Union Mutual Life Ins. Co.
of Portland, Me.
Established 1848

It is a strictly Annual Dividend Company, the surplus or profits being apportioned every year upon all plans of insurance and a statement of same given to each individual policy holder at the expiration of the first and each subsequent year. The result is that every holder of one of these contracts knows exactly what profits have accumulated every year on his own particular policy. He can make use of such profits any time he so wishes, and in event of his death, such additions are paid, besides the full amount for which the policy is written.

"A Bird in the Hand is Worth Two in the Bush," how much is a policy worth which guarantees annual dividends as above, compared with a policy under which no profits are apportioned until the end of twenty (20) years? "Union Mutual" policy contracts are the most liberal issued. The guaranteed reserve value is equal to that of any company in the world. If you require insurance of any kind consult a "Union Mutual" agent, or write direct to

A well-known Boston writer tells with glee of a neat sally on the part of his nine-year-old son, who is a pupil in a private school at the Hub.

Apologies of something or other, the teacher had quoted the line, "In the bright lexicon of youth there's no such word as fail."

At this point the lad mentioned arose and politely made known his desire to offer an observation with reference to the maxim.

"It occurs to me, sir," said he, "that if such be the case, it might be advisable to bring the omission to the attention of the publishers of that lexicon."

BUILDING C. P. R. TELEGRAPHS.

Operations to be Carried Out Simultaneously with Railway.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Telegraph Company, which is now being organized in accordance with the provisions of the act recently passed by parliament, authorizing the establishment of a telegraph system to operate along the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and elsewhere, will have its headquarters in the new building opposite the Grand Trunk General offices.

It is considered highly probable that this telegraph business will develop into a very important feature in connection with the commercial progress of the west.

The company has an authorized capital of $5,000,000, and it is empowered, under the act, to purchase or construct telephones, cables and wireless telegraph systems at its directions.

So far as the acquisition of other systems is concerned nothing whatever has been decided. There has been talk of the Great Northwestern in that connection, but no decision has been reached as to the relations with that company.

"There is no connection between the Grand Trunk and the G. N. W.," said an official yesterday, beyond the working agreements, and the telegraph line across the continent has already been purchased, and it is being shipped and forwarded to the points where it will be required.

The construction of the line will be proceeded with simultaneously with the building of the railway and it will be under the superintendence of Mr. A. B. Smith, formerly of the G. N. W., who has been appointed manager of the new line.

ONE-ARMED LAD HELD UP A DROWNING CHILD.

R. Dunn, 12, Swam to Rescue of Leo Mahoney, 5. Followed by Another Boy.

Boston, June 15.—That 5-year-old Leo Mahoney of Charlestown is alive today is due to the heroism of one-armed Richard Dunn, and Joseph Clancy, aged 12 and 13 years respectively.

Leo was playing late yesterday afternoon on the sea wall of the Mystic playground near the Chelsea bridge, Charlestown, when he fell into the river. His cries attracted the attention of Dunn, who jumped into the water and swam to his assistance, reaching him as he came to the surface after the first plunge.

Treading water, Dunn with his one arm held the little fellow up till Clancy came to his assistance, when together they got Mahoney ashore and with the assistance of other boys and men who were attracted to the scene, took him, weak and exhausted, to the home of his father, Dennis Mahoney, at 93 Decatur street.

Dunn is a son of Patrick Dunn of 14 Medford street, and Clancy lives at 71 Decatur street.

ABOUT FEMALE AILMENTS

Not Hard to Cure if Properly and Promptly Treated.

Ask any intelligent physician what cause nine-tenths of all female disease, even including anaemia, nervousness and consumption.

Back comes the answer quick and sharp "Constipated Bowels."

There is scarcely a single female ailment that has not in its earlier stages symptoms of constipation.

How much better, then, to system without the poisonous accumulations caused by constipation. How much clearer the complexion, how much fresher one feels when the system is pure and clean.

Think it over yourself.

Isn't it apparent that a bowel regulator and liver stimulant like Dr. Hamilton's Pills is sure to do good? Gay spirits, good looks and happy health have returned to many a sick woman through Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Better get a few boxes to-day; purely vegetable, free from injurious ingredients, healthful and antiseptic. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will assist you in a thousand ways.

As delay is always dangerous, your plain duty is to follow the example of Mrs. F. Rowe, who sends the following letter from Graves, Port Au Port, Newfoundland: "Four years ago I got kidney and bladder trouble. I thought it was 'female trouble' and treated it accordingly. Even my doctor in St. John said it was so."

"In reading about Dr. Hamilton's Pills I noticed symptoms like mine and I bought six boxes. These pills went right to work on my sick condition and helped me from the first. My supposed 'female trouble,' which was bladder disease, was cured. My weight increased eight pounds and never before was I as well as today. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills 25¢ per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

SENATORS TAKE THEIR CRACK.

North Atlantic Trading Contract Discussed—A Graft and a Swindle was Sir Mackenzie Bowell's Strong Language

Ottawa, June 15.—The upper House had an inning yesterday on the North Atlantic Trading Company, not being content to let the Commons have the matter all to themselves.

Senator Macdonald of British Columbia introduced the subject by moving for a statement containing the names of persons composing the company. He could see no reason for secrecy in such a matter where the money of the people was involved.

Hon. R. W. Scott replied that emigration work on the continent was attended with the greatest possible difficulties. He cited the case of John Dyke, former Canadian emigration agent at Liverpool, who was arrested and imprisoned, and only today he had received a cable from Norway, stating that a man had been arrested there on a charge of inducing seventy-five persons to leave Norway and go to work for some enterprising manufacturer in the maritime provinces.

SECRECY PLEDGED WITHOUT AUTHORITY.

The arrangement made with this company was by authority of an order in council, which did not authorize the secret agreement. Mr. Scott said the government, when the element of secrecy in the contract was revealed, recognized that public money could not be spent without complete explanation. There was no doubt the people in London had no authority to make such a contract. They should not have gone beyond the order in Council. However, they had pledged the government to secrecy, and in honor the government had to observe that pledge. Otherwise a number of reputable European working agents would have found themselves in jail. When it was found the contract was not being lived up to respecting emigration from northern Europe the government had seized the opportunity to cancel the contract. The government had no apology to make. It believed there had been no dishonesty. It realized that a man could not be expected to inform the people of Canada being fully informed of the persons to whom it was going. The contract had been challenged. The government had acted from a high sense of duty throughout.

JURY VS. PRESTON.

Senator Loughheed said he knew of no one as well qualified to clothe virtuous principles in the language of virtue as Hon. Mr. Scott. The company had both shown to be a fictitious one, formed of creatures of Mr. Preston, Deputy Minister of Interior. Smart had seen to the completion of the contract, and then had retired to the company to share in its advantages. Messrs. Preston and Smart had refused to answer the committee's questions as to the names of the persons in the company. Mr. Scott stated that Mr. Preston was the chief beneficiary from the North Atlantic Trading Company.

Mr. Scott—Mr. Preston denies that he received any benefit.

Mr. Loughheed—But no one takes that statement by Mr. Preston seriously.

Mr. Scott—He swears to it. Mr. Scott declared he did not believe in a God, so his evidence is not very binding.

Mr. Loughheed said that the government had paid money out under it, and it could not be shown that services had been rendered for the money paid.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT.

Sir Richard Cartwright said he was not surprised at the evidence of jealousy the Conservatives showed at the Liberal government's success in obtaining immigration. The Conservatives had failed to induce immigrants to come to Canada and remain. This went far to explain the opposition's persecution of Mr. Preston, who was the most successful immigration agent Canada ever had.

Everyone knew that the military ambitions of European countries made them desire to keep all their people at home, and so it was necessary to pursue a peculiar course in obtaining continental emigration. That was the reason the North Atlantic Trading Company had been employed to do the work. The opposition thought it had got hold of a mare's nest. Neither Mr. Scott nor any other witness produced by the opposition would swear he had a particle of evidence to show that Preston had a scintilla of interest in the North Atlantic Trading Company. Jury would only say he had suspicions. Against this were to be placed the sworn statements of Mr. Smart and Mr. Preston, and the statement of Lord Strathcona that secrecy must be maintained regarding the contract. Sir Wilfrid Laurier had done right in refusing to make public the names of those in the North Atlantic Trading Company, to whom the pledge of confidence had been given. Sir Wilfrid and his other colleagues in the commons, if it had been decided to disclose the names after the contract had been made with the concurrence of Lord Strathcona and Mr. Sifton, where the disclosure of the names would result in the men being imprisoned.

Senator Macdonald—It would serve them right.

Sir Richard said he hardly thought it would serve anyone right to be thrown into prison for having encouraged emigration to Canada. He called attention to the fact that the opposition in the commons had not dared to accept Mr. Sifton's challenge and risk their seats to prove their charge.

SENATOR FERGUSON'S SUSPICIONS.

Senator Ferguson asked what was the use of making charges to get an inquiry when the government stood behind the witnesses in their refusal to answer questions. The action of Mr. Smart in joining the North Atlantic Trading Company, burning his letter-books and giving up a four-thousand-dollar position and obtaining special privileges for the company, was suspicious. There were strong indications that Mr. Preston was interested in the company. Senator Ferguson quoted the rise and fall of the company, and a despatch containing a declaration by Lord Strathcona that he never had any connection with the North Atlantic Trading Company and the contract never had his hearty endorsement.

Sir Richard interrupted to say that Lord Strathcona had never stated that over his signature. The anonymous despatch proved nothing.

Senator Ferguson thought it proved Lord Strathcona had nothing to do with making the contract. The North Atlantic Trading Company was a graft and a swindle from beginning to end, and the government was responsible.

Senator McMullen said he thought that the North Atlantic Trading contract contained something which it would pay the opposition politically to bring out. However, he had followed the evidence carefully from day to day, and was now convinced there was nothing wrong in it.

Senator Perley declared a follower of the government in the lower house had told him he would advocate the dismissal of every Canadian immigration official in Great Britain, and would call for the resignation of Lord Strathcona because he was not strong enough to handle the gang he had under him.

Senator Macdonald eventually dropped his motion.

Senate amendments to the Brandon Transfer Railway Company bill were opposed by Sir Mackenzie Bowell on the ground that the line was in one province. The amendments were adopted 25 to 14.

SAD TRAGEDY AT KILLALOE.

Four Little Lads Were Burned to Death in an Ontario Village—Mother Tried to Save Them.

Ottawa, June 12.—The town of Killaloe, South Renfrew, 94 miles from Ottawa, has been plunged into deep mourning as the result of a tragedy that occurred early on Saturday morning, when the four sons of Mr. Daniel Dickson, engineer, were burned to death by a fire which destroyed their home.

The dead are: Daniel Alexander Dickson, aged 12; Carroll Herbert Dickson, aged 8; William Clemens Dickson, aged 5; James Dickson, aged 2.

Mrs. Dickson, the mother of the victims, and Irene, her only daughter, aged four, had a narrow escape. The mother jumped with Irene in her arms, and while she was getting a ladder to rescue her unfortunate little sons the roof collapsed, burying them in the ruins.

The Dicksons lived in a small but comfortable house about a quarter of a mile from the Grand Trunk railway station, and several hundred yards from the nearest neighbor. Mr. Dickson, a native of Glenargy Co., who has lived in Killaloe for twelve years, had been called to Barry's Bay.

ASKED HER TO JUMP FIRST.

Mrs. Dickson and the family had been bothered with mosquitoes the previous evening, and Daniel, the eldest lad, made a bonfire to try and keep them back. The family retired about 10 o'clock, thinking the fire out, all going to bed in one room in the front of the house. About 1 o'clock Mrs. Dickson awoke with a start and found the house in flames. Hurriedly rousing her little ones, Mrs. Dickson rushed with them to the window and proposed that they jump. Irene, the little girl, clung to her mother, crying in fear, while Daniel, Carroll, William and James followed.

"Jump, mother, and get the ladder," cried Carroll. "We will be saved if you do."

THE BUILDING COLLAPSED.

Catching Irene in her arms, Mrs. Dickson jumped and alighted safely, and while Irene ran for assistance, she rushed to get the ladder. As she looked around Daniel, Carroll, James and William were standing together near the window, from which she had sprung, crying and wringing their hands. Mrs. Dickson had barely touched the ladder, however, when the building fell in with a crash. Neighbors subsequently found the unfortunate mother nearly unconscious and prostrated with grief.

Word was sent to Mr. Dickson, and he returned next morning. The bodies of the four children were found close beside each other in a mass of smouldering embers.

A NATAL PRESENTATION

Interesting item of news concerning a South African Magistrate.

Natal newspapers just to hand describe an interesting presentation to Mr. R. C. Lloyd, who for the past four years has been Resident Magistrate and Civil Commissioner in Barkly East, Natal. Mr. Lloyd was in office during the time that martial law was being administered and won golden opinion for his matured fairness and sense of justice under trying circumstances. Several addresses were presented, one by the Afrikaner Bond and another by the Residents of the Town and District. These latter gentlemen emphasized the respect they felt for him as their magistrate at his transference from Barkly East by presenting him with a magnificent eighty guinea Gourlay piano. Now the Gourlay is manufactured in Toronto by Messrs. Gourlay, Winter & Zeeming and it is interesting to note how quickly the reputation of this fine piano as a thoroughly high-grade instrument has leaped around the world. Mrs. Lloyd is a capital singer and a musician of more than ordinary attainments. She will find in the Gourlay a warm and sympathetic tone for the instrument is made by experts from the best materials that can be secured. No better piano of upright style is on the market either here or in the United States.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETINGS.

Hon. L. P. Farris Says Prof. Lockhead's Address Will be of Great Value to Farmers.

Hon. L. P. Farris, commissioner of agriculture, has just returned from attending a number of farmers' institute meetings, which are now being held in the province under the auspices of the department of agriculture.

The largest of these meetings was held at Chatham on Monday evening but at this meeting the commissioner was not present.

The meeting was conducted by Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture Peters and Prof. Lockhead of the seed department at Ottawa.

In the afternoon Prof. Lockhead met a large number of the farmers of that section of the country, on the farm of Mr. Fisher and gave them an informal talk on the weeds with which the farmer has to contend, and he pointed out the latest and most up-to-date methods of ridding the farm of them. He discussed the seed contract act, which is now in force, to regulate the quality of clover for sale, and informed his hearers that there was now no need of the farmer getting poor seed, as, if he were in any doubt as to the quality of the seed, he could get it at Ottawa and have the quality tested.

Those present then accompanied Prof. Lockhead in a walk through the fields where the different weeds were examined, as it is the wish of the department of agriculture that the farmers should be acquainted with the weeds with which they have to deal.

The evening meeting, which was held in temperance hall, Chatham, was largely given up to a talk by Prof. Lockhead on the insects and fungous diseases of the farm. It was shown how such insects as cut worms, oyster shell, bats, lice and such fungous diseases as the scab on apples and potato rust could be treated with the best effect.

Hon. Mr. Farris was present at the meetings held at Fox Creek and Humphreys, near Moncton, and at Kingston, Kingston County. The meetings were well attended at Fox Creek and Kingston, and much interest was manifested by those present.

MORE DEADLY THAN RABBIT.

Neglected catarrh sooner or later causes consumption which destroys more human beings than famine and war combined. The way "Catarrh-ozone" cures catarrh is very simple. It first kills the germs that cause the irritation; then by soothing away the congestion and inflammation it cures the discharge, hawking and drooping in the throat. "I suffered so continually from nasal catarrh," writes Ernest R. Dakin of Rosemont, "that I scarcely knew what it was to be free from headache and pain over the eyes. Catarrh-ozone relieved me at once and made a thorough cure." No other remedy cures like "Catarrh-ozone"—try it for your next cold.
