STREET EXTENSION.

The aldermen were unable to agree upon a plan for extending Carleton street, and the matter dropped.

The extension of Aberdeen street down from York to St. John street linked with the Carleton extension enterprise was also dropped, the council evidently deciding to do nothing this year in the matter of street extension and opening.

Such indifference and neglect on an important question are exasperating to the people who are interested in the development of the city, and if public opinion can move the council to action, it should be exerted.

There is to be a special meeting of the board this evening, and the Herald understands one more effort will be made to induce the aldermen to do something towards street extension.

A petition has been signed asking that a new street be opened up from Waterloo Row to University Avenue south of Landsdowne street, and that a new street be run from University Avenue to York, connecting with Aberdeen street at that point.

These are both reasonable propositions, and there is nothing standing in the way of the work proceeding, except the council, and surely the matter should meet with its approval. The opening up of the extensive Shore property between Waterloo Row and University Avenue would furnish opportunity for people desiring to build residences, to secure very desirable lots, and the extension of Aberdeen street is pressing for the same and other reasons.

Let the council promptly take action in the matter, secure the right of way, put Roadmaster McKay and his men to work with a road machine, and the new streets can be opened and trumpeted this season.

Street extension has mainly been carried out in the up town districts, and if anybody has doubts as to the fine results that flow from such work let him examine the wonderful development in the up town districts where new streets have been opened within the past ten years.

If Fredericton is to grow and prosper, more building lots in desirable localities must be made available, and this can only be done by opening new streets.

Here is an opportunity for the city council to gain the approval of the public, and at the same time aid very materially in the up building of Fredericton.

The time to act is now—tonight when the petitions for street extension are presented.

THE LORD'S DAY BILL.

The Senate made a lot of amendments to the Lord's Day bill, partially destroying some of its most useful provisions, but when the measure came back to the Commons, the minister of justice refused to accept the changes, the House backed him up, and the bill finally passed as it originally left the popular branch.

The senate amendments were at once seized upon by a local Tory newspaper and made the basis of attack on the premier accusing him of having made an arrangement with his supporters in the senate to practically destroy the bill to please Quebec, but the newspaper in question must feel very silly now with the knowledge that the government absolutely refused to accept the amendments made in the upper chamber.

The Lord's Day bill has occasioned an enormous amount of work, discussion and wrangling, but in its salient features it is pretty near what was asked by the Alliance which sought to restrict the wanton desecration of the Sabbath in Canada.

The Alliance had the cordial cooperation of the government which made the bill its own, and did everything reasonably possible to carry it through parliament and has succeeded.

In this work however, the government received very little practical assistance from the Tory leaders, who as usual were regarding the political rather than the moral effect of the measure.

Mr. Foster wants that pension and wants it badly, but it would have been in much better taste if he had left agitation for its retention to somebody not personally interested.

CURRENT COMMENT

granting a pension of $3,500 to ex-cabinet ministers, passed the House of Commons in spite of Mr. Foster's strenuous objections.

Fredericton policemen have appealed to the city council in vain for an increase of pay. Probably the present rate of $1.37 per day, something less than the street laborers receive, looks unusually large to some of the aldermen.

MacKenzie & Mann are letting contracts for the portion of their line between Ottawa and Montreal, and expect to reach Quebec in a year. It is believed these men will not stop until they have a transcontinental line clear through to the Atlantic seaboard, and a strong belief is expressed that they will reach St. John by the valley route.

The Conservatives of North Renfrew, Ontario, vacated by the death of Hon. Peter White, have nominated his son, Mr. Gerald V. White, for the House of Commons.

The bill repealing last year's act Hon. Mr. Emmerson, minister of railways has received a report from an official who has been investigating the motor car for service on suburban branch lines. The report says the cost per mile for furnishing the service can be reduced from sixty cents a mile to about sixteen cents a mile. At the next session he will ask for a vote to install a motor car service on the branch lines and suburban routes of the Intercolonial and the Island railway for passenger business.

MARYSVILLE NEWS.

Successful Bazaar—The Prize Winners—Oddfellows' Installation.

The Prentice Boys bazaar at the Orange Hall, Marysville, last evening was a grand success in every way and the large crowd present had a delightful time. The hall was nicely arranged and presented a gay appearance with its several booths and stalls, from which refreshments were sold. The ice cream trade was very large. Everybody buying an ice got a coupon and the one securing the largest number of coupons wins a very pretty chair. There is also a voting contest for the most popular young lady in Marysville and Gibson. They say that it is going to be an exciting race between Miss Winnie Robinson of Marysville, and Miss Hannah Patterson of Gibson, with honors about even at present. There is a splendid hat tree offered as the prize to the person holding the lucky ticket.

The following won the prizes at the various games provided:

Rifle shooting—Biscuit jar—Lennie Inch.
Bagatelle—Water set—Lelas Sloat.
Gents' bean toss—butter cooler—Geo. Robertson.
Ladies' bean toss—sugar shell—Miss Ella Kenny.
Ring toss—pickle dish—Arthur Watts.

One of the features of the bazaar was the excellent music by the Marysville Brass Band. The bazaar will be continued tonight and tomorrow night with added attractions.

The officers of Nashua Lodge, I. O. O. F., were installed last evening, the following members of Victoria Lodge acting as grand officers:

W. S. Hooper, D. G. M.
G. Grant, G. S.
G. Ashford, G. F. S.
John Christie, G. T.

The following are the officers installed:

ON THEIR HANDS.
Rhode Island Has an Italian Pardoned from Prison, But still in Cell.

Providence, R. I., July 11.—Although he has been pardoned by Governor George H. Utter, officially discharged from the state prison, and started on his way to Italy, Pedro Jaswell, a convicted murderer is once more behind the prison bars today, and the state prison authorities are in a quandary as to the final disposition of the man.

When Jaswell was released last Saturday it was intended that he would be shipped to Italy on board the White Star liner Romanic, but upon his arrival in Boston the pardoned prisoner refused to go board the steamer. When he was carried bodily to the deck of the steamer by the prison guards, assisted by several policemen, 15 minutes before sailing time, the ship's surgeon interfered, and declared that the man could not sail because he was insane.

The captain of the steamer supported the surgeon, and the prisoner and his guards were put ashore, and today Jaswell is once more locked up in the prison from which he was released two days ago.

Warden Wilcox says he is without authority to hold the man, but he does not know what to do with him. Gov. Utter having pardoned him with the understanding that he would be sent to Italy and placed in a hospital for the criminal insane. Jaswell was sentenced to life imprisonment on May 7, 1901, for the murder of George Collins at Rumford. Jaswell does not desire to return to his native land, but wishes to settle in New York State.

THE SYNOD.

Rev. Mr. Bacon submitted an amendment to the effect that names nominated by individuals be submitted to the bishop, but afterwards withdrew it. Mr. Wallace moved an amendment, seconded by Rev. Mr. Kurling, that the synod proceed to the election of a bishop without nomination.

Rev. Scovil Neales said that they had the bishop's word that all names sent to him would be returned. Chancellor Allen said that it was not the wish of the standing committee or the bishop to take away any rights belonging to the synod. The only object they had in view was to avoid any difficulties that might arise in future. They wanted to save any legal complications from arising and to protect the gentleman who might be chosen.

Chancellor Allen's explanation seemed to clear up the atmosphere, and Mr. Wallace at once withdrew his amendment.

Mr. Otty's motion was then put, and carried unanimously.

At the suggestion of the chairman, business was suspended and the assembly knelt in fervent prayer.

NOMINATIONS MADE.

On business being resumed, it was decided to proceed with the nominations for a coadjutor.

Mr. C. H. Tilley said he would like to nominate a gentleman for the office of coadjutor—one for whom he had the greatest respect. Those who were present could not but feel proud of the able manner in which the Venerable Archdeacon Neales had discharged the duties of chairman. He had pleasure in nominating Archdeacon Neales.

Rev. T. W. Street seconded the nomination in a few well chosen words.

Rev. W. H. Sampson, nominated Rev. Norman L. Tuever of Toronto, secretary of the missionary society of the Canadian church.

Mr. H. B. Scovil nominated Rev. J. R. DeWolfe Cowie of Fredericton.

Rev. Mr. Hall nominated Rev. Canon Farthing of Woodstock, Ont.

Rev. Mr. Daniel nominated Rev. Canon Richardson of St. John.

Mr. R. W. Hewson nominated Ven. Archdeacon E. S. W. Pentreath of British Columbia.

Dr. W. H. Steeves nominated Rev. Canon Montgomery of Kingsclear.

Rev. Mr. Spencer nominated Rev. Canon Newham of St. Stephen.

Rev. A. H. J. Dickson nominated Ven. Archdeacon Williams of Quebec.

Rev. Dr. Duffy nominated Ven. Archdeacon Bryan of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Mr. J. R. Campbell nominated Ven. Archdeacon Forsythe, but the latter declined for personal reasons to allow his name to go before the meeting.

Sheriff Sterling nominated Ven. Archdeacon Armitage of Halifax.

Rev. Mr. Smithers nominated Rev. J. F. Davenport of Toronto.

On motion of Judge Hanington nominations were closed.

Messrs. A. C. Fairweather and F. J. G. Knowlton, were appointed a committee to present the names to the Bishop.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE

On motion of Rev. T. W. Street, business was suspended to allow resolutions of condolence on deceased members to be submitted.

Rev. Canon Forsythe, after paying a tribute to the late Rev. Dean Partridge, referring especially to his great ability as a preacher and orator, moved a lengthy resolution of condolence, which was seconded by Judge Hanington and unanimously adopted by a standing vote.

after the commissary had added a graceful tribute.

Rev. T. W. Street, in the absence of Rev. Dr. Campbell, moved a resolution expressing the synod's sense of the great loss sustained in the death of the late Rev. Canon DeVeber.

Mr. G. Sidney Smith, in seconding the resolution, referred to his long acquaintance with the deceased and his high Christian character.

Rev. Mr. Dicker and the chairman added a few words and the resolution was carried.

Rev. Canon Montgomery introduced a resolution of condolence in the death of the late Rev. Canon Roberts of this city. He referred to the deceased as being one of his warmest friends, and he had found him in every sense a manly man and a true brother.

He then moved a resolution of condolence, which found an able seconder in Rev. H. E. Dibblee.

Short addresses of appreciation

MR. FITZPATRICK HONORED.

Ottawa, July 11.—Liberal members of parliament have presented Hon. Chas. Fitzpatrick with a cabinet of silverware, a valuable stick pin and a set of gold cuff links as an evidence of their great esteem for him and their regret at his departure from the cabinet. Mr. Fitzpatrick has won the love of "the boys" of No. 16 as few Cabinet Ministers, however respected, have succeeded in doing. The inscription on the cabinet simply but heartily gave expression to their sentiment.

Fire and water in the Cornwall cotton mill at St. John, Wednesday afternoon did damage estimated at several thousand dollars.
