ARCTIC SUPPLIES.

Official who was Trained Under Langevin

Testifies Prices Were Reasonable---

Carvell Examines the Witness.

Ottawa, Ont., June 7.—(Special.)— Edward Adams, chairman of the steamer inspection service, concludes his evidence when the Arctic investigation committee opened this morning, after which J. V. Gregory, agent of the Marine Department at Quebec, took the stand.

He said he had been in the government service for forty years and had had much to do with certifying as to prices, and keeping track of prices generally.

He said his practice was to obtain prices from friends of the administration.

"From friends of the administration?" asked Mr. Carvell in surprise.
"Yes," was the reply. "If they are not friends of the administration we do not buy from them under any administration."

Mr. Carvell—Then there has been no change by this government from the practice allowed by the previous government.

Witness—No, nobody ever dared to make a change. (Laughter.)

Mr. Carvell—Have you distinct knowledge of that?

Witness—Positive knowledge and I swear to it.

He said he had once bought from a Liberal when the Conservatives were in power and he soon heard of it.

Mr. Carvell—You have had a good training.

Witness—"I have had training under Sir Hector Langevin, but could not have kept my situation for 40 years if I had not known how to swim."

Mr. Gregory went on to say that he had not purchased anything for the steamer Arctic that he had not had specific orders to carry out.

Further questioned by Mr. Carvell, the witness said that the cigars cost about five cents all round, some of them a little cheaper. He considered the cigars and tobacco supply was small, and as for the liquors, they were necessary on a northern trip and the very best should have been supplied in case of sickness.

Wounded Four Men.

Fort William, Ont., June 7.—(Special)—Italians who had been ejected from the Finlanders' dance hall early yesterday for making too free with some of the Finland ladies, laid in wait for the Finlanders, four of whom they attacked with knives.

All four were fearfully wounded, two doctors say fatally.
Hector Nantel was stabbed in the abdomen and Charles Paine was wounded in the chest.
The assailants are still at large.

BANK CLERK MISSING.

Reported Robbery of Union Bank at Winchester, Ont.

Ottawa, June 7.—(Special.)—A young bank clerk named Ross, employed as teller at the branch of the Union Bank at Winchester, has been missing since May 23.

He altered the combination of the safe, and a Montreal expert was required to open it.
It is said a large sum was missing variously stated at from $12,000 to $30,000, but sureties have covered the liabilities.

He was but nineteen years old, and had the reputation of being quiet, and steady.

The affair has mystified the district, and no reasons can be assigned for Ross' action.

chell street, this morning, of Mary, wife of Hon. Alonzo J. White, registrar of deeds.

COMMITTEE MEETING.

A meeting of the electric light committee of the city council will be held at the power station tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock to consider Supt. McGinn's recommendation in regard to a new boiler and engine.

His Lordship Bishop Kingdon continues to improve and it is quite certain that he will recover from his illness. Rev. Mr. Street was permitted to see him this morning for a short time.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Some Important Changes in Regard to Consolidated Schools.

The board of education met Wednesday afternoon and transacted a large amount of business. An order was passed for the consolidation of seven school districts at Belleisle, King's county.

The school trustees of Sussex were authorized to borrow $25,000 to provide a new school building and grounds.

A draft of the new school manual, which was agreed to, makes some changes in the regulations. In regard to qualification of Grammar school teachers, French and logic may, in future, be substituted for Greek and a knowledge of applied science is made requisite.

The board had under consideration the excessive expense incurred in the carrying on of the MacDonald school at Kingston, and it was decided that in future the trustees of consolidated schools need only arrange for vans on the main highways, that children living on branch roads shall meet the vans at the junctions of the main road, and in the case of children living more than a mile and a half from such road junction, the trustees may exempt their parents from school tax because of the children not using vans. It is thought that the arrangement will lead to a material reduction in the expense and will conduce to the successful operation of consolidated schools.

The full text of the new regulation adopted is as follows:

"The trustees having in view the accommodation of the largest number of children requiring conveyance, the time required for the journey and the expense incurred, shall, in their discretion, determine the routes along which the van shall be driven. The parents and guardians of the children residing on branch roads or on roads other than along which the vans are driven shall send their children to meet the vans at the junction of the roads, or at such other place as may be found most convenient; provided, however, that any parent or guardian of children who are required to go more than one mile and a half to meet the van shall be exempt from school taxation."

It was arranged that the members of the government should visit the consolidated school at Riverside, Albert County, on Friday of next week.

EXPRESSED APPRECIATION.

Methodist Quarterly Board Passed Resolution of Commendation for Their Retiring Pastor and His Wife.

Methodist Church,
Fredericton, June 6, 1906.
At the fourth quarterly meeting of this quarterly official board in fourth session assembled, express their high appreciation of the valuable services rendered the church by J. A. Rogers, D. D., the esteemed superintendent of this circuit. His pulpit ministra-tions have always been strong, forceful and hopeful, while in pastoral visitation, in times of joy or sorrow, good judgment and sympathy were ever present. In taking leave of our pastor we commend him to God, and pray that his future life may be full of sunshine.

"We are not forgetful of the grand work done in the church and in social spheres by Mrs. Rogers and the members of her family, all of which is recognized by our people."

GOING TO CAMP.

A party of congenial spirits, composed of Mr. R. S. Barker, private secretary to the lieutenant governor Mr. J. A. Winslow, director of the Fredericton Boom Company, Mr. S.
Dow Simmons, official court stenographer, Mr. J. J. P. Winslow, barrister, and Mr. F. E. Winslow, banker, have made arrangements to camp out for the next ten days at the Birches.

SAW A MOOSE.

Jack Doherty, son of Ald. Hugh Doherty, claims to have seen a large bull moose on the highway road at Maryland Hill last evening.

OLD HOME WEEK.

July 2nd, 3rd and 4th Will be Gala Days in Fredericton

If one can judge by the enthusiasm and the encouraging reports submitted at the committee meeting last evening, Fredericton's old home celebration, set down for July 3rd and 4th is going to be the most successful affair of the kind in the history of the city.

The mayor presided at the meeting and among those present were Messrs George Y. Dibblee, W. E. Farrell, Dr.
McMurray, George J. Barrett, H. C.
Mackey, Patrick Farrell, Hugh Calder, H. C. Rutter, R. P. Allen, H. G.
Fenety, D. J. Stockford and J. D.
Black.

There was some discussion in regard to the polymorphian parade, and a motion was carried apportioning the sum of $100 to be used as prizes in this department. This is to include the sum of $50 donated by Mr. W. T. Whitehead, M. P. P. This committee was asked to make a recommendation at the next meeting as to how the prize money should be divided. It is likely that there will be three prizes for the most original floats, three for the most comical, and one for the handsomest float.

Mr. Calder reported that the finance committee had begun their canvass of the city and were meeting with great success. In most cases the citizens were meeting them more than half way and the response was very liberal. They were within three or four hundred dollars of the full amount required to finance the celebration. He said that the committee had authorized Mr. Barrett to expend $250 on fire works for the grand pyrotechnical display and at his request the meeting ratified the action of the committee.

The sum of $100 was set aside to be used as prizes in connection with the trades' procession, and Chairman Mackey promised to make the best possible use of the money.

The music committee, through Ald.
Hanlon reported that the Fredericton Brass Band had offered their services for one parade free of charge. This committee was authorized to engage this band, and also the Marysville band for Tuesday and Wednesday.
It is likely that an effort will be made to bring an outside band here to help the firemen on the first day.

The mayor said that it was proposed to invite the members of the government and the mayors of the cities and towns of the province to take part in the first day's parade.
It was proposed to provide carriages for them.

Ald. Hanlon said that the 67th band of Woodstock had written to the effect that they would be at Camp Sussex and could not take part in the celebration. The 62nd band and the City Cornet band of St. John, however, had submitted propositions to the committee.
Mr. Barrett reported that the fireworks had been ordered and would be delivered in good time. The list of pieces included a special design of the King and Queen. It was proposed to explode the fireworks from scows on the river.

Dr. McMurray, for the B. and B.
Club reported that arrangements for the water sports were coming along well.
After a general discussion the meeting adjourned to convene again at the call of the chair.

NOVEL GIRLS' CLUB.

The Merry Wis-Links Appear to be in the Advance.

From the Chicago Chronicle.

The Wis-Links were in session.
Ever hear of the Wis-Links? It's the latest organization at the University of Wisconsin. 'Tis also the most unique of all clubs. It's members are girls, and they have organized with but one purpose—to educate the male students at the university along the lines of liberality.

The latter were getting a bit "tight" with their money, according to the theories of the girls. Somehow there were fewer buggy rides and less ice cream consumed than in former years.

"Order! Order!" shouted the president of the organization. But there was no order. Instead the girls continued to talk just as rapidly and just as loudly as ever. "I'll resign if you don't come to order," he said, and the threat had its effect, for quiet was quickly restored.

"Will all who have violated the rules please arise?" continued the president when she had wiped the tears away.

Four girls arose. They were abashed and it was well they felt their guilt, for they had sinned grievously.
And they were a bit defiant, too, for their sin meant they had failed to compel certain students to spend, and it was a reflection upon their personalities.

"Mme. President," began the tall blonde, "I did the best I could."

"And without success? Impossible!" answered the president. It was evident she couldn't conceive of any one failing in an endeavor to make a man part from his money.
She had never failed. And a glance at her would have told the reason for her success.

"Yes, I failed," answered the blonde, and she was near tears. "But it wasn't my fault. You see I met Harry at the post office. We started down the street and I saw a newsboy carrying the Chicago papers. Harry asked me if I read the papers, and I said I did. He immediately purchased one and paid a cent. We passed down street and pretty soon we came to a drugstore where ice cream may be purchased. Harry asked me whether I liked ice cream. Of course I answered in the affirmative, and he said he did, too, when it was warm, and you know how dreadful cold it has been."

"Well, why didn't you mention hot chocolate?" queried the president.
"I did, but Harry said it was injurious."

"How mean of him," shouted one girl.

"What day was that?" queried the
girl.

"Tuesday," answered the culprit.
"He didn't get his remittance until Wednesday," answered Harry's sister. "I know, because I didn't get mine."

"You will have to stand a fine," interrupted the president. "I can understand why Harry didn't spend.
But you should know the day upon which every male student in this university gets his remittance. That will save you lots of worry and lots of time."

The girls do not have to compel their escorts to spend much. If a man meets one of the members upon the street he must separate himself from at least 25 cents. Once a week every girl must have an escort to the theatre. If she doesn't she is fined $1.

Each year the club makes a special trip to Sun Prairie in autos. This little town is about 25 miles around the lake drive from Madison and is an ideal place for the Wisconsin students to spend their money.

OUR HARVEY BUDGET.

A Returned Exodian Appointed Presbyterian Missionary at Brockway and York Mills.

Harvey Station, June 6.—William
Acton about twenty-six years ago and went west, returned quite unexpectedly the latter part of last week and is the guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robt.
Williams of Acton. For upwards of twenty-two years Mr. Brownrigg's people here had no tidings of him and mourned for him as dead, and their surprise and pleasure at his reappearance may be imagined. During his absence his father and mother and sister have died. He has for a number of years been farming in Wisconsin and has a wife and family there. Apparent was seem to indicate that he has been prosperous in the west.

Mr. R. H. MacDonald, a student at the Presbyterian Theological College at Halifax, has been appointed to preach at Brockway and York Mills during the summer. He will also preach at Maguadavie Station. Mr.
MacDonald supplied the pulpits at Brockway and York Mills last summer and the people there are much pleased with his reappointment.

Dr. J. Orne Green, of Boston, who recently purchased the George Wood farm at Tweedside, is making extensive alterations and repairs upon the house and will occupy it during the summer. The work is being done by Squire Murray of York Mills, and James Rutherford of Tweedside.

David McGivney of Maguadavie is engaged putting a new stone cellar under the Taylor house on the Lake Road.

Mrs. DeWitt, who has been seriously ill, is now making good progress toward recovery. She is being attended by Dr. B. N. Kieth and nursed by Mrs. Georgiana Nesbit, of Frog Lake.

Miss Ada Robinson, who has been in poor health for some time, is able to be out again.

The farmers are having much difficulty in getting their crops into the ground owing to the wet weather.

POLICE COURT.

A man lately employed as a mill hand was arrested by the police last evening for drunkenness. At the police court this morning he pulled the wool over the police magistrate's eyes by giving a fictitious name and his Honor, thinking that it was his first offence, let him off with a caution.

Beck (despondently)—I said something my wife didn't like and she hasn't spoken to me for two days.

Peck (eagerly)—Can you remember what it was you said?
