CUSHING SULPHITE CASE

Privy Council Delivers Judgment Dismissing
Appeal from Judge McLeod's
Winding Up Order.

MATTER HAS RUN THE GAUNTLET OF ALL THE COURTS, THE COMPANY LOSING EVERY TIME.

St. John, July 16.—(Special).—A cable was received this morning by Messrs. Barnhill Ewing and Sanford, solicitors for George S. Cushing from Messrs. Field, Rosco & Co., solicitors of London, England, stating that the privy council had dismissed, with costs, the petition of the Cushing Sulphite Fibre Company, Ltd., for leave to appeal to the privy council from the judgment of the supreme court of Canada in the matter of the winding up of the Sulphite Co. This judgment effectually settles the fact that the Cushing Sulphite Fibre Company Ltd. is to be wound up under the winding up order made by Judge McLeod in September last. Captain Partington and others have vigorously contested the winding up proceedings and have appealed to different courts, until finally application was made to the privy council in which judgment was delivered as above stated, dismissing the application. The company has lost on every appeal, so that the winding up order will stand. The cable further states that the privy council also refused the petition of Captain Partington to appeal from the order of Judge McLeod postponing the sale of the pulp mill. The costs of all liquidation proceedings will have to be paid under the judgment by the Pulp Company, and Captain Partington. Messrs. Barnhill Ewing and Sanford solicitors and Attorney General Pugsley and L. A. Curry were counsel for George S. Cushing, J. D. Hazen, K. C., was counsel for liquidations and Messrs. Hamington, Teed and Hanington were solicitors, and H. A. Powell, K. C., and A. O. Earle counsel for the company and English bond holders.

ALFRED BEIT DEAD.

Famous South African Financier and Associate of Late Cecil Rhodes Passed Away To-day in London.

DECEASED WAS SUSPECTED OF HAVING ENCOURAGED THE JAMESON RAID.

London, July 16.—(Special).—Alfred Beit, the well known South African financier, died today. He had been in bad health for some time. Mr. Beit was born in 1853 at Hamburg, was a life governor of the Debeers Consolidated Miners, a partner in the firm of Wercher Beit & Company, and a director of the Rand Mines, The Rhodes Railway in Beuchaland and the Railway Trust and British Chartered South African Co. He was said to have been implicated in the Jameson raid, and resigned from the board of directors of the British Chartered South African Co. but his resignation was not accepted at the time. A late suit was brought against Beit on the ground of complicity in the raid, his prosecution was demanded by Dr. Leyd, the representative of Transvaal in Europe and in 1896 his resignation from the Board of Directors of the British Chartered South African Company was accepted. When Cecil Rhodes died in 1902, it was found that Beit was appointed one of his executors and he thereupon returned to the Board of Directors of the British Chartered African Company. Early in 1905 Mr. Beit had an apoplectic stroke while at Johannesburg. He never fully regained his health since. He lived in London. Beit is said to have been the richest man in London, and controlled the output of gold in South Africa at one time it is alleged forming a "gold-trust" in which the names of prominent American financiers were mentioned. Beit gave large sums of money to the Red Cross and other institutions and recently donated $500,000 to found a university at Hamburg.

THE USUAL CROP.

Two Double Drowning Accidents
Saturday in Nova Scotia.

Halifax, July 15.—A tragic drowning accident occurred on Saturday near Stellarton, Pictou County, when Frederick McKenzie, a young man of 27 years, and Leo Fraser, aged seven years, lost their lives. McKenzie was swimming across the East River with the little fellow on his back when both perished. McKenzie was bathing in the river with some boys. One of the youngest of them was little Leo Fraser and McKenzie took him on his back and started to swim across the river. This he succeeded in doing without mishap. After a rest on the other side he started back with the little chap again on his back. In mid-stream McKenzie either took a cramp or the boy so tightened his grasp round his neck in some way to cause the swimmer to sink, though this would seem improbable. Whatever the cause, both went down and they were not taken out of the water for twenty minutes, when life was extinct. When found the boy's arms were still tightly clasped around McKenzie's neck. McKenzie was the only support of a mother and three sisters. An inquest will be held today. Middleton, N. S., July 15.—A drowning accident occurred in the river here yesterday afternoon. Some children were bathing in the river close by the residence of Mr. Artz when one of them, a daughter of L.S. Schaffner, got into deep water. Mrs. Artz went to her assistance, but losing her footing, became confused and no help being near, was drowned. She leaves a husband and five young children.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Little Child Nearly Drowned at Chatham.

Chatham, July 16.—While playing at Ferry wharf, the five-year-old daughter of D. Mallory fell into the water about seven o'clock last evening. The water was about ten feet deep and the child sank at once. A man was given and a big crowd collected. Policeman Coughlan and Robert Cadie dove from the wharf and attempted a rescue. Coughlan could not reach the body, but Cadie caught hold of the girl by the arm, but was forced to leave as he could not swim. Coughlan ultimately secured a boat hook and caught the end in the clothing and drew the girl up. She was apparently lifeless and had been under water nearly ten minutes. After considerable treatment by Dr. Benson and Duffy, life was restored and the child was crying lustily within an hour after the accident.

It was by long odds the hottest day experienced here this season and one of the hottest this city has known for years. There was scarcely a breath of wind and people seemed to have a hard time finding a cool place. At 6:30 p. m. several glasses along Queen street showed 89 degrees in the shade.

THE NEW PASTOR.

Rev. J. W. McConnell Assumes Charge of Fredericton Methodist Church and Preaches
Two Powerful Sermons.

APPRECIATIVE CONGREGATIONS HEARD HIS FIRST EFFORTS—BRIEF SKETCH OF HIS CAREER.

Rev. J. W. McConnell, the new pastor of the Methodist church in Fredericton, who began his ministrations here Sunday, and created a most favorable impression, is a native of St. John, where he was born in 1867. He was educated at Mount Allison University, where he graduated B. A. in 1891, studied theology there and during his probationary period, preached at Campbellton and Gibson. He was ordained in 1893, and his first settled charge was at Harcourt, Kent Co., thence he went to Vernon, River, P. E. I., then to Charlottetown, and for the past three years has been pastor of the Central Methodist church at Moncton. He married Miss Spicer, of Spencer's Island, Nova Scotia, and has a family of young children.

IN HIS FREDERICTON PULPIT.

In accordance with usage, new relations between pastor and people was the experience of many Methodist congregations yesterday.

In the city church Rev. J. W. McConnell, B. A., assumed the pastorate.

REV. J. W. McCONNELL, B. A.
New Pastor of the Fredericton Methodist Church.

ate and preached at both services to appreciative people. In the morning his text was Psalm XLVIII, 12-14: "Walk about Zion and go round about her; tell the towers thereof, etc." The preacher referred to the magnificent towers of old Jerusalem, of their prestige and glory, and of their final utter destruction, and drew from this historical fact a splendid symbol of the spiritual Zion and her grand towers and bulwarks. In many cities and countries will be noticed prominent towers that command observation. Nobody except a blind man could visit New York without seeing the Times building, rising as it does more than four hundred feet above the pavement; or visit London without being attracted to St. Paul's Cathedral; or walk the streets of Rome and not see St. Peter's. So the Psalmist tells us to mark well the bulwarks of Jerusalem and consider her palaces. He then spoke of the first tower for thought as being the knowable God. No man of intelligence can doubt the existence of God, for he may know the fact by personal contact with deity. The views of the atheist or agnostic respecting divine things are simply absurd.

The second tower he presented was the only begotten Son of God. Nothing has been more remarkable than the failure of those who in all ages have attempted to overthrow or disavow or discredit the fact of the birth and incarnation of Jesus Christ.

The spirit of God was given as the third great tower whose influence is felt throughout the world. The declaration that the Spirit would come has been demonstrated in a convincing manner and His influence is witnessed along the Nile, down the Ganges, in the jungles of India, as well as in our own favored land.

The 4th tower was presented as man himself and in God's word we learn that man is only a little lower than the angels. Man's capacity power and influence were referred to, and then most impressively the preacher blended these four towers into one harmonious whole as the great bulwark against sin.

In closing his sermon Rev. Mr. McConnell referred briefly to his new relations with the church in Fredericton. A strange experience is that of a Methodist preacher for at times he naturally feels that he is without a home, for he is required to leave a community where he has lots of friends and is well known to make a home among strangers. However as he looked over the congregation he saw several familiar faces and recognized old acquaintances.

On the left of the pulpit he looked into the face of Dr. Inch, at whose feet he sat for four years in Sackville. While he saw other friends present, there were some he missed, and among these he mentioned the name of Martin Lemont, a grand Christian gentleman, and one from whom he received words of encouragement many times when just starting upon his ministry in Gibson.

He referred in complimentary terms of his immediate predecessor, Dr. Rogers, and of the long line of worthies who from the Fredericton church had done so much for Methodism.

He asked for the prayers of the people and placed his best services in their hands during the day or night.

EVENING SERVICE.

At the evening service Mr. McConnell preached from the latter part of the 21st verse in 12th Chapter of St. John: "We would see Jesus."

It was at a very strenuous time in the life of the Saviour when certain Greeks sought out Philip and told him they would see Jesus. This invitation was forwarded through their countrymen, and so today it is important that people of different nationalities and of varied vocations should know the Christ in order that they might show Him to their fellow craftsmen. If we would know Him, we must study His word. The preacher declared that as he had been invited in the order of Providence to come to Fredericton, he will feel it to be his duty to show Jesus from that pulpit Sabbath after Sabbath. He will also endeavor to perform that duty in the homes of the people. If a member of your family is sick and drawing near the end of the journey, said the preacher, you would not wish me to read a treatise on metaphysics or philosophy, but would expect me to throw a flash of light of Jesus before the sick one, revealing Jesus. Who cleanses from the defilement of sin, and who is able to forgive sin.

His theme throughout was dealt with in an interesting manner.

A BLOODY BATTLE.

Guatemala Loses 2,000 Men in Fight with Salvador Troops.

Washington, July 15.—Both Guatemala and Salvador have accepted the tender of the good offices of this government looking to a settlement of their differences. This information is conveyed in official despatches received at the state department today from the American diplomatic representatives in Guatemala and Salvador, announcing that the two belligerent countries have availed themselves of the tender of the good offices of the United States, looking to their approaching each other in a conference having in view an adjustment of their differences, the cessation of hostilities and the bringing about of peace.

San Salvador, July 15, 5 p. m.—Saturday night the Salvadorean army again attacked the Guatemalan forces at Platanar and obtained a victory over them, the Guatemalans suffering a loss of 2,000 men in killed, wounded and prisoners. The Guatemalan army which invaded by way of Santa Fe, was repulsed by the Honduran army. Honduras is making common cause with Salvador.

He—And what did he do? She—Why, it wasn't two minutes before he repeated it.
