Established 1848

It is a strictly Annual Dividend Company, the surplus or profits being apportioned every year upon all plans of insurance and a statement of same given to each individual policy holder at the expiration of the first and each subsequent year. The result is that every holder of one of these contracts knows exactly what profits have accumulated every year on his own particular policy. He can make use of such profits any time he so wishes, and in event of his death, such additions are paid, besides the full amount for which the policy is written.

If "A Bird in the Hand is Worth Two in the Bush," how much is a policy worth which guarantees annual dividends as above, compared with a policy under which no profits are apportioned until the end of twenty (20) years?

"Unio Mutual" policy contracts are the most liberal issued. The guaranteed reserve value is equal to that of any company in the world. If you require insurance of any kind consult a "Unio Mutual" agent, or write direct to

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO

COUNTY COUNCIL.

tion to make it a paying proposition at the present time. It might be a good plan for the council to hold out some inducements to the farmers to grow wheat. Some encouragement might also be given to two young men who had lately established works at Burr's Corner.

He believed that had the proper steps been taken the Whelpley Skate Factory might have been secured for the county. He moved that a committee be appointed to look into the matter and report at the January meeting.

Coun. Scott was opposed to the bonus system.

Coun. Carr would be in favor of exempting new industries from taxation, but he would not care to go further than that. He was inclined to oppose any movement likely to increase taxation.

Coun. Masten could not see how one parish was going to benefit by an industry established in another parish.

Coun. McFarlane's resolution was not seconded.

SCOTT ACT AGAIN.

Councillor Fred Pond moved a resolution to empower the Scott act committee to confer with the Inspector in regard to employing counsel and to pay whatever legal expenses the council considered necessary for the proper enforcement of the act.

Coun. C. W. Pond seconded the resolution.

McFarlane was opposed to the resolution. He was in favor of giving the Scott act inspector a free hand, but did not believe in giving any committee power to spend the people's money without authority from the council. He contended that the resolution proposed to give the Scott act committee power that was not vested in any other committee. He was a prohibitionist and had voted to pay the Scott act inspector his salary, but he had voted against delegating power to the Scott act committee to spend the people's money.

Coun. Goodspeed thought it no more than right that the Scott act committee should have something to say in favor of enforcing the act. Coun. Fred Pond thought that it was important that the Scott act committee should have something to do, otherwise it was no use to have a committee.

Coun. Grosvenor stated that he had placed his resignation as a member of the Scott act committee in the hands of the warden. He said that Coun. McFarlane was chairman of the Scott act committee, but he might as well be chief of the St. Mary's ladies.

Coun. C. W. Pond wanted the warden to give some instructions to the committee, but that dignity modestly declined.

Coun. Brewster thought the Scott act inspector should be subjected to some extent to the control of the council, as expenditure could then be regulated.

Coun. Scott thought that the council should allow the matter to stand as it was.

Coun. McFarlane could not see that if the resolution carried it would be any check on the expenditure of the funds. In his opinion it would be simply opening the door for expenditure on legal advice. He thought the council should pay Mr. Phinney for the services rendered the inspector for the past six months, but he was opposed to voting him a blank sum to draw from in future.

Coun. Fred Pond claimed that the resolution would act as a check on expenditure. He thought Mr. Colter should pay his own travelling expenses, and also the cost of bringing in such characters as be brought here from Carleton county, but the council should pay for legal advice.

The secretary treasurer, in reply to Coun. McFarlane, read section 136 of the liquor license act to show that the inspector must be indemnified by the council for any costs incurred in the enforcement of the act. Counsel fees were not mentioned in the section, but it was his opinion and that of lawyers agreed with him, that they were intended to be included in the bill of costs.

Coun. McFarlane said he was satisfied to let matters stand as at present.

The secretary treasurer said that under the resolution passed in the afternoon, he would pay Mr. Colter's salary monthly, but would pay no bills rendered for legal expenses.

Coun. Fred Pond's resolution was lost by a vote of 13 to 10.

WANTS NEW INDUSTRIES.

Coun. McFarlane thought that the county council should hold out some inducements to new industries locating in the county. A new flour mill had lately been established at Burr's Corner, but there was not sufficient wheat grown in that section to make it a paying proposition at the present time.

It might be a good plan for the council to hold out some inducements to the farmers to grow wheat. Some encouragement might also be given to two young men who had lately established works at Burr's Corner.

He believed that had the proper steps been taken the Whelpley Skate Factory might have been secured for the county. He moved that a committee be appointed to look into the matter and report at the January meeting.

TORREY TALKS OF THAW.

Exposure will do Good in Bettering Morals.

New York, July 4.—Dr. R. A. Torrey, the noted evangelist, last night expressed himself forcibly on the Thaw-White tragedy says The American.

"This exposure will do good in bettering the morals of the community. Exposures of moral leprosy, no matter how revolting in detail, always do good," he said.

"It makes the devotees of wickedness and the libertines pause and reflect. Then follows a great revulsion of public opinion, which forces on a moral wave. It is like a tremendous upheaval or atunderstorm, after which the atmosphere is cleared. The outraged public sense of purity and decency revolts and turns on these criminals and brings about moral regeneration."

"There are thousands of men in every large city who are leading fast lives. It is like a multitude rushing down a steep incline, and when one of the number plunges headlong down a precipice, as White did, the others naturally draw back in terror and dismay."

The tragedy forcibly brings to notice the curse of placing great wealth in the hands of a few, and the youth in the wake of unlimited dollars comes debauchery and crime; and their retribution and untold misery.

"If what the papers publish is true no jury will be found to convict Torrey in my opinion. And yet he will not go unwhipped of justice for he will be tortured by the haunting in the hands of an idle, irresponsible memory of his terrible crime."

Dr. Torrey is an old friend of the Thaw family, and he is deeply grieved because of young Thaw's plight.

WHITE'S BROTHER WILL FIGHT.

Richard Mansfield White of Seattle, Wash., arrived in New York yesterday afternoon to begin the fight he proposes to make against Harry K. Thaw.

White went immediately to his late brother's residence at 23rd street and Lexington avenue. He said he had no statement to make. It was learned, however, that he spent a part of the afternoon consulting with friends of his late brother and preparing for a battle to ally sympathy with Thaw and defend Stanford.

COUN. GROSVENOR'S ATTITUDE.

The secretary treasurer read the following communication from Coun. Grosvenor, tendering his resignation as a member of the Scott Act committee:

County Court Chamber,
July 4, 1906.

To John F. Timmins,
Warden of Municipality of York,

At the January session of the York Municipal Council you had the kindness to appoint me as a member of the Scott Act committee, so called.

I found out when called to Fredericton in February, 1906, that the Scott Act committee existed in name only and the York county council had given it no discretionary powers.

Although I have several times sought an expression of opinion from the county council as to investing the Scott Act committee with some definite power or instructing them as to duties, the county council had not yet come to the moment of writing this resignation to take any action in the matter.

Therefore, as this Scott Act committee exists in name only, and my mind is the rankest kind of a sore, I hereby request that my name be stricken from the committee.

Trusting that you will receive and accept this resignation in the same way in which you placed me upon the committee,

I beg to remain, sir,
Your obedient servant,

HEDLEY F. GROSVENOR

Coun. Fox moved, seconded by Coun. Brooks, that the resignation of Coun. Grosvenor as a member of the Scott act committee be accepted and his letter entered upon the minutes.

Coun. Fox's resolution was put to the meeting and carried.

Coun. McFarlane then tendered his resignation as a member of the Scott act committee.

Coun. McMullen moved that the resignation be accepted but his motion was lost by a vote of 8 to 7.

The warden appointed Couns. Goodspeed, Pond and McNally as the committee to look into the matter of assessing I. C. R. officials in St. Mary's.

Coun. Haining nominated Coun. McKean for the vacancy on the Scott act committee and Coun. Robison seconded the motion.

The warden said that the appointment lay with him and he would name Coun. Fred Pond.

Coun. Pond said he would accept the appointment but he wanted some work to do.

Coun. Scott from the special committee, appointed to consider the advisability of doing away with the jurisdiction of the council, reported against making the suggested change. The report was unanimously adopted.

Coun. Cropley moved, seconded by Coun. Masten, that the two reports, receive four dollars per day for their services. Carried.

The warden and constables were voted the usual fees.

On motion of Coun. McFarlane, seconded by Coun. Goodspeed, it was decided in future to publish the minutes of the council in the auditor's report.

At 10.30 o'clock the council adjourned sine die, and sang the National Anthem.

Water cress is an excellent blood purifier.

White's reputation at the same time, a battle of life against life, reputation.

White is said to be a man of wealth and willing to spend every cent he has to bring about disclosures concerning Thaw which shall counteract those which the defence will make regarding the life of Stanford White.

White probably will consult to-day with the District Attorney and offer to assist the prosecution in digging as deep into Thaw's life as Thaw can dig into that of the man he killed.

PHILADELPHIA SCOURED.

Philadelphia, July 4.—Philadelphia is being scoured from end to end by lawyers for Harry K. Thaw in an effort to dig up evidence of Stanford White's practices here. Scores of men about town, who were connected with either of the two principals in the murder case in their various alleged vices and sensational exploits are in fear lest they be forced to go upon the witness stand and explain their parts in some of the "little dinners" of which so many amazing stories have recently been made public.

One of the new features regarding White's Philadelphia career that was looked up by the investigators to-day concerned the frequent visits he was in the custom of making about ten years ago to the studio of a music teacher in this city. The studio was in the thirty story of a Walnut St. building, near Tenth street, and for several months White, it is said, presided at reveals there regularly twice each week.

The studio was frequented by amateur artists and musicians and a company of young girls. A professional pianist of considerable prominence at that time used to provide the music for these gatherings, which usually lasted from about 88 in the evening until daybreak. This pianist is also a probable witness at the coming trial.

At the studio the evenings were known to the frequenters as "Arabian Nights," and every feature of the entertainment was of the Oriental order, which opens Sept. 1st next, as Mr. Spencer has made the statement that he intends to outdo himself with the attractions for the big St. John exhibition, and leave behind him when he goes to Australia with a band of his ambitious proportions. Although no definite announcement has yet been made of these attractions, it is said that the St. John exhibition will have the most startling amusement features that have ever been announced in the way of amusement of any fair in America. It is known that Mr. Spencer has signed contracts for some of the biggest amusement features which have made famous such places as the Thawson, the Hippodrome, Wonderland, Luna Park, Coney Island, Young's Pier, Atlantic City and other famous recreation resorts. The St. John papers have been trying to ascertain just what the particular attractions are, but the exhibition management refuses to forestall the big announcement which Mr. Spencer himself, will make when he returns from New York. The St. John Sun's correspondent in New York has ascertained from Thompson & Dundy, proprietors of the New York Hippodrome, the most famous amusement men in America, that they regard the attractions secured by Mr. Spencer as the best that are in existence in the world today and that no expenditure of money in the amusement world can better them. This has aroused the public curiosity to an extent that has not before been manifested in any previous exhibition ever held in St. John, and the public is awaiting with considerable interest Mr. Spencer's announcement of these great features.

The prize list of the St. John exhibition is decidedly artistic. Send for a copy to C. J. Milligan, box 411, St. John, N. B.

T. B. Kidner, director of manual training in the New Brunswick schools, will conduct a manual training department at the St. John exhibition. It will be operated by students from the Consolidated school, at Kingston, N. B.

THE DOG SHOW.

That the dog show to be held in connection with the coming exhibition at St. John, will prove a great attraction is being shown by the large number of enquiries already received by the superintendent. The show in a large tent has been abandoned, as it was felt that this might not fully meet the requirements of the fanciers, and instead a large space in one of the main buildings has been set aside for the use of the dog men. For good light, ventilation, opportunities for exercise, and all-round comfort, probably no better place in which to hold a dog show can be found in Canada. St. John fanciers are well pleased at the manner in which the show is to be put on, and are working vigorously to assist the management to make the dog show of 1906 one to be remembered as a record breaker. For entry blanks and full particulars drop a card to the superintendent, T. McCullough, P. O. Box 411, St. John.

ST. JOHN PRESBYTERY.

Meeting at Woodstock Elected Rev. Frank Baird Moderator—Call Declined.

Woodstock, July 4.—The St. John Presbytery met here yesterday afternoon in connection with the sessions of the school for Sunday school workers. There were present the moderator, Rev. Addison Anderson and Rev. Messrs. McOdum, Ireland, Ross, McCaskill, Mowat, Dickie, Foster and Polley, and Elders Campbell, Sutherland, Principal Falconer and Rev. Messrs. Colquhoun, McKay and Clark were invited to sit with the brethren. The election of officers for the ensuing year was the first order of business.

Rev. Frank Baird of Sussex, was chosen moderator.

Rev. A. H. Foster, clerk.

Peter Campbell, treasurer.

Rev. J. J. McCaskill submitted his report as commissioner to the general assembly.

The congregation at Bristol asked a grant of $250 in aid of their new church, and the presbytery recommended this to the proper committee.

A resolution was also passed congratulating Rev. Dr. McRae upon attaining his fifty years in the ministry.

The applications of Chester Earle and Murray Manuel for recommendation as catechists were granted.

Rev. Hunter Boyd of Wawec, was given three months leave of absence. The matter of a site for a new church at St. Francis came up. Rev. Mr. McCaskill reported in favor of the upper location, so called, and this was given the preference. An overture from Rev. Dr. Fotheringham was read. This touched upon the relation of the clergy of other creeds to the ministers in the presbytery.

Most of the members were quite hostile to the spirit of overture, and on motion of the presbytery refused to take it to the Maritime synod.

The clerk read a letter from Rev. George Wood of Amherst, declining a call to St. Stephen's Church, St. John. The proper officer was given instructions to moderate again in order that a pastor may be secured.

WANTED WIFE AND ADVERTISED.

John L. Johnson of Lynn, Now Considering 27 Answers Received.

Holyoke, July 4.—John L. Johnson of Amherst, who advertised in a local paper for a wife, claims that he has received twenty-seven answers, and the last few days he has spent interviewing the young ladies who wish to become his consort. He is in no hurry to be married, but does not believe in long engagements, consequently he is very ready about the talents or accomplishments possessed by the girl he is seeking.

He says that he has several thousand dollars in the bank, and has engaged a tenement of five rooms in Amherst with a wedding trousseau all bought.

One of the young ladies Johnson called on in Bond Street, this city, was restrained from conducting negotiations with him by an elderly relative. He says that a relative objected to him because he was not Irish.

His ad reads: "Wanted—To marry a young lady about eighteen, plenty of money, do not drink; no bad habits whatever."

DROPPED ALL OTHERS.

"I dropped all liniments but Nerviline because I found Nerviline the quickest to relieve pain," writes E. S. Benton of St. John's. "If my children are croupy or sick, Nerviline cures. If a case of cramps or stomach ache turns up, Nerviline is ever ready. We use Nerviline for Neuralgia, rheumatism and all kinds of aches and pains. It's as good as any doctor." The great Canadian remedy for the past fifty years has been Polson's Nerviline—nothing better made.

"She's worth her weight in gold," the proud American mother asserted, assuming pure gold worth approximately twenty dollars per ounce, and knowing her weight, the count by a rapid mental calculation, arrived at the figure fifteen thousand four hundred dollars.

"Oh, ah, a most charming young lady, of course," he said, hastily gathering up his hat and coat, but I had been led to believe—any, that is, I couldn't think of that price, you know."

PASSED THE HOUSE.

Ottawa, July 4.—(Special.)—New Brunswick, Atlantic and river estimates passed without any opposition in the House today.
