CALLED TO THE BAR.

Foster Wants a Newspaper Correspondent Disciplined and the Premier Says There Are Others.

QUITE A LIVELY TIME IN PARLIAMENT—ORANGE VS. GREEN.

Ottawa, June 7.—On the order of the day being called yesterday afternoon, in the House of Commons, Mr. Foster moved a resolution of which he had given notice, calling upon Mr. Cinq Mars, of La Presse, Montreal, to appear before the bar of the House on Thursday afternoon at 3.30.

Mr. Foster objects to certain derogatory references made to himself, and desires to have his journalistic critic disciplined.

Speaking in support of his motion, the member for North Toronto again quoted the article of which he complained and said that he did not object to criticism of his personal appearance, or of his political career.

He objected, however, to absolute misrepresentation, especially on a question where prejudices of race and religion were brought into play.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier suggested that Mr. Foster was within his rights if he had been offended, and if a rule of the House had been transgressed, it must be left to the judgment of that gentleman whether or not he was wise in bringing the matter up.

OTHER COMPLAINTS.

Mr. Monk also complained of an article derogatory to himself in La Solle, Quebec, which he termed the "premier's personal organ." He wanted the fresh young writer brought to the bar and read a lesson upon his privileges.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that neither La Solle nor any other paper was his personal organ. Misrepresentation and abuse, he pointed out, were not confined to one side of the press, and he quoted from L'Evenement an article not written by a fresh young writer requiring discipline, but by a member of a legislative body sitting not far from the Commons chamber, who regularly attended caucuses of the Conservative party.

The article in question stated: "Sir Wilfrid Laurier is French by origin, but he is not aware of it, all that he knows is that he is British to the core." The article accused him of depriving his fellow Catholics of their rights by the "murderous" legislation of last session. Sir Wilfrid said that if there had been any attempt to raise prejudices of certain parties in the province of Quebec it was by the Conservative press.

R. L. Borden complained of an article in La Solle, stating that he had joined the Orange order. "I make the statement on my responsibility as a member of parliament that the prime minister occupies the same position in the Orange order that I do." (Laughter in which the premier joined.) Mr. Borden went on to defend the Orangemen of Carleton, Ont., as being as fair and broad minded as the inhabitants of any part of Canada.

Mr. Fitching thought it was not well to allow the impression to go abroad that French papers were the only offenders. There were papers written in English that were as great offenders as the French. Especially was this the case last year, when every act of the premier was grossly falsified and misrepresented. Nothing more recently in journalism had been published than that which appeared in some of the newspapers of Ontario in connection with that matter.

ORANGE AND GREEN.

Dr. Sproule defended the principles of the Orange Order, which he insisted, assured to Roman Catholics the same freedom to worship according to their conscience as was assured to Orangemen. To show in what regard he was held in the part of the country in which he lived, he said that in serious cases he was the first physician called in by his fellow citizens of the Roman Catholic faith. Amund Lavergne (Montmagny), charged that the Orange order had for its object the destruction of the Catholic religion and the French language in the Dominion.

Dr. Sproule indignantly protested but Mr. Lavergne charged that the Orange grand master had refused to disavow the attempts of the Orange Sentinel to raise the prejudices of the Protestants against the Catholics and French Canadians. As long as the campaign which appealed to prejudices of religion was kept up, so long would Canadians be divided.

Dr. Sproule demanded Mr. Lavergne's authority for the statement and was referred to his own speeches including that delivered as grand master of the Grand Orange Lodge.

Mr. Lavergne challenged Dr. Sproule to read to the house the oath of obligation which an Orangeman takes on joining the order.

Dr. Sproule promptly responded by producing the constitution of the order and reading therefrom the qualifications required in a candidate for admission.

Mr. Lavergne requested that the oath of obligation be read, but the grand master did not comply with his demand.

Mr. Taylor said Mr. Emmerson was an Orangeman, and he was surprised that Mr. Lavergne would support a government containing a member of that order. There were Orangemen in every row on the government side.

Scholarship of $60, class of 1901, awarded to sophomore who has made highest average in a freshman year—John S. Bates, Amherst, N. S.

Three of the five prizes go to New Brunswick, whose students have taken a foremost place in both the classroom and on the campus. Among the other popular men are William T. Deham, of St. John, whom students and professors alike speak of as a "first class, all round man." James A. Estey of Fredericton, of the sophomore class, is also a fine student, and is spoken of as a next year medalist.

MAUGERVILLE NOTES.

June 7.—At the Roman Catholic Church at this place, a large crowd assembled on Wednesday morning, June 6, to witness the marriage of Mr. Jas. E. Donovan of Petersville, Queen's County, to Nellie T. fourth daughter of Mr. Thomas McHoney of Maugerville.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Ryan of St. Mary's with nuptial mass.

The bride, who looked charming in very becoming gown of white silk colienne, entered the church leaning on the arm of her brother, Thomas L. Mahoney, Laura O'Donnell of St. John, who dress was of lavender, voile with picture hat and lavender trimmings, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. John Donovan.

After the ceremony, the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where a recherche luncheon was served, after which the happy couple left by steamer, amid showers of rice, for their future home in Fairville, St. John.

The bride's going away dress was of green chiffon broadcloth with a white hat with green trimmings.

The bride, who was a popular member of the teaching staff, will be much missed by the numerous friends and acquaintances, among whom she was very popular, as was evidenced by the large number of useful and costly presents of which she was the recipient.

MURDER AT WINNIPEG.

Guests at Wedding Under Influence of Liquor.

Winnipeg, June 6.—Another murder occurred in the Galician quarter of the city this evening, when guests at a wedding became too jovial under the influence of liquor and a fight ensued. The victim was Martin Solisky, aged twenty. He was struck on the head by a stone and when he fell was battered to death with a chair. The murder was committed on the street, and three fellow countrymen have been arrested, charged with the crime.

Thomas Harding, a young man aged twenty, was almost instantly killed this afternoon by falling beneath a street car while alighting from it.
