A LIVELY SESSION.

Methodist General Conference Listen to a Hot Discussion of Proposal to Divide Missionary Work.

Montreal, Sept. 21.—The Temperance and Moral Reform Committee of the Methodist general conference held an interesting session yesterday morning and grave differences of opinion came out as to the best way to treat the liquor question.

Prominent among the speakers were the Revs. Dobson, Brown, Cooley, Marshall and others, of whom Brown and Cooley favored the passing of a clause in the report stating in very strong terms that it was the duty of every elector to vote against a candidate who would not pledge himself to favor prohibition.

This was opposed as an effort to bind the conscience of the voter and was lost by a large majority. One very earnest member of the committee said their report was now like a bulldog that had been to the dentist and had his teeth pulled.

At a meeting of the book and publishing committee this morning it was resolved to ask the conference to divide the western book committee into two committees, to be known as the central and western committees, thus making three book committees—eastern, western and central. It will also be recommended that the four western conferences beginning with Manitoba, publish a new connexional paper in Winnipeg.

At the afternoon session the report of the missionary committee was taken up and an animated discussion ensued. The committee favored the policy of conducting two departments—home and foreign—under the control of two secretaries, with two sub-secretaries.

Dr. Sutherland opposed separating the department, but favored the idea of one fund, one board, and one policy, with one head to the whole department.

N. W. Rowell, K. C., of Toronto is the chief lay advocate of the change that gives two heads to the department. He said that Dr. Sutherland had no right to the responsibility of managing the church's missionary policy. That belongs to the mission board and not to any individual. He said that the missionary board spent its time in dealing with matters of detail instead of matters of general policy, whereas matters of detail should be left to officers appointed for that purpose. What does a board want to do with questions as to whether this man or that man should have medical expenses of a few dollars paid? He said he hoped that in the event of a change that Dr. Sutherland would still remain in the missionary department.

Dr. Ryckman seconded Mr. Rowell's motion for the change.

Dr. Sutherland spoke again to the question. He regretted that those who started this change had not taken him into their confidence and regretted the political methods and that his attitude had been misrepresented. The General Conference outlines the policy of the church and the committee, and the general secretary carry it out. No secretary may dictate, but no board may interfere with a secretary who remains within the limits of his orders. Let a sub-head in the book-room step over his duty and see how quickly he'll be brought to order. (Dr. Briggs—“Hear, hear.”) He said that he knew what the outcome of the sub-committee's deliberations would be for their opinions were known. (“No, no.”) They had at any rate told others. It had often seemed to him that the sole policy of many members of the missionary board had been to antagonize the secretary and oppose all he said. He had held his position during years when he had ofers of double the salary elsewhere. Unless he was allowed to manage the details of his office, the church could take back the commission given him 32 years ago.

Mr. Flavell wanted no government by an autocrat but by co-operation. When a work grows so large that a head loses touch with the worker it is time to call a halt.

Dr. Allison in an able speech said that it would be exceedingly unwise to change the policy of the church at this juncture. The only proposal is to have two autocrats instead of one. (Laughter and applause.) He moved that the whole matter be referred to a committee to bring in a report. He deprecated all personalities. This new proposition is for a hybrid and mongrel product and will destroy the whole work of the missionary department.

Dr. Crothers seconded Dr. Allison's motion.

Mr. Hilliard moved that there be a general secretary and two under-secretaries. Dr. Young supported the idea of a commission of inquiry. He favored having a head of affairs and drew a parallel from the civil government.

Dr. Sutherland suggested as a compromise that there be two general secretaries who in consultation with the board shall divide the work, one of these to be the secretary-treasurer and that there be two assistant secretaries to visit the fields.

The conference referred the report the report back to the committee to harmonize this suggestion with the committee's former report.

MARYSVILLE NEWS.

Sept. 21.—A jolly hunting party left here Tuesday for Stanley and vicinity to try their luck at big game. The party was headed by the old time sport, “Uncle Joe Robinson,” and the members of the company were Messrs. Harry and John Gibson, Millard Reid and other sports of note. Likely they will bag quite a lot of big game. At any rate the stories they will tell will be startling.

The Orangemen are talking of holding a mammoth bazaar in the Orange Hall on or about the 11th, 12th and 13th of next month. It promises to be a grand affair.

The Marysville Brass Band gave one of their popular open air concerts last evening, which was very much enjoyed by our citizens.

Mrs. Charlotte Lawrence and Mr. Frederick Clarke, of Boston, spent Thursday and part of Friday with their sister, Mrs. E. Miles Merritt. They were accompanied by Miss Belle Skinner of St. John.

The Marysville Rifle Club expect to have their annual shooting match at St. Mary's range next Thursday, on which occasion a large number intend taking part. Mr. Parsons will supply dinners on the grounds. There will be several prizes offered and some good shots will likely be made.

Mr. John R. McConnell left this morning for the Burpee stream this tract for a moose hunt. He has as guide Mr. Andrew McCoy, the well known and popular hunter.

Mr. Wesley Capens is wearing a pleasant smile these days over a domestic client—a baby girl arrived at his home last Wednesday.

A BORDER WEDDING.

Details of the Purves-Murchie Nuptials at Calais.

St. Stephen Courier:—Very quietly on account of the death of the bride's brother, the marriage of Miss Carrie Porter Murchie, youngest daughter of Hon. John G. Murchie, and Mr. Harold Campbell Purves, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Purves, was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 at the home of the bride in Calais.

Rev. Chas. G. McCully was the officiating clergyman and only relatives of the contracting parties were present. Bride and groom were unattended.

The bride's costume was of white tulle silk trimmed with point lace, with veil of tulle and orange blossoms, and her bouquet was of bride roses.

The house was prettily adorned with flowers for the occasion, and yellow, the parlor with white and green and the floor above with green and red.

After the ceremony lunch was served under the direction of Mrs. Frank P. Lane of Bangor, assisted by Misses Grace Woodcock, Anna Eaton, Queenie Neill, Frances Todd, Sadie MacVey, Mrs. George Wilson and Mrs. John Mitchell.

Later, when Mr. and Mrs. Purves left on their wedding tour, the bride's costume was of hunter's green broadcloth, trimmed with gold buttons and braid.

In this most recent international wedding, St. Stephen will be the gained for, on their return, Mr. and Mrs. Purves will reside in the residence of the late Hugh Thompson on Union Street.

The wedding presents were numerous and of very great value.

Mr. Horace A. Flemming, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Halifax, and secretary of the board of directors, returned to Halifax last night, after completing arrangements with Mr. Manning and the directorate for the opening of the St. Mary's branch and next week leaves for the Pacific coast on business for the bank, accompanied by Mrs. Flemming.

St. Paul, Minn., was chosen as the next place of meeting for Sovereign Grand Lodge of Oddfellows by an immense majority at Toronto Thursday. Invitations were also presented from Dallas, Tex., Norfolk, Va., Jamestown Exposition Company of Virginia, and the Business Men's Association of Atlantic City.

A valuable horse owned by the American Express Company was electrocuted at Dover, N. H., Thursday in a public alley way in rear of the Stratford Bank building. George Garland was the driver. The animal stepped on the iron bulkhead which opens to the basement of the bank building, fell in his tracks and died almost instantly. Driver Garland, who jumped from his seat on to the bulkhead, received a bad shock. The bulkhead was heavily charged with electricity, which passed into the horse through his shoes.
