Suffered for years with Stomach Trouble

"Fruit-a-tives" promptly cured her.

Stomach Trouble is usually bowel trouble. The bowels become constipated. Poisonous matter, which should leave the bowels every day, stays in the bowels, two and three days at a time. These poisons paralyze the stomach muscles, prevent the digestive juices from reaching the food, and stop the whole process of digestion.

Mrs. F. H. WALLACE, St. Mary's, Ont.: "I have used most of one box of 'Fruita-tives,' and found them all right. I have had a good chance to recommend them as I have been in bed for a week with a bilious attack and am getting around fine thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives.'"

Doctors talk of dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach when they should talk of Constipation.

Fruit-a-tives or Fruit Liver Tablets cure Stomach Troubles because they tone, sweeten and stimulate the stomach and they cure the Constipation which is the chief cause of dyspepsia. These concentrated and specially combined fruit juice tablets act directly on the liver—increase the flow of bile—and make the bowels move regularly and naturally every day.

More than that. "Fruit-atives" regulate the kidneys—strengthen them—make them excrete more urine—and rid the system of excessive urea and uric acid. They stimulate the glands of the skin to increased action—take away pimples and redness—and keep the skin clear, soft and lovely.

A month's treatment with "Fruit-a-tives" will make you think you had a new stomach.
See a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Sent prepaid on receipt of price if your druggist should not have them.

G. T. P. TENDERS.

Successful Contractors Must Put up Accepted Cheque for $650,000 as Guarantee for Building 395 Miles.

Montreal, March 9.—Up to Monday next at noon tenders will be received by Chairman Parent and his fellow commissioners for the construction of 395 miles of railway forming a part of the government section of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway.

Some time ago it was stated that at least twenty firms would tender for the eastern sections, but it now looks as if the number would be reduced to five or six, which will include some of the strongest contracting combinations on the continent.
It also looks as if reputable Canadian firms would be given the preference over United States tenders.

All who tender for the 245 miles between Winnipeg and Lake Superior Junction will have to produce an accepted cheque on a Canadian bank for $400,000, and anyone who is desirous of constructing the 150 miles from Quebec westward will be obliged to put up the sum of $250,000, so it looks as if the days of weak contracting firms are over and that the concern which secures these contracts will be able to carry them through.

Men who have gone over the ground say that 3,500 men can build the western section before September 1907. The successful execution of the work is largely a question of organization, and those who ought to know declare that the difficulties from the Manitoba capital to the junction are not so numerous as first supposed.

The engineers believe that within six weeks of the signing of the contract the work at many points will be in full swing. All admit that this is a contract which no weakling can touch, and if the G. T. P. Company are to get their share of the crop to Lake Superior by the fall of 1907, these contracts will have to be awarded to the strongest of concerns.

It is forecasted that one firm will get the western and another the Quebec section, as the dividing of such a heavy responsibility at that which attends the building of such an important piece of railway as the 245 miles might be fatal to the success of the undertaking.

It is estimated that the western portion will cost $8,000,000, and the eastern $4,500,000, but these sums do not include ties and rails. These latter contracts will have to be given separately. Matters, however, will have to be hastened, as experienced contractors aver that the delivery of the rails and ties will have to be begun by July 1.

"TOLSTOI IN HELL."

Picture in Russian Church Does Justice to the Subject.

The Novoe Vremya throws a strong light upon the repulsive methods employed by the Russian parochial clergy for combating the influence of Count Tolstoi.

In a church in the village of Tasovo, in the province of Kursk, there is a picture representing "Tolstoi in Hell," and, to do the painter justice, he seems to have arisen to the possibilities of the subject. To omit minor details, however, picturesque, Tolstoi is depicted as lying in a huge cathodron, from under which flames shoot all around, while demons of the most infernal kind dance about with fiendish glee. The journal claims to have verified this picture for itself.

BRITAIN WILL DEPEND ON NAVY.

Secretary of War Announces Abandonment of Coast Defences—More than 300 Guns to be Dismantled and Troops Withdrawn from Wei-Hai-Wei.

London, March 9.—In introducing the army estimates amounting to nearly $150,000,000, in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, War Secretary Haldane announced at the outset that the Liberals did not wish to destroy the army, but required greater efficiency at less expenditure.

The government accepted what he denominated as the "blue water" principle, namely, that the navy at its present strength was capable of defending Great Britain from invasion, and, though this strong navy was a costly thing, it was very useful, as it made it impossible to cut off much of what otherwise would be necessary army expenditure.

In pursuance of this principle of depending on the navy, it had been decided that the ammunition stores constructed for the defence of London were unnecessary and would immediately be rooted up, some 300 guns mounted for defence purposes at various points along the coast would be swept away, the troops at Wei-Hai-Wei, China, would be withdrawn, and some colonial garrisons would be reduced.

These changes did not involve an enormous sum, but marked the beginning of economy. The British navy which would be required for over sea purposes must be of a high quality, which was not obtainable through conscription, and should be strictly limited in dimensions. The size of the army depended chiefly on policy, and Mr. Haldane wished the nations would consider together whether a reduction could not be made in the armament burden which was pressing on every civilized nation.

INDIAN FRONTIER IN NO DAN- GER.

Continuing, the war minister said he thought that the northwest frontier of India was no longer endangered and later he pointed out that Great Britain was not alone in spending enormous sums for the army. He instanced Germany and France and added:

"The United States is a very efficient nation and confined itself to a regular army of 60,000 men. Nevertheless, that army costs close to $115,000,000."

Explaining the increase of 158,710, 000 in the cost of the army at present, compared with the cost in 1896, the war secretary said that the pensioned men then were 156,174, while now they were 204,100.

In 1896 a soldier cost $315, but now the cost was $405. The average cost of an officer now was $2,470, compared with $2,250 in 1896. He also explained the increases in the cost of army reserve, militia, yeomanry and volunteers. In South Africa alone, he pointed out, the number of troops had been increased by 13,000, and each soldier there cost $750 a year.

Great Britain, said the war minister, will never be able to reduce her striking force without providing some power of expansion behind it at home.

He suggested as a possible device a system of dividing the period of training into two parts; one preliminary and elastic, giving men the elements of military training, and the other reserved for the period following an outbreak of hostilities, which would be devoted to more severe training. But all training must be voluntary. Anything like conscription would defeat its merits and the training should be decentralized and the work of the military and local government of the people themselves.
Then no government would go to war unless the people supported them.

The secretary announced that by March 31 two army corps at home will have been completely retrained, the infantry receiving the short rifle which experts had declared to be the best weapon.

THE TONIC OF HEALTH.

Must be more than a stimulant—must be a food as well. There is one medicine that is both a food and a tonic,—it aids digestion, promotes assimilation, converts food into nutriment that builds up nerves, blood, brain and bone. That tonic is Fer-rozene, which contains exactly what a run-down system needs. Ferrozene supplies oxygen to purify the blood, phosphorus to develop the brain, iron to harden the muscles. No wonder it makes such vigorous men and women. You'll eat, sleep, think and feel better by using Ferrozene; try it—now. Fifty cents buys a box tablets, at all dealers.

DIED POOR BUT GRATEFUL.

Passage in the Will of the Late William Galbraith.

William Galbraith, J. P., who was born in Dunbarton, Scotland, in 1832 and died in Toronto on August 17, 1905, left $350 in household goods, jewelry, etc., and $31 cash in the bank—total $381. In his last will and testament, in which he divided his few belongings among his children and his wife, Mr. Galbraith expressed regret that circumstances deprived him of the pleasure of leaving more to his surviving relatives. He was grateful, however, for the "goodness and mercy of the Heavenly Father," and concluded his will with a passage of scripture to that effect.

H. R. H. PRINCE ARTHUR.

Will Visit the Principal Cities in the Provinces of Quebec and Ontario Over Grand Trunk Railway System.

The present indications are that H.
R. H. Prince Arthur of Connaught will arrive in Canada from Japan the beginning of April next, and enroute to the Pacific Coast will proceed by special train over different Western Canadian railways to Edmonton, Winnipeg and Port Arthur, arriving in Ottawa about April 15th.

After spending about a week at the capital, the Grand Trunk Railway System will provide a special train for his use to visit the principal cities in Quebec and Ontario, and it is probable that the party will leave Ottawa about April 20th, for Toronto, spending a few days in that city, then proceeding to Niagara Falls, and from Niagara Falls the party will return over the Grand Trunk double-tracked line en route to the Maritime Provinces, returning from there to the Cities of Quebec and Montreal.

The train will be furnished for the Prince and his entourage will be one of the finest and most complete models of elegance that modern methods can produce. The Grand Trunk official car, "Violet," one of the handsomest, most comfortable and complete palaces on wheels, and used by the President of the Grand Trunk on his visits to Canada, will be placed at the disposal of His Royal Highness. The balance of the train will be made up of the latest and most exquisite creations of the Pullman Company, and will be occupied by his suite.

The trip over the Grand Trunk will cover a portion of the only double track system in Canada and will give the Prince a good idea of the railways in this country, as it is the opinion of practical men that the road bed and general equipment of the Grand Trunk is unexcelled on this continent.
