

THE GREAT WEST.

Chatty Interview With Rev. Dr. Gaetz, a Former Fredericton Pastor.

The Rev. Leonard Gaetz, a former pastor in Fredericton, is spending a few days in the city, renewing old acquaintances and is a guest at the Queen Hotel.

Dr. Gaetz comes from Red Deer, Alberta, where he moved with his large family in 1884. At that time there were only a few white settlers in the long stretch of two hundred miles between Calgary and Edmonton, and apart from the Protestant and Catholic missions, not a church school or post office in a radius of one hundred miles from his chosen homestead.

In the course of a conversation with a Herald reporter, Dr. Gaetz, who is regarded as an enthusiastic friend of the west, was asked whether the high hopes he has frequently expressed as to the progress and productivity of the country had been realized.

"Emphatically yes," he replied. "More than realized. The development has been far more rapid and substantial than I ventured to dream it could be, during the first ten or twelve years of my residence in Alberta. I have seen my old homestead in 1884 develop into a modern, up-to-date town, with waterworks well advanced, a sewage system just under way, two efficient telephone systems, and a most satisfactory electric light plant, elevators, saw mills and grist mills, stone and brick churches and a six room brick school which has long since been too small for the school population, so that now an eight-room brick and stone school is in course of construction, the contract price being $36,000.

"The business blocks and private residences there will compare favorably with any town east or west of fifteen hundred population. Needless to say the country for miles around gives evidence of equal prosperity. In its way, a town is only a standing witness to the character of the soil and the excellence of the farming population around it.

"Were the crops good throughout the province this year?"

"The crops so far I have observed were remarkably good; in some sections exceptionally good. Of course in the newer sections, where as yet the land cannot be said to be cultivated, the seed was rushed in on spring breaking, or on the late fall breaking of the year before, which is worse still, and the straw was short for there was practically no snow last winter, and much less than the average rainfall during July and August, but the farmers themselves are too intelligent to expect much from such hasty and imperfect cultivation and are not disappointed. If the agents of the government who make up our agricultural bulletins were equally considerate, they would not figure the products of these practically uncultivated areas into the data from which they strike their average yield, and the public would be saved the misleading and damaging statements of oats, for example, averaging in certain districts twenty-nine bushels per acre. Such a small yield I have never known by experience or observation, and in twenty-two years' residence in the country.

"Is there much homestead land available?"

"Yes, but a man has to go a considerable distance back from any established town, or even from projected railway lines, unless he can secure the cancellation of one of the many homesteads that were blanketed by the land speculator, who has them entered in the name of persons who did not exist. Fortunately, this much abused regulation has been cancelled, and a more even chance is now given to the bona fide homesteader.

"Is there much bad land in your district?"

"Well, I suppose there is some bad land in the best agricultural section on earth. I certainly used to hear years ago, that there was considerable areas of inferior land, but in later years I have so frequently been compelled to change my opinion upon witnessing the result of cultivation on these areas, that I am now convinced that my mental condition may be described as one of chronic optimism regarding inferior. For example, there is a section of country lying between Olds and Calgary that when given over to it in my backboard years ago, I found it scorched and brown as a berry in July and August. I made up my mind that that section of the country was a good place for grain-growers to stay away from. And when settlers began to pour in there in the rainy seasons in 1906 and two following years I wasted a good deal of very generous sympathy upon them. I frequently heard it said: 'Wait till the dry years come and you will see those poor fellows pull out.' Well, we have just had a very dry summer following a snowless winter, and on my way here last week I saw in some of these very sections some of the grandest wheat fields I ever saw. In any part of eastern or western Canada."

"And how do you account for this as contrasted with the apparent barrenness of that bald prairie, for centuries trampled by buffalo and rennison of years ago?"

"I am much too far from the Peace River country to justify my expressing any very strong opinion. Certainly, I have seen some magnificent samples of wheat from that district, but one swallow does not make a summer. My candid opinion is that the real facts regarding the possibilities of the Peace River country will be found about midway between Professor McCoun and the minister of the Interior."

RAILWAY MANIA EXISTS IN CHINA.

Prominent Official Says Mandarins Seeing New Sources of Wealth Favor Much Building.

That the railway spirit has really caught the Chinese Mandarin is the opinion of Mr. William Henderson, one of the chief officials of the imperial in Montreal on his way home to Tientsin from a trip to the Old Country. Mr. Henderson, who was a visitor at the C. P. R. general offices, is greatly impressed with the position of Montreal as a railway and shipping centre, and he thinks that for certain kinds of Oriental trade there are opportunities for development that some of the large mercantile houses of the East should take advantage of.

Speaking of the already existing railways in China Mr. Henderson says the system with which he is connected owns about 800 miles running from Peking through Tientsin northward to New Chwang, one of the open ports of Manchuria. Manchuria, he thinks, will not be Japanese to any large extent.

Regarding the general policy of Japan in the Far East, Mr. Henderson says that the Japanese will exploit the commerce of Manchuria and Korea for their own benefit in the first place, but alternately the exploitation will benefit the world's trade. Japanese traders will establish themselves in the newly-developed centres, and their astuteness and business sagacity will enable them to capture a large part of the newly-created business, but it will go out to the world at large—as much as at all events as Japan does not require.

The largest railway in China, said Mr. Henderson, is that of the Belgian Company, the Peking-Hankow system, which is operated on the European continental plan. It is 1000 miles in length.

But in nearly every province in China a beginning is made with railway construction. Lines are being built connecting with the principal cities, which are superceding the slow and unsatisfactory water systems of transport that are to-day as they have been for centuries, most unsafe methods of travel.

The Mandarins are everywhere interesting themselves in railway construction as they see in the railways a new means of acquiring wealth. The Mandarins belong to the governing class, and the idea is as far as possible to make the railways government institutions.

At first the railways were scooped by the reactionary mandarins, but as they now see in them fresh sources of revenue the old hostility has ceased and there is beginning to be something like a railway mania all over China.

A BULWARK OF SANITY.

Sir James Crichton-Browne Pays a Tribute to the Newspaper.

London, Sept. 21.—Sir James Crichton-Browne, an authority on mental and nervous diseases, in an address at Blackpool had something to say in regard to the position of modern newspapers in pharmacopoeia. Sir James appears to believe in the newspaper cure against the essentially modern complaint of nerve lassitude, as is apparent from the following sentences:—

"I say deliberately that the newspaper, with all its faults, is one of the bulwarks of sanity at the present epoch. It is the antidote to corruption and gives a world-wide horizon to the public and short-sighted. It is real and earnest in its tragedy and comedy, while a novel is only a make-believe. It supplies smacks of biography to the form of gossip. It manufactures heroes by the dozen and it furnishes an easily digestible and a third for their nerves. And yet all the while it is simply their blood that is the cause of all their trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all these and other blood troubles because they actually make new, rich, red blood. Mrs. J. McArthur, St. Thomas, Ont., says: 'Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done me a world of good. For eighteen months I was a constant sufferer. I was terribly run down and the least exertion left me fagged out. I slept badly at night and this further weakened me, and finally I had to give up housekeeping and go boarding as I was quite unable to do any housework. I took doctor's medicine, but it was of little or no benefit. One day a neighbor told me how much benefit she had derived from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and advised me to try them. I sent and got three boxes and by the time that I had used them I felt a change for the better. Then I got four boxes more and before they were all gone my health was fully restored. To see me now one would think that I had never had a sick day, and I can honestly say that I owe my renewed health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.'

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest cure there is for weakness, and backaches and dizziness, and all the distress of indigestion; all the pains and aches of rheumatism, sciatica and neuralgia, and the weakness and ill health that follows any disturbance of regularity in the blood supply. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Brockville Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BLOOD TROUBLES.

Cured Through the Rich, Red Blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make.

Thousands of women suffer from headaches, backaches, dizziness, languorous and nervousness. Few realize that their misery all comes from the bad state of their blood. They take one thing for their head, and another for the stomach, and a third for their nerves. And yet all the while it is simply their blood that is the cause of all their trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure all these and other blood troubles because they actually make new, rich, red blood. Mrs. J. HORSES ARE SCARCE.

British Remount Officers Got Less Than Two Hundred.

Montreal, Sept. 21.—It seems that 170 horses were the most that Col. Bridge and Captain Martin, remount officers, have been able to get in Canada for shipment to South Africa. These horses will be shipped next week on the Elder-Dempster steamship Canada Cape, and will be used for trooping and gun carriages. More than a hundred of them are bronchos that were selected at Calgary. Prices paid are said to range from $175 to $200, and, as the horses had to pass a rigid inspection, it is no wonder that more were not secured, especially as horses in Canada now are selling at unusually good prices. Two hundred dollars in the west is not an unusual price for even moderately good animals.

"He's a popular poet."

"Dear me! Why, I thought that he hadn't written anything for years."

"He hasn't, that's why he's so popular."

AN ATTRACTIVE SEPARATE SKIRT.

Few women, however particular, can get through a season without a good looking old skirt. It is a requisite of the shirt blouse and no one denies the supremacy of that garment. Often with an excellent pattern one might make this skirt herself and it would cost her much less than if she purchased it ready made. The cheaper skirts are sure to be of cheap material, which looks shabby with the first wear. The skirt shown is a fine gored one with a pretty flare around the bottom and the seams stitched in not effect from flounce depth. This insures a graceful appearance and if neatly stitched it will prove very smart and useful. The model is suited to development in any of the new worsteds or woolen fabrics and requires 53 yards of 44 inch goods in the medium size.

One of Three Things Always Cause RHEUMATISM

Do you know the system rids itself of waste matter through bowels and kidneys? Yes, but by the skin as well.

As a matter of fact, the skin rids the system of more urea than the kidneys do.

If the skin, or bowels, or kidneys are unhealthy—they won't throw off enough urea. This urea is changed into uric acid—carried by the blood to joints and nerves—causing Rheumatism.

One never inherits Rheumatism. One does inherit weak kidneys, irregular bowels and bad skin action.

will positively cure Rheumatism because they increase the eliminating action of skin, kidneys and bowels—and make these three organs so vigorous and healthy that there can be no waste retained in the system to poison the blood and irritate the nerves.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are fruit juices, combined with tonics—the whole forming the most effective cure for Rheumatism.

John Philip Sousa was condemning the law, says The New York Tribune, that allows certain talking machine companies to make records of his marches and sell them broadcast without paying him a single penny for the privilege.

"I have only contempt for such a law as that," said the great bandmaster. "When I think of the injustice. I boil over with contempt. I remind myself of the Washington who was haled before a magistrate for committing a nuisance."

"The Washingtonian had committed no nuisance, but, nevertheless, the decision went against him, and he was naturally incensed. Forgetting himself, he told the magistrate that he thought of him and was fined $5 for contempt."

"He produced a $10 bill to pay the fine with. The clerk took it, searched the bill for marks, and then made as if to hand the bill back again."

"I have no change," he said.

"Oh, never mind about the change," snorted my friend. "Keep it, I'll take it out in contempt."
