HOW TO GET CONSUMPTION.

Ninety per cent. of the "lungers" contract consumption by allowing the power of resistance to fall so low that a favorable condition for the development of bacilli is provided. In a healthy system consumption can't take root. But where there is weakness and debility, there you find tuberculosis. For developing strength and building up the weak, nothing equals Ferrozone. It makes the blood nutritious and the nerves enduring. The way that it converts food into nutriment, the appetite that it gives, is surprising. Just what the man verging on consumption needs—that's Ferrozone. If tired and weak don't put it off. Fifty cents buys a box of fifty tablets—at all dealers.

Though a man conquer a thousand thousand men in battle, a greater conquest still is that he wins over himself.

BACON HOG PRODUCTION.

Animals Must be the Best Suited to the English Market.

If the bacon trade of Canada is to continue to improve it is necessary that hog raisers adhere to the class of animals most suited to the requirements of the British market.

In the production of hogs of the large type Canada cannot compete successfully with the United States. A visit to the Chicago stock yards and to western cattle feeding centres affords ample evidence of this.

A large proportion of the cattle are fed on snapped or shelled corn. Horded with these are hogs that thrive and fatten on the unaged corn left by the steers. These hogs constituting a by-product of cattle feeding are produced at a cost much lower than pork can be raised in Canada. All United States hogs are not fed in this way but a large proportion of them have at least the advantage of cheap corn, than which there is no better feed for producing fat hogs of the large type. Let the Canadian farmer go back to the thick fat type of hogs, as some talk of doing because they feel they have a grievance with the packer, and it will not be long before the price of Canadian bacon will have fallen to a level with the United States product which is usually from ten to fifteen shillings per hundred and twelve pounds lower than the quotations for Canadian "Wiltshire" sides.

It seems to be very generally supposed that pork is more cheaply and easily produced from hogs of the thick short American breeds than from the three English breeds which are favored by the Canadian farmer. Why such a belief should be so general is difficult to understand as repeated tests conducted at various experiment stations have shown that hogs of the Yorkshire, Berkshire and Tamworth breeds produce pork as cheaply as those of the Poland China, the Chester White or the Duroc Jersey breeds. In the opinion of Prof. Day, of the Ontario Agricultural College, who is foremost among authorities on bacon production, the lusty, growthy pig of the bacon type is the most economical pork-maker we have especially when reared, as bacon hogs should be, largely on such foods as roots, soiling crops and dairy offal.

There is much difference of opinion regarding the cost at which hogs fit for market can be produced, and there is probably as much difference between the cost to one feeder and the cost to another as between these opinions. Under general conditions the production costs in the neighborhood of five dollars per hundred pounds on an average. In summer under favorable conditions the cost may be somewhat lessened, but in winter pork can hardly be produced at the figure mentioned. As in all other lines of production the cost will vary according to the character of the animals fed and the amount of intelligence exercised by the feeder.

Taking one year with another the Canadian farmer on good land, who understands crop growing and hog raising, can undoubtedly raise hogs as cheaply as the figures quoted, and probably for less. He will reap only such sows as produce large litters of the right type. He will grow such pasture and soiling crops as clover, alfalfa, rape, vetches, mangels, sugar beets and such coarse grains as yield the greatest number of pounds of hog feed per acre. In other words he will manage his operation in such a way that will return him the greatest return in hogs per acre of land, and in so doing will learn to reduce the cost of raising hogs of the best type to a minimum.

PRINCE ARTHUR'S TOUR.

Three Cars of C. P. R. Royal Train to House Him for a Month During His Trip Through Canada.

The management of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company are making very elaborate preparation for the journey of His Royal Highness Prince Arthur Duke of Connaught, brother of King Edward, through Canada in March and April. This popular Prince is to-day at Colombo on his way out to Japan, where he will invest His Majesty the Mikado with the insignia of the Garter, and it is on the return journey that he will visit Canada. His purpose is understood to be to spend about a month in this country.

The only matter for regret about this visit is that the Prince, who is an ardent sportsman, taking great pleasure in hunting and fishing, comes at a season when Canada can afford him but little satisfaction.

The Duke will, according to present arrangements, reach Japan on the 19th of February, and will remain in the Empire of the rising sun until the 16th of March, when he will sail from Yokohama for Vancouver on the C. P. R. steamer Empress of Japan.

The three principal cars on the Royal train that was provided for the Prince and Princess of Wales on their visit four years ago, will be incorporated in the special that will bring the Duke of Connaught and his suite east from the Pacific coast. These are the Canada, the York and Cornwall. The latter is Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's private car which will be placed in commission in the company's service on this occasion. The train will be freshly decorated and will present as before a splendid example of railway architecture.

The arrangements, although on a less extensive scale, will be on the same lines as on the occasion of the last Royal visit. It is understood, although this is not definitely settled that his Victoria, the British Columbia capital, and will break the journey at several points on the way eastwards—notably at Banff and Winnipeg.

The members of the Prince's suite are Lord Redesdale, who has held several distinguished posts in the diplomatic service, such as secretary to the railway at St. Petersburg, and member of the Legation at Tokyo and Peking; Admiral Sir E. Seymour, G. C. B., late commander of the naval station at Devonport; General Sir Thomas Kelly-Kenny, K. C. B.; Col. Davidson, who was assistant keeper of the Privy Purse and Assistant Secretary of the Equerry to the late Queen Victoria; Hon. William Windham, heir presumptive to the barony of Leconfield, and Mr. Miles. Lampson, of the Foreign Office.

The arrangements in connection with the trip through Canada are being made by Col. Hanbury-Williams on behalf of the Governor-General, and by Mr. Joseph Pope, Under-Secretary of State, on behalf of the Government of Canada.

THREE MEN DIE IN HEAD-ON CRASH.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 31.—In a head-on collision on the Santa Fe railroad, between a passenger train and a freight train near Endicott, Monday, three men were killed, another was fatally injured, the express car with its contents burned and much damage was done to train property.

The wreck happened on a steep grade about a mile east of Endicott. The east-bound fast passenger train was behind time and was running down hill at a high rate of speed when it crashed into a double-header freight west-bound.

James Shea of Chicago, engineer on the passenger train, Goggins of Chicago, fireman, and Hokul of Chillicothe, brakeman, both on the freight, were instantly killed.

The baggage car caught fire and was destroyed. The car is said to have contained a large sum of money all of which was burned.

Express Messenger Mockler of Fort Madison Ia., sustained injuries which will result in his death. None of the passengers were injured.

SAVING A COMRADE.

Stories of affection and apparent reason among wild animals have divided the "nature-writers" into two schools. One believes that animals act merely from instinct; the other holds that the dumb brute feels and reasons. In "The Life of a Scotch Naturalist" Mr. Smith quotes from the journal of Thomas Edward the story of how a little flock of terns rescued a wounded companion which the naturalist had shot.

I fired, and he came down with a broken wing, screaming as he fell into the water. The report of the gun, together with his cries, brought together the party he had left, in order that they might ascertain the cause of the alarm.

After surveying their wounded brother round and round, as he was drifting unwittingly toward the shore with the flowing tide, they came flying in a body to the spot where I stood, and rent the air with their screams. These they continued to utter, regardless of their own individual safety, until I began to make preparation for receiving the approaching bird. I could already see that it was a beautiful adult specimen, and I expected in a few minutes to have it in my possession, since I was not very far from the water's edge.

While matters were in this position I beheld to my utter astonishment, two of the unwounded terns take hold of their comrade, one at each wing, lift him out of the water and bear him out seaward. They were followed by two other birds.

After having carried him about six or seven yards they let him gently down again, and the two who had followed took him up.

In this way they continued to carry him alternately until they had conveyed him to a rock at a considerable distance, upon which they landed him in safety.

I moved toward the rock, wishing to obtain the prize which had been so unceremoniously snatched from my grasp. I was observed, however, by the terns, and instead of four, I had in a short time a whole swarm about me. On my near approach to the rock I once more beheld two of them take hold of the wounded bird as they had done before, and bear him out to sea in triumph, far beyond my reach.

DAY OF MIRACLES NOT PAST.

Steamer Joseph Wheeler Sank When Famous General Died.

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 31.—Just as Gen. Joe Wheeler, the loved veteran, whom the south is now mourning, sank into his last sleep in New York, his namesake, a handsome little passenger packet, the Joseph H. Wheeler, went to the bottom of White River, Arkansas.

This peculiar coincidence is noted in a report made on the sinking of the boat to the steamboat inspectors of the district. Another peculiarity is that the boat had been laid up on account of repairs and was out of commission temporarily.

SIR JAMES WATSON'S OPINION.

He says that the commonest of all disorders, and one from which few escape, is Catarrh. Sir James firmly believes in local treatment, which is best supplied by "Catarrhazone." No case of Catarrh can exist where Catarrhazone is used; it is a miracle worker, relieves almost instantly and cures after other remedies have failed. Other treatments can't reach the diseased parts like Catarrhazone, because it goes to the source of the trouble along with the air that you breathe. Catarrhazone is free from cocaine, it leaves no bad after-effects, it is simply nature's own cure. Accept no substitute for Catarrhazone, which alone can cure Catarrh.
