CURRENT COMMENT

The Minister of Railways says that under its charter the G. T. P. railway company are compelled to build the branch line from Chipman to St. John.

Only two of the thirty-three victorious Liberals in the Nova Scotia provincial elections had majorities under 100, and the largest majority ran up to 1700. It was recorded in Halifax.

The rain will prove a great blessing to the country, which was parched under the past fortnight's drought. It has also extinguished destructive forest fires in various parts of New Brunswick.

The Truro Sun, Conservative, is cheerful under difficulties. In the face of the Nova Scotia Provincial election returns showing only five Conservatives returned to a house of thirty-eight members, the Sun observes:

Woodstock Sentinel.—Ever since Mr. Carvell so effectually took the measure of the member for York in the House of Commons the Gleaner has been doing its best to throw discredit upon our able representative, but without much success.

The County of Cape Breton, which contains the towns of Sydney, North Sydney, Glace Bay, and other populous centres, has 20,000 registered voters, and of these only 8,000 were polled in the provincial election on Wednesday. The other 12,000, many of them foreigners, working in the mines and steel works, were evidently indifferent.

The public schools closed today for the summer vacation, and teachers and pupils will enjoy the respite from work and responsibility. In the bright graduating class of the High School, Chancellor Harrison should find a number of promising students for the U. N. B.

The presence of the 62nd. regiment of St. John at the Old Home week celebration here will add much to the success of the celebration. They will be here on Monday, July 2, with Col. M. B. Edwards, brother of Postmaster Edwards in command, and will receive a very hearty welcome.

The Herald to-day presents the programme for Fredericton's Old Home week celebration, July 2, 3, and 4, and it certainly provides attractions that will suit everybody's taste. In all the competitions there are already a large number of entries. For the horse races there is one of the finest fields of horses ever seen in the maritime provinces.

Tories in Parliament are attacking Judge Dugas of the Yukon. As usual they make insinuations, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier points out that if the Judge is guilty of misconduct the way is open to impeach him. The Tories, however, will hardly take the responsibility of that course. That is not their game, they deal in insinuations, for which they cannot be called to book.

It seems to be generally accepted as a fact that Principal Crockett of the Normal school will retire from that position before the opening of the next term, on account of age and disability, and already there is a stir among the many aspirants for the position. Two inspectors, two members of the Normal school staff, and a member of the High school staff are said to be among those seeking the vacancy.

The Sun mentions a rumour that Judge Sedgewick of the supreme court of Canada, is shortly to retire on account of ill health, and also repeats a previous report that Dr. Stockton, M. P., may be appointed to the supreme court bench of New Brunswick when the Chief Justice is retired. The former rumor may be correct, but we take the liberty of doubting the latter. There are quite a number of good lawyers in this Province who are Liberals, and would well take precedence in appointment to the bench over the Tory M. P. for St. John.

"Great reforms are not won in a day—it may take years of persistent effort for the party to advance any further than it did on this occasion—in this election of 20th of June, 1906—but we must not be discouraged. Take it all in all a good forward movement has been made. We have elected throughout the Province, a larger number of good men and true, if we remember aright, than it took to save cities of the plains in old times."

When it strikes its home county of Colchester however, the Sun is not quite so cheerful. It says: "The figures for Colchester are certainly somewhat depressing. Pearson, the lowest man on the Liberal ticket being about 260 over McCleave, who polled the highest Conservative vote. It may be mentioned that five years ago Pearson's majority was only 18.

The staid old Montreal Gazette is being chafed by its contemporaries for publishing the following despatch in connection with King Haakon's coronation:

Trondhjem, June 20.—There were no public formalities today and many of the visitors who have come here to see King Haakon VII., crowned, seized the opportunity to go to Hell, which is only twenty miles from this city. Return tickets were available at a low price and all returned unscathed and delighted with the natural beauties of the place. (Hell it is explained, is a pleasant Norwegian watering place.)

THE CITY SCHOOLS.

Chas. Boyd, Jos. O'Brien. At the close of the exercises, a very pleasant incident took place in Principal Hughes' room, when the popular principal was presented by the graduating class with an address accompanied by a handsomely bound copy of Longfellow's Poetical Works. The address which was read by Miss Florrie O'Brien was as follows:—

Fredericton, N. B., June 23, 1906.
To Mr. Hughes,—
Dear Teacher,—If the motive that draws us together today were only to wish you a "Happy Vacation," you may be assured, beloved teacher, that even then we could not restrain our tears, but we have met for a purpose far more serious. After endeavoring yourself to us all, we think with deep regret that we may soon be leaving you to enter another school.

Your vigilant solicitude, your strict yet kindly discipline towards us and your generous nature have taught us to love you. Therefore you must pardon us today if our voices tremble when we say in all sincerity "Good-bye" dear teacher. Many claim that the teacher's first duty is to teach his pupils to love and respect him. This you have certainly accomplished and have gone further. The path of knowledge is a difficult one and we now think with true sorrow of the weary hours we must have caused you. In testimony that we appreciate all you have done for us, we ask you to accept this small souvenir of our love and gratitude.

We may have other teachers but ever we'll turn with hearts that burn, in tender love to you dear friend, in tender love to you.

That the Master may strew your path with roses will be the constant wish of your St. Dunstan's School pupils of 1906.

THE YORK STREET SCHOOL.
The exercises in the departments of the York street school this morning were of the usual interesting character. There were a large number of visitors and they were greatly impressed by what they saw. The school rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion and the blackboard drawings by the students elicited much favorable comment. Miss Lottie Vandine, one of the teachers, has been granted a year's leave of absence, and was presented by her pupils with a bouillon cup and a bon bon dish. The presentation was made by Miss Susie McCutcheon.

THE MODEL SCHOOL.
In all the departments the pupils were reviewed on the subjects taught during the term and made a most creditable showing. There were many excellent drawings by the pupils which attracted great attention. In the primary department taught by Miss Nicholson a number of designs in paper cutting by the pupils were shown and elicited much favorable comment.

A most little programme, showing the character of the work taught in this department, was carried out in a highly creditable manner. Following is a list of Miss Nicholson's pupils who were never absent during the term:

Gordon Boyd, Gladys Ferguson, Gordon Osborne, Douglas McAlveney, Harold Sharp, Florence Murray, Isabel Wiley, Douglas Allen, Zena Anderson, Beatrice Kingston, Walter Adams.
Honor Roll, Class A.—Florence Murray, Murray, Walter Adams, Beatrice Kingston, Margaret Hall, Greta Wilcox, Jean Anderson, Harry Wheeler, Millard Burnett.

Class B.—Douglas McAlveney, Harold Sharp, Gordon Boyd, Helen Wetmore, Clarence Jewett, Nella Hawthorn, George Tennant.
CHARLOTTE STREET SCHOOL.

There was quite a large attendance of visitors at the Charlotte street school, the number including, Mrs. W. T. Whitehead, Miss Florence Whitehead, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Mrs. David Brown, Mrs. L. C. Macnutt, Miss Halls of Halifax, Mrs. H. E. West, Mrs. Dr. Bailey, Mrs. W. Van Wart, Mrs. Geo. H. Clarke, Mrs. H. V. Bridges, Mrs. Andrew Crookshank, Miss Crookshank and Mr. Justice Gregory.

Principal Perry and the other teachers reviewed the work of the term and in the primary and 2nd and 3rd grades there were pleasing exercises of a lighter character.

The little ones in Miss Alward's room gave songs, recitations and dialogues, acquitting themselves well. In Miss Williamson's room recitations were given by Edith Smith, Frances Vanwart, Mary Chestnut, Doris Clarke, Greta Macnutt, Otty Cruikshank, Carol Brown and others.

KING'S COUNTY TRAGEDY.

Young Man Accidentally Shot Dead by Boy Who Didn't Know Gun Was Loaded.

Sussex, N. B., June 23.—At ten o'clock yesterday morning, at Jordan Mountain, about twelve miles from Sussex, William Ryder, aged eighteen years, was shot and killed by a Snider rifle in the hands of Wilsey Kincaid, age fourteen years.

The charge lodged in the forehead, crushing it in and putting out both eyes. Some shot also lodged in the elbow, which goes to show that he must have had his hand to his head when the gun exploded.

Mr. Ryder lived at home with his mother and two small sisters. His father is now in British Columbia.

The sad tragedy was at the Ryder home, where no one was present except young Ryder and Kincaid, Ryder's mother and sisters being at a neighbor's house.

Ryder and Kincaid, who are cousins, went into the house. Ryder passed Kincaid his rifle and told him it was not loaded and if he did not believe him to point it at him and fire, which the boy did, and immediately Ryder fell to the floor in an unconscious state, in which he remained until he died, living six hours after the accident.

Kincaid, after the accident, ran for his mother, who lived not far away and she drove to Sussex for a doctor, but Ryder was past human aid.

The following changes have been made by the Methodist conference in the station sheet, which is subject to further correction:

Mount Stewart, in Charlottetown, Summerside district and L. J. Laird is as yet without a minister.

A HEAVY STORM.

A violent wind and rain storm accompanied by thunder and lightning, passed over the city last evening. The lightning was very vivid while it lasted and the rain came down in sheets. A large maple tree in the rear of the parliament buildings was struck and badly broken. The shock was felt by occupants of houses in the vicinity. Mr. Peter Wilson of St. Mary's, while returning from Marysville last evening, had his horse knocked down by a flash of lightning. The animal was partially stunned, but very soon rallied.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The case of the Peoples' Bank of N. B. vs. Fred H. Hale was disposed of in the York circuit court this morning. The only witnesses examined for the plaintiff were Mr. A. H. F. Randolph and Mr. Daniel Richards. Mr. A. B. Connell, K. C., who appeared for the defendant, called no witnesses. The chief justice gave judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $21,843.90, the full amount of the claim. Mr. J. W. McCready was solicitor for the plaintiff.

HARVEY WEDDINGS.

Harvey Station, June 22.—On Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of the bride's parents, Rev. James A. McLean united in marriage Miss Stella Swan, second daughter of Alexander Swan of Manners-Sutton, to Mr. Thomas Coburn, of the same place. On Sunday evening at the Manse at Harvey, Miss Elizabeth Nesbit, daughter of Mr. Thomas Nesbit, of Little Settlement, was married to A. Jordan Wilson, of Portland, Maine, a son of the late Alex. Wilson of this place. Both weddings were quiet, owing to recent deaths of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Robinson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son which arrived yesterday. It weighed 13 pounds.
