ASQUITH'S PERIL.

Chancellor of the British Exchequer Had Narrow Escape from Mob Violence at Northampton.

RIOT AROSE OVER INTERRUPTIONS AT POLITICAL MEETING BY WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS.

New York, June 16.—(Special.)—A despatch from London to the Sun, describing woman suffrage affairs at Northampton yesterday, says the woman suffrage agitators carried out a threat to attack the ministerial aversion, Herbert Asquith, Chancellor of the Exchequer, on his delivering a political speech at Northampton.

The demonstration, however, ended in the discomfort of the agitators after a furious tussle but the police had to eventually protect Mr. Asquith from the violence of the street mob.

The Chancellor had begun his speech when three well known suffragists Misses Kenney and Billington and Mrs. Rawood, arose among the crowded seats allotted to the women, screaming denunciations at the speaker as the chief ministerial opponent of their claims and making the usual demand for votes.

The hall was instantly in an uproar and the bulk of the audience shouted "Turn them out."

Stewards rushed to remove the women, but they shrieked above the din, and waved flags inscribed "Vote for the women."

These were snatched by women around the demonstrators and after a desperate struggle, were torn to pieces.

Meanwhile the stewards reached the disturbers, but they no sooner laid hands on Miss Billington than she drew a short whip from beneath her cloak and lashed wildly at the men's heads and shoulders.

Three of them, however, seized her and, fighting like a tiger, she was pulled down the steps, shouting Her companions remained shouting

More men hastened to oust them and with help of other women who were not suffragists, they were rushed down stairs and bundled out, struggling and shrieking.

As soon as they were gone a party of Socialists in the body of the hall started an uproar on the part of the ejected women.

It took longer to deal with them, and the uproar and struggle lasted for half an hour.

Mr. Asquith then began to speak but he had hardly started, when Mrs.
Pankburg, another suffragist, came to the front of the women's gallery and started making demands.

The audience was less tolerant of her than her predecessors, and her utterances were drowned in shouts of "Throw her out."

The stewards ultimately carried her out like the others, and Mr. Asquith then delivered his speech.

Meanwhile one of the suffragists had stirred up a crowd of Socialists in the street to back her in attacking Mr. Asquith as he left the hall.

News of the disturbance had spread and soon the market square had filled with a mob of roughs, eager for a shindy.

Extra police were hastily brought in from the suburbs, but the police and an opportune rain storm, dispersed most of the crowd.

Some of them got into the hall, however, and aroused a riot.

By the time Mr. Asquith had finished, the police were stronger than the mob, but Miss Billington and her supporters desperately, but in vain, tried to assault the minister as he passed through a double line of policemen to his automobile in which he went away amid the roar of cheers and groans.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.

Sir Frederick Squelches a Tory Military Rumor—Consideration of Penitentiaries and Immigrant Bills.

Ottawa, June 16.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Oliver introduced a bill respecting roads and road allowances in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta. He explained that it was an amendment and a consolidation of last year's bill and had been introduced at the request of the provinces interested.

Dr. Daniel rose to call attention to an article in The Toronto News of Thursday, referring to the rather sudden resignation of Col. Smart of the 13th Light Dragoons, and with which incident the name of Hon.
Sydney Fisher was associated.

Sir Frederick Borden said that he might shorten the discussion by stating that Col. Smart had not resigned.

"Then the statement in this paper is incorrect?" asked Dr. Daniel.
"That is quite possible," Sir Frederick replied tartly.

At Sir Wilfrid Laurier's suggestion Mr. Lennox's bill respecting judges of provincial courts was taken up. This is aimed at preventing such judges from acting as arbitrators or referees and requires them to keep a record of their judicial duties.

Mr. Aylesworth argued that if the bill aimed at preventing judges to take arbitrations it would entirely fail in its purpose.

Mr. Borden asked that the government make an announcement of policy on the matter.

H. H. Miller of South Grey, took the ground that when people had differences and disputes they generally wanted a county judge to act as arbitrator between them. They went voluntarily to the judge because of the position he occupied.

Duncan Ross, Yale-Cariboo, opposed the proposed bill, which would be especially unpopular in British Columbia, and would interfere with the existing custom, which was suited to the conditions in that province.

Leighton McCarthy thought the principle of the bill which prevented judges acting as arbitrators should not be assented to.

Consideration of Mr. Aylesworth's bill respecting penitentiaries which recognizes administration of penitentiaries and specifies status of various officials employed therein, together with the salaries to be paid, was taken up by the committee.

Mr. Oliver's bill respecting immigration and immigrants, was again taken up, in committee. At the suggestion of the author of the bill, provision in the interpretation clause classifying second cabin passengers as immigrants, was struck out. When the bill was last before the committee a great deal of opposition was offered to clauses giving the governor in council power to impose a duty of $2 for all immigrants landed in

In order to facilitate the passage of the measure, Mr. Oliver moved that the clause be dropped. This met with opposition.

Dr. Sproule again pointed out the folly of paying a bonus to agents booking immigrants to Canada and then charging those immigrants a duty on arrival.

The clause was dropped. Also, following clause, providing for recovery from an immigrants in Canada of any sum of money advanced towards his expenses before leaving for Canada.

The immigration bill was reported from the committee and stands for the third reading.

The house then took up the forestry reserve bill in committee and agreed to a number of amendments suggested by Hon. Mr. Oliver.

DOCTOR'S UNIQUE THEORY

To Substitute Veins for Arteries in the Human Body.

Chicago, Ill., June 16. (Special.)
—Dr. Alexis Carrell and Dr. C. C.
Guthrie have more than one year conducted a series of important experiments at the Hull Physiological Laboratory, connected with the University of Chicago. It is believed that these experiments have demonstrated the possibility of substituting veins for arteries and changing the whole circulation of the human body.

Diseases that have hitherto been incurable, and others that have in general been fatal in a large majority of cases, it is believed, may be cured by the reversal of the circulation of the blood.

The experiments have, so far, been on dogs, but they have now reached a stage where it is thought that the same tests may safely be tried on human beings. The discoverers of this new method are confident of success and believe that it will revolutionize surgery.

ASSEMBLY CLOSED.

Great Presbyterian Parliament Disposed of all its Business and Adjourned.

London, Ont., June 16.—The Presbyterian General assembly closed its 32nd annual meeting shortly after 10 o'clock last night.

The moderator well characterized the work done as very important. The last day saw a lot of routine and new work passed upon by a very slim house.

At the opening session the attendance was so scanty that some one questioned that if there were enough present to do business. There were enough to silence him and the work went on.

One hundred dollars was divided between the three men who were representatives of the Pacific Presbyterians. The long trail cannot be hit without a big wad of money, and this was recognized.

As no presbytery had sent any expression of opinion on the matter of travelling expenses of assembly commissioners it was agreed by the house that no action could be taken.
Sabbath School Secretary Robertson had his salary increased from $1,500 to $1,800, as living in Toronto is expensive.

The wish of some to change the name of Children's Day to Sabbath school day was refused after some discussion. Sabbath school work is to be a first charge on the collections taken on children's day. There are 2,605 Presbyterian Sabbath schools and Presbyterian children are attending 328 union schools. In Presbyterian schools there are 176,372 children enrolled. In union schools 6-519 were Presbyterian children. The teachers number 22,265. Total contributions amount to $142,778. Over $32,000 of this was given for the schemes of the church.

A loyal address to the King was adopted and the general conference of the Methodist church, which meets in Montreal in September, will receive official greeting.

The question of changing the length of college terms was deferred. Knox (Toronto) and Pine Hill (Halifax) favor a seven months' session.

After the usual votes of thanks to all and sundry persons who had made the work of the assembly pleasant and profitable, the assembly was addressed by the moderator. He said he might well congratulate them on the love and spirit and high standard

MILITARY CAMP.

A camp is to be formed at Woodstock July 2nd, to be composed of five companies of the 67th battalion Nos. 3 and 5 Companies of the 71st the St. Stephen Infantry Company, the Brighton Engineers and the Woodstock Field Battery.

THE POSTMASTERSHIP.

We understand that the question of the postmastership has at last been settled, and that Patrick McPeake will shortly be gazetted to that position, vice, H. J. Thorne, to be superannuated. Whilst many may regret Mr. Thorne's retirement they will congratulate the post office department in securing a gentleman of Mr. McPeake's well known business capacity and intelligence to succeed him.

CRICKET.

Our cricketers have been formally challenged by the St. John Club for a match here on Dominion Day. A meeting was held last night at the Queen Hotel to consider the matter and the following committee was appointed to select the players: A. F.
Street, H. C. Rutter and Harry G.
Botsford.

CATHEDRAL WEDDING.

The bells of the Cathedral rang out a joyous peal yesterday morning, a prelude to the wedding ceremony in which a lady widely known in the city for her amiability, Miss Mary Beck, daughter of Mr. J. S. Beck, auditor general, and Mr. Augustus Dole, of Bangor, were the principals.
The marriage service was read and the blessing pronounced by His Lordship the Bishop, Metropolitan of Canada, and after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Dole left on the western train for Bangor, waited on their wedding tour by the hearty good wishes of their numerous friends.

Great Presbyterian Parliament Disposed of

of the discussions, especially on the union question. He trusted that whatever the final issue might be, a great good should be done even though no corporate union should be reached for many years, and that the three bodies would be closer in sympathy and with less unworthy rivalry While they looked forward to working lovingly together. "This is surely a solemn hour," he said. "We are parting, many of us never to meet again. We must feel the truth of that, as one after another drops out of the ranks and we hear the call to serve God more and more earnestly while the day lasts. With old time memories deepened and sweetened, new friendships formed, the impetus given and received, we go forth from this place."

Principal MacLaren led in prayer, then the moderator, after calling the assembly to meet in Montreal next year, pronounced the Benediction and the thirty-second assembly closed.
The assembly was marked by the large number of maritime men present and by the large place they took in the work.
