BLOODY BATTLE.

Anarchists Attacked Warsaw Bank and Were Repulsed—Several People Killed.

Warsaw, Russia, May 25.—(Special.)—A brief but bloody battle took place here at 12.30 this afternoon, at the Industrial Savings Bank, which was attacked by a band of anarchists. The latter with revolvers in their hands, ordered the clerks and customers present to hold up their hands. The chief clerk promptly drew a revolver and fired at the intruders. This was the sign for a brisk fusillade, during which two of the customers were killed, two other customers, five clerks and one of the anarchists wounded. The anarchists escaped carrying off their wounded.

MADE DISCOVERY.

St. John Board of Health Suspect Milk Supply Responsible for Typhoid Out- break—Dealers Under the Ban.

St. John, May 25.—(Special.)—The board of health met this morning and considered the typhoid fever situation in connection with the local milk supply. As a result, the board put the ban on two Bloomfield milkmen and a local agent who handled their milk here. Secretary Burns visited Bloomfield and found that at one farm there had been a recent case of typhoid and at another the sanitary conditions were poor. Both must satisfy the board that there will be no further danger of infection before they are again allowed to sell milk. The board also adopted regulations to improve conditions in the milk supply.

TARTARS LOST BOTH.

Local Ball Players Taken into Camp by Moncton Trojans.

The base ball season was opened here yesterday, when the Tartars played two games with the Moncton Trojans at Scully's Grove and lost both of them. The Moncton boys took the morning game by the score of 6 to 5, and the afternoon game went their way by the score of 11 to 7. The Tartars were up against hard luck and the wonder is that they did as good a showing as they did. They counted on winning at least one of the games, and certainly would have done so but for a flagrant breach of faith on the part of Ernie Boone, who pitched the afternoon game for Moncton. On Wednesday the Tartars closed an agreement with Boone to come from Moncton and pitch the afternoon game. It seems that after dickering with the Tartars and having his terms accepted, he sold out to the Trojans. They did not learn of his breach of faith until late Wednesday night and it being too late then to get a substitute, there was nothing to do but to let Malloy go it alone. He did splendid work in the forenoon game, but in the afternoon game he found the strain a pretty severe one. There was a good attendance of spectators, which shows that the good old game has lost none of its popularity here. The Fredericton Brass Band played to the grounds in the morning and let the people know there was something doing. Mayor McNally pitched the first ball at 10.30, and did very well, considering that he has been out of training ever since the disorganization of the Queensbury nine. The game was a very good one, and made plenty of excitement for the fans. Arthur Finnemore, who played for Moncton, had several squabbles with the umpire, and at one time threatened to leave the field. A feature of the game was a home run by Pete McFarlane, who landed the ball over the wicket fence. At the beginning of the 9th inning the score stood 6 to 1 in favor of the Tartars added another to their list and a sensational catch by Humphrey prevented them from trying the score. Following is the summary:

AFTERNOON GAME.
From the spectators' standpoint the afternoon game was scarcely up to the morning one. Boone was in the box for Moncton and there were some changes in the personnel of the Tartars team. The Tartars made a very good showing under the circumstances, but the work of both teams was a trifle rocky. The Trojans had some costly errors early in the game and seemed to get badly rattled. CRAZY YANKEE SOLDIER.

Who Objected to the Union Jack and
It Had to Come Down.

Jackson, Mich., May 25.—(Special.)—The sight of a British flag flying from the staff of the City Hospital yesterday caused Mike Maloney, formerly a United States soldier in the Philippines, to make a red hot Celtic protest to the matron. The flag had been thrown to the breeze at the request of a Canadian nurse Miss Maud Carven, but Maloney would have none of this, and finally the jack came down.

THE STOCK MARKET.

Montreal, May 25.—(Special.)—The stock market was quiet this morning, with the exception of Montreal Power. That issue, however, scored a rise of a point and a half, the morning opening at 93 and going up to 94. Other stocks in which there was activity were:

CARRIES SECRET TO GRAVE.

Manchester, Dead at Tiverton, Once Arrested for Wife's Murder—Bones Found.

Providence, R. I., May 25.—Gideon Manchester, for a quarter of a century in charge of the stone was found dead in bed at Tiverton yesterday. Taero died with him some believe, the secret of his wife's death many years ago. Manchester made several voyages in New Bedford ships. One day his young wife left home in the early hours of the morning, going through the woods to meet him. She was never seen again and it is believed by the neighbors that she had met Manchester and had sailed with him on a whaling ship. Two years later Manchester returned to Tiverton. Questioned as to his wife he denied all knowledge of her movements saying he had left her at home and it was there she ought to be. Later some rings which Mrs. Manchester had worn were found in New Bedford. Manchester was arrested for murder, but was discharged for lack of evidence.

Years later, during the building of an electric railroad, part of a bank on Manchester's property was washed away and the bones of a woman in a crude box were uncovered. The people of Tiverton have connected the finding of these bones with the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Manchester.

A VERSE FOR CANADA.

The suggestion was lately made by a gentleman who is deeply interested in promoting a sense of Canadian nationality that a verse should be added to the National Anthem for special use in this country. This drew forth the following attempt from a friend of the Aberdeen Association:

"Bless thou this land of ours,
Sunshine and fruitful showers
Bring it increase.
May it its right maintain,
May justice o'er it reign,
Its honor know no stain,
No end its peace."
Can any reader of The Herald send us a better?—The Aberdeen Visitor.

Miss Mabel Finn of St. John, is in the city, the guest of Miss Mabel Burchill.

THE LAST SAD TRIBUTE.

Remains of the Late J. D. Fowler Followed to the Grave by Hundreds of Citizens.

In the presence of a large gathering of prominent citizens and mourned by the members of many fraternal societies, the mortal remains of the late Mr. James D. Fowler, were committed to their last resting place in the rural cemetery this afternoon. It was one of the largest and most imposing funerals the city has seen for many a day, and manifested the greatest esteem in which the deceased was held by his fellow citizens.

The funeral took place from the home at Brunswick street at 2.30 o'clock Rev. Sub-Dean Street having previously conducted a short service for the members of the family.

The funeral was under the auspices of Hiram Lodge, F. and A. M., but the members of Victoria Lodge, and also the Knights of Pythias turned out to honor the memory of their departed brother.

The Fredericton Brass Band led the procession, and next came Fowler Company of the 11th P. uniform rank, in command of Capt. W. H. Grey. The members of Fredericton Lodge No. 6, came next, then the members of Victoria Lodge, I. O. O. F., and the members of Hiram Lodge, which is the senior fraternal society and immediately preceded the hearse. Eight members of Fredericton Royal Arch Chapter officiated as pall bearers, viz., Alex. Burchill, W. S. Hooper, J. H. Hawthorn, J. H. Limerick, J. F. McMurray, M. Tennant, R. S. Barker and Austin Dunphy.

Mr. George Y. Dibblee acted as director of ceremonies, and after the casket containing the remains had been conveyed to the hearse, he gave the order to march and the long procession moved off to the strains of the Dead March from the band. On arriving at the Cathedral the ranks were opened and the casket was carried into the edifice and placed in front of the altar. The funeral service was conducted by Sub-Dean Street, assisted by Rev. J. R. DeWolf, Cowie and Rev. C. W. Forster, and was most beautiful and impressive. The hymns rendered by the choir were "Lead Kindly Light," "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me," and "There is a green hill far away." The body was encased in a beautiful cloth covered casket with silver mountings. Deceased was laid out in full masonic regalia and the crosses and swords of the Royal Arch Chapter were displayed on the coffin. At the conclusion of the service the funeral cortege reformed and slowly

MAKING GOOD SETTLERS.

Doukhobors Have Been Much Misrepresented.

That the Doukhobors have been the subject of unfair statements, and that in his estimation they are getting along well and making excellent settlers and citizens, is the statement made by Mr. Fraser Aylesworth, Dominion Land Surveyor, who has spent considerable time amongst these interesting people.

According to Mr. Aylesworth's accounts they are introducing the latest machinery, and are using horses, cows and oxen the same as anybody else. They undertook to buy three hundred horses from the villagers from stock ranchers around Calgary, but as they could not obtain a suitable kind of animal they had to postpone the purchase.

They have bought ten or fifteen 40 horse-power steam engines, which they use in the summer for breaking breaking ground, attaching four breakers and a disc to each engine, which thus breaks fifteen acres a day; then in the fall they use the engines for thrashing and to run grist mills, and in the winter to run sawmills.

"They were dumped down haphazard," said Mr. Aylesworth, "when they first came, and had to put up rude shacks to live in, but now every community is building a new village of a very good class of houses. Also this year they started a brick yard at Virginia's Siding, on the Canadian Northern, two miles south of the line, where they manufactured one and a half million bricks, also a circular cement brick for curbing walls. They have had such success that they are now building a new plant of much larger proportions. They buy the material from Canadian manufacturers.

"Their crops are unprecedented; 40 bushels to the acre of wheat. They are getting along finely. "There is a great deal of misconception with regard to these people," added Mr. Aylesworth. "Of the ten thousand population distributed in 53 villages, only about four hundred took part in that march three years ago, and the Doukhobors everywhere repudiate that outbreak of the 'crazy ones,' as they call them. Their reserve is probably the finest hunting park in the world, as they don't shoot chickens or game. I myself shot 25 chickens there one afternoon."

Old MINISTER'S SUICIDE.
Body was Discovered Suspended From a Tree

New York, May 25.—A special to The World from Cincinnati, says—The Rev. Charles Dingdile, aged 85, committed suicide by hanging some time yesterday in a secluded spot near Glen Park, Ky., after he had gashed his wrists in an attempt to sever the arteries. The body was discovered suspended from a tree. For almost half a century the Rev. Mr. Dingdile had preached regularly to a small congregation at Tug Fork church. Without relatives or a home and carrying a weight of years, it is believed the old preacher gave way to despondency. The last seen of him alive he was sitting at the roadside in front of the little church in which he preached for a lifetime.

A travelling salesman in the employ of a large bicycle manufacturer in Philadelphia was obliged to go on a business trip into the west about the time that an interesting domestic event was expected. The salesman desired his sister to wire him the results, according to a formula like this:

"If a boy, 'Man's safety arrived,' and if a girl, 'Lady's safety arrived.'"

To the astonishment and chagrin of the father elect he had been gone but a few days when he received a telegram containing but one word: "Tandem."

Old Lady—What are you crying for, little boy?
Boy—Please, mum, my brother's lost is new hat.
Old Lady—But surely you needn't cry about it.
