THE ST. PETERSBURG FARCE.

The Russians have their first parliament, but the opening speech from the Czar is very disappointing to the representatives of the people, who expected corn and received only husks.

It is evident that the Czar does not intend at present at any rate to yield very much constitutional liberty to his subjects, and the assembled parliament is regarded as somewhat of a farce, and it may be that only a revolution will bring about the reforms for which the masses of the Russian people are thirsting.

The splendor of the royal party's appearance at the opening of parliament was intended to overawe the members, quite a number of whom are simple peasants and had never before come in contact with such grandeur.

The speech, however, was very disappointing to them, especially as it lacked any promise of amnesty, and sought to impress the sacred authority of the Czar rather than to extend the liberties which the people crave.

The impression is general that while the autocratic ruler of Russia will pretend to listen to the voice of his parliament, the old autocratic rule will continue, and not until the Czar is surrounded by constitutional advisers, selected from the representatives of the people, instead of grand dukes and other bureaucrats, will there be any material change in the government of the empire.

The Czar's present advisers are no more responsible to the new parliament than they are to the congress of the United States. They are the mere creatures of the Emperor, summoned by him to his council and dismissed at his pleasure, and Russia has a long road yet to travel before it shall enjoy the blessings of self-government, as we know it in Canada.

PECULIAR METHODS.

The sewerage committee of the city council holds its meetings without any notice to the press, or the public, pursuing a practice that was alleged against the late council, and very loudly condemned by some of the present aldermen.

The sewerage committee has important interests in charge and it would be wisdom for its members to court the fullest publicity for their meetings. At the committee's meeting Tuesday evening several appointments were agreed upon, and two of the sewerage inspectors agreed upon at that meeting are actually at work although their appointments have not yet been submitted to or confirmed by the city council, and although members of the committee when interviewed by the press denied that such appointments had been made.

When it was suggested in the council some weeks ago, that a revision of the sewerage committee's recommendation might be made with respect to the appointment of an engineer, one member of that committee declared it impossible as "the man had already been hired." This seems to be the case with the sewerage inspectors who are at work today, although it is denied that appointments have been made.

When the council meets and the sewerage committee's report is submitted recommending the appointment of men who are already at work and on the civic salary list, it will be open to any member of the board to move amendments to the report and make other nominations for the places to be filled, but members of the committee will probably be ready with the declaration that "the men have already been hired" and are actually at work.

The Herald is not taking objection to the men engaged as inspectors. No doubt they are all competent for their duty, but on behalf of the public we do seriously protest against the manner in which the committee does its business, and the authority it takes upon itself without waiting to see whether its action meets with the approval of the whole council.

TORY ROWS.

Tory feuds are apparent at Ottawa. Mr. Ingram and Mr. McLean, two of the leading lights of the party in parliament are at each other's throats, and the former has been called down by the Speaker for referring to Mr. McLean as a perjurer. Frequently too, Mr. Borden has belabored Mr. McLean and everybody knows of the

MADE QUITE A HAUL.

Robbers Who Held up C. P. R. Express Captured Considerable Number of Registered Letters.

Victoria, B. C., May 11.—(Special)—While the haul made by the robbers who held up the Westbound Imperial Limited express near Kamloops was gratifyingly small, comparatively, it is said to have included all registered mail for Victoria from Ottawa, Winnipeg and Calgary, together with three out of four packages from Montreal the value of which cannot even be approximately stated.

BITS OF NEWS.

"Progress in the Settlement of Canada in the Nineteenth Century" is the subject of an essay by E. A. Benians, which won the Adam Smith prize at Cambridge University.

Another Salvation Army party of 1,400 left Liverpool Thursday on the Kensington. It includes 26 families for the northwest under the terms of Lady Strathcona's gift.

Two more Indians dead and six in a serious condition are the latest developments in the Florida water tragedy at Duck Lake Indian reserve. The wildest excitement prevails among the Indians who are terrorized, but knowing who may next succumb.

Hotel Regina, at St. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec, the largest hotel in that place, and well known to pilgrims, was burned to the ground Thursday. This loss is placed at $25,000, with insurance of $15,000.

John Tucker Murray, a graduate of Dalhousie University, has won the Hooper Fellowship at Harvard University. The Fellowship is worth $1,000, and is the largest travelling Fellowship given at Harvard. Mr. Murray is the first to hold it.

William Golding, a guide, was drowned Thursday in Boyden's Lake near Eastport, Maine, by the upsetting of his sailing canoe. His body has not been recovered. Golding was considered an expert canoeist, and was a member of a well known family of guides for hunters and fishermen. It is supposed that his canoe was overturned by a sudden squall.

Half the polls heard from in the plebiscite election Thursday in Kings county. P. E. I. gave 761 in favor of prohibition and 97 against. Every poll gave a large majority for prohibition, for instance 70 to 1, 45 to 0, 83 to 19, 40 to 3, and when the full returns are in prohibition will be far in the lead. The law will go in force in thirty days. A similar plebiscite will be held in Kings Co. outside of Charlottetown next month and if it goes the same way the whole province will be under prohibition.

PAPERS ALL RIGHT.

Gratifying Discovery in the San Francisco Civic Vaults.

San Francisco, May 11.—(Special)—The main vault of the city auditor's office was opened today and everything there found intact. The vault contained all the valuable papers and books of the auditor's office, including $18,000,000 in bonds issued for specific permanent improvements, such as school buildings, acquisition of parks, etc. Besides these all officials' bonds of the present city officials, books, vouchers, financial accounts with the city tax collector, treasurer and state controller and treasurer were found intact.

THE BARONY.

May 9.—The water in the river continues very high. Carlin Bros. have nearly completed their rafting at this place, but the Scott Lumber Company have yet an immense quantity of lumber to ship. The steamer Aberdeen made its first early down trip today. Le Baron Anderson spent Sunday at home.

Mrs. Porter and daughter, Miss Porter, spent a few days of last week visiting friends at Fredericton. The hospitality of Mr. McGarvey, Mr. Porter's cook, assures him plenty of company. All are sure of a hearty welcome and lunch.

FOR BAKING DAY.

After taking bread from the oven, do not wrap tightly in cloth as many do; but rub the top of loaves with a little lard or butter, tip on edge on your kneading board so that all possible crust is exposed to the air and if possible place out of doors or in the wind to cool quickly a few minutes, then remove to convenient place and let stand until thoroughly cold before putting away in box or can, and you will have delicious, tender crust.

F. P. ROBINSON, ESQ.,

Nashwaaksis, Fredericton,

Dear Sir,—

Inclosed I hand you sanitary analysis of well water from Nashwaaksis. The small percentage of ammonia shows it to be almost ideal water for drinking purposes. This taken in connection with its freedom from nitrates and nitrites shows the absence of organic contamination either vegetable or of animal origin, and in this respect I may say it is the purest well water I have yet found in this province. The chlorine and total solids which are both high, arise from the presence of lime and a small percentage of magnesium, which would not interfere to any appreciable extent with its use as a beverage.
