DOWIE DEEP IN BLACK SCANDALS.

Amazing Revelations Follow Thick and Fast Upon Revolt Against Once Venerated First Apostle.

Chicago, April 4.—Amazing revelations, picturing John Alexander Dowie, now at Ocotlan, Mex., in the light of a Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, were made at Zion City yesterday as the denouement of the rebellion rampart there. Instead of a venerated leader, the first apostle is now a subject of scandalous comment—much of it, of such a nature as to prohibit public mention. Dowie is made to appear as a witness against himself in the exposures emanating from his own people. Self-facussing writings, purporting to be from his own hand and supposedly dragged from the secrecy of his private vault, have been given publicly. The exposures are the work of a committee appointed by Zionites for the purpose of clearing the atmosphere of the blight of immortality they charge has long contaminated it.

Dowie it was learned in Zion City, caused a divorce paper against his wife to be filed up before he left for Jamaica. The grounds on which he proposed to sue could not be learned in Zion today, but when the facts of Dowie's intention became known they caused amazement. No breath of scandal has ever touched Mrs. Dowie's reputation, nor, it is believed, that the "proprietor" could have advanced technical reason such as desertion.

It developed that Dowie and his wife first became estranged during the world's fair in Chicago, when the so-called "doctor" insisted on the practice of the professional after his services. Several matters were brought to the notice of Mrs. Dowie, who decided to leave the Christian Catholic cult. She begged her husband to forego that part of his preaching dealing with full confessions. He held out that was part of the glorious duty to which he had been assigned.

The trouble with which Mrs. Emily Ware and her daughter were connected turns out to be far more serious than Overseer Golliva is prepared to admit at the present. Whatever happened is a matter of conjecture, but the fact is written to Mrs. Ware by Dowie have fallen into the hands of a deacon of the church, who advocated the suspension of Dowie over a year ago. The letter contained the following:

"Venomous tongues shall be torn from their roots, the people shall not hearken to vile slander. If in the sacred presence of Jehovah I prayed for the complete cleansing of a corrupted body, it is a matter between God and me. The Divine Will prompted such measures as were thought fit in the treatment of your case, and as a servant of the Lord I carried them out. I have no recollection, in fact, of what occurred, beyond the knowledge that my own soul was contaminated in a degree which I was unable to pay your debts at the instigation of God. I cleansed your body at His command."

"I do not think my father has received that message sent yesterday," said Gladstone Dowie today. We received a message from father today, dated Sunday evening, inquiring whether his instructions relative to the dismissal of Alexander Granger had been carried out. Father is mentally unbalanced; there is no doubt in my mind about that. The shock of that telegram will act in one of two ways—either he will be so stung that he will die in a fit of apoplexy, or he will lose his temper and start for home at once to make a fight. He is very sick and I do not think he can come north before June without losing his life."

The story that my father knew a Mrs. Ware in London and gave her her costly harp and offered her a large sum to secure an introduction to the King of England—is a fabrication. I was with father in the Hot-tel Cecil in London, and know that he never met the Munroe woman—did not know her at all. My mother never heard of the existence of this woman until she read her name and

BOILS ALL OVER HIS FACE AND NECK

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS
DID FOR HIM
WHAT FOUR DOCTORS
FAILED TO DO

KENWATON, ONT., July 25th, 1904.
Messrs. THE T. MILBURN CO., LTD., TORONTO, ONT.

DEAR SIR:—I am writing to let you know that Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me.
I am a young man, twenty years old, and a year ago last March I began to feel dull and sick, and was greatly troubled with boils coming out on my face and neck, mostly on the left side. I would not sooner get rid of one than I would have, perhaps, two or three more appear.

I had four doctors trying to cure me but they had very little success. They would stop them for a month or six weeks and then they would be as bad as ever again.
Almost every patent medicine advertised to cure boils, I could get hold of, I tried, but still without success. At last one day, last spring, someone happened to say, "Why not try taking Burdock Blood Bitters for the blood?" I was willing to try anything and I was immediately sent for a bottle, but at the time was doubtful if it would be of any use.
However, I used that bottle and while I was taking it I began to feel better, although I still kept having a few boils but not nearly such bad ones. I did not miss my work, and, moreover, I used to miss, sometimes, a week out of every month. I kept on taking the medicine until I had taken six bottles, and needless to say, I was not sorry I did so when I tell you I have not had a boil appear for the past three months. Every body was surprised when I was heard that Burdock Blood Bitters had done for me what four doctors failed to do. If any outlets are afflicted with boils, I would strongly advise them to use B.B.B. It makes you feel like a new man, always keep a bottle in the house, now, as I think it is a medicine that should be in every household.

Yours truly,
HENRY A. SMITH.

the alleged incident in a paper."
The following message was today received at Zion City from Dowie at Ocotlan:
Wire immediately full report on Sunday's meeting.

FIRST APOSTLE.
The meeting of Sunday was that in which Overseer Voliva openly repudiated Dowie, and declared that he would no longer follow him or obey his orders.

A meeting of the officers of Zion City and the Church of Zion was held today, and it was decided that it was necessary to raise at once $500,000 for the complete financial rehabilitation of Zion City, its church and industries. Land and other properties will be pledged to raise the necessary amount and numerous offers have been received from creditors indorsing the plan and promising assistance.

GIRL TEACHER FIGHTS MAD DOG.

Miss Donahue Corners Huge Beast and Orders Chidreun to Run.

New York, April 5.—Miss Mary Donahue, teacher in the Annex of Public School No. 4, in Lots street, Bayonne, N. J., had turned her back on her class to place some examples in arithmetic on the blackboard Monday afternoon, when she heard a child suddenly scream in terror.
Miss Donahue turned quickly and saw a huge St. Bernard dog bound into the room. Its eyes were bloodshot and its mouth frothed. It was growing savagely.

There are forty-five children in Miss Donahue's class. None of them is more than fourteen years old. At the sight of the dog they were terrified. There have been several cases of hydrophobia in Bayonne recently and instantly several children raised the cry of "Mad dog." The dog dashed across the room and into a corner. As it faced about Miss Donahue sprang in front of it.
Spreading her skirts wide in both directions, she called over her shoulder to the children:

"Run out of this room and out of this school just as quickly as you can! I'll keep this dog here! Only hurry!"

The dog growled and jumped at Miss Donahue, who forced it back.
Crawling over one another, the children ran wildly out of the room and through the hall to the back yard, where George Anderson, the janitor, was busy. The children shouted to him that Miss Donahue was holding a mad dog in her school-room.
The back yard of the school adjoins an open lot. There is no gate in the high fence which incloses it.
Grabbing a child in his arms, Anderson dropped it over the fence. Then as fast as he could lift him he passed over every one of the forty-five.
Policeman Wirth attacked by the screams of the children arrived and aided Anderson in passing the children over the fence.

When the last child had been placed on the other side of the fence, Wirth and Anderson ran to Miss Donahue's room. With skirts outspread, the teacher had the dog still penned in the corner, though the animal was making desperate efforts to escape.

Wirth drew his revolver and shouted to Miss Donahue to step to one side. As the dog bounded at him Wirth caught it by the collar, pressed his revolver to its head and fired.
The dog dropped to the floor dead.
Wirth and Anderson stepped quickly to Miss Donahue, expecting that the excitement over, she would faint. Instead, the plucky teacher merely brushed her skirts, which the dog had torn with its teeth.

"She's the bravest woman I've ever met," declared Wirth.
The dog was a stranger in Bayonne.
It was well kept and had evidently been some one's pet. Its fine coat was covered with froth and sweat, for it had evidently run far.

POLICE HELD UP AT PISTOL POINT.

St. John Telegraph.—It is not very often that St. John policemen are held up at the point of a revolver, but this was the unpleasant experience of Patrolmen Totten and Lucas at an early hour this morning. They were going up Princess street and on passing the Canadian Bank of Commerce, as is the custom, tried the door and were very much surprised to find that it was open.

Seeing no lights inside both officers walked in to investigate. They were still more surprised when suddenly told to stop and were also bluntly informed by the "man behind" that he would shoot if they failed to do so.

The bluecoats lit a match and found themselves looking down the barrels of two 32-calibre revolvers in the hands of the messenger and one of the clerks of the bank.

Needless to say the bank men were also much surprised as they had in the darkness supposed the intruders to be prowlers. Explanations, however, soon straightened matters out.
It appears that a safe had been moved from the bank to their new quarters during the evening and through an oversight the door had been left unlocked, though the men remained on guard.

NERVOUSNESS, A CALAMITY.

Many who don't realize what lies beneath, treat an attack of the "nerves" with indifference. Others consider it will soon pass away. But in every case nervousness is a calamity. Only one remedy will cure it—Ferrozone—a nerve strengthener that acts through the blood. First it gives you appetite—you eat plenty.
This fills the blood with nourishment for the inner nerve cells. Energy and strength is instilled into every part of the system. You get well-kept well—nervousness forever departs, because you've used Ferro-zone. Price 50c. per box of fifty tablets at all dealers.

BATTLE OF HART'S RIVER.

South African Veterans Celebrate Fourth Anniversary—Event Recalled in Speech

"The Canadian Rifles especially distinguished themselves, one party under Lieutenant Bruce Carruthers holding its post until every man was either killed or wounded." Thus did Lord Kitchener cable the news of the glorious achievement of Canada's sons at Hart's River on March 31, 1902. The message was received throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion with mixed feelings of pride and anxiety, for scarcely a city, town or village in Canada was not represented in the ranks of the Canadian Mounted Rifles on active service in South Africa.

Tuesday night at Toronto about one hundred survivors of the regiment gathered at the Merchant's Hotel to commemorate the anniversary of the engagement, and to once more drink a silent toast to their comrades who sleep beneath the veldt on the banks of far-away Hart's River.

CARRUTHERS AND BRACE.

Owing to the recent death of his wife, Major Bruce Carruthers was not present at the reunion. And from Hart's River veteran, whose absence was very much regretted, was Rev.
Mr. Brace, who is now Methodist pastor at New Westminster, B. C.
"Bert" Brace was the trooper-chaplain, who was one of Carruthers' gallant band, and fought beside C. Napier Evans, the Port Hope lad who fired his last shot, and though mortally wounded, smashed his rifle rather than surrender it to the Boers.

SERGEANT WILKINSON.

But Sergeant John Wilkinson was there—a pathetic, yet manly and inspiring figure, with his artificial limb and single eye. His left arm and left eye were both shot away, and he carries yet in his left leg a bullet, as a painful reminder of Hart's River.
For a long time the army surgeons thought Wilkinson might die from his wiry constitution pulled him through. He was the most battle-scarred man in the veteran gathering last night, but he was modest, notwithstanding.

"You fellows fought well at Hart's River," said he, in reply to the toast, "our country." "The Maples," indicating the aged author of "The Maple Leaf," who had a seat at the head table. "It's not the young men, but the pioneers, who are responsible for the glory of Canada."

THE CHAIRMAN.

Lieut.-Col. Duff, of Kingston, was chairman. He fought the battle of Hart's River "over again" in his introduction speech, and his realistic reminders brought loud applause and cheers from his audience.

"Hart's River was the turning point of the South African war," he said.
"No, sir, it was the finishing point," was the declaration from the end of the room. And the Colonel, in the general laughter, had to acknowl-

HUNTER FOUND BODY IN VAL- LEY.

Dastardly Crime Unearthed Near Snowflake, Man.
Snowflake, Man.—April 5.—A dastardly crime has been unearthed by the finding of the body of Vincent Weiler, of Mount Carmel, N. D., who has been missing since last November.
The body was discovered last evening in a secluded spot in the bush in the Pembina Valley, about four miles east of Snowflake.

While Wm. Lane was out hunting, he noticed a dark object lying on the ground in the bush which he took to be a lynx. Seeing the object did not move, he investigated, and discovered the body of a dead man wrapped in a fur coat, proved later to be the body of Vincent Weiler, by papers which Mounted Police have found in one of the pockets of his coat.

Weiler when last seen was in company of one M. Doyle of North Dakota. Both men left town together walking towards the Valley. Doyle returned to town a few hours later alone, and very much excited. Since that time nothing has been heard of Weiler, although a vigorous search was prosecuted. Foul play was suspected, and owing to the circumstances in connection between Doyle and deceased in regard to some land transaction, Doyle was arrested on suspicion, but was later released on bail.

The finding of Weiler's body will strengthen the opinion of the authorities that poor Weiler was foully murdered, as, on the body, being examined, a bullet hole was found in the back of the head, and also his throat being cut and badly lacerated.
A reward of $200 was offered by friends of the deceased for the discovery of his whereabouts.

GREW RICH QUICK IN YORK LOAN EMPLOY.

Starting on Five Dollars a Week, the Hudson Sisters are Now Worth $10,000 Each—Warrant to Search the Home of the Witness.
Toronto, April 5.—Starting some years ago at a wage of five dollars per week, in the employ of the York County Loan and Savings Company, money grew until she is now worth $10,000, and that her sister, Miss Georgia, was also at present worth $10,000, was the statement made by Miss Lillian Hudson, in court, to Mr.
Curry in the York Loan case today.
With the evident air of disbelief, the Crown Attorney hurried queries at this witness as to why she let the salary of ten dollars a week run for ledge that he was wrong.

Respectful silence was kept when the Colonel read the names of the regiment's honored dead. They were as follows:—Sergeant J. C. Percy, Farrier Sergeant J. R. Margeson, Corps A. Sherritt, W. A. Kinsley, F.
S. Howard, Privates R. J. Moore, W.
T. Peters, W. Volbrath, M. G. A.
Hutson, C. Napier Evans, W. P. K.
Milligan, A. West, D. H. Campbell, T.
B. Day, W. J. Leslie, J. Drury, E.
S. Banfield and Shoeing-Smith W.H.
Hunter.

COL. MERRITT'S REMARKS.

Lieut.-Col. W. H. Merritt, honorary president of the association, took advantage of the opportunity to reply to Sir Frederick Borden. He said he was pleased to hear that Sir Frederick had approved of the suggestion that every Canadian, before he was of age, should have three years' service in the militia.
"But I do not consider that the obstacles to the Swiss system in Canada cannot be overcome," said the Colonel.

"If Canada is worth while fighting for it is worth while having a militia of men who know the difference between a broomstick and a rifle to defend it. If we had war it would mean conscription at once. Then why not have every man trained?"

In time of peace prepare for war.
"Trained Canadian boys fighting in Canada would be the most dangerous element an invading army could possibly have to contend with."

AUTHOR OF "MAPLE LEAF"

The chairman introduced Mr. Alexander Muir.
"Mr. Muir doesn't know how much we are indebted to him," said Colonel Duff.

"The Maple Leaf" cheered many weary nights during our campaign in South Africa."

Mr. Muir delivered an intensely patriotic address and concluded with an emphatic denunciation of the authorities at Ottawa, who told blind Trooper Mulloy that he should apply to England for his pension, because he fought in Africa for England—not for Canada.

"Oh, the shame of that will run throughout the length and breadth of this world, because of that statement," said Mr. Muir vigorously.
"Shame on the men who said it."

THE LAST POST.

By special request Bugler Douglas Williams of Paardeburg fame was on hand with his famous bugle, on which he blew the charge on the day of Cromie's Waterloo. ? After Williams also played the "Last Post," the plaintive melody which was the solemn requiem for thousands of British soldiers killed on active service in South Africa during the long struggle.

Speeches were also made by Lieut.- Col. Brown, Mr. John Lines, and Captain Cline, of Grimsby.

eighty weeks, and then accepted a lump sum of $800 for back services, while at the same time she drew $2 a week from the York Loan Co. Her mother left $3,200 between the two sisters. The memory of the witness seemed surprisingly vague on many important points. She said she had money when she entered the employ of Phillips. She loaned Phillips $1,- 500 in one sum, taking only his I. O.
U. for the amount. She had since been repaid.

The Crown Attorney notified the witness that he intended to enter her house on Ossington Avenue with a search warrant for the information she seemed unable to furnish. Mr.
Curry said the Toronto Life was a valuable property, made so at the expense of the York Loan shareholders.

A Bostonian was talking about the late Henry Harland, says the New York Tribune.

"Harland was a graceful, gallant soul," he said. "Even in his boy-hood days he turned the prettiest compliments."

"In his boyhood he studied Latin under a charming young lady."

"This young lady, calling him up in class one morning said:
"Henry, name some of the chief beauties of whom you know."

"The boy, smiling into his teacher's pretty eyes, answered:
"Schoolmistresses."
