SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER, 1 1906

HAS ENOUGH OF IT.

Mr. R. B. Bennett, the clever young Calgary lawyer formerly of Chatham who as leader of the Conservative opposition ran for the legislature in Alberta, and previously came to Ontario to stump in the federal elections, who declared to the people of that province that the west was seething with rebellion against the autonomy bill, who was going home to throw himself unreservedly into the great struggle, and who was subsequently defeated with nearly his entire party, announces that he has quit politics for good.

Mr. Bennett was in Montreal this week, and to an interviewer he declared: "I've done with politics. I know when I have had enough. I'm looking after business now."

Not only did Mr. Bennett make this personal announcement but he proceeded to declare that the Alberta government which he had so strongly opposed in the elections, is doing good work for that province. We quote from his interview:—

"Speaking of the new provincial government of Alberta, Mr. Bennett said it seemed to be fully possessed of a sense of responsibility, and it is apparently using its best efforts to promote the prosperity and welfare of the people. It has a large country under its jurisdiction, and settlers going into distant parts expect roads to be made and public works to be carried out. No government can do everything, but I believe the ministers are making a fairly judicious apportionment of the public expenditure."

Mr. Bennett is evidently a gentleman who knows when he is beaten and resigns himself to his fate. He was the hope of the Tory party in Alberta, but, alas, they will have to look for another leader in future contests. He's done with politics.

VINDICTIVENESS.

The filing of an appeal to the supreme court against the dismissal of the personal charges against Hon. Mc. Fielding in Shelburne—Queen's is regarded, says the Toronto Globe, as a piece of political vindictiveness on the part of the Tory machine, the idea being to try and embarrass the Finance Minister in his duties as a member of the government and to prevent him from taking his seat when parliament meets in November.

From the point of view of political strategy it is extremely bad, and it sure to recoil on the head of those responsible for it. Mr. Fielding is popular among the Conservatives, and his reputation has been enhanced rather than lessened.

If the supreme court did not meet until late in the year the Tory plans might be attended with some success, but the court is called for October 2, so that the appeal against Mr. Fielding can be heard promptly and judgment given forthwith. Should the appeal not be heard without loss of time the result might be to postpone the calling of parliament, and for this the Conservative machine would be directly responsible.

A SERVICE TO CANADA.

In his eloquent address at the opening of the Toronto exhibition, Sir William Mulock referred to Canada as the only place in the world worth living in, because here we are unburdened by the enormous debts piled up in other countries by wars in which the people engaged.

Sir William's address has attracted considerable attention in England, and the comments on it are complimentary, one paper declaring that he rendered a service to Canada.

The Tribune says Sir William Mulock will not easily convince us that Canada is the only country in the world worth living in, but he will do a public service to Canada if he convinces her that she has something in her immunity from the military debt which other countries ought to envy her. It is curious how easily a generation persuades itself that its wars are only its own concern. If statesmen could always remember, as Sir William Mulock reminds Canada, that the generation that makes war cripples the generations that come after, patriotism would be a far stronger deterrent of wars of ambition and revenge than it is today. The strong nations of the future will be those which ancestors remembered what they owed to posterity."

The Leader says:—"Good wine needs no bush, and the speech of Sir Wm. Mulock needs no comment. It is something that we have now a government pledged to use its utmost endeavors to bring this country some degrees nearer the happy position occupied by Canada."

CURRENT COMMENT

It was so hot in England Friday that some of the judges sitting in court, were forced to discard their coats and administer justice in their shirt sleeves.

Some changes have been made in the Quebec local government necessary by the appointment of Hon. Mr. McCorkill, provincial treasurer to the supreme court bench bench, Hon. Auguste Tessier becomes provincial treasurer, Hon. Jules Allard, minister of agriculture; Hon. W. A. Weir, speaker of the assembly, minister of public works and labor. The rest of the ministers retain their portfolios.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley, who is one of the hardest worked men in New Brunswick, and who seldom takes a holiday, is about to make an extended trip through western Canada, and his hosts of friends and admirers will wish him all possible pleasure during his absence. Dr. Pugsley is rapidly recovering the use of his injured hand and expects to return in the best of physical shape.

The Carleton Sentinel while declaring that it is not in the secrets of the patronage department, says that all signs point to the early announcement of the make-up of our reorganized supreme court. The appellate division, to be presided over by the new Chief Justice Barker, will consist of the chief and Judges Gregory and Hon. A. S. White. Judges Landry, Hannington and McLeod will go on circuit duty. But where does Chief Justice Tuck come in?

There are now eight vacancies in the House of Commons, which will be filled before the meeting of parliament in November, so that we shall have quite an extensive bye-election campaign within the next few weeks. The seats at present unrepresented in the popular chamber are North Renfrew, and East Elgin, in Ontario, Quebec County, St. John's—Iberville, St. Mary's division of Montreal, Nicolet or Gaspé, in Quebec, and Shelburne—Queens in Nova Scotia. To this list will likely be added Colchester, N. S.

BRAKEMAN KILLED IN WRECK.

Kenora, Aug. 30.—A freight train was wrecked west of here today, and the brakeman killed. Details are supposedly suppressed, even to the name of the victim.

"Sir," said the young man, "trust you will object to my marriage with your daughter."

"Why so?" queried the astonished parent.

"Because," explained the young man "if you do I think that she will consent to have me."

Baker's assistant (to master)—The carpenter has made the bread boards much too small—we can't get the usual number of rolls on them. Shall I order larger boards?

Master—Nonsense, simply make the rolls smaller.—Salmon Falls.

BITS OF NEWS.

J. M. Fowler, who for years conducted the Stanley Hotel in St. John is reported dying in Vancouver. Mr. Fowler left St. John about two years ago and went to Sydney where he stayed a year and then went west last fall. He is seventy-seven years old.

The minister of labor, the Hon. Rodolph Lemieux, has decided to send the deputy minister of labor, W. L. MacKenzie King, to England to represent to the British authorities, on behalf of the government of Canada, the desirability of having enacted at the next session of the British parliament legislation to prevent false representations being made in Great Britain and Ireland to induce or deter immigration of persons to Canada.

Two children aged four and six years, daughters of John Gaeber, who reside near Lawrencetown, Annapolis Co., N. S., died suddenly Thursday, one in the morning and the other in the evening from poisoning, the result of eating canned blueberries, and two other children, of the same family, merely escaped the same fate from the same cause by the timely arrival of medical aid. The first child to succumb fainted in school was carried home by a comrade and died next morning.

NO TRUTH IN IT.

Injustice Done a King's Clear Man by the Mistake of a Name.

The report clipped from a St. John paper Aug. 13 and published in the Herald, that Gus Goodine, a Kings-clear young man had been arrested at Florenceville on a charge preferred by York county authorities, turns out to have been untrue. Mr. Goodine, was not arrested then or at any other time; nor was there reason for such action. At the time he was announced as in custody he was working in Florenceville and is still employed there, and so far as the Herald knows is an industrious, law-abiding young man. The mistake take occurred through the arrest of another young man with a name similar to Mr. Goodine's and the Herald regrets that it was one of the vehicles through which was circulated the report which naturally gave Mr. Goodine and his friends at home great annoyance.

WILL NOT SATISFY THE PEASANTS.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—The Liberal papers welcomed the semi-official statement made yesterday in behalf of the government to the effect that it would be a great mistake to suppose that the revolutionary terrorism will be met by terrorism on the part of the government, and adding that the cabinet intends to continue in the path of reform. But the papers manifest their distrust as to whether the ministry will be able to master the situation by the publication of the ukase, providing for the distribution of land to the peasants. Some of the papers, however, hail the announcement as being a distinct concession from the position which the government took two months ago when Premier Goremykin returned a non possumus to this demand, on the part of parliament.

The Strana calls attention to the fatality with which the government surrenders always come too late, and says that had the appanages been offered with the crown lands when parliament raised the question, it might have furnished the basis for a reconciliation. At present the paper doubts whether it will greatly affect the situation. The Russia extols the ukase as being the emperor's gift of land to people and for which the latter should be thankful, as the price of land is rapidly increasing, and the imperial income last year from the portion to be distributed being $2,843,000.

GROW YOUNG WITH AGE.

Next to air and food in the human economy comes exercise. We may have plenty of fresh air and a proper allowance of the right kind of food, and yet, without helpful daily exercise, these will not avail to keep the body in good condition.

In answer to the question, "Why do we grow old?" a medical writer gives three reasons:—"We do not get enough physical exercise in the open air; we are poisoned by microbes which the scientists have not succeeded in destroying; and we are depressed by fear of death."

Of the three reasons it will be noted that he gives the place of first importance to lack of exercise. There is nothing else which can take the place of physical activity as a preserver of youth and energy.

"Grow younger as you grow older by cultivating a modern love of good healthful, honest sport, is sound advice. Walking, running, jumping, rowing, playing golf, tennis, or croquet, or any other mild form of exercise in the open air keep the muscles supple and prevents the joints from stiffening, fills the lungs with life-giving oxygen, and keeps the blood from becoming sluggish or the liver torpid. In short, it is exercise that keeps the body in tune and "up to concert pitch," just as exercise keeps the voice or musical instrument in perfect tune.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J.
