Minot, N. D., Oct. 26.—(Special)—After a chase lasting 36 hours the Sheriff's posse last night captured five bandits who robbed the Sawyer, N. D., bank early Monday morning, when a battle ensued with citizens during which three hundred shots were fired, the robbers getting away with $4,300.

The men were discovered on a farm near here. Escape was attempted, and in a fight that followed one robber was wounded in the leg. Another ran into a slough with $900 in gold and bills and dropped the money into the water. Money was also scattered on the prairie by the bandits. Chief of Police Hagen recovered $3,000 of the money.

Four of the captured men are young and well dressed, none being over 25 years old. The money was being carried in bags and was composed of gold and bills, all the heavy silver being thrown away.

A SEVERE SENTENCE.

Judge Orders an Offending Lad to Learn by Heart 75 Pages of History.

Boston Herald.—The average policeman has notions of his own concerning the chastisement of unruly youngsters, and very often the justice meted out by Judge H. H. Baker in the juvenile court doesn't fit smoothly with the old fashioned opinions of the officer who is responsible for the youngster's arrest.

A few days ago a lad was taken before Judge Baker on a more or less serious charge. Trembling and apprehensive, he was ushered into the little room and stood facing the magistrate. Behind him stood the two big red faced policemen who had captured him, their countenances beaming and their whole bearing suggesting a keen sense of duty done.

It required but a few minutes for Judge Baker to get at the facts of the case. The lad was undoubtedly guilty.

The judge looked sternly down at him and told him briefly of the seriousness of his offence and what it would lead to. Then he said:

"My lad, I sentence you to learn 75 pages of history and to repeat 40 pages to me correctly later."

The lad looked amazed. The countenance of the policeman fell, and as he walked out he whispered hoarsely to the court attendant:

"Did you ever hear such grand mother's petting? History, no less. Sure, it's like the boy was in school. I chased this young imp of Satan half way round the city of Boston, and this is all he gets, and him the worst little scoundrel in miles around. It's less proficient as a baby catcher, I'll be forthwith."

Who gives a little help finds a large piece in heaven.

THE GOVERNOR COBB.

First Turbine Built in United States Made Fast Time--Will Run Between St. John and Boston.

Boston, Oct. 25.—By the fastest time by water ever made between New York and this port the Gov. day morning, having covered the distance in 14 hours 25 minutes. Old timers on the water front say the best previous record of any vessel was 18 hours.

With a contract speed of 17 knots the new turbine made an average for the 300 mile run of 18.4 knots an hour. In Long Island sound during the first of her trip she ran several hours at a 19.2 pace. The steamer passed Execution rock at 3.57 p. m. Tuesday, and at 6.22 a. m. yesterday she was abreast of Boston light. This was done by a crew inexperienced in the handling of the turbine engines.

Dressed in the national colors, the steamer was given a noisy reception by bay craft when she came up the harbor. Yesterday afternoon she hauled over to East Boston where her furnishings will be put in and in two weeks she will begin her runs between this port, Portland, Lunenburg, Eastport and St. John, N. B. She will sail on Wednesdays and Fridays.

The steamer is in command of Captain Samuel F. Pike, commodore of the Eastport steamship company's fleet, and who was formerly in command of the Calvin Austin, E. A. Richards, formerly of the Calvin Austin, is chief engineer.

A good deal of religious work is only a scheme for uplifting the world at so much per grunt.

LADY'S SUDDEN DEATH.

Well Known Resident of Hampton Passed Away in Nova Scotia.

Hampton, N. B., Oct. 26.—(Special).—The body of Mrs. Upham Fowler, formerly Miss Jennie Scholes, arrived here this morning by early express from Williamsdale, Colchester County, N. S., where she has been living for nearly a year in the home of the Adventists of that place, until her death, which occurred Wednesday Oct. 24, of heart failure in the 73rd year of her age.

She had been strong and well up to a day or two before her death, when she complained of a slight cold which ended in much suffering and speedy death.

Mrs. Fowler lived at Centre Hampton, during most of her life, and was deservedly loved and greatly esteemed by a wide circle of relatives and friends, and the arrival of her remains was a surprise and shock to all.

Her funeral took place this morning from the residence of William Barnes, the service being conducted by Rev. E. E. Gardner and Elder Wm. Guthrie, the Advent ministers, who were with deceased in her last hours and who brought the remains to Hampton. Interment was made in Hampton cemetery.

TEACHERS' INVASION.

Five Hundred of Them Coming From the British Isles to Learn More About Canada.

Montreal, Oct. 26.—As an outcome of the most unique educational movement that has ever taken place in the history of civilized countries, 500 teachers from the United Kingdom will visit Canada next month.

Alfred Moseley, C. M. G., millionaire, educationist and tariff reformer, is in Montreal today in conference with the McGill authorities with regard to this movement, which aims at bringing from the United Kingdom a large body of the teachers of the country schools for the purpose of familiarizing them with the educational methods of Canada and the United States, and of affording them an opportunity of obtaining a first hand knowledge of western life and thus increasing their capacity for interesting British children in the ways and conditions of life in the western hemisphere.

It may prove an invaluable auxiliary to immigration in years to come but that is no part of the purpose. The whole of the organization in connection with the execution of the project which is carried out under the auspices of the county councils of the United Kingdom and the authorities of Columbia University on this side, has been undertaken by Mr. Moseley's office in London.

All the details of the United States part of the trip have been arranged, and in the course of the next day or two Mr. Moseley hopes to have the Canadian programme perfected. Altogether 500 teachers have obtained leave of absence from their respective school authorities, and they will begin to arrive in batches of five by each steamer that sails after the 1st of November. They will land at Montreal and after the closing of the St. Lawrence navigation at St. John and Halifax; at New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Of the 500 teachers, 40 will come from Ireland, and 40 from Wales, and the rest from England and Scotland. They will stay on this side from four to twelve weeks, according to the number of institutions they may desire to visit and the distance they may wish to travel. The Canadian centres mapped out for a visit thus far by the teachers are Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and Guelph, but this is likely to be extended.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Churchill Answers Questions as to Newfoundland Fishery Matter--Lords Discuss Education Bill.

London, Oct. 26.—The parliamentary secretary of the colonial office, Winston Spencer Churchill, when questioned in the House of Commons yesterday on the subject of the recent Anglo-American agreement in regard to Newfoundland fisheries, said that the government of Newfoundland had been consulted before any negotiations were begun and fully informed of their progress at each stage. The British government, however, the secretary added, was not so fortunate as to obtain the concurrence of Newfoundland in the provisional agreement which the circumstances rendered necessary.

Replying to a question, the president of the local government board, Mr. Burns, said that 418 tons of meat seized and condemned at the Smithfield meat market, London, between July 19 and September 13, twenty-four tons came from the United States and about 232 tons from the Argentine. Mr. Burns said he hoped the government's proposed legislation would prevent the possibility of the recurrence of such a state of affairs as the question revealed.

A strong tone of moderation and conciliation characterized the debate in the House of Lords yesterday, on the education bill.

Lord Goschen, the Archbishop of Canterbury and all the other speakers of prominence advocated a spirit of justice to all the other parties in the controversy. The Archbishop of Canterbury in particular stoutly declared to be a party to a mere "wrecking amendment." The divine's speech disposed entirely of the rumor, recently current, that he had arranged a compact with the premier, but the present temper of the House of Lords seems to leave an opening for a compromise. This spirit of conciliation is reciprocated by the government's organs this morning, which, while they regard the amendments handed in yesterday by opposition peers as unacceptable are inclined to consider them as "bargaining amendments."

DARING BURGLARS.

Chloroformed Maid and Looted the House.

Greenwich, Conn., Oct. 26.—Burglars at the summer homes here of two New Yorkers were reported to the police yesterday afternoon. One of these is alleged to have occurred at the residence of Mr. B. W. Russell during the absence of the family.

According to the maid, she and the cook were alone in the house, when a stranger, who is described as a tall man with a sandy beard and wearing a dark overcoat, knocked at the door. The maid opened the door and, it is said, the man then struck her, knocked her down and chloroformed her, after which he went up stairs and secured $56 from the maid's room, and disappeared. The maid was discovered by the cook, who summoned the police and medical attendance, to whom the maid told her story.

The other is said to have been at the house of Dr. L. H. Brinley. The house is located at Riverside, where it is said that a large part of the household goods had been packed ready for removal to New York. There had not been any one in house for several days, and the burglary, which it is said, occurred on Sunday, was not discovered until today, when the sons of Dr. Brinley went to the house.

They found, it is said, that burglars gained entrance through a rear window, and are believed to have been there all Sunday and until early Monday morning. They had evidently cooked meals and slept in the guest chamber, where an alarm clock for 4.30 was found. Several hundred dollars' worth of goods are said to have been taken, including silver, silk goods and other articles.

Tamerlane.

Tamerlane enjoys the unenviable distinction of being the bloodiest conqueror in history. It is computed that during his wars nearly 4,000,000 human beings were destroyed.

The Rhine Fortifications.

The early Romans found the swift current of the Rhine sufficient defense against the gigantic Germans, but to protect the peaceful settlers against all possible danger every ford on the upper Rhine and every convenient crossing place on the lower stream was fortified, and thus a chain of posts was extended from the sea to Strassburg.
