HUGHES--McMAHON.

Very Pretty Wedding Celebrated this Morning at St. Dunstan's Church.

One of the prettiest church weddings seen in this city for some time took place at St. Dunstan's church at seven o'clock this morning, when Mr. James A. Hughes, of St. Mary's, principal of the Regent street school, was united in marriage to Miss Mary Evelyn McMahon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McMahon, George street.

The ceremony, which also consisted of the nuptial mass, was performed by Rev. F. L. Carney, in the presence of a large number of friends of the contracting parties.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome bridal costume of cream silk with silver trimmings, and hat to match with a shaded feather and carried a bouquet of bridal roses, and made a very pretty bride.

Miss Agnes McMahon, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She was attired in cream silk with applique trimmings, and a cream hat with white feathers. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and maiden hair fern.

Mr. A. Sterling McFarlane supported the bridegroom.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy young couple and invited guests drove to the residence of the bride's parents, where a delightful wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes took the morning train for St. John on a wedding tour which will embrace Quebec, Montreal, Niagara Falls and several other upper province points. The bride's going away dress was of grey homespun with persian trimmings, and a pink mink and rose hat with garnitures of peacock feathers.

The presents received by the bride were numerous, costly and handsome. The bridegroom's present was an upright piano; to the bridesmaid he presented a locket set with diamonds and to the groomsmen a diamond stickpin.

The bride is very popular, with a large circle of friends and the bridegroom, who is one of Fredericton's most efficient teachers, has taken a lively interest in educational and other matters.

The many friends of Mr. Hughes and his charming bride will wish them every measure of success and happiness.

THE YOUNGEST ADMIRAL.

London correspondence of the Boston Herald says:—The world's youngest admiral is the 3-year-old Marquis of Donegal, who is hereditary lord high admiral of Lough Neagh, and governor of Carrickfergus Castle. The child's father married at 80 Miss Violet Gertrude Twining of Halifax, N. S., a graduate of Wellesley College in Massachusetts. She was his third wife, and he was 81 years old when his heir was born. The old marquis has been dead for two years now. At the county fair in Regent's Park lately in aid of the Dumb Friends' League the marchioness, in the guise of a gypsy, conducted, in partnership with Lady Oxford (who was Louise Corbett of New York prior to her marriage), a gypsy caravan, at which wares were sold at glorious prices.

GREAT BALLOON TRIP.

Brantrock, Mass., Aug. 7.—Above the clouds and over 225 miles of land and water from New York to the little seashore resort of Brantrock, (Mass.), Julian P. Thomas, of New York, and Roy Knabenshue, a professional aeronaut, made one of the most successful balloon trips ever made in this country. Dr. Thomas said the trip from every point of view was the most successful he has yet undertaken. His balloon was undamaged and beyond a few cuts sustained by his companions in their final descent at this place, the doctor and Mr. Knabenshue felt no ill effects from the wonderful flight. The voyage was made with one stop at Niank (Conn.) The aeronauts were about eleven hours on the trip.

BRUNSWICK STREET BAPTIST PICNIC.

Final arrangements for the above important event were made last night and indications point to a repetition of the unqualified success of last year. New grounds with splendid conditions have been selected on Major's Island, and satisfactory arrangements made for comfortably carrying all who may attend. Two boats will bring the crowd back. Reserve Friday, the 17th inst, as a day to have an outing that is an outing.

MRS. OWENS' FUNERAL.

The funeral took place this morning of the late Mrs. Patrick Owens of Rusiagornis. Quite a number of carriages took part in the procession, and the flowers on the coffin testified to the high regard in which deceased was held. After services in St. Dunstan's Church which were conducted by Rev. Father Carney interment was made at The Hermitage.

HE'S NOT TO BLAME.

Mr. Henry Chestnut Writes of the Destruction of Cemetery Trees.

Fredericton, N. B., August 6, 1906.

To the Editor of The Herald: Sir,—In self defence and for the benefit of the village politicians and common school orators who occupy the settees in the old burial ground and discuss how I was the means of destroying the elms in that locality by putting lime from the gas house around them. I would say such is not the case. Lime was not put within thirty feet of any of the trees.

Some of the trees were dying before any earth or material was put there. I am the last man in this town to destroy trees of any kind and I hope that men will be more charitable in their remarks and not only think what their remarks mean, but meditate upon them.

Yours truly,
HENRY CHESTNUT.

Dr. C. R. Fletcher, of New York, who expects to visit his friends in Fredericton in a few weeks, left New York yesterday for a trip to Wyoming.
