

Events of a Day

THE FIRST ONE.

Mr. George K. Dunphy of Keswick, brought the first salmon of the season to the city this morning. It was an eight pounder and was caught in a net near Keswick Island.

GOING ABROAD.

Mr. Edward Moore is arranging to leave about the first of June on an extended trip to the old country. Mr. Moore is one of Fredericton's most popular and public spirited citizens, and his numerous friends will unite with the Herald in the hope that he will have a pleasant trip.

HONEY FOR THE WEST.

Coun. M. B. McNally, of Queensbury, brought seventy-five gallons of maple honey to the city by boat yesterday and forwarded it by express to a customer in British Columbia. The councillor puts up an excellent article and makes a shipment to the west each season.

A BIG CARGO.

The steamer Aberdeen arrived in port at four o'clock last evening with upwards of fifty passengers, and one of the largest freight cargoes she has ever handled. The cargo consisted of twenty tons of maple honey from the Queensbury sugaries, a lot of farm produce, household effects, live stock, etc.

IN NEW QUARTERS.

Mr. W. E. Seery, the popular and versatile merchant tailor, has removed his business to the store in the Spahn building, lately vacated by Mr. F. E. Blackmer. Mr. Seery has on hand a large and fine assortment of cloths and tweeds and will be pleased to see all old customers, and as many new ones as care to honor him with their patronage.

ANOTHER OPERATION.

Mrs. Burns Akerley of Southampton, was brought to the city by the steamer Aberdeen, yesterday.

MUSICAL RECITAL.

Professor Harrison's Pupils Make a Good Showing.

Professor Frank W. Harrison's rooms were well filled last evening at the recital given by his pupils. The program of pianoforte pieces was carefully chosen and served to show the skill of the executants in their different stages of training, elementary and advanced pupils being represented in the several performers.

The first number was a pretty "Rondo" by Dussek, which was played by little Miss Mildred Walker. The second item was Lohr's charming "Slumber Song," arranged as a part song for mixed voices. The piece was beautifully rendered by a small choir of fourteen voices, the parts being well balanced. The fine phrasing and clean attack, together with the attention paid to the light and shade, gave evidence of very careful training by the conductor, Mr. Harrison.

Another very young performer, Miss Ethel West, followed with a tuneless little waltz by Zimmermann, and acquitted herself most creditably, in spite of very natural nervousness. A vocal solo by Miss Shirley King, "The Flower" may hide its lovely face," was next on the program. Miss Kent has a sweet soprano voice and a good enunciation, and sang with taste. The next number was a pianoforte solo by Miss Daisy McKenzie, who gave four little "characteristic pieces" by Gurlitt. The four items were in contrast to each other, and gave the player a good opportunity for displaying her skill in the different movements, which were all well played.

The second part of the program opened with a part-song for male voices, "Dinah" given by a quartette of gentlemen who acquitted themselves fairly. A piano solo "Serenade-Badine" by Gurlitt was the next item, and was beautifully rendered by Miss Jean Wilson, whose technique and tone quality were exceedingly good. A couple of vocal solos by Miss Kent followed. Miss Kent has a pleasing mezzo-soprano voice of good range and quality, which her choice of pieces enabled her to display. Her first item was a sacred air and recitative, "Thou art with me, O my Father," and by way of contrast the second was a little song "A May Day Morn," which enabled Miss Kent to show the flexibility of her voice to advantage.

Miss Rowley was down for a piano solo, but was prevented from appearing by indisposition. The mixed choir next gave Marks' fine part song "Blow, Ye Gentle Breezes, Blow," with splendid effect, and this item was perhaps the gem of the evening. The last number was a piano solo by Miss McCain, who played with spirit and care. Her selections were "Water Sprites" by Heller, and a quaint but clever "Dance of Gnomes" by Whelpley, and each piece was very well given. The National Anthem by the choir brought a very successful recital to a close.

The piano used was kindly loaned to the band by Messrs. J. Clark and son.

THE BAND CONCERT.

Very Successful Performance in Aid of San Francisco Sufferers.

The concert given last evening under the auspices of the Fredericton Brass Band in aid of the San Francisco sufferers, was a grand success in every way. The attendance was large and each number on the programme was successfully carried out.

After well rendered opening selections by the band, His Worship Mayor McNally addressed the audience referring to the calamity which had befallen the city by the Golden Gate and of the practical sympathy which was being shown on all sides to the sufferers. Nowhere, he said, was the news received with greater sympathy than right here in the capital city of New Brunswick. The city, he said, had placed subscription lists at the city hall, and he knew the people of Fredericton would not be behind those of other cities in giving aid to this worthy cause.

A vocal solo by Miss Thompson with violin obligato by Miss Hazel Palmer, was well received and much appreciated.

Mr. Albert Perkins rendered a cornet solo in his usual efficient manner. He was followed by Mr. W. A. Walsh, Fredericton's popular elocutionist, who recited "Jack's Story." In the opinion of many in the audience last night's effort by Mr. Walsh surpassed all previous efforts of his in this line.

After a short intermission and selections by the orchestra, a vocal solo was given by Mr. Dawes D. Gilmour. This is not Mr. Gilmour's first appearance before a Fredericton audience, and he fully sustained his reputation last evening as a popular entertainer.

Mr. George B. Kennick, who is always a favorite in musical circles, played a trombone solo with orchestra accompaniment and was obliged to respond to an encore.

Mr. W. A. Adams sang "Let me write what I Never Dared to Tell," and in response to encores, sang two humorous selections, one of which was a hit on Fredericton's city council. Mr. Adams' number was a feature in itself.

Mr. Cecil D. Holder of St. John played two banjo solos with excellent effect. It is to be hoped that this will be by no means Mr. Holder's last appearance in musical circles in Fredericton.

The concert was brought to a close with selections by the band.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Movements of People in whom our Readers are Interested.

Dr. N. P. Grant, of Woodstock, is among the guests at the Barker. Jogn Barker came up from St. John last evening to hold a sitting of the equity court, and is a guest at the Barker.

Mr. J. H. Richards, of Boiestown, is stopping at the Barker.

Mr. James G. Dickie, of Charlottetown, is a guest at the Queen.

Mr. Frank A. Baked, of St. John, is in the city today, a guest at the Queen.

Miss Isabella Mowatt, equity court stenographer, is a guest at the Queen Hotel.

Coun. John Scott, of Dumfries, arrived in the city by boat yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Carleton Allen are at St. John, called there by the serious illness of Dr. Charles Holden.

Miss Lena Vincent is confined to her boarding house by an attack of rheumatism.

IN NEW QUARTERS.

Mr. R. W. George, St. Mary's drugist, has moved his stock from the Vanwart building to the Manzer building. Mr. George has had his new premises fitted up in first class style and has now one of the best equipped drug stores in the county. Mr. George and family will reside in the same building and will be available at all hours of the day or night. His telephone is number 371. B. Mr. George has carried on a successful drug business for some years and will no doubt meet with increased success in his new premises.

OUR SALMON POOL.

The May number of Recreation, a high class sportsman's magazine, published in New York, has for a frontispiece an engraving of the Hart's Island salmon pool, near Springhill. Beneath the engraving is the following inscription: "Where Fly Fishing is Big and Bold. Welders of the big two handed salmon rod whipping a pool on the St. John River, near Fredericton, N. B., where salmon were taken with a fly last year for the first time, and where the fishing is free to all."

CONTRACTS RENEWED.

Capt. McKenzie, caretaker of the R. C. R. is in receipt of a letter from the quarter master general, informing him that all last year's contracts for barracks supplies will be continued except the bread contract. The captain is instructed to vacate the sergeant major's cottage and take possession of the quarters in the new armory. The bread contract has been awarded to Mr. Hugh O'Neill, in place of Mr. Fred Clynick.

THE YORK HOTEL.

Mr. W. M. Thurtell of Mauderville, has entered into partnership with Mr. George W. McEwen in the management of the York hotel. Mr. Thurtell is a gentleman well known and respected throughout the river counties, and will no doubt be of valuable assistance to Mr. McEwen in maintaining the high reputation which the York enjoys as an up-to-date hostelry.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

The condition of Martin Carten, the boy who was struck on the head out. At three o'clock this afternoon is still very critical. He rallied for a short time at nine o'clock last evening, but again became unconscious, and at three o'clock this afternoon there was a slight change for the worse in his condition.

AID FOR ODDFELLOWS.

Victoria Lodge, I. O. O. F. of this city in connection with Walastock encampment of the same order, has voted the tidy sum of $100 for the benefit of the San Francisco sufferers belonging to the three linked fraternity. This generous act on the part of the Oddfellows, will no doubt be emulated by other fraternal organizations.

VISIT POSTPONED.

Owing to the illness of Grand Master Edwin J. Everett, his official visit to Hiram Lodge, this city, and Alexander Lodge, St. Mary's, P. & O. M., which was to have taken place on Thursday and Friday evening has been postponed for the present.

THANKS.

Miss Waycott, a resident of Oakland, California, sister of Mrs. W. B. Coulthard of this city, has the Herald's thanks for recent issues of Oakland newspapers giving vivid accounts of the great San Francisco disaster.

OUT AT LAST.

The city blue book is out at last and copies may be obtained at the office of the city treasurer. It is a volume of 239 pages and contains the city accounts for 1905 in detail as well as reports of city officials.

IN THE FIELD.

Mr. Hugh Doherty has resigned his position as scene shifter at the opera house and will contest Kings ward for the city copail.
