

THE PRINCE WON ALL HEARTS.

Public Reception at Opera House Attended by Over a Thousand People.

SORRY HE COULD NOT BRING HIS SHIPS TO FREDERICTON.

The public reception to Prince Louis of Battenberg at the Opera House Friday afternoon was successful beyond the most sanguine expectations. The hall was crowded to its fullest capacity and the short programme arranged by the civic committee was carried out without the slightest hitch.

The prince and his staff were received by the mayor and city clerk in the mayor's office, at four o'clock. The aldermen were presented by the mayor and this over, the party repaired to the Opera House, where a magnificent ovation was tendered the royal visitors, the city orchestra from a position at the right of the stage, rendering Rule Britannia and other airs.

Among those who occupied seats on the platform, besides the members of the city council were: Lieutenant Governor Snowball, Premier Tweedie, Hon. Messrs Faris, Sweeney and Jones, Senator Thompson, Judge Gregory, O. S. Crockett, M. P. W. T. Whitbread, M. P. P., County Councillors M. B. McNally, J. F. Timmins, Fred Pond, John McKee, W. L. McFarlane, Ex-Coun. Forbes, Dr. Inch, Rev. Dr. Rogers, Rev. Willard Macdonald, Rev. J. H. Macdonald, Rev. A. A. Rideout, Rev. Father Carney, Rev. S. Sykes, Ex-City Clerk Beckwith, Judge Marsh, Alex. Burchill, City Engineer Brown and Mayor White of St. John.

The mayor called the gathering to order, and read the civic address, afterwards presenting the document to the Prince.

Before reading the formal reply, Prince Louis stepped to the front of the stage, and, facing the sea of faces in front of him, said: "Before I reply to the address in words which are perhaps couched in rather formal language, I would like to tell you from my heart how much I appreciate being here today, and to see that you have come in such numbers to give me a hearty welcome, particularly as I see so many children present. I have been much pleased to see your charming city, and I only wish my ships were not so big that I might have steamed up your river and anchored them opposite your town."

The Prince's address, was closely listened to and heartily applauded by the audience.

At the conclusion of the speech making the prince and staff descended to the auditorium, and held a public reception. It is estimated that fully one thousand people shook hands with the Prince and his A. D. C., Prince Alexander.

Mayor McNally and the city clerk made the presentations. There was some little confusion at first on account of the large crowd in the aisles, but this soon remedied itself. Among those who paid their respects to the royal visitors were ex-Chief Antony Scabi of St. Marys, and ex-Chief Jack Solomon of Kingsclear. The reception lasted exactly half an hour, and at its conclusion the royal party left the hall, and boarding their barouches, went for a short drive about the city. Several young ladies took snap shots of the Prince as he was entering his carriage, and he seemed to rather enjoy it.

After leaving the opera house the party drove up town, and after a turn through Wilmot Park, paid a visit to old government house, being shown through the building by the Lieutenant Governor and Private Secretary Barker. They next drove down Brunswick street to the residence of Mr. T. C. Allen, where they attended a five o'clock tea. It was six o'clock when the Prince and staff returned to the Queen Hotel.

His Serene Highness and staff, accompanied by the Lieut. Governor, left for St. Andrews at ten o'clock this morning in a private car attached to a special train. Before leaving the prince expressed himself as being well pleased at the hospitality shown him by the citizens of Fredericton.

The celebration in honor of the prince was certainly a grand success in every respect and his visit to the city will long be remembered. The civic authorities are pleased at the manner in which the reception at the opera house passed off, and the Lt. Governor and executive council, who gave the state ball, are also well pleased at the success of the affair. Much of the credit for the success of the state function is due to the energetic efforts put forth by Private Secretary Barker, Mr. T. B. Winslow and Mr. J. J. McCaffrey.

The visit of the sailor prince to Fredericton has passed into history, but will not be soon forgotten. All who came in contact with him were delighted with his fine personality, his genial manner and democratic spirit.

FIXED THE PRINCE.

During his stay in Fredericton Prince Alexander of Battenberg found it necessary to visit a tonorial artist, and he chose the attractive and well appointed parlors of Mr. John McGilvery, adjoining the Queen Hotel. The artist who operated on H. R. H. was Mr. McGilvery's efficient helper, Mr. Wm. Tighe, who gave the prince a clean shave, an excellent hair cut and the accessories, with all of which the distinguished visitor expressed his satisfaction.

AN AFTERNOON TEA.

A pleasant social event occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Allen yesterday afternoon when a number of visiting ladies were entertained at five o'clock tea by Mrs. Allen in honor of her guests, the Misses Holden of St. John. The gathering was honored by the presence of Prince Louis of Battenberg, Prince Alexander of Battenberg, Flag Lieut. Sowerby and Engineer Commander Pamphlet. Others present included the Misses Snowball, Mrs. Holden, St. John, the Misses Thompson, Miss Hutchison, of Douglaston, Miss Pierce of Chatham, Miss McLean, St. John, Miss O'Brien, Ireland, and Messrs. J. J. F. Winslow, J. A. Winslow and C. H. Allen.
