GRAND -- REMOVAL -- SALE

FIERCE RIOTING AT WINNIPEG.

Military Called Out to Enforce Order--Street Railway Strike--Cars Smashed and Police Pelted With Mud.

Winnipeg, March 30.—The strike is not over, and conductors of the street railway, which was inaugurated quietly this morning, early developed sensational features and the company's efforts to run cars were absolutely futile and attended with mob violence and most unforeseen and unexpected horrors. Sympathizers of the strikers took matters into their own hands, defied the police and promptly proceeded to interrupt the semblance of a service attempted by wrecking cars. Probably never before have such scenes of excitement been witnessed on the streets of this city. Trolley ropes were cut, poles broken, fenders and windows smashed and strike-breakers and police alike were pelted with chunks of ice, mud and other missiles. By two o'clock p. m., eleven cars were wrecked and disabled on various parts of the system, and the company then retired temporarily from the field, discontinuing all effort to maintain a service. ASK FOR MILITARY PROTECTION.

Not a wheel is turning on the system tonight, but the directors express a determination to give the city and government will afford the necessary protection for property and employees. They have asked that the military be called out to assist the police, and it is confidently expected that the Mounted Rifles will be on duty tomorrow. Excitement has in no way abated yet tonight, sympathy for the strikers being generally manifested, and any attempt to run the cars would precipitate a clash. Hundreds of men, women and boys are wearing "We walk" placards as a demonstration of their feelings. The importation of strike-breakers from eastern cities and the south undoubtedly has aroused resentment and may be the cause of considerable of the disturbance. Ten arrests were made during the time when the early disorders were in progress, and the prisoners were fined. The civic authorities are determined to sternly meet any further such riotous scenes as occurred today, and preliminary to further repressive measures Mayor Sharp issued the following proclamation:

THE MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION.

"To the citizens of Winnipeg.—Whereas a strike has arisen between the employees of the Winnipeg Electric Street Railway Company and the said company, I request the co-operation of all true citizens to assist the police officers in maintaining order upon the streets and public places of the city. The law in regard to disorder and disturbances in the streets will be rigorously enforced. I would earnestly request the strikers and sympathizers to consider the importance of law and order being maintained. (Signed) Thos. Sharpe, Mayor, Winnipeg, March 30th."

The order for the military to hold themselves in readiness for duty was signed by his Worship, and Major trates Daly and Harris tonight.

Late this evening when the crippled cars were being towed back to the barns hostility was again manifested, and bricks and stones were hurled through the windows at the police and crews. The number of personal encounters are frequent, and some brutal assaults have been committed by both sides. One of those to share in these was Christianson, a big Swede, brought here from Chicago to marshal the company's forces. He was given a severe punishment in one of the hotels after having been unduly liberal with his fists. The strikers are not taking part in the disorders, the trouble being confined to sympathizers, and law-abiding citizens are hoping that such excesses will not occur in the future stages of the trouble.

THE HAPPINESS OF HOME.

Very largely depends on the mother's disposition. If she is animated and bright, everyone is happy; but if she is nervous, irritable and cross—everything goes wrong. Bright cheery women usually use Perrozene. By acting through the blood Perrozene is able to reach all the organs that need assistance; it establishes the regular and healthy actions of all functions, builds up general health, fortifies the system with a reserve of energy that defies disease. Don't put off—Perrozene costs only 50 cents at any drug store; get it today.

HALE ATTACKS ARMY INCREASE.

"Army Man and the Navy Man Go on Theory That the Government Is Run for Their Benefit," He Declares.

Washington, D. C., March 30.—The big Senate fight of some weeks ago over a bill "to increase the efficiency of the medical department of the army" was concluded today. Senator Hale, who opposed the measure because it was, in his opinion, part of the general staff's scheme to build up a larger army by instalments, was overwhelmingly outvoted.

Only Senators Spooner, Kean, Teller and Carmack stood with him, and 42 votes were registered in the bill's favor.

Senator Warren, chairman of the military committee, who had the bill in charge, stoutly urged the advantage of dispensing with contract surgeons.

"The army man and the navy man go on the theory that the government is run for their benefit," said Senator Hale, "but I do not believe the people generally want the army augmented in time of peace. On the contrary, they want it decreased, and it is not good legislation to increase the force, either in detail or in the total."

Branching off into a discussion of the navy, Mr. Hale said he would pit it against any navy in the world, except Great Britain, and that it would be folly to attempt to equal the naval establishment of that insular power. He believed that with the vessels now authorized completed our navy would be superior to the French navy, and the second in the world. He further expressed the opinion that no increase was necessary in the future, and that nothing more was necessary than to replace vessels as the existing ones become useless.

Senator Lodge said he agreed, in the main, with the contention of Senator Hale that the army should not be increased in time of peace, but he thought the bill a good one, and also thought there should be an increase of 5000 men for the coast artillery.

The bill passed by a vote of 42 to 5, and the Senate adjourned until Monday.

PAT CROWE TAKES TO LECTURE FIELD.

Ex-Bandit Will Start His Tour at Butte, Mont.—Will Show Reformers How Much Good Can Be Accomplished.

Butte, Mont., March 31.—After the many vicissitudes of his hard life Pat Crowe the hero of many kidnapping, train robbery and other bandit exploits, has decided to become a lecturer and will open his tour of the country in Butte.

The advance representative for "Pat Crowe, Lecturer," arrived in Butte this morning and preparations are now under way to make the opening lecture and impressive event.

Crowe will lecture at the Broadway Theatre, March 29.

Pat Crowe's lectures will be devoted to reform, to the causes of crime and to the harms of convict labor. Crowe announces that he will show the clergymen and prison reform societies the manner in which much good can be done.

He will admit in the course of his lecture that he has been in need of reformation. He says, though, that through it all his religion has stood by him and has in the end finally won out. He will never again do evil, at least that is his present determination, and even though the spirits move him to complete the unexpected job of removing some of the Rockefeller millions from their usefulness in the trust warfare upon humanity he will nevertheless battle with himself to restrain his evil instincts, from doing good for humanity; to wit, the removal of the millions from the trust.

The lecture is to be a serious bona fide affair. Pat Crowe has always shown himself to be a good talker and no one can make a better "front" than he.

"Indirectly, more forcible sometimes than directly," said Senator Foraker at a dinner, "a man may be accused."

"Thus a good woman of Cincinnati called her cook one morning and said: 'Mary, come and take the parrot out of the bedroom at once. The master has lect his collar button.'"

Every woman should possess some sort of a wrapper for wear in her hours of relaxation, yet not too much on the negligee order; something in which she would feel perfectly free to receive a chance caller. A soft scarflet challis is the material used in this instance, the small ring dot in black. The front is the regular Mother Hubbard pattern, while the back is fitted in to the figure by black lace in a matching pattern. And means of pleats in the centre back, this released at the waistline to make the necessary skirt fullness. A narrow pointed strap of the challis confines these pleats at the waistline and broad back liberty satin ribbons are set in the under-arm seams and tie in a bow at the front or side the streamers reaching almost to the hem. The yoke, which is cut in two points either side of the front closing, is outlined with black net lace insertion, from which falls a frill of black lace in a matching pattern. And the sleeve is simply a plain bishop finished with a narrow pointed end cuff.
