of Portland, Me.
Established 1848

It is a strictly Annual Dividend Company, the surplus or profits being apportioned every year upon all plans of insurance and a statement of same given to each individual policy holder at the expiration of the first and each subsequent year. The result is that every holder of one of these contracts knows exactly what profits have accumulated every year on his own particular policy. He can make use of such profits any time he so wishes, and in event of his death, such additions are paid, besides the full amount for which the policy is written.

"A Bird in the Hand is Worth Two in the Bush," how much is a policy worth which guarantees annual dividends as above, compared with a policy under which no profits are apportioned until the end of twenty (20) years?

"Union Mutual" policy contracts are the most liberal issued. The guaranteed reserve value is equal to that of any company in the world. If you require insurance of any kind consult a "Union Mutual" agent, or write direct to

PREPARING FOR THE ST. JOHN EXHIBITION.

Ladies Brass Band Will Probably be Engaged.

Band music at the coming St. John Exhibition will probably be furnished by the Ladies' Guards Band of Boston, one of the few high class ladies' bands in America. The decision to secure this musical attraction for the fair was reached at a meeting of the Exhibition Association executive on Wednesday evening, and President A. O. Skinner was authorized to complete arrangements for the band's appearance. As the band has held the fair dates open, awaiting word from the Association, there is no doubt that the arrangements will be completed in a day or two. The band is reported to be one well worth hearing. Among the engagements recently filled by it was that of providing music at the Boston automobile show.

The executive also dealt with a number of other matters connected with the fair. Many of these were matters of routine only. Others were of considerable public interest. The advisability of holding the proposed dog show in connection with the fair was taken up and was favorably considered. Manager Milligan was instructed to look into the matter of a premium list for such a show, and it is found that a list satisfactory to intending exhibitors and the Association alike can be provided. The show will be held. The prospects of the dog show taking place have aroused a good deal of interest throughout the Province, and indeed elsewhere. Manager Milligan has received many inquiries regarding the proposed show. Another matter taken up by the executive was the offer of the Empire Booking Company to give the Association the choice of sixty-five vaudeville turns for the Amusement Hall. The offer will be further considered on the return of Mr. F. G. Spencer, who has some amusement propositions to lay before the executive.

Manager Milligan and President Skinner were appointed to confer with Mrs. R. C. Skinner in reference to the list of premiums to be offered for exhibits and prizes to be awarded. The outlook, Manager Milligan tells the Globe, is that the display of women's work will be especially good this year. The exhibit of school children's work also promises to be above the average, the manual training work exhibit especially so.

Applications for space at the fair are now coming in well.

The North Atlantic business may be said to have shrunk from the proportions of a first class scandal to those of a personal quarrel between a couple of officials. Mr. Preston's resignation has been reported to the House, and the debate following, instead of lasting a week, was over in a single session. The "gold mine" was proved not to be as good as the prospectus, for it was shown that where $28,000 used to be paid to European ticket agents indiscriminately, better work was being done under the new arrangement for about $2,000, and everybody who knows anything about graft understands that when corrupt officials organize "gold mines" they do not begin by cutting down the appropriation one half. It came down to a question whether parliament would publish the names of the parties to an arrangement Lord Strathcona said must be kept secret, with the prospect of ruining some men who have done well for Canada, or whether the government would keep faith with these men. Sir Wilfrid, very naturally, chose to keep faith, offering, however, to satisfy the opposition by sowing the names in confidence to Mr. Borden and others. That wasn't what the opposition wanted, and Mr. Borden declined. So that "scandal" has petered out with no impropriety proved.

CAPT. BERNIER ON DECK.

Today we have had the beginning of another "scandal," whose origin is also worth noting. When the Arctic was getting ready to start for Hudson Bay, and lay in the dock across the river from Quebec, supplies began to arrive from Montreal, and had to be piled upon the wharf under the noses of the good people of Quebec. The "scandal" started right there, for there had to be something wrong with the order that Captain Bernier was on the witness stand today, charged, somebody said, and in danger of bursting with information, and when

There is one phase of it, however, of which more may be heard. There is evidence that some of the material on which the "scandals" have been founded has been provided by officials jealous of other officials. Notice will probably have to be taken of this in some cases, and of course civil servants who make themselves purveyors of information for the opposition must realize that they do so at considerable personal risk.

There have been other distinguishing influences operating on the trade with the Orient this year.

The fire at San Francisco had a most unsettling effect, but curious enough it did not enhance the freight traffic of the Canadian Pacific.

The three Empress' steamers engaged in the C. P. R. trunk trade have done an unprecedented business in the transportation of passengers. Where the falling off has occurred has been on Chinese merchandise—fruit, ginger and so forth. The tea season has not yet commenced so nobody can say how it will be affected. The silk trade, a most important part of which has been drawn into Canadian channels, is furnishing much valuable cargo, but it cannot be said that the shipments by other lines have been reduced since the conflagration occurred. The great silk markets of the continent are at Boston and New York and as the fire has not affected the capacity of the railways to ship through traffic the diversion has been inconsiderable.

WORLD'S LARGEST LINER.

Turbine Steamer Lusitania Launched at Clydebank.

Glasgow, June 9.—The new Cunard turbine steamer Lusitania, the world's largest liner, was successfully launched at Clydebank, today, and was christened by Dowager Lady Inverclyde. Hundreds of visitors from all parts of the country, besides thousands of the local population, witnessed the ceremony.

The Lusitania is the first of the giant Cunarders to be launched, and her sister, the Mauritania, will follow her into the sea a month hence. The Lusitania is 790 feet long, her displacement is about 40,000 tons, and powerful turbine engines will drive her through the water at a sustained speed of from 24 to 25 knots. The cabin accommodations are for 550 first-class, 500 second-class and 1,300 third-class passengers, and the crew will number 800.

THE ARCH FIEND OF THE AGE.

The doctors now successfully fight Catarrh with a remedy that never fails—"Catarrhazone." It's death to every type of Catarrh. It destroys every root and branch of the disease so thoroughly that a relapse need never be feared. PARLIAMENTARY SNAPSHOTS

How the Tory Scandal Programme Was Organized and Some of Its Failures.

Ottawa, June 7.—It becomes easier to understand what is going on these days in the House of Commons and in the committee rooms after one has heard the story of how the "scandal session" was organized. That story is now being told hereabouts.

It seems that about two years ago Mr. Monk, being in England, was told the story Mr. J. R. J. since told in the witness stand about everybody believing that Mr. Preston was running by a private gold mine in connection with the North Atlantic Trading Company. He came home fully prepared to exploit the "scandal." But the storm over the Northwest schools question suddenly blew up, the Quebec and Ontario wings of the opposition went their separate ways, harmony was destroyed, and the subject was not broached. Late last year, however, somebody got the bright idea that it would be a good thing to hunt up scandals. Mr. Foster gets credit for the idea; Mr. Ames gets some of the credit for the plan of organization. The scheme took shape in the establishment of a bureau, the man in charge of which was to go through the appropriations, ascertain where expenditures were to be made, notify some party henchman in the district to keep an eye on it and report anything that looked like good material for an investigation. Not a great deal has come out of this, but once the scheme was launched the anonymous letter writer appeared on the scene, and the organization has been tracing up anonymous letters ever since.

THE ATTACK ON MR. SIFTON.

Tonight the debate on the administration of the Northwest lands comes to a close. Every attack has been fairly met. Mr. Ames furnished a specimen of the product of the new organization, by alleging that Mr. Sifton was the owner of some grazing leases, adding that he had letters giving him that assurance which he would be prepared to produce. Mr. Sifton being in the House this time, not in Florida as he was when Mr. Foster made insinuations against him earlier in the session, promptly and emphatically denied the statement, and all Mr. Ames could do was to back down.

Mr. Adamson told the House the story of the anxious time he had had when he tried to get American settlers for land in Saskatchewan, the railways entitled to it had refused to take from the government, condemning it as unfit for use.

Mr. Burroughs proved that, even if he was Mr. Sifton's relative, any lands he got from the Department were obtained in open competition by tender, his tender being not only higher, but much higher than the next highest. And so all down the line. Much has been insinuated, nothing wrong has been proven; some allegations have been disproved; reasonable explanations have been given of nearly all the half-charges made by the Opposition.

The "scandal session" in short, has already failed. Ministers and others deny, in the most disconcerting way, that they are the scoundrels it pleases Mr. Foster's much raking organization to suggest they are, and the opposition are not ready to back up their insinuations with proofs. They have made a good deal of noise and have restored cohesion in their own ranks, but they have not proved any wrongdoing, and a sort of reaction has set in. The Liberal members who a week ago didn't know what might be coming, and were nervous about it, are now feeling cheerful over the turn affairs have taken, and the Conservative members show, by their lack of zest in the work, that they know their powder is mostly sawdust.

There is one phase of it, however, of which more may be heard. There is evidence that some of the material on which the "scandals" have been founded has been provided by officials jealous of other officials. Notice will probably have to be taken of this in some cases, and of course civil servants who make themselves purveyors of information for the opposition must realize that they do so at considerable personal risk.

Report has it, perhaps wrongly, that Mr. Monk, another statesman with no sense of humor, it was who convinced Mr. Foster of the need to adopt this striking method of demonstrating to Quebec that he is not the enemy Mr. Cling Mars painted him. However, that may be, the violence of Mr. Cling Mars' language is going to be measured, if some of the Liberal members have their way, by the violence of Mr. Foster's own language, and there are stores of his violent language to draw upon.

AN EXCEPTIONAL PROCEEDING

The members of the Press Gallery are naturally exercised over the matter, as it affects, however indirectly, the status of all of them. It may be said that few if any of his fellow-journalists like the style of polemic in which Mr. Cling Mars indulged on the occasion complained of, and that equally few, if any, approve the hard caustic tone Mr. Foster adopts when he discusses public questions and the acts of his opponents.

They feel, however, that in these matters the proper recourse is to the reason of the people, even where misrepresentation is gross, and not to remonstrance from the seat of privilege. Such a resort as that invoked by Mr. Foster cannot be general, and a form of redress that cannot in practice be demanded by any victim ought not to be invoked by one of them, even by Mr. Foster, if it can be avoided.

Fancy the time the House would have had to devote to this sort of thing if Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Tarte had called to the bar the Ontario Conservative journalists who had traduced them in 1900. Both fortunately for themselves, have the saving sense of humor. Mr. Foster has not. There were signs today, however, that he is sensitive to ridicule, and ridicule certainly awaits him if these proceedings go on.

A BIG LOCK-OUT GIVES TRADE TO C. P. R.

San Francisco Steamship Lines Tied Up by Labor Trouble in the Orient Trade.

Montreal, June 9.—Mr. G. M. Bosworth, fourth vice-president of the Canadian Pacific has received a despatch through official channels at the Pacific coast stating that the steamship companies operating from San Francisco have declared a lock-out against longshoremen and sailors on account of their having made a demand for increased wages.

The Occidental and Oriental Steamship Company, an American steamship line operating in connection with the Southern Pacific Railway and the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, a Japanese steamship corporation which has affiliations with all the through railways with terminal facilities at San Francisco and which like the O. and O. trade between the Far East and the chief California ports, calling at Honolulu are tied up.

This is expected to have the effect of diverting considerable business to the Canadian Pacific route.

There have been other distinguishing influences operating on the trade with the Orient this year.

The fire at San Francisco had a most unsettling effect, but curious enough it did not enhance the freight traffic of the Canadian Pacific.
