basin have received similar letters, and fear that they are also marked for assassination. They have banded themselves together for protection and have employed range riders to attempt to discover the murderers.

Robert McCoy, one of the most prominent ranchers in the Basin, was found yesterday, shot in the back, dead. His left ear was missing. Two weeks ago Bill McClintock was found murdered beside the road. His left ear had been cut off. A week ago Joe Handy, another cattleman, was missed from home. The next day he was found on the range dead, with a bullet through his head and his left ear cut off.

It is believed that the lookskirt and crinoline habit was reintroduced by some crabbed old father who is tired of paying gas bills.
