SOME TRADE REPORTS.

Canadian Agent Tells How Canning Factories Scandals Have Benefitted Australian Interests—New Way to Deal With Tramps.

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—(Special).—Mr. Lark reports from Sydney that a tramp reformatory is to be established by New South Wales.

Tramps are to be put upon a farm and fed on bread and water. If they want better food they must work for it. When one is spontaneously willing to work he is to be discharged as cured.

Canadian Agent reports from Melbourne that the Chicago Packing house disclosures have caused an increase in the demand for Australian canned meats. These are prepared under state inspection. The rabbits which have been regarded as a pest are being turned to a profit. Mr. Lark reports that in the first six months of this year five million frozen rabbits have been exported.

IMPOSING FUNERAL.

Remains of Late Judge Sedgewick Laid to Rest at Halifax.

Halifax, Aug. 7.—(Special).—The funeral of the late Justice Sedgewick took place this afternoon, from the residence of his brother-in-law, J. J. Stewart, and was one of the largest seen here for some time. The Judges of the supreme court of Nova Scotia and members of the Nova Scotia bar society walked in a body. Sir Henri Eleazar Taschereau, ex-chief Justice of Canada who arrived from Ottawa last night also walked. The governor general was represented by Lt. Col. Jones, P. P. M. The floral tributes were beautiful.

A SEVERE STORM.

Lighting Destroyed House and Seriously Injured One of the Inmates.

Halifax, Aug. 7.—(Special).—A severe thunder, lightning and rain storm passed over the city this morning. The weather today is very warm. Port Dufferin, N. S., Aug. 2.—During a heavy thunder storm this morning the house of Wm. Hartling and his son, Ira, was seriously injured, while the rest of the family received a bad shaking up. The lightning also entered another house destroying the chimney and doing other damage.

THE STOCK MARKET.

G. P. R. Again the Active Feature
Soaring up to 167 3-4.

Montreal, August 7.—(Special).—There was considerable activity in stocks this morning, C. P. R. being the feature. This stock, which opened at 166 1/2, showed an upward tendency early and rose to 167 3/4. Nova Scotia Steel was also specially active, common selling at 72 and pfd. at 125. Other stocks selling were: Dominion Iron 28 1/2, Dominion Coal pfd. 11 1/2, Montreal Power, 96 to 95 1/2, Mexican, 58, Montreal Street, 27 1/2, Detroit United, 95, Bell Telephone, 132, Illinois, pfd., 95 1/2.

JAPANESE SEEK CANADA.

Immigration from the Island Kingdom Is Proposed.

Winnipeg, Aug. 7.—(Special).—Mr. B. R. Nagatany, a Japanese gentleman from Kioto, has been here during the past few days perfecting arrangements for purchasing fifty or a hundred thousand acres en bloc in Southern Alberta upon which he proposes to locate Japanese immigrants. Those coming will be expert agriculturists, and only about fifty will be brought in the first party. All of them have been used to extensive farming in the Island Kingdom, and will come with sufficient means to make them temporarily independent. This is an entirely new departure in immigration, and the authorities are much interested in the outcome, which if successful gives promise of great possibilities.

SAFE FROM BURGLARS.

Pistol Manufacturer Laid in Burglar-Proof Coffin with Automatic Lock.

Springfield, Aug. 7.—(Special).—Exactly the same precautions which were taken to guard the body of Russell Sage from ghouls and grave robbers will be used at the interment of Daniel B. Wesson, the millionaire revolver manufacturer, who died recently. When the burial casket containing the body is placed in the grave at Oak Grove cemetery Thursday afternoon it will be lowered into a heavy steel outer casket or vault, absolutely burglar proof. The cover of the steel casket locks automatically when it is put on, and it can be opened only from the inside. It was learned last night for the first time that Mr. Wesson's wife who died July 18, was buried in a similar steel casket and that it was Mr. Wesson's wish that his body should have the same protection.

A WILD MAN OF ALBERNI.

Vancouver Island Mowgli is No Myth.

SLUG ONE.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 7.—(Special).—The famous Vancouver Island Mowgli is no myth. A prospector is now in Vancouver who says he saw the wild man at Alberni a few days ago. He will not allow his name to be used, asserting that he is "not looking for notoriety." He says:—"A few days ago myself and another prospector dropped right onto the wild man on the shores of Horn Lake Alberni. The Mowgli was clothed in sunshine and a smile, except that his body was covered with a growth of hair much like the salmon berry eating bears that infest the region. The wild man ran with astonishing agility as soon as he saw us. We found the wickiup in which he had been sheltering and also many traces of where he had been gathering roots along the lake bank for sustenance. That wild man is no figment of the imagination; you can take my word for that."

MEMBERS THIRSTY LOT.

Spent $40,000 on Liquid Refreshments, Which is $10,000 in Excess of Previous Year.

New York, Aug. 7.—(Special).—A cable to The Sun from London says:—House of Commons statisticians seem to show that the Liberal government has a thirstier lot of members than the opposition, for the amount spent during the year just ended on liquid refreshments in the House is $40,000, which is $10,000 more than was spent in the previous year.

Light wines and champagne are little favored, only 2,400 bottles being consumed during the year. The 100,000 bottles of mineral water that were used would seem to point to whiskey and soda being the British legislators' favorite beverage.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

I. C. R. Train Derailed While Running at 40 Miles an Hour.

The Halifax Chronicle of Monday publishes the following particulars of the accident to the Sydney Flyer on the Intercolonial Railway, mentioned briefly in Monday's despatches to The Herald:—"The Sydney Flyer, which left Sydney at 12.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, ran off the track 17 miles the other side of New Glasgow on Saturday evening at seven o'clock. No person was injured. The train left the Iron city on time, with four passenger cars, a liver, a baggage and an express car. In the Piedmont valley she was making pretty good time—going about 40 miles an hour, so some of the passengers say. This speed she kept up, and when the derailment occurred she was going very fast. The train was going around a sharp curve, when suddenly the engine, which was a Donkhorst, left the track. Driver Davis would be at the throttle, and when he realized what had happened, he whistled 'down brakes' and shut her off. It was a marvelous escape from serious wreck. On one side was an embankment rising above about 15 feet, and on the other side an embankment that would have precipitated the train down a distance of 15 feet. Fortunately the locomotive did not leave the track, and before the other cars had time to leave the rails altogether, the speed of the train had become very much lessened. This, however, had the effect of ending matters. For so long as the speed was maintained the engine remained in the same position that she took when the accident first happened—partly on the track, and partly on the outside sleepers, the tender and baggage car, following in the wake. When the speed slackened the resistance was gone and over the engine went, with driver and fireman. They had a narrow escape. In some way the engine came toward the bank and lay there, and the driver and fireman crawled out unhurt. The draw bar connecting the tender and the engine parted, and this left them separated. The baggage car did not go the same way as the engine. It fell over the other bank, the end hanging on the edge of the bank, while the farepart was down in the ditch. The Baggage-Master, slightly scratched, crawled out, otherwise unhurt. The other cars, although off the track did not topple over. In a few minutes all was confusion, but the train hands secured water and put out the fire in the engine. The track was torn up for a distance of nearly 100 feet. Word was at once sent to New Glasgow, and in a short time a relief and a wrecking train arrived, and after a delay of six hours, the passengers and baggage were transferred to the former, and the train in charge of Conductor N. Hopper proceeded to Halifax, arriving here at 8.30 o'clock yesterday morning. There were a very large number of passengers aboard."

WILL RUSH THE WORK.

Contractor Promises to Have 150 Men on Sewerage Construction Before end of Present Week.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY DELEGATION HEARD BY COUNCIL ON SITE FOR BURNS MONUMENT.

The city council met in committee last night, those present being Mayor McNally and Aldermen Scott, Everett, Hanlon, Maxwell, Colter and Doherty.

A delegation from the Fredericton Society of St. Andrews composed of President O. S. Crockett, Col. Loggie, L. W. Johnston, Postmaster Edwards and H. F. McLeod were present and asked that permission be granted to the Society to place the Burns Memorial statue opposite the parliament buildings between the B. and B. club house and St. John street, at such place as may be determined on and also permission, subject to the approval of the road master to trim some of the trees that might impede the view. They also asked that the city remove the band stand from its present position to some point below the entrance to the B. and B. Club House.

The mayor assured the delegation that their request would be favorably considered and it is probable that a resolution to that effect will be adopted by the city council this evening.

Mr. Henry Chestnut, representing the Local Improvement Association, after criticizing a letter in the Herald asked that a check be passed for the balance of the grant coming to the Society. He also wanted the right to trim some trees. Mr. H. J. McManus, of J. B. McManus, Ltd., also appeared before the council and assured the Board that the company would have upwards of 150 workmen, with competent foreman, on the sewer work before the end of this week, and read a telegram from his agent to the effect that he would arrive here today or tomorrow with at least 75 men. Mr. J. J. F. Winslow appeared in opposition to a petition for opening up new streets in King's ward, which had been presented by Alderman Doherty and explained the location of the streets as laid out by Professor Perrott. This matter will be further discussed at the meeting this evening.

The council then took up the monthly accounts and sat till nearly twelve o'clock, before the business was concluded.
