DOUBLE MURDER.

Half-Breed and Guide Shot Dead by an Indian.

Vancouver, B. C., June 21.—(Special.)—A special from Hazelton, Central British Columbia says: "A double murder was committed here on Tuesday.

Alexander McIntosh, a half-breed and Max Leclair, guide from Kamloops are the victims and the murderer, is alleged to be Simon Johnson an Indian, of the Kispixox tribe.

McIntosh and Johnson quarrelled on Monday night and when the half-breed was found yesterday in the middle of the road a mile and a half from town, suspicion at once pointed to the Indian. McIntosh had been shot from behind apparently while riding into town.

Men were at once sent on a hunt for Johnson, and a half hour later an excited Indian rode into town from Kispixox, to say that he had discovered another body.

This turned out to be that of Leclair. He too had been shot in the back while returning to his camp on the Kispixox trail north of Hazelton. Leclair's horse is missing, and it is supposed that the Indian killed the guide in order to get the animal that he might escape.

MOVING AMENDMENTS.

Col. Hughes and Mr. Bourassa Attempt
Some Changes in Lord's Day Bill.

Ottawa, June 21.—(Special.)—The House this morning again went into committee on the Lord's Day Bill.

Col. Sam Hughes moved a long resolution mentioning a variety of things upon which it would be legal to do so on Sunday, and another that the bill be referred back to the committee for this purpose. The resolution was declared out of order.

Mr. Bourassa moved the insertion of two sub-sections, one specifically exempting lumber operations, and the other legalizing the saving of crops on Sunday. He pleaded that these industries should not be left in an uncertain position of dependence, upon a judicial decision, that driving of logs, for instance, was a work of necessity, while a farmer might starve if he could not save his hay or other crop on Sunday. It would be a serious loss if in the wet season he could not take advantage of a fine Sunday.

Mr. Louis Laverne offered an amendment permitting carrying on of sugaring in the bush on Sunday. These amendments were allowed to stand over.

NEARING THE CLOSE.

Argument of counsel in the case of Seery vs. the Federal Life Assurance Company, is being heard at the circuit court this afternoon and it is expected that a verdict will be reached before the court adjourns this evening. The last witness examined were Dr. Torrens, R. T. Mack, and Thomas Ellis.

Mrs. Hennypeck (acidly)—No, you go and do it like a fool.

A POSITIVE CURE.

He—There is a certain young lady deeply interested in me, and while I like her, you know, still I never could love her. I want to put an end to it without breaking the poor girl's heart. Can you suggest any plan?

She—Do you call there often?

No, indeed; not any oftener than I can possibly help.

Call oftener.

"FINEST IN AMERICA."

St. Marys Young Man Winning Honors in the World of Music.

The following very flattering reference to Mr. Edwin E. Haines, late of St. Marys, from a recent issue of the New York Herald, will be read with much interest by his many friends in this city.

"Another singer, another voice of wondrous beauty of tone and quality is added to the singing world. Mr. Edwin E. Haines, who was considered the finest male soprano in Canada, is now, by the best of American critics, considered to be the finest in America. To hear the young singer who has become a great favorite with the leading society people of New York, is to hear a voice phenomenal both in quality and tone, a mezzo-soprano, mellow and sweet as the tone of a harp. A singer whose songs are all well chosen, his interpretations of which have given him the name of 'The Singer with the Soul'.

Mr. Haines possesses a voice of which there are few equals in America; none have appeared in New York whose voice possesses the timbre and quality, the delicate handling, the sweetness, the articulation, the interpretation. In looking ahead there are no probabilities of this young singer becoming one of the finest in the world's history of voices. A voice phenomenal in every detail. Society has thrown wide its doors and Mr. Haines is entertaining and being entertained at the homes of the leading society people.

Mrs. Carline Aster, the leader of the smart set, gave a dinner in honor of the young singer. Mr. Haines is now the guest of Reginald Vanderbilt at Sandy Point Farm.

Mr. Haines is now a pupil of Carusa and Scotti, and in all probability will not appear in public next season as arrangements are being made for him to sing for the smart set exclusively.

PROSPEROUS CONCERN.

Hartt Boot and Shoe Co. Had a Good Year's Business.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hartt Boot & Shoe Company Limited, was held in the company's office yesterday afternoon, and was well attended. A report, submitted by the board of directors, showed that the year just closed has been the most prosperous in the history of the concern. The business of the concern totaled $250,000, and after making an allowance for depreciation of machinery, a sum equal to eleven per cent. on the capital stock was placed to the rest account. The profits would have been much larger, but for a marked advance in the price of stock after the season's orders had been booked.

The company paid out in wages last year the substantial sum of $45,000. There are six travellers on the road, and the goods, which are achieving a very high reputation, are sold in every province of the Dominion.

Mr. George Armstrong of St. John, who audited the books for the shareholders, reported that the accounts were accurately kept.

The old board of directors, composed of Messrs. John Palmer, John Kilburn, Edward Moore, J. W. McCready and John A. Reid, were re-elected. A meeting of the directors for the election of officers will be held on Friday afternoon.

The outlook for the ensuing year is exceptionally bright. A lot of new and improved machinery has been added to the plant, and already the orders for fall delivery are twenty per cent. in advance of last year.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Montreal Power Prominent in Today's Trading.

Montreal, June 21.—(Special.)—On the stock market today, excitement again ranged round Montreal Power. That stock jumped into prominence in late trading yesterday closing at 96 1/2, and at the opening this morning the price rose to 97, and dealings were very excited. The price quoted was the highest of the day, and later the price receded a full point and then fluctuated within a quarter of that level.

Canadian Pacific was also a very strong feature at 162 to 162 1/2. Other dealings were: Twin City, 113 1/2 to 113 1/2. Montreal Street Railway, 283. Halifax Tram, 107. Toronto Ry., 118.

MIDDLEMORE CHILDREN.

A party of children from the Middlemore home at Birmingham, England, will arrive here on the evening of the 26th, and be distributed from the county court house the following day. The committee have some thirty applications.

Mr. S. Kerner has returned from a business trip to Montreal and Toronto.

LIBERAL VICTORY.

Premier Murray Carries 34 of 38 Seats in Nova Scotia Provincial Elections

TWO FORECASTLE MEMBERS OF GOVERNMENT DEFEATED—TANNER OPPOSITION LEADER SUCCESSFUL.

Halifax, June 21.—(Special.)—The returns of yesterday's provincial elections received up to noon today, show that 34 Liberals and 4 Conservatives were elected.

Halifax, June 21.—Premier Murray won another signal triumph in the provincial elections yesterday, being returned to power with an overwhelming majority.

The government have carried thirty-two and perhaps thirty-three of the thirty-eight seats in the house of assembly by substantial majorities.

The Conservatives have elected five members, but in two cases the vote is so close that these seats may still be classed doubtful. The sixth man elected in opposition to the government is a Liberal and a prohibitionist.

The government has elected a supporter in every county in the province, and although the opposition have apparently gained three seats only had two members in the last house, the verdict is hailed with the greatest satisfaction by the Liberal party.

Every member of the government holding portfolio has been elected. Hon. W. T. Pipes, commissioner of works and mines, won a notable victory, redeeming Cumberland, which was represented by a Conservative in the last house. In Hants Co., Attorney General Drysdale has 100 majority, but his colleague, Mr. McElroy was defeated.

Two members of the government without portfolio, were defeated, Hon. H. H. Wickwire in Kings and Hon. Geo. Patterson in Pictou. In the former county an independent Liberal, who represented a strong element of the party to whom Wickwire was not satisfactory, has been elected.

In Pictou the temperance vote is partly responsible for Mr. Patterson's defeat, the Conservative candidates having declared for prohibition. The Conservatives elected two men, Tanner and Baillie, in Pictou, MacMillan in Inverness, where four Liberals were running, Wilcox in Hants and Landry in Richmond.

The victory of three Liberal candidates in Halifax is the notable feature of the contest, Hon. David MacPherson, Geo. E. Faulkner and R. E. Finn having received majorities ranging from eleven hundred to twelve hundred.

Premier Murray wired from North Sydney last night the following message: "I fully appreciate the overwhelming renewal of confidence on the part of the electors of Nova Scotia which the government has received. I accept this striking verdict of the people as an evidence that the record of the government was in the best interests of the province. It will be my earnest desire to continue to administer provincial affairs on broad and progressive lines."

Each county in the province returns two members, except Halifax and Pictou, which return one each. Victoria elected Premier Murray and his colleague by acclamation, and Antigonish did the same for Hon. C. P. Chrisholm and his colleague, all Liberals.

A certain Congressman from Virginia had long retained in his employ a colored man by the name of Ezekiel. One morning the master left the house, leaving behind him a letter he had forgotten. Some time in the afternoon he remembered the communication, and, as it was of some importance, he hastened back home, only to find that the letter was nowhere to be seen in his library. He had a distinct recollection that the letter had been left on a table. He summoned Ezekiel and asked if he had seen the letter.

"Yes, sah, you left it on yo' table."

"Then where is it now?"

"I mailed it, sah."

"You mailed it? Why, Zeke, I had not put the name and address on the envelope."

"Jes' so, sah! I thought it was one of dem anonymous letters." — American Spectator.

"Mr. Gidsmore," began the young man, "when you proposed to your wife—or to the estimable lady who is now Mrs. Gidsmore—did she tell you to ask her father?"

"She did, my boy," affably replied Mr. Gidsmore.

"And did you try to shirk the job?—I believe I tried to get her to do the asking, 'pon my soul. Ha, ha!"

"Well, come," to think of it, I did."

"And when you did ask him—of course you had to speak to him finally—"

"Of course I did. Of course."

"And when you did ask him, did your knees shake, and was your tongue dry and did you have stage fright generally?"

"I was scared to death."

"Well, that's the way I feel. I told Gladys I knew I could find some mutual bond of sympathy between us when I came to tell you that she has promised to marry me."—Life.

A business man on York street, who was about to engage a pretty girl from the commercial college as a stenographer, asked:

"Can you keep your mind on your work?"

"Yes, if you will keep your mind on yours."
