SUNLIGHT SOAP

is better than other Soaps but is best when used in the Sunlight way. Follow directions.

SUNLIGHT WAY OF WASHING
FIRST—Dip the article to be washed in tub of lukewarm water, draw it out on a washboard and rub the soap lightly over it. Be particular not to miss soaping all over. THEN—Roll it in a tight roll, lay in the tub under the water, and go on the same way until all the pieces have the soap rubbed on, and are rolled up.
Then go away for thirty minutes to one hour and let the "Sunlight" Soap do its work. NEXT—After soaking the full time rub the clothes lightly out on a washboard, and the dirt will drop out; turn the garment inside out to get at the seams, but don't use any more soap; don't scrub or beat a single piece, and don't wash through two suds. If the water gets too dirty, pour a little out and add fresh. If a streak is hard to wash, rub some more soap on it, and throw the piece back into the suds for a few minutes. LASTLY COMES THE RINSING, which is to be done in lukewarm water, taking special care to get all the dirty suds away, then wring out and hang up to dry.
For Woolens and Flannels proceed as follows:—Shake the articles free from dust. Cut a tablet of SUNLIGHT SOAP into shavings, pour into a gallon of boiling water and whisk into lather. When just lukewarm, work articles in the lather without rubbing. Squeeze out dirty water without twisting and rinse thoroughly in two suds of lukewarm water. Squeeze out water without twisting and hang in the open air.
The most delicate colors may be safely washed in the "Sunlight" way.

$5,000 REWARD will be paid to any person who proves that Sunlight Soap contains any injurious chemicals or any form of adulteration.
5c. Buy it and follow directions. 5c.

INTERESTING BATTLE OF WITS; PETER RYAN MAULED BY COUNSEL.

How the Famous Auctioneer of Timber Limits, Racked by G. F. Shepley, Indicated That $55,000 Rakeoff of Union Trust Money Was Divided—Use to Which "Dummy" Often Was Put.

Toronto, Sept. 29.—As a star piece of legal examination, the ordeal through which Mr. G. F. Shepley, K. C., counsel for the Dominion, put Mr. Peter Ryan before the Insurance Commission, stands out prominently. It is the talk of the town. Mr. Ryan the famous auctioneer of timber limits, was verbally man handled in the effort to have him tell what George W. Fowler, M. P., told him as to what he would do with the $55,000 that Ryan paid back to Fowler. This was paid after Ryan had sold Kamloops property to Fowler, for the Union Trust Company, and Fowler turned it over to the Union Trust Company at the "option price" of $25,000.

Mr. Ryan did not finally tell of his conversation with Mr. Fowler, but he threw in an incidental statement that to Mr. Shepley's mind justified the rack which the lawyer applied, and that was that "Fowler told him he had to divide."

This once again enlarges Mr. Shepley's field. It is a duplicate situation of the civic investigation, where one fact popped out and brought a lot more with it. The Insurance Commission thought it had first to investigate only the use of the moneys of the Union Trust Company in timber investments financed by officials of the company, and which finally the commission would say were proper or otherwise.

Then Mr. Stevenson made the statement that whereas the company paid $225,000 for the Kamloops property—the real price he heard, was only $170,000.

TO FIND MR. FOWLER.
Where will this lead take the legal hounds.

The turn of events and the absence from the city of the lack of knowledge as to his whereabouts on the part of Mr. Shepley, forces the commission to take the searchlight for a moment off the stage of Fowler's activities. The rays are now turned about in an effort to locate Fowler himself.

By keeping the wires busy, we hope to be able to go on again with this enquiry on Monday," said Mr. Shepley to the commissioners. Meanwhile, as a star piece of legal examination the ordeal through which Mr. Shepley put Peter Ryan stands out prominent. At the end Mr. Ryan refused point-blank to answer a question.

A "DUMMY" OPTION.
Before Mr. Ryan went on the stand another witness had told of placing before George Fowler, M. P., the proposition to buy the Kamloops property. This witness was R. C. Levesconte, the lawyer recently exonerated by the Law Society. He testified that there were two options. One was for $170,000, by signing which he agreed to sell to Fowler the property for $170,000. The other was the "dummy" option Mr. Shepley was so curious about. Both were signed on the same day in Levesconte's office. Mr. Shepley took Mr. Ryan over this ground and then opened his legal batteries as to what Mr. Ryan remembered of Fowler's conversation as to the destination of the $55,000. Here is this portion of the examination.

HE FORGETS.
"Now, I want you to reflect for a moment and think what was said," Mr. Shepley said to Peter Ryan.

"That is a difficult matter to remember. I cannot remember; it is too difficult."

"But you are used to facing difficulties, Mr. Ryan?"
"I would be glad to give you particulars of the conversation, but I do not remember. The document for $225,000 was placed before me; I conveyed the property, worth twice the sum, it was being operated upon a loss, although an immensely valuable property, but I do not at this moment remember."

"When did you forget? Did you forget it when you got into the box?"
"Oh, no; now that's ungenerous, Mr. Shepley."

"Did you forget this week?"
"It was very clear to me that the $55,000 was a profit to Mr. Fowler."

"Now, if you will put your memory to work for a minute?"
"And I was to give Mr. Fowler back the difference. Now, if you can refresh my memory, I will be very glad to get the hint from you."

"Your memory did not suffer in British Columbia; have you forgotten since then?"
"It is quite possible; I cannot remember that."

"I am asking you now whether you have forgotten that since you were examined in British Columbia, a few weeks ago, as to what your conversation with Mr. Fowler was?"
"Oh in British Columbia—on that point—"

"I am asking you if you have forgotten it since then."

"I do not remember anything now, so I must have. Mr. Fowler was to get the difference."

"Will you work your memory for a minute?"
"I will stay perfectly still," said Mr. Shepley.

"In that case I would only get embarrassed. I am here to tell you all I know, to keep nothing back. I have nothing to keep back so far as I am personally concerned."

Rev. A. A. Rutledge officiating. The bride was becomingly attired in white organdie and wore a bouquet of white asters in her hair.

Amid the strains of the wedding march which was played by Mr. and Mrs. Stairs of Houlton, the bride leaning on her father's arm came out on the verandah which had been beautifully decorated in green.

After the ceremony, a sumptuous repast was served in the dining room of which upwards of two hundred guests took part.

IRELAND'S GLORIOUS FUTURE.
Mr. T. P. O'Connor Looks for Liberty Such as Canada Enjoys.

New York, Oct. 3.—Mr. T. P. O'Connor, a member of the British House of Commons and president of the United Irish League of Great Britain, was given a reception last night by the Municipal Council of the United Irish League of New York. He was greeted by a gathering that filled the banquet hall of the Hoffman House.

In a speech Mr. O'Connor said that he brought a message of hope to America as to Ireland's future. "Thirty years ago," he declared, "landlordism had ruled Ireland with its power to evict, to rack rent and to oppress. Now that power is destroyed except the price it will receive to leave Ireland to the glorious future that awaits her. I believe that in a quarter of a century, Ireland will have all the rights that have been accorded Canada and Australia."

REGAINED NERVE AND VITAL ENERGY.
From Walton, P. Q., Que., comes the following from Mr. Nazaire Beghin—"If anyone had told me any remedy could build up my nervous system so well, I would not have believed them. Before using Ferrozone I was run down in nerve and vital energy, and in very weak health. I didn't get enough sleep at night, felt poorly in the day time. Ferrozone has filled me with energy and vim, increased my weight and made a new man of me."

Hundreds tell the same story—Weak and dispirited, everything going wrong, unable to catch up. They took Ferrozone and all was changed to health and serenity. Price 50c. per box at all dealers.
