KING CHRISTIAN'S DEATH.

Father of Queen Alexandra Passes Away at Ripe Old Age Sincerely Regretted.

PRINCE FREDERICK, HIS SUCCESSOR, FORMALLY PROCLAIMED KING.

Copenhagen, Jan. 30.—Christian the Ninth, the aged King of Denmark, dean of the crowned heads of Europe, father of King George of Greece, of Queen Alexandra of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the Dowager Empress Maria Feodorovna of Russia, grandfather of King Hakon, the seventh, of Norway, and related by blood or by marriage to most of the European rulers, died with startling suddenness in the Amalienburg palace yesterday afternoon.

The accession of his successor, Prince Frederick, his eldest son, who will be known as Frederick the Eighth, was proclaimed today.

The following official bulletin was issued last evening:

"His majesty died at 3.30 in the afternoon. After his majesty had brought the morning's audience to a conclusion he appeared to be quite well and proceeded to luncheon as usual. Towards the end of the meal he gave evidence of indisposition and was compelled to retire to bed at 2.30 p. m. His majesty passed away peacefully, the symptoms indicating heart failure."

The death of King Christian has plunged half the courts of Europe into the deepest mourning and brought a sense of personal loss as well as of sincere grief to everyone throughout the kingdom of Denmark, reaching even to the humblest cottage, evidences of which are shown everywhere. It has cast a pall over the palaces of the monarchs of Great Britain, Russia, Norway and Greece.

The quick taking away of this distinct personality who has for so long been a centre of interest not only in his own country but throughout the civilized world, almost paralyzed the community and unnerved the business world of Denmark.

Every flag in the city is at half-mast, all the places of amusement are closed and the people walk the streets as though they were passing through the chamber of death.

King Christian appeared to be in his usual health yesterday morning. After taking breakfast he held a public audience which it has been his custom to do every Monday morning. The reception yesterday was largely attended and his majesty conversed freely and affably with a number of officials and other persons. When the function was over the King though appearing to be slightly fatigued, attended luncheon with the members of his family, among them being the Dowager Empress of Russia and his brother, General Prince Hans. During the meal his majesty complained of indisposition and was assisted to his bedroom by the Dowager Empress and Prince Hans. A court physician was quickly summoned. By the time he arrived the King had collapsed. The physician used prompt restoratives, but his efforts were useless, and King Christian expired almost without uttering a word, in the arms of the Dowager Empress and in the presence of the court physician and Prince Hans.

Just as the king breathed his last, Crown Prince Frederick, who had been summoned, entered the room and the other members of the royal family arrived shortly afterwards.

Premier Christensen last night tendered his resignation of the cabinet to the new king, who expressed a wish that the present ministry should continue to carry on the affairs of the government.

Both houses of parliament assembled when their respective presidents formally announced today the death of King Christian. At three o'clock the members will assemble in the hall of the Folkething to receive the royal message announcing the accession of Frederick the Eighth.

It had been known for some time that King Christian's health was failing. His physicians recommended a change of air and the king decided to take their advice. It was his intention to go south in the near future, accompanied by the Dowager Empress of Russia.

London, Jan. 30.—In view of the death of the King of Denmark, the official and other engagements in which the British court is concerned will be postponed or cancelled.

THE NEW KING.

The new king of Denmark, who will ascend the throne in his 62nd year, bears the weight of years lightly and is almost as popular with the people as was his father. By the wish of his parents he was brought up with great simplicity and his earlier education was obtained at the grammar school. It was Frederick's curious fate to see his younger brother and his own son become reigning monarchs of Greece and Norway respectively while he himself was still an heir apparent.

The new king has been highly popular since his earliest youth. His bearing is stately and his manner quiet. He is noted for his culture and possesses many foreign distinctions. While seldom openly identified with political questions, he has taken an active part in all public movements and is a constant attendant at all important debates in the Rigsdag. He is chancellor of the Copenhagen University and head of the Freemasons of Denmark, and is well known as a promoter of all philanthropic objects. His interest in the army, of which he is inspector-general, is keen, and he has introduced several reforms which have improved the lot of the private soldiers, as the result of which he is extremely popular with the troops.

The new queen, Louisa, is reported to be the tallest and richest princess in Europe. She is a handsome woman of the blonde type, and reflects the beauty of her famous grandmother, Desirée Clary, the tradesman's daughter, who captivated Bonaparte and married Marshal Bernadotte, who subsequently became King of Sweden and Norway. She and her husband have adhered to the plainness and simplicity characteristic of the Danish court, showing the nation the happy spectacle of a united couple living on terms of the closest affection and sympathy with their eight children.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Immediately on receipt of the news of the death of King Christian of Denmark, father of Queen Alexandra, flags were half-masted over parliament buildings, city hall, etc.

A negro preacher while speaking to an audience of his own color chanced to make use of the word "phenomenon." This rather puzzled some of the hearers, who at the close of the meeting asked to be informed of its meaning. Not knowing quite how to answer them the preacher put them off till the following Sunday when he thus explained:

"If you see a cow, that's not a 'phenomenon.' If you see a thistle that is not a 'phenomenon.' And if you see a bird that sings, that's not a 'phenomenon' either. But," he said, "if you see a cow sitting on a thistle and singing like a bird, then that's a 'phenomenon.'"
