KING OF GAZUM WANTS TEACHERS.

Cannibal Ruler Promises That He Will Not Eat Any of Them if They Go to West Africa

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—The King of the Gazum wants teachers, preferably young men with college educations, refinement of manners, pleasant address and a fair knowledge of medicine and plant life. He wants them as soon as possible, and he thinks he is offering a golden opportunity to youths with ambitions to become famous in West Africa. To those who will join the monarch's household and seek to instruct his adherents the best habitation in the land of the Gazum, the finest of the cattle, and in brief the best that can be furnished him, will be given. The monarch is extremely generous, within his means and the pay will be very liberal.

The King, however, is a cannibal, and he is having considerable difficulty in obtaining men to fill the jobs. Information about the positions is given by Charles Kurtzhall, of No. 329 East Walnut lane, Germantown. Mr. Kurtzhall is the secretary of the Sudan United Mission and is thoroughly familiar with the Northern Nigeria country. Several years ago he met the King of the Gazum. The King told him that it was true that he occasionally feasted on human flesh, and was surprised to learn that his favorite dish was never served at any of the banquets in the white man's country.

The King, however, stated that it was seldom that he ate any young persons, but always served the aged and sick persons. Ther are no cemeteries in the land of Gazum.

"It would be a pity to waste the meat," said the King to Mr. Kurtzhall. The land of the Gazum is situated in the heart of Northern Nigeria, which is now under the domination of the English. He is a powerful monarch within his realm, but, excepting his cannibayl tastes, is said to be a kindly disposed king.

BAR FOR STUDENTS OWNED BY CURATOR.

W. C. T. U. Makes Surprising Disclosure About Princeton Drink Demon.

New York, Sept. 12.—The first gun of the season in the war against drinking at Princeton University which is being waged by the local Women's Christian Temperance Union was fired yesterday, when the society made known its discovery that Henry C. Bunn, curator of grounds and buildings had purchased a saloon. The saloon was formally opened to students yesterday, simultaneously with the society's announcement. The place is known as the Nassau Inn, and was purchased last June by Bunn from A. D. Cook, the former proprietor. The records at the County Court House in Trenton show that the purchase price was $145,000, of which $10,000 was paid down to bind the deal on April 2, 1906.

When Mrs J. V. Bickford, the president of the W. C. T. U., said that the officials af the university "winked at the students drinking" there was much consternation and many denials. Mrs. Bickford is the wife of a Princeton millionaire and prominent in temperance and church work.

At the opening of the Nassau Inn bar there was no Bishop Potter demonstration or any other kind. It was unostentatious, and no attempt was made to inform the many students who have arrived of the fact. For this reason only about a score of students took advantage of the opening. They were orderly.

The bar was formerly located at the eastern end of the building, but since the purchase it has been removed to the basement under the hotel, where two large grill rooms have been installed. These rooms are extravagantly furnished in old mission style.

It is probable that the W. C. T.U. will take the matter up with President Woodrow Wilson as soon as he arrives from England.

"You advertise that you guarantee these bathing suits," she said. "What do you mean by that? In what way do you guarantee them?"

"We guarantee them to shrink, madam," courteously replied the merchant.

"You many send me one."—Judge.

SOCIETY WOMAN MARRIAGE BROKER.

Sold Heiress to British Nobleman on a Basis of a 30 Per Cent Commission.

London, Sept. 13.—British society is never without a marriage broker ready to quote prices on lords and heiresses. The extraordinary case of the Marquis of Townshead disclosed nothing in the way of buying aad selling titles that certain Americans in London have not known of for some time.

In this week's Truth, Henry Labouchere prints a series of letters—the names being withheld, of course—exposing the ways of persons of higher position in society than Messrs. Dunn, Rollins and Sutherst of Townshend case notoriety. The marriage broker in this instance was a lady occupying a well appointed house in London and member of a fashionable ladies' club. She addressed the following letter to the Hon. A.—— younger son of a peer, to whom she was quite unknown:

"July 31, 1902.

"Sir: This letter will be given or sent to you by Capt. R—M—, who told me that you would be willing to marry, provided that the lady had sufficient money to tempt you. I happen to know of a very nice girl, well born, and in all points suitable. She has £3,000 a year of her own, rather the capital represeoting this income, and she would be willing to give her future husband £10,000 cash I can introduce you, but as this is strictly a business matter, would you be agreeable to pay £3,000 out of this £10,000 when you receive this sum on your wedding day—of course, no money, no commission."

Mr. A——, determined to get to the bottom of the matter, kept an appointment and ultimately signed an agreement drafted by the lady as follows:

"Dear Mrs. ——: In the event of my marrying through your introduction, and of my receiving on such marriage the sum of £70,000, (ten thousand pounds), for myself, I agree to pay you out of that sum as and when received, the sum of three thousand pounds (£3,000) by way of commission for such introduction leading to marriage, but it must be clearly understood that the introduction is throagh you or your nominees, the lady in question is to have a fortune of £3,000 (three thousand pounds) a year in her own right, and to pay me for myself £10,000 to be paid over to my solicitors, Messrs. ——, in the presence of your solicitor, and the sum of £3,000 deducted on the morning of the marriage and handed to you or your nominees. No marriage, no commission. All correspondence to be returned by both sides."

Then the lady went a step further, writing this:

"Sept. 8, 1902.

"I want to get you settled first, then I want you to being to me Lord ——, as I know a girl for him, £250,000 and two properties of her own, age 26, very pretty. She is the one I told you about, and she requires a coronet. I am quite willing to give you a share of the commission."

Determined to probe the system, Mr. A. ——followed the lady's suggestions and received a general retainer to introduce noble bridegroom on the condition of receiving a third of the lady's commission—no marriage, no commission. He drew on his imagination in suggesting clients and received the following reply:

"October 25, 1902.

"Dear Mr. A—— I heard from Lady F— that the little widow answered your letter and said as soon as she was settled she would be glad to see you.

"Also I hear from J——that your nephew has not arrived yet. Coul you not write to Lord X—— asking him if he would like to marry a rich, very rich wife, as the lady I know has more money than your little widow, £8,000 to £10,000 a year, but is a little older."

Then Mr. A—— let the matter drop Mr. Labouchere has little doubt the prospective brides really existed, but believes they were unaware of the way in which they were to be disposed of.

BECOMES INSANE THROUGH WORRY.

Brick's Defalcation Makes Nervous Wreck of Head of Manufacturing Firm.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 13.—Henry K. Wampole, the millionaire chemical manufacturer, while being taken from here to a sanitarium in New York, escaped from his nurse at Jersey City While it is believed he has made his way to his home in Merion, near here, his family and physicians refuse to give out any information. Mr. Wampole's condition is said to have been caused through worry over the disappearance of W. H. Brick, the manager of the Perth (Canada) branch of the big chemical works. who absconded with $40,000 of the firm's money, and the mental worriment of Mr. Wampole then became so great that it made a nervous wreck of him. The belief that his partners in the business would think him careless in the management of the firm's affairs caused Mr. Wampole's nervousness. This is explained by the fact that Mr. Wampole's partners left the direction of the chemical works and the business in his hands. Brick was a man in whom Mr. Wampole placed great confidence, and he was given by the head of the firm power of attorney to do business as he pleased. The manager proved faithless and absconded with $40,000. This worried Mr. Wampole. The strain finally caused a breakdown, and his relatives concluded that a long rest would be beneficial.

Wampole and his nurse put up at the New Trenton Hotel, in Jersey City, Saturday night, The two occupied rooms on the third floor, and while the nurse was answering a telephone call in the office Mr. Wampole got away. The nurse was out of the room but a few minutes when his charge seized his hat and darted down the stairs.

H. W. Brick, late manager of the Perth branch of the Henry K. Wampole Company, is well known in Montreal, his business relations bringing him here quite frequently. He disappeared from Toronto some weeks ago with the $40,000 mentioned in the above despatch, and is believed to be in Japan. In addition to his shortages with the company by whom he was employed, Brick is said to be indebted to the Toronto Baseball Club of which he was secretary last season, in the sum of $3,000. Warrants for his arrest have been prepared at the instance of a guarantee company, which has had to make good a part of his defalcations, and they will be executed as soon as he is located.

THE METHODIST LEADER.

Rev. Dr. Carman Vigorous in His Old Age.

The General Superintendency of the Methodist Church in Canada is a great post. Its occupant, Rev. Dr. Albert Carman, who is presiding at the General Conference, in Montreal, although he has passed the span of life indicated by the Psalmist, is one of the most forceful orators of the day. After hearing a fiery call to the watch tower, couched in the imagery Dr. Carman is so great a master of, one learns with surprise that the General Superintendent was born in June, 1833, over seventy-three years ago. He is of U. E. Loyalist stock on both sides, and was born at Iroquois, where his father was a man of substance, and a prominent figure in public affairs.

Dr. Carman ripened early. He took his B. A. at Victoria in 1855, and in the same year, at the age of two and twenty, became head master of Dundas Grammar School. Two years later he went to what is now known as Albert College, then Belleville Seminary, to teach mathematics. In 1858 he became Principal, and remained there till 1874, when he was chosen Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in Canada. After the union of 1883 he became General Superintendent of the strongest of Canada's Protestant churches, and has been re-elected from time to time ever since. Of his present term he has still four years to serve.

Dr. Carman has acquired the habit of expediting business even at the expense of oratory and discursiveness. Here and there murmurs are heard in favor of wider latitude of debate, but the General Superintendent who must run the vast ecclesiastical machine on something like schedule time, is not likely to let the conference get out of hand.

Between the ages of fifteen and forty-five, the time when womanhood begins and motherhood ends, it is estimated that the aggregate term of woman's suffering is ten years. Ten years out of thirty! One third of the best part of a woman's life sacrificed Think of the enormous loss of time! But time is not all that is lost. Those years of suffering steal the bloom from the cheeks, the brightness from the eyes, the fairness from the form. They write their record in many a crease and wrinkle. What a boon then to woman, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It promotes perfect regularity, dries up debilitating drains, heals ulceration, cures female weakness, and establishes the delicate womanly organs in vigorous and permanent health. No other medicine can do for woman what is done by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The tramp tarried at the door in rags and tatters.

"What do you want?" asked the master of the house sternly.

"Please, sir," whined the beggar, "I-m lookin' for work. Have you any scrubbin' or washin' or cleanin' of any kind whatsoever?"

The master paused, thinking how mistaken he had been in imagining the tramp was a lazy vagabond.

"No one," he said, "would have thought you wanted work of that kind."

"No more I do," whined the tramp "It's work for my wife I'm lookin' for."

NEW TERMINAL PORT FOR C.P. R. LINES.

Will Save Three Hours by Landing Passengers at a Port in Wales.

According to advices received at the C. P. R. Steamship Department Montreal Wednesday a small village in Pembrokeshire, South Wales, by the name of Fishguard, is likely to be the British port of the C. P. R. steamships next year.

Fishguard is 115 nautical miles nearer Quebec than is Liverpool and during the past few years it has been made one of the best sea ports of Great Britain. Those who were interested in making Fishguard into an attractive port, did not spare expense or labor. They have had over 2,000,000 tons of rock blasted out, to make the harbor and the returns they have had, in a shipping way, during the last six months have justified their expectations.

If the C. P. R. boats go to Fishguard, the passengers may land and take the Great North Western to London and arrive there three hours ahead of the time that they would reach the Metropolis if they landed at Liverpool.

A QUESTION OFTEN ASKED.

Why so many people feel worse after taking pills than before? Trouble is that drastic pills are used. No remedial action is obtained, the bowels are irritated and dreadful constipation follows. In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills you are scarcely conscious of having taken medicine. Although very mild, Dr. Hamilton's Pills do regulate the bowels, stimulate normal action of the glands; and create neither nausea, griping or violent action. Positively guaranteed for biliousness, indigestion, stomach, liver and kidney ills. For a safe family pill rely on Dr. Hamilton's 25c. per box at all dealers.
