LIKE ARMED CAMP.

70,000 Military and Police Guarding Paris Against Possible Riots of Strikers.

Scenes of Disorder Quickly Suppressed and Many Arrests Made.

Paris, May 1.—(Special)—The date for which government made prodigious preparations finds many quarters of the city presenting the appearance of an armed camp.

The forces concentrated under the prefect of police, Lepine, are estimated at 50,000 troops, 12,000 police and 8,000 republican guards.

Detachments of troops of all arms took up position in all precincts at an early hour. The bulk of the military forces which had been strictly confined to the barracks since midnight, remained under arms to be ready to move at a moment's notice.
Troops at mid-night began to guard the public sources of water, the gas and electric supply.

The plan of the authorities was to avert the use of the military unless such a step was imperative to maintain order.

The Metropolitan railway and om-nibusses continued to operate but cab traffic rippled, owing to the cab-men's fears.

The extensive central markets are deserted, the country folk refusing to risk bringing in provisions. The suburbs are guarded by troops, and are reported calm.

Strong bodies of troops are posted at the main railroad depot in the city. St. Lazare station is surrounded by a squadron of cuirassiers, several companies of infantry and republican guards.

Prior to the opening of the bourse, a regiment of infantry took up a position on the terrace and detachments of cuirassiers, occupied neighboring streets. The bourse opened at the usual hour, but business was restricted.

Striking printers attempted to march in procession from the Bourse du Travail (Labor headquarters), singing revolutionary songs. They attacked the police who intervened and later were compelled to draw revolvers. The procession was then broken up.

Owing to the increase in the excitement on Place de La Republique the troops intervened, and hundreds of arrests were made. Prisoners were immediately taken before magistrates, who quickly passed upon the cases and the disturbers of the peace were taken to jail.

Detachments of troops have just taken up positions around the Bank of France.

The Place de La Republique is the scene of continuous arrests.

The number of disorderly persons have increased by several thousands and a detachment of 400 infantry has stacked arms on the place de Letele.

DROWNED AT ST. JOHN.

Wm. Quinn Fell Off Wharf While Asleep and Lost His Life.

St. John, May 1.—(Special)—Wm.
Quinn was drowned here early this morning in the Market ship.
He was sitting on the south market wharf when he fell off.

The splash woke men on a schooner, who recovered the body.
He probably fell asleep on the wharf and fell over. There will be no inquest.

GENERAL AND PERSONAL.

The "plighting stone" was used until quite recently in parts of Scotland. Troths were plighted by grasping hands through the stone. These troths and promises were inviolate in matters of love, business and all social relations.

Stuttering children have lately become alarmingly numerous in Germany. The public schools contain 80,000 of them. The increase in the number is largely due to mimicry.

Measurements made in London schools show that the children's stature, as well as their weight, increases regularly in passing from the poor to the well-fed and well-clothed.

About twenty-four miles below the city of Bordeaux a bed of rock that is still a menace to navigation is being blasted out, and will be entirely removed the present year. For these channel improvements, $6,000,000 was appropriated by the French government.

With the exception of the larger towns the precautions against fire in France are remarkably inadequate.
Many towns of from 500 to 3,000 people have no water supply other than the ordinary wells, operated generally by bucket draws instead of pumps and no fire apparatus except occasionally a hand force pump such as is used by contractors.

The municipal authorities of St.
Gall, Switzerland, have passed a by-law prohibiting smoking minors. The penalty is 5 francs for the smokers and for any person furnishing boys with tobacco in any form. Inform-ers are also to receive a reward of 5 francs. The object of the authorities is to stamp out smoking among schoolboys, which has recently increased to an alarming extent.

A solution of the religious education question in England has just been proposed by W. T. Stead, the noted editor. He offers the three C's for ethical teaching in the public schools to correspond to the three R's in secular education. The C's stand for character, conduct and citizenship. He thinks nearly everything of vital importance in religious lessons can be taught as part of the public school curriculum. He defines religion as "the embodiment in our lives of the highest ethical ideal which we are capable of conceiving."

The question of the liberty of the press in India has been brought up through the removal of the Statesman, an Anglo-Indian newspaper of Calcutta, from the list of papers supplied with official documents, for having published Lord Curzon's note on the partition of Bengal, which was not issued to the press. The government demands a public apology for the action of the editor, which the proprietors refuse. The Statesman is supported in its action by the Indian press and all the other Anglo-Indian newspapers in India except the Calcutta Englishman.

A Chicago business man who last year made a trip to the Philippines, brought back with him a Filipino youth whose mental alertness had made quite an impression upon him.
The Oriental was installed in the Chicago man's office as clerk and he did very well, notwithstanding the fact that he was a trifle shaky as to his English.

One day the Chicagoan handed the Filipino a bill for some goods purchased by a customer a long time previously.

"As this gentleman seems to have no intention of settling this account," said the business man, "I want you to typewrite a letter to him, stating that an immediate adjustment of the indebtedness will soon be expected."

In a few moments the Filipino laid before his employer the following efficient:

"Dear Sir,—This is to advise you that if you do not instantly send us the money you owe us, we shall be compelled to take measures that will cause you the utmost astonish-

"Well, sir," brusquely inquired the girl's father, "what can I do for you?"

"Why—er—I called, sir," stammered she timidly, "to see if—er—you would assent to my marriage to your daughter."

"Not a cent, sir! Not a cent!
Good-day."—Scissors.

THE LIGHTING PLANT.

Ex-Ald. McGinn, the New Superintendent, is Now In Charge.

Ex-Ald. McGinn took over the management of the electric light station from Superintendent Porter at twelve o'clock last night. Everything is in good condition and Mr. Mc-Ginn anticipates no difficulty in continuing the present satisfactory service. Several of the aldermen were present when the transfer was made and were most profuse in extending to Mr. Porter their best wishes and promised to give him a recommendation for efficiency if he desired it.

Mr. Porter was offered the position of superintendent of the town lighting station at Pictou, N. S., but when he learned that it was a civic corporation that wanted his services he declined the job with thanks. He says that he is more firmly convinced than ever now that corporations are without souls, and in future he will steer clear of them.

Mr. Porter is leaving for his home in Chatham this afternoon to spend a few days before proceeding to western Canada. He is a manly and upright young man, and a most competent electrician, and his Fredericton friends hope that wherever his future lot may be cast that happiness and prosperity will be his.

DIED IN HOSPITAL.

Prominent Citizen of Johnville, Passed Away at Woodstock.

Woodstock, May 1.—(Special)—Mr.
Thomas O'Brien, one of the best known residents of Johnville, died at the hospital here this morning.

He was a sufferer from abscess of the hip, and about five weeks ago was removed from his home to the hospital here, where an operation was performed.

A son, William, who is studying for the priesthood at the Quebec Seminary, was with him when he passed away. Deceased was 56 years of age. The remains will be taken to Johnville for interment.

LAIRD OF SKIBBO.

Andrew Carnegie at Montreal, Received Doctor's Degree From McGill.

Montreal, May 1.—(Special)—Andrew Carnegie, laird of Skibbo, reached the city from Ottawa about noon today.

His first engagement was with the Canadian club, which he addressed at its weekly luncheon.

Later on in the afternoon he will be honored by McGill University with the degree of LL. B., a special convocation being held for that purpose.

COUNCIL SWORN IN.

St. John, May 1.—(Special)— Mayor Sears and the new city council were sworn in this morning.

The mayor delivered a lengthy inaugural address, and several aldermen spoke.

The meeting was a very interesting one.

By an arrangement recently concluded between the British and Japanese governments and arising out of the Anglo-Japanese treaty a number of Japanese military officers will soon arrive in India and be attached to the Indian army, in order to study the whole military organization of British India, and especially the problem of defense of the northwest frontier. They will be distributed among the various commands and will remain in the country 12 months, or a longer time if agreed on by the two governments. A party of officers of all arms belonging to the Anglo-Indian army will proceed at the same time to Japan to study the Japanese military system. The arrangements is said not to be liked in the army in India.

Those physicians who are willing to be called at night have red lanterns attached to their homes.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

Marysville Shocked by the Deliberate Suicide of Howard Galey.

Young Man Despondent Over the Death of His Sweetheart Put a Revolver Bullet Through His Brain.

A terrible tragedy, which has shocked the whole community, was enacted at Marysville about twenty minutes to six last evening, when Howard Galey, the nineteen year old son of Mr. George Galey, committed suicide.

The popular theory accounting for the dreadful deed is that Howard must have been melancholy over the death of Miss Maggie Cameron, the young lady to whom he was engaged, and who after a lingering illness from consumption, passed away on Saturday.

Young Galey had been engaged in the napping room of the cotton mill and since the death of his young lady friend he has not been working.

Yesterday he drew fifteen dollars from the company's office, hired a horse from Mr. Thomas Morrison's livery stable and drove to town, where it is supposed he purchased a revolver.

During the afternoon he paid a few small bills he owed and went home as usual to tea.

His father, who is a night watchman of the cotton mill, was talking to his son a few minutes before the shooting occurred and as he was going out to attend to his duty he asked Howard if he would not go to work after the Miss Cameron's funeral.

Howard replied that he did not know, and that was the last talk father and son had together.

It is supposed that as soon as Mr.
Galey, sr., had left the house, Howard went upstairs and shot himself, thinking he was alone in the house.
But in the meantime his sister, Miss Mamie Galey and Bessie Barker had arrived and were downstairs in the sitting room reading when they were startled by the report of a revolver.

Mamie, thinking something awful had happened, ran to the residence of Mrs. Thomas Flannagan and called Mrs. Flannagan.

Mr. Galey was in the Flannagan house at the time, and they all ran home together.

Mamie was the first to go upstairs and there found her brother lying on the floor in front of the mirror, where it is supposed he stood while taking aim.

Dr. Fisher was called, but the poor fellow never spoke, and died in a few minutes after the shooting took place.

On examination it was found that the victim had shot himself through the left side of the neck, and the bullet, traveling upward, lodged in the brain.

In the room was found a letter addressed to his father, which read as follows:

"Dear Father,—When I am dead, bury me beside Maggie Cameron or my mother. Do not bury me in Gibson. Leave the rings on my fingers.
You will find my cuff buttons in the vest pocket of my light suit.
"Be good to the girls and Hughie.
I have not felt well for some time.
Yours,
HOWARD.

The deceased was well known both in Marysville and Fredericton, and was very popular and beloved by all who knew him, and the sad death is certainly a great shock to all.

None of the local hardware dealers remember having sold a revolver to Galey during his visit to the city yesterday, and the supposition is that he either borrowed the weapon or purchased it from some one at Gibson or St. Marys. Several people here with whom the young man had business, state that he recently called on them and settled his accounts. A week ago he called upon an up town dentist and paid an account of $25, which had been standing three months.

Coroner Mullin visited Marysville last evening and decided that the circumstances surrounding Galey's death justified the holding of an inquest. He empanelled a jury composed of George Hanson, M. F. Reid, Samuel White, W. H. Grey, Alfred Marshall, Jesse Stafford and James Waterman. After they had viewed the body the enquiry was postponed until seven o'clock Wednesday evening. It will be held at the residence of Town Marshall Barker.

Acting under orders from Coroner Mullin, Dr. Fisher held a post mortem on the body last evening. It was found that the bullet entered just behind the left ear and after penetrating the brain lodged in the skull.
The unfortunate young man only lived three minutes after the shot was fired. The bullet was extracted by Dr. Fisher.

In compliance with Galey's request made in the note to his father, his body will be interred alongside that of Miss Cameron in the Methodist cemetery. The funerals will be held concurrently tomorrow afternoon and the two processions will be merged into one at the bridge.

The services will be conducted by Revs. Messrs. Brewer and Thomas.

THE CITY FATHERS

Got Through With Considerable Business at the Monthly Committee Meeting.

The city council met in committee last evening and got through with quite a lot of business. The mayor and all the aldermen, City Clerk Mc-Creedy, Roadmaster McKay and Auditor McKay were present.

The accounts of roads and streets, contingencies and fire department, were passed with very little discussion.

In connection with the alms house department Ald. Hanlon submitted a bill from the provincial hospital for the support of pauper patients. Included in this was an item for the support of one Charles Hudlin, which the committee very properly decided not to pay. Prior to his removal to Dorchester Hudlin was a resident of the county of York, and it is held that the municipal authorities must pay for his support.

Another charge for the support of a former citizen named Sims was thrown out, on the recommendation of Ald. Hanlon, who said that Sims was employed as gardener at the Victoria hospital and had money in the savings bank.

It was decided that in future any expense incurred on account of the city hall dump should be charged to public works and not to the market account.

It was decided to pay Messrs.
Torrens and McLean for their services in connection with the sewerage outlet at the rate of $1.25 per day.
Roadmaster McKay submitted a report on the extension of Carleton street. He estimated that the cost of continuing the street through to a point in line with Aberdeen street would be $1,000. It is likely that the road committee at tonight's meeting will obtain the necessary authority to expropriate the land required.

Ald. Hooper moved, seconded by Ald. Scott, that Ald. Celter be chairman of the street light committee in room of Ald. McGinn resigned, Ald. Moore pointed out that he (Moore) was a member of the light committee, and it would be at variance with all precedents to appoint another alderman from the same ward. He moved that Ald. Maxwell be appointed chairman.

After some discussion Ald. Hooper withdrew his motion and Ald. Maxwell was appointed.

Ald. Moore was appointed acting chairman of the police committee.
Mr. Hugh Doherty, who is to be an alderman candidate for King's ward tendered his resignation as stage hand at the opera house and it was accepted.

The chairman of the road committee reported that tenders for operating the watering carts had been received from Mr. Rankine Boulter, G.
W. Clarke and William Belyea. Messrs.
Clarke and Boulter want 23 cents per hour for running one cart and Mr.
Belyea considers the job worth 25 cents. The committee will recommend that Messrs. Boulter and Clarke be given one cart each.

There was some discussion over the question of issuing bonds to the amount of $80,000 to pay for the construction of the sewerage system.
The mayor thought that the most feasible plan was to issue the bonds in lots of $500 and allow interest at the rate of 4 per cent. As the bonds are not taxable, he thought that residents of the city and county would purchase them as an investment. He did not think that considering the present rate of the money market that there would be much chance of disposing of the bonds to outsiders above par.

Ald. Celter did not altogether approve of the mayor's plan and intimated that he was working out a scheme which he would give to the public later on.
