THE SAGE MILLIONS.

Declared Widow Will Distribute $10,000,000 in Charity After Advisement With Miss Gould.

Millionaire's Relatives Likely to Organize to Break the Will.

New York, July 30.—(Special)—The Times says today: "From sources considered reliable, came the announcement yesterday, that Mrs. Margaret Olivia Sage, widow of Russell Sage, intends distributing $10,000,000 in charity as soon as her friend, Miss Helen Gould gets back from Europe. Mrs. Sage, it is said believes Miss Gould able to give her valuable advice as to how to distribute the money advantageously. Nephews and nieces of Russell Sage who heard this story declared it was true, Miss Gould and Mrs. Sage had for years been working together along lines of philanthropy laid out by Miss Gould. It is now said that the Sage relatives have no intention of contesting the will at present, but they will sign waivers of citations so that the will may be admitted to probate September 21. Then after each of them receives the $25,000 allotted them, a meeting of the legatees will be held. At this meeting action may be taken towards organizing an association for the purpose of raising funds to carry on an action in the supreme court to set aside the will. That is the program planned by certain relatives of the late Mr. Sage, who are not satisfied with the legacy. They have hinted that if Mrs. Sage volunteers to give $75,000 to each nephew and niece there will be no legal fight, but attorneys for the executors are not in favor of making such a settlement. Mrs. Sage's brother, Col. J. J. Slooan said yesterday that Mrs. Sage would remain at her home, Lawrence, L. I., until after the will is probated.

BURNS MEMORIAL.

Will be Unveiled Near Parliament Square on Afternoon of September 13th.

At a special meeting of the general committee of St. Andrews Society on the Burns Memorial last evening, a site was chosen for the proposed monument near Parliament Square, and it was proposed to have it unveiled on the afternoon of Thursday, September 13th. The meeting was well attended and all present were most enthusiastic over the success of the movement to perpetuate in this city the memory of Scotland's immortal bard. Two sites were proposed for the memorial, one on Smythe street at the head of King, and the other near the bandstand on the green just above the B. & B. club house. The question was settled by ballot and the down town site was chosen by a large majority of the members of the Society and few will say that the choice was not a wise one. It was unanimously decided to have the unveiling ceremony take place on the afternoon of September 13th with appropriate ceremony. A gentleman of prominence in another province will be invited to deliver the oration and is quite certain to accept the honor. The land where it is proposed to erect the monument belongs to the city and a committee was appointed to wait on the council at Monday night's meeting and ask permission to use it. The statue of Burns, which is to cap the monument, is being cast by Mr. W. Brad Stephenson, a famous sculptor of Edinburgh, and is of the same design as one ordered by the Scotchmen of Chicago. It will stand at a height of ten feet. Mr. Stevenson writes that it is the finest cast which he has ever obtained from any of his work and it will be the best statue of Burns to be seen on this side of the water. The statue itself stands ten feet high and will be mounted on a pedestal twelve feet high and ten feet square at the base. There will be three bronze panels for three sides of the plinth, standing out in relief and representing scenes portrayed by Burns. President Crockett has been notified that the customs department will admit the monument free of duty. The granite pedestal is being manufactured by the McIntosh Gulleth Co. of Toronto. Three of the panels will depict scenes taken from Tam O'Shanter, the Collier's Saturday Night and John Anderson My Joe, which are among Burns' greatest poems. The total cost of the monument will be close to $5500. Of this amount the Fredericton Society has pledged $2,650, the St. John Society $500 and the Highland Society of the Miramich $500. Several other societies have promised generous amounts.

HE SPOKE PLAINLY.

Rev. J. H. Macdonald Told Calgary Interviewer He Much Preferred East to West.

Calgary Herald, July 24.—"My heart is still in the east," said Rev. J. H. Macdonald of Fredericton, N. B., this morning. "I still like the east better than your western prairie. New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, has a history, a history of struggles for supremacy between two great nations. I think the struggle of the west is for the almighty dollar." "I was at Edmonton last week and was disappointed in it after all that I had heard. Calgary is a much better city. I was on a hill the other day overlooking the town, and I think I would be correct in saying that Calgary covers as large an area as St. John with its 50,000 people." In discussing the "young man" problem which has been perplexing New Brunswick for some time, Mr. Macdonald said that the cities were not feeling the effects of western emigration. There are nearly a dozen applicants for every vacant position. It is largely in the woods and in the agricultural districts that the dearth is felt. The New Brunswick legislature is now considering reforestation on the lines adopted by Germany a few years ago. The wholesale destruction of timber will be stopped, and in a comparatively short time that country is likely to be recouped. Mr. Macdonald favors a federation of the Protestant churches. He believes in the principle laid down at the New York convention of co-operation among the various denominations in the home and foreign work, in charities and in moral reform. This would be the solution of the general craving to-day for an organic union. It would at the same time make allowance for the differences of belief which must necessarily divide the various denominational bodies.

Woodstock, July 31.—Following the fatal drowning accident of Sunday came another late yesterday afternoon, Sunday William Craig, aged eighteen years, employed by W. F. Glidden in his livery stable, was engaged wading the horses in the river near the stable. One animal stepped in a hole about fifteen feet deep and Craig was swept off into the water and, not being able to swim, almost immediately sank, the horse swimming to shore.

A number of men were on the bridge a short distance away and the alarm was given. Lester Hull came from his workshop and assisted by Mr. Slew he dived and brought up the body.

PAYS 50 CTS. FOR BRIDE.

Bought Marriage License and Girl
—Thought She Was in Deal.

Seranton, Pa., July 30.—(Special)—A peculiar transaction was noted by Marriage License Clerk Atherton, when Giorono Bassarullo presented to him a license Atherton had previously issued to Rio Milee, who was to have married Amillo Pizze. The clerk recognized the girl with Bassarullo as the one who had accompanied Milee when the license was issued. The only explanation the pair would give was that Milee had sold the license to Bassarullo for 50 cents. The sale apparently carried the girl with it, and she evidently had transferred her affections.
